The District Board at Khulna resolved to transfer to the Local Boards under them the control and management of primary schools, maktabs, girls' schools and tols. The matter is now under the consideration of Government.

With these exceptions the powers of District and Local Boards remained the same as in previous years.

6. Union Committees.—There was a substantial development in the administration of Union Committees during the year under report. In the Burdwan Division one union was abolished, and two reduced in area, while five new unions were established. The Memari Union was split up into two.

In the Presidency Division great activity was shown. A new union was established at Narail, the Union Committees in the 24-Parganas were re-constituted, and the division of Basuliapur into two and the establishment of seven new Union Committees were sanctioned.

In the Chittagong Division the area of the Nabinagar Union was reduced by the exclusion of two villages. In the Dacca Division the establishment of two new unions was sanctioned with effect from the 1st April 1913.

The number of unions in the Presidency is now 61. The average area is  $10\frac{1}{2}$  square miles, and population nearly 10,000. The number of members is on the average eight, and the number of meetings held during the year under review averaged six.

The total income of these Committees, exclusive of the opening balance, amounted to Rs. 40,451 against Rs. 29,992 in the preceding year, while the expenditure rose from Rs. 27,262 to Rs. 35,485. As in previous years the main source of income consisted of contributions from the District Boards. It is, however, satisfactory to note that the receipts under the Cattle Trespass Act and those from taxation under section 118 (C) more than doubled during the year. There was also a substantial increase in the amount received from private persons.

The increase in expenditure did not quite keep pace with the increased income, but it did not fall far short of it. By far the largest expenditure in any one Union was incurred by the Feni Union in the district of Noakhali, viz., Rs. 2,875. Next to this come Bagnan in the district of Howrah with an expenditure of Rs. 1,660 and Akhaura in the district of Tippera with an expenditure of Rs. 1,651. Only five other Committees in the Presidency expended more than Rs. 1,000 during the year, while three, viz., Panskura (in Midnapore) and Itenda and Jadurhati (in the 24-Parganas) failed to spend anything at all.

The information supplied by the Commissioners as to the nature of the work upon which this expenditure was incurred is somewhat meagre. In the Presidency Division the working of the Committees is reported to be on the whole unsatisfactory, but it is gratifying to see that the Union Committee of Poradah in the district of Nadia made some attempt to improve the water-supply by sinking earthenware pot wells and clearing jungle. Conservancy arrangements exist in the Akhaura Union in the district of Tippera, and a special grant of Rs. 1,000 was made to this Committee for the extension of filtered water to the bazar, but the work could not be taken up during the year. On the whole it is evident that the work done by Union Committees during the year under report was somewhat better than in previous years.

7. Financial results.—The year opened with a credit balance of Rs. 23,46,635, and the total receipts of the District Boards from all sources amounted to Rs. 71,70,761. The total amount available for expenditure was Rs. 95,17,396, of which Rs. 65,46,036 was spent during the year, leaving a closing balance of Rs. 29,71,360. The income and expenditure for the last two years under the main heads are shown below :—

Expenditure fell short of income in every division in the Presidency with the result that the closing balances have risen considerably.

Heretofore the receipts from road cess have formed the principal source of income of District Boards. But since the close of the year grants equal to the entire receipts from the public works cess have been made to those bodies, certain annual recurring contributions from Government being withdrawn at the same time. These grants have for the present been made unconditionally, but the Governor in Council trusts that an adequate amount will be spent on sanitary measures and medical relief.

8. Provincial rates (Rs. 29,20,509).—The income under this head showed an increase of Rs. 3,947 in comparison with the previous year. In the Burdwan and Presidency Divisions the receipts decreased by Rs. 32,530 and Rs. 13,796, respectively, while in the Dacca, Chittagong and Rajshahi Divisions they increased by Rs. 27,377, Rs. 14,198 and Rs. 8,698 respectively. The decrease in the Burdwan Division was mainly due to short collection of cess on mines consequent on the dullness of the coal market, and that in the Presidency Division is chiefly due to charges for establishment, etc., for the general revaluation in progress in the district of Jessore. The improvement in the Eastern districts is ascribed generally to the collection of arrears and in a few instances to the revision of assessments.

9. Police—Pounds (Rs. 3,68,007).—The total number of pounds maintained during the year increased from 3,855 to 4,009. The increase is contributed by all the districts in the Burdwan and Chittagong Divisions, Nadia in the Presidency Division, Faridpur and Bakarganj in Dacca, and all the districts except Rajshahi, Bogra and Malda in the Rajshahi Division.

One hundred and twenty-seven new pounds were established in Midnapore; this large increase was due to the settlement of branch pounds at Sadar as independent ones. In the 24-Parganas two pounds were abolished as there had been no bid for the leases for some years past. No explanation has been given for the decrease of 12 pounds in the district of Rajshahi.

The income under this head rose from Rs. 3,62,474 to Rs. 3,68,007, i.e., by Rs. 5,533, the largest increase occurring in the Rajshahi Division. The receipts decreased in the Burdwan, Dacca and Chittagong Divisions. The decrease in Midnapore is attributed to the fact that there is in all subdivisions an aversion to impound cattle, in consequence of which the income of many of the pounds has fallen off, and difficulty has been experienced in making settlements at the present rental. The falling off in Mymensingh is attributed to the heavy rains of the two preceding years, owing to which few cattle were brought to the pounds. The increase or decrease in the sale-proceeds of unclaimed cattle accounts for the increase or decrease of income in many cases.

In Bakarganj it is reported that no healthy competition exists among prospective lessees. The District Board is now considering how its income from this source can best be improved without oppression to the people such as may result from settlement of leases by auction at speculative rates.

The "Band Rakhali" system mentioned in last year's Resolution is reported to exist in some parts of Birbhum on account of the pounds being too far apart. There has, however, been only a very slight increase in the number of pounds in this district or in Tippera, from which district no further complaints have been received.

10. Ferries (Rs. 1,19,135).—The receipts from ferries rose in 15 districts and fell in 10, the result being a net increase of Rs. 16,352. Dacca shows the largest increase (Rs. 9,891), which was due to better realization of arrears. In Mymensingh and Rangpur the increase exceeded Rs. 2,000. One new ferry was established in the 24-Parganas.

11. Loans (Rs. 80,000).—During the year Rs. 40,000 were drawn by the 24-Parganas District Board as the second and last instalment of the loan of Rs. 60,000 from Government for the construction of feeder roads to the Baraset-Basirhat Light Railway. In this connection it is gratifying to learn that the District Board's share in the profits of the railway showed a marked increase over the previous year.

The District Board of Dinajpur have taken a loan of Rs. 40,000 from Government for the construction of permanent bridges.

12. Expenditure—Administration (Rs. 2,17,548).—The aggregate expenditure under this head rose by Rs. 8,882, the increase being shared by all the divisions except Chittagong. The cost of office establishment rose from Rs. 1,39,505 to Rs. 1,41,471 and contingencies from Rs. 69,161 to Rs. 75,388. Under "office establishment" the increase is explained as due in part to the payment of acting allowance to Board's employees and of travelling allowance to members of District and Local Boards. The increase under contingencies is due in some cases to the purchase of type-writing machines. The percentage borne by charges under this head on the total ordinary income of the Boards ranges from 2.2 in Chittagong to 6.2 in Jessore.

13. Education (Rs. 16,57,920).—In the year under review more than 25 per cent. of the whole expenditure by District Boards was devoted to education. There is, however, a marked difference between the percentage of such expenditure in Eastern and Western Bengal; for, while the Rajshahi Division spent 27.2 per cent., Dacca 29.4 per cent. and Chittagong nearly 34 per cent., the Presidency and Burdwan Divisions spent less than 20 per cent. each on education. The total expenditure under this head rose from Rs. 11,52,256 to Rs. 16,57,920. The increase was shared by all the divisions and was due in part to expenditure on the equipment of primary schools out of the special Imperial grant for the improvement of those institutions. The maintenance and management of middle and primary schools were responsible for the expenditure of Rs. 68,872 and Rs. 4,62,466 against Rs. 65,473 and Rs. 1,92,827 respectively of the previous year. In consequence of the allocation of the public works cess to District Boards with effect from 1913-14, the equilibrium grants hitherto made to District Boards and used mainly for promoting education have been withdrawn. The expenditure on primary education forms nearly 60 per cent. of the total amount spent on education, ranging between 37 per cent. in the Burdwan Division and 73.1 in the Dacca Division. The total number of primary schools in the Presidency is 24,967, the largest number in any one district being 2,864 (Midnapore), and the smallest number 327 (Malda).

14. Special schools.—There are in all seven technical schools maintained by District Boards, viz., one each in the districts of Burdwan, Midnapore, Khulna, Mymensingh, Tippera, Rajshahi and Pabna. But few of them show any marked progress and the number of their students has diminished. A proposal for the provincialization of the Kashi Kishore Institution at Mymensingh is under consideration. There are weaving schools at Bankura, at Gopalganj in the district of Faridpur and at Malda. The weaving school attached to the Kashi Kishore Institution at Mymensingh has been transferred to the head-quarters of the Tangail subdivision, where it is reported to have made a promising start. Some of the District Boards granted scholarships at the Bihar Engineering School, Burdwan Technical School, Serampore Weaving School, Campbell Medical School, Bengal Veterinary College and Deaf and Dumb Institution at Calcutta, and some contributed towards the cost of training dhazis. The Bakarganj District Board paid a monthly grant to the Deaf and Dumb School at Barisal and contributed towards the cost of artizan stipends tenable at the Barisal Technical School.

15. Medical (Rs. 3,87,083).—The total expenditure under this head rose from Rs. 3,52,801 to Rs. 3,87,083, or by Rs. 34,282. The increase was shared by all the divisions except Chittagong, where there was a decrease of Rs. 1,154 only. The largest increase (Rs. 24,769) occurred in the Burdwan Division and was due mainly to the following causes, viz. the opening of two new dispensaries at Chaugram and Kaksha in the district of Burdwan, the payment of arrears for medicines supplied to the dispensaries in Bankura and of charges for sending a Sub-Assistant Surgeon for post-graduate training, the grant of a contribution of Rs. 10,000 by the Midnapore District Board towards the King Edward and Queen Alexandra Memorial Wards in the local Charitable Hospital, the larger contribution made to the Inambarah Hospital and the employment of nursing sisters by the Hooghly District Board and the larger contributions made to Union Committees by the Howrah District Board. The total number of dispensaries maintained by District Boards in the Presidency rose from 119 to 144, while the number aided by them decreased from 237 to 217. It is noteworthy that no dispensaries are maintained by the District Board in Murshidabad or in any district in the Chittagong Division. The District Board of Murshidabad, however, contributed Rs. 7,065 to the maintenance of four municipal dispensaries.

Effective arrangements were made in many districts to deal with epidemics. In the district of Burdwan six temporary dispensaries were maintained by the District Board, one of these being a floating dispensary on the Bhagirathi river for distributing medicine between Kalna and Katwa. The scheme of deputing the medical officer in charge of the Mandalai Dispensary to the Pan-lua market is reported to be a great success. In Birbhum, temporary dispensaries were opened for the fever season. In the Rajshahi Division all the District Boards contributed for medical relief on the occurrence of epidemics, appointing supernumerary medical officers and deputing them to localities affected by cholera and small-pox. In Mymensingh there are two hat dispensaries, and in Bakarganj the medical officers attached to certain dispensaries continue to visit the adjoining hats on hat days for the purpose of offering medical aid to the people assembled. In Mymensingh an interesting experiment was made, at the suggestion of the late Civil Surgeon, Captain D. B. Goll, in the form of affording medical relief by subsidising qualified medical practitioners in out-of-the-way places. In accordance with this system a subsistence allowance of Rs. 25 a month and a grant of Rs. 50 a year for medicines have been made to a private doctor at Badla. The arrangement is that medicines will be supplied gratis to the poor and at a scale of charges fixed by the District Board to such as can afford to pay.

The Divisional reports contain but scant reference to special medical aid for women. In the district of Hooghly nursing sisters are entertained. The District Board of Mymensingh employs three lady doctors and four midwives and contributes towards the cost of one midwife in the Sherpur Municipality; and the Boards of Faridpur, Bakarganj and Dacca, employ one, two and three midwives, respectively. In the Rajshahi Division little was done in this direction, but the Pabna District Board granted a scholarship of Rs. 7 a month to a female student to enable her to prosecute her studies in the dhai class in the Dacca Medical School.

Contributions towards the Pasteur Institute at Kasauli were made by the District Boards of Bakarganj and Rangpur; and contributions to the proposed Pasteur Institute at Shillong by the District Boards of Bakarganj, Chittagong, Tippera, Noakhali and Malda.

The reports from the Burdwan and Presidency Divisions contain details regarding the sale of quinine. There has been a truly remarkable increase in the quantity sold, an increase that has been shared by all the districts except Nadia. As in the previous year the largest sale was in the district of Burdwan and the smallest in Howrah, the sale-proceeds in the former district amounting to Rs. 6,842 and in the latter to only Rs. 134. The decline in Nadia from Rs. 3,810 to Rs. 3,214 is to be regretted, but the large increase in Jessore and still larger increase in Murshidabad are eminently satisfactory. In the 24-Parganas the sales have nearly doubled, but the total distributed is still very small in proportion to the needs of the district.

It is evident from the reports that quinine is far more acceptable in tablet form than in the form of powder. Since the close of the year the old powders and  $3\frac{1}{2}$  grain tablets have been replaced by "treatments," each consisting of twenty 4-grain tablets. This quantity represents the minimum which has been found by experts after continued research to be effective in ordinary cases of malaria. The Governor in Council feels confident that the supply of quinine in this form will lead to a still further increase in its consumption, and hopes that the result will be a marked decline in malaria throughout the Presidency.

16. Sanitation.—The expenditure on this account shewed an increase of Rs. 1,716, or slightly more than 18 per cent. This increase is a matter for congratulation, but an expenditure which averages one rupee for every  $2\frac{1}{2}$  square miles and less than a pie for every 20 persons in the Presidency is not one of which the District Boards have reason to be proud. Three districts, viz., Bakarganj, Burdwan and Midnapore, succeeded in spending more than Rs. 3,000 each, while three others, viz., Nadia, Murshidabad and Jalpaiguri, failed to spend anything on this important work. Mymensingh, with an area of 6,278 square miles and a population of nearly  $4\frac{1}{2}$  millions, spent the modest sum of Rs. 526. In the Tangail subdivision of this district a trial was given to the Patna system of village sanitation by clearing jungle and filling up insanitary ditches; but as the work had not been checked before the 31st March, no payment could be made. The Village Sanitary Committee at Sarishabari continued to do good work with no financial assistance, the necessary funds being raised by local subscriptions.

Conservancy arrangements at fairs and a few important centres were the most substantial results of the sanitary policy of District Boards. The work of Sanitary Inspectors is favourably mentioned, but in some districts their efforts were neutralised by the ignorance and apathy of the public. A healthy sign of the past year is local taxation by Union Committees, but this again is discounted by the reluctance of the members to enforce payment of the tax by obstructive assesses.

The question of village sanitation is of vital importance to the community. Hitherto the resources of rural boards have been so slender that some excuse existed for the slight attention which it has received. But now that local funds have been enriched by the proceeds of the public works cess, the plea of poverty can no longer be accepted. The Governor in Council trusts that this measure of relief will mark the commencement of an era of sanitary reform and that henceforth District Boards will make serious efforts towards the improvement of sanitation. The natural sphere for such activity is the village union, and the development of existing unions and the extension of the system to other well selected areas are fitting objects for the expenditure of their increased resources.

17. Veterinary charges (Rs. 39,070).—The total expenditure under this head rose from Rs. 36,844 to Rs. 39,070, although in 13 districts the charges decreased. The largest expenditure (Rs. 5,563) was incurred by the Mymensingh District Board, where the number of Veterinary Assistants was five, one being posted in each subdivision. The decrease in expenditure is, in many districts, due to the fact that the Veterinary Assistants now belong to the Provincial Service and the Boards have to pay a fixed contribution for their services to Government instead of the whole of their salaries and travelling allowances.

18. Civil Works (Rs. 35,20,385).—The expenditure on Civil works fell off in every division except Chittagong, the net decrease in the Presidency being Rs. 2,16,849. The expenditure under "Communications—Original works" was Rs. 1,02,147 less than in the previous year, while that under "Communications—Repairs" increased by Rs. 41,465. In the Burdwan and Presidency Divisions the total mileage of metalled, unmetalled and village roads rose from 1,559·9, 4,999·1 and 6,735·8 to 1,570·8, 6,050·5 and 7,018·5, respectively. In Eastern Bengal the total mileage of roads rose from 14,944 to 15,467.

In Birbhum the question of encroachments engaged the attention of the Chairman. It is reported that one very important road was ploughed up and converted into paddy fields. The Governor in Council trusts that the efforts now being made to preserve the roads intact will prove effective.

The Bakarganj system of road repairs, to which reference was made in last year's resolution, underwent some modification during the year under report. Instead of both earthwork and bridge repairs being done before the rains, only extensive earthwork necessary for maintaining the original crest of the road is being done before the rains, while all other items, such as bridge repairs, surface dressing, jungle clearing, and filling up hollows, though separately estimated for, are done after the rains.

It is too early yet to pronounce an opinion on the merits of the scheme as a whole, but the main object for which it was devised, viz., the avoidance of a rush of heavy bills at the close of the financial year, was effectively secured. In this district the lapses in public works allotments were less than 1 per cent., and the deposits at the close of the year were insignificant. For this result the District Engineer and his staff deserve great credit. On the other hand Palna, Jalpaiguri and Nadia had lapses amounting to more than 30 per cent. each. The explanations given are far from satisfactory, and the Governor in Council trusts that in future special efforts will be made by these District Boards to spend the resources at their disposal.

19. Water-supply (Rs. 1,94,843).—As compared with the previous year the total expenditure under this sub-head fell from Rs. 3,55,517 to Rs. 1,94,843. This large decrease was chiefly due to the expenditure in 1911-12 of Rs. 1,19,470 by the Bakarganj District Board on the Barisal water-works, and of Rs. 24,378 by the Dacca District Board on the Munshiganj water-works. The expenditure for 1912-13 includes the contribution of Rs. 5,000 by the Hooghly District Board towards the Serampore water-works, Rs. 5,000 contributed by the Bankura District Board towards the Bankura water-works, Rs. 5,000 contributed by the Jessore District Board towards the Jessore town water-works, Rs. 2,000 contributed by the Khulna District Board for the extension of the water-works of the Khulna town and Rs. 16,732, being the balance of the Bakarganj District Board's contribution towards the Barisal water-works. For the improvement of village water-supply Mymensingh spent the largest amount (Rs. 33,771). In rural areas money was for the most part spent on the excavation of tanks and wells ; and, where the want of good drinking water is keenly felt, tanks were reserved for this purpose. The expenditure in Midnapore, Howrah and the 24-Parganas, and in all the districts in the Chittagong and Rajshahi Divisions except Rajshahi fell below the standard minimum of Rs. 5,000. The amount spent in Jalpaiguri, viz., Rs. 1,200, was far too small as the question of water-supply is of special importance in that district. Very little progress was made during the year in the preparation of water-supply registers and maps by sub-overseers, whose pay is met by Government, but many of these officers were being appointed towards the close of the year.

On the whole, the year's work is very disappointing. The instructions issued by Government at the close of the previous year do not appear to have received the attention which they deserved ; and the failure of District Boards to take full advantage of the pecuniary assistance offered by Government is greatly to be regretted. The Governor in Council desires once more to emphasise the importance of providing rural areas with an adequate supply of pure water and looks to the Chairmen and members of Rural Boards to make every effort to carry out the wishes of Government.

20. Drainage (Rs. 18,923).—The expenditure on "original works" and "repairs" under this head was Rs. 16,638 and Rs. 2,285 during the year 1912-13 against Rs. 4,343 and Rs. 2,452 in the preceding year. The bulk of this expenditure (Rs. 15,009) was incurred by the Tippera District Board on the excavation of a khal. Nothing was spent in the Burdwan Division, and the expenditure in other divisions was trifling, no regular projects of drainage works being undertaken by any of the District Boards. The Mograhat drainage in the 24-Parganas will shortly be completed.

21. Arboriculture (Rs. 24,282).—The expenditure under this head shews a decline of Rs. 4,551. Only the Hooghly and Howrah District Boards have followed Mymensingh and Malda in adopting the system of preparing a quinquennial programme of tree planting, but the Bankura and Birbhum District Boards have agreed to adopt the plan. The largest expenditure (Rs. 3,772) was incurred by Mymensingh. There was no outlay in Bakarganj, Bogra and Malda.

22. Railways.—The District Boards of Burdwan and Birbhum at first resolved to guarantee 4 per cent. on the capital outlay of 12 lakhs of rupees for the construction of a light railway from Ahmadpur to Katwa, which Messrs. James Luke & Sons proposed to undertake. Subsequently, however, Messrs. MacLeod & Co., who have undertaken the construction of the Burdwan-Katwa Railway, have proposed to take up the Ahmadpur-Katwa line, and the whole question is now under the consideration of the Railway Board. Detailed survey operations in connection with the proposed light railway from Belda to Contai in the district of Midnapore were in progress. The District Board of Midnapore had also under consideration a proposal for another railway from the Chantrakona road station to Ghatal.

The working of the Baraset-Basirhat Light Railway in the 24-Parganas was highly satisfactory, the District Board's share of the profits for the year ending June 1912 amounting to Rs. 17,283 as compared with Rs. 553 in the year ending June 1911. A proposal by Messrs. Khetter Mohon Dey to construct a light railway from Kalighat to Fatehpur on the 22nd mile of the Diamond Harbour Road was accepted by the District Board of the 24-Parganas subject to certain conditions and is now being considered in the Public Works Department. In Nadia the proposal for the construction of a light railway from Krishnagar to Jellinghee fell through as the promoters could not come to terms with the Board. The Jessore-Jhenida Light Railway is under construction. The Railway Board have permitted the Eastern Bengal State Railway to construct a light railway from Khulna to Bagerhat and have sanctioned a detailed survey by the Eastern Bengal State Railway of a railway line from Satkhira to Nabharan, a station on the central section of the Eastern Bengal State Railway.

The Pabna District Board had under consideration a proposal for the construction of a light railway from Sadhuganj to Isardi via Pabna.

23. Closing balances (Rs. 29,71,360).—The aggregate closing balances of District Boards (excluding deposits) amounted to Rs. 21,08,889 against Rs. 16,30,370 in the preceding year. The increase was shared by all the districts except Burdwan, Jessore, Tippera and Dinajpur. The largest closing balance was that of the District Board of the 24-Parganas, but this includes the sum of two lakhs of rupees contributed by Government for the improvement of the Nawi Sunthi rivers during the year 1911-12. In the Burdwan Division the increase was due partly to unspent balance of the Imperial grant for education. In some other cases it is accounted for by the failure of the Boards to spend their allotments for Civil works and certain Government grants which were received at the close of the year.

The fact remains that the closing balances have increased by over 25 per cent., and now amount to nearly 30 lakhs, while the total expenditure of the past year chargeable to current income is but slightly in excess of 60 lakhs. In other words the balances are almost equal to half the ordinary expenditure. The Governor in Council is of opinion that the explanations furnished are in no way adequate to justify this extraordinary position, which calls for the most serious attention of the District Boards. The good work that could be done by these bodies is limited only by the resources at their disposal, and any fresh calls of an urgent nature are almost invariably met by a plea of poverty. Such a plea is peculiarly inappropriate when urged by a body that ignominiously fails to spend the funds it has. During the past year a permanent addition has been made to the resources of Rural Boards by the surrender of the proceeds of the public works cess, and the hands of District Boards have for the present been left entirely free in the application of these additional sums. If full advantage is to be taken of this liberal concession it is essential that practical schemes of expenditure should be drawn up and unremitting energy devoted to the actual work of carrying these schemes to completion. The Governor in Council earnestly commends this matter to the attention of all District Boards and desires to impress upon them the fact that all applications for pecuniary assistance that may in future be received by Government from any District Board will be examined in the first instance with reference to the success that that Board has achieved in expending its ordinary income.

24. The following Vice-Chairmen of District Boards have been commended by the local officers for their good work during the year :—

- Babu Banwari Lal Hati, Burdwan.
- Khan Bahadur Maulvi Shamsuzzoha, Birbhum.

READ—

Despatch from His Majesty's Secretary of State for India, No. 1-Financial (Funds), dated the 30th January 1914, and enclosures.

INDIA OFFICE, LONDON,
30th January 1914.

Financial (Funds).

No. 1.

To His Excellency the Right Honourable the Governor-General of India in Council.

MY LORD,

You will have learned from my Despatch No. 7, Financial (Funds), dated 3rd November 1911, that I had appointed Mr., now Sir George, Hardy, K.C.B., Fellow of the Institute of Actuaries and lately President of that body, to undertake a valuation of the Indian Civil Service Family Pension Scheme as at 31st March 1911, a period of six years having elapsed since the previous valuation. Sir George Hardy's Report has been greatly delayed in consequence of the Chancellor of the Exchequer's demand for his services in connection with the National Health Insurance Act. A further delay has been caused by the receipt of the letter from the Secretary in your Financial Department, No. 813 F. E., dated 3rd July 1913, enclosing a memorandum prepared by Mr. M. W. Fenton, C.S.I., and submitted by him to the Royal Commission on the Public Services in India. The memorandum was also transmitted by the Commission to this Office under cover of a letter dated 8th August 1913, of which I enclose a copy. It is understood that the memorandum summarizes the criticisms of the scheme offered by numerous Indian civilians who gave evidence before the Commission. It was in the hands of the Actuary while he was considering his Report, and his recommendations will be found to meet, as far as circumstances permit, the representations it contains.

2. I enclose copies of Sir George Hardy's two Reports dated 11th and 20th November, together with the consolidated accounts for the period from 1st April 1905 to 31st March 1911.

3. A perusal of the two Reports will show that the whole Family Pension scheme has been investigated with the utmost thoroughness, and that new tables of mortality and marriage experience have been prepared which in the Actuary's words "may be regarded as a really trustworthy basis for the Financial Estimates and one which will be of value in the future." The results of the valuation will, it is hoped, in view of Sir George Hardy's exceptional authority, be accepted by all concerned as a complete exposition of the true condition of the scheme and as being in accord with the best rules of actuarial practice.

4. Sir George Hardy was also asked to investigate the cost of the benefits provided by the States in view of the increase in the personnel of the service, which at the time of the institution of the scheme was estimated at 900. He shows that, while the existing Regulations provide that the maximum contribution by the State to pensions is not to exceed 35,000Z. a year, the increased personnel may ultimately involve a total cost of 39,900Z., but he considers that as the lower figure of 35,000Z. will not, under present conditions, be attained for 60 years from now, the possibility of an ultimately increased charge may be disregarded. I concur in that view.

5. In view of the decision conveyed in my Despatch No. 3, Financial (Funds), dated 3rd March 1911, to reduce the rate of interest on the balances of the Indian Military Service Family Pension Scheme, from  $4\frac{1}{2}$  to 4 per cent., to which effect has been given since 1st May 1911, Sir George Hardy was directed to value the Indian Civil Service Family Pension Scheme at the two rates of  $4\frac{1}{2}$  and 4 per cent. The valuation statement, which assumes that subscriptions are paid without rebate, shows a surplus of 770,897l. on a  $4\frac{1}{2}$  per cent. basis, and a surplus of 601,909l. on a 4 per cent. basis. "The existence of the surplus," the Report states, "is due to the fact that mainly, in consequence of light mortality prevailing among subscribers since the establishment of the present pension regulations the contributions have proved more than sufficient to provide for the liabilities incurred." The constitution of the Military and the Civil Schemes are alike in providing that the rules should not bring any charge on the revenues of India (except as regards the direct contribution of a portion of the Civil pensions) and in view of the above results, I see no justification for continuing the  $4\frac{1}{2}$  per cent. rate in the case of the Civil Scheme. I have accordingly decided that from the beginning of the month following the date of the publication in India of the Reports and this Despatch, until at least the date of the publication of the next valuation, the rate of 4 per cent. shall be charged upon the arrears of contributions levied under these Regulations and that the same rate shall be allowed in the half-yearly pro forma accounts on the balances shown therein. I have, therefore, taken the surplus available for disposal on the present valuation as 601,909l.

6. I recognise that there is force in the representations received through the Royal Commission that the continuance of subscriptions after retirement is a considerable burden on subscribers, even on those who draw the maximum annuity, and this burden is felt in an enhanced degree by those who retire earlier on medical grounds with a considerably smaller income. Sir George Hardy shows that out of every 100 subscribers entering the service and surviving to the age of retirement, 97 marry before retirement and 3 afterwards. Relief given on retirement would be of ultimate benefit to almost every subscriber, and could hardly fail to be generally acceptable. I have decided, therefore, to use the major portion of the surplus of 601,909l. in terminating all subscriptions on retirement. But it follows that if benefits are to accrue to widows or to children resulting from marriages after retirement, they must be specially provided for, and Sir George Hardy is preparing a scale of enhanced donations payable on such marriages and on such births which, making due allowance for subscriptions while in active service, will make the necessary provision for liabilities of this kind subsequently arising. It will be at the option of the subscriber to make this provision or not as he may think fit. In order, however, to prevent an abuse of this concession by any who might marry in a state of health which indicated a very short term of life, it will be provided that a subscriber marrying after retirement and wishing to make provision under the scheme should produce a health certificate showing that he is free from any bodily complaint of a dangerous tendency and is believed to be a good life. The surplus also allows of giving some relief to unmarried subscribers and widowers. I have decided that for these the full monthly contribution after 18 years' service shall remain at 4l. 15s. instead of being advanced to 5l. 15s. after 23, and to 7l. 5s. after 28 years' service. The Report shows that the cost of the above concessions would amount to 498,000l., and further that as the result of the cessation of subscriptions upon retirement it would be necessary to increase the table of Disparity Fines.

7. With reference to the second point to which the Royal Commission draw attention, viz., the age at which sons' pensions now cease, there appears to be a widespread desire that these pensions should be payable to the age of 24, and Sir George Hardy estimates that on the condition that the monthly contribution for sons of subscribers in active service be extended to the age of 24, the cost of the continuance of pensions to that age would amount to 15,250l. I have accordingly decided to alter the rules to provide for this change also.

8. The 513,250l. distributed as above leaves 88,659l. of the surplus undisposed of; but this would not permit a continuance of the  $12\frac{1}{2}$  per cent. rebate on subscriptions allowed since 1st August 1908, which would cost 112,040l.

9. You will observe that the letters from the Royal Commission, as well as Mr. Fenton's memorandum, draw attention to the charges made in the pro forma accounts for management, the reserve for which, as stated in the Report of 20th November (page 21), stands at 41,000l. in the Valuation of Assets and Liabilities. The charge now made is at the rate of 200*l.* a year in this country and 2½ per cent. on gross receipts and payments in India. These charges, which have gradually increased, amounted for the year ended 31st March 1912 to 1,638*l.*, and to them the amount of the actuary's fee at intervals of five or six years must be added. The actual cost to Government, however, is difficult to estimate, as, while no one official's time is wholly engaged on this scheme, a large number of officers give a portion of their time to some branch of work in connection with it. Moreover, a share of the pensions of retired officials and a portion of the general office charges may be correctly debited to this work, and in any case the actual cost will be a very fluctuating figure. For these reasons, the charges are particularly open to challenge, and have excited criticism on various grounds. The question has also assumed prominence in consequence of the recommendation of Lord Welby's Committee that in the case of the New Fund proposed to be established for Military, Medical, and Marine Officers, such charges shall be wholly borne by the State. Sir George Hardy points out that the removal of this item from the Indian Civil Family Pension Scheme would set free the item of 41,000*l.* for disposal. I am aware that a concession in this matter to the Indian Civil Family Pension Scheme may render a consideration of the same question necessary on the occasion of the next valuation of the Indian Military Service Family Pension Scheme, but after fully weighing the matter I have thought it desirable to remove this item from the field of controversy as regards the Civil Scheme, and the cost of management will in future be a charge to Indian Revenues.

10. If the 41,000*l.* be added to the undistributed surplus of 88,659*l.* already mentioned, a balance of 129,659*l.* is available, and this would permit of a continuance of the abatement of 12½ per cent. at present allowed, namely, on subscriptions but not on donations. This would cost 112,040*l.* and leave a final balance of about 17,000*l.*

11. The Actuary points out that, "although 17,000*l.* is not in itself a very substantial margin, in comparison with the total liabilities upon the funds, a safeguard is provided in the power to reconsider the continuance of the abatements at each successive valuation." It may also be added that the scheme will have the benefit of the 4½ per cent. rate for nearly three years after the date as at which the valuation has been made, which will increase the margin to the extent of about a further 15,000*l.*

12. I have to request that you will publish the two reports and this despatch in the Gazette of India. The changes announced will have effect from the first day of the following month. The date of publication should be communicated to me by telegram, and as soon as possible thereafter copies of the amended Regulations will be despatched.

13. I hope that the material advantages now accruing to the subscribers as a body will allay the discontent to which expression has been given.

I have the honour to be,

My Lord,

Your Lordship's most obedient, humble servant,

(Signed) CREWE.

ENCLOSURES.ENCLOSURE No. 1 :—*Sir George Hardy to India Office.INDIAN CIVIL SERVICE FAMILY PENSIONS.*REPORT ON VALUATION AS AT 31ST MARCH 1911.

140, St. Stephen's House, Westminster, S. W.,

MY LORD MARQUESS,

11th November 1913.

In accordance with your instructions, conveyed to me by the late Sir R. T. W. Ritchie, I have made valuations of the Indian Civil Service Family Pensions as at 31st March 1911, at the two rates of interest prescribed, namely 4 per cent. and  $4\frac{1}{2}$  per cent., and I now beg to submit my report upon the results of these valuations, and also upon the further question referred to me, namely, as to the probable effect of the regulations affecting benefits provided at the cost of the State, in view of the increase in the number of active service members beyond the 900 contemplated when the present scheme was instituted.

2. In order to provide a suitable basis for the calculations, it is necessary to determine approximately what is likely to be the future experience with regard to the following :—

- (i) The rates of mortality at various ages of subscribers, and of actual and prospective incumbents.
- (ii) The rates of marriage of the widows and of the daughters of subscribers.
- (iii) The rates of marriage of unmarried subscribers, and the relative ages of husbands and wives at marriage.
- (iv) The number of sons and daughters born to subscribers of various ages.
- (v) The ages at which subscribers will retire from active service.

3. The data available for this purpose at previous valuations have been somewhat meagre, and on this account I have found it necessary to make an investigation into the experience, not only of the Indian Civil Service Family Pensions, but also of the old Funds—the Bengal, Madras and Bombay Civil Funds—which furnish valuable information on the rates of mortality prevailing among subscribers and beneficiaries at the older ages. The materials for this investigation, which were furnished to me by Mr. Walter Badoek, C.S.I., the Accountant-General and Director of Funds, cover a period of 21 years from 1st April 1890 to 31st March 1911 in each case. The examination and analysis of the statistics thus brought together, and the preparation therefrom of the requisite tables of graduated rates of mortality, marriage, etc., have necessarily somewhat delayed the valuation, but in compensation for this we have for the first time what may, I think, be regarded as a really trustworthy basis for the financial estimates, and one which will be of value in the future. It will be convenient here to refer briefly to the results of this statistical investigation under its various heads.

Mortality of Subscribers.

4. I have not considered it necessary to investigate separately the mortality experience of married and unmarried subscribers. It is possible, judging by the experience of similar funds, that the mortality of the married subscribers, at all events at the younger ages, is somewhat lighter than that of unmarried subscribers, but the data are not sufficient to establish this, and the point is not financially important. The data do not indicate any material difference between the mortality rates of active and retired subscribers.

5. The following table furnishes a summary of the experience with respect to the mortality of subscribers, both active and retired, the facts being arranged for convenience in quinquennial groups of ages. With regard to the older funds it has not been thought necessary to give the statistics separately for each fund, either here or in the tables that follow:—

* These figures and the corresponding figures in the accompanying tables of similar character, represent the number of complete years of life under observation at these ages.

6. It is of interest to compare this mortality experience with that of the subscribers to the Indian Military Pensions, and with a standard British table, such as that representing the mortality of male annuitants (excluding the experience of the first five years from their date of entry) in the recently published Government annuity experience. This will be done most conveniently by setting out, in fairly large age groups, the estimated deaths according to these standards, on the basis of the numbers exposed to risk at each age, side by side with the deaths actually experienced. In the following table this comparison is made:—

TABLE II.

7. It will be seen from the last two columns of this table that while the mortality of the subscribers to the Civil Funds has been lower generally than that shown by either of the tables used for comparison, it has been relatively lowest in middle life, especially in the age group 50 to 59, and relatively highest for ages under 40 and over 80. A feature of the experience, not apparent in Table II, but clearly shown in Table I, where the facts are given more in detail, is the comparatively heavy rate of mortality in the few years following entry into the service, particularly marked in the age group 25 to 29. This is no doubt due to the effect of the climate upon recently entered lives, and is largely counterbalanced by the light mortality in the following age group. The rates of mortality used in the valuation, given in Table A, in the Appendix, follow closely the actual mortality experienced, and may be regarded, I think, as a fair index of the mortality now prevailing among Indian Civil Servants, active and retired.

Mortality of Wives of Subscribers.

8. There were no particulars available as to the mortality among the wives of subscribers in the Bengal, Madras and Bombay Civil Funds, and the experience of the Indian Civil Pensions, in this respect, has so far been very limited. The facts are summarised in the following table from which it will be seen that there have been only 37 deaths of wives of subscribers during the 21 years covered by this investigation :—

TABLE III.

45—49	163	2	1·23

9. At those ages beyond the limits of the experience as tabulated above, there is no reason to anticipate that the mortality of wives will differ materially from that of the widows and daughters of subscribers at similar periods of life. As regards these, the experience at the older ages, as will be seen from Table IV, is fairly extensive, the observed deaths between ages 50 and 95 being over 300 in number. I have assumed that for ages over 45 the mortality rates for the wives of subscribers will be the same as those deduced from the experience of the widows and daughters. For ages below 45, the graduated rates adopted, as shown in Table A, represent approximately those actually experienced, as shown in the above summary, with a deduction on the average of about 20 per cent. to cover the uncertainty inseparable from such limited material.

Mortality of Widows and Daughters of Subscribers.

10. Table IV contains a summary of the combined mortality experience of the various funds in respect of the widows and the daughters of subscribers, the latter remaining under observation until marriage only. The figures for the new and for the older funds taken alone are so small that it has not been thought worth while to state them separately.

11. For the same reason, namely, the paucity of materials, the experience as regards widows and daughters has been combined in order to obtain a more satisfactory basis for estimating future rates of mortality than would be afforded by either taken alone. The mortality of the two classes of beneficiaries has, in fact, been very similar, as will be seen from the following statement showing the estimated deaths for various periods of life according to the rates of mortality derived from the combined experience, together with the number of deaths actually observed :—

TABLE V.

Ages.	DEATHS OF WIDOWS.		DEATHS OF DAUGHTERS.

Under 50 ...	6	5	26	27
50—69 ...	57	55	53	55
70—79 ...	90	89	34	35
Over 80 ...	89	86	15	18
All ages ...	242	235	128	135

12. On the whole there is a striking agreement between the numbers of estimated and actual deaths in each group, and although the mortality of the daughters, in each group of ages, is slightly above, and that of the widows correspondingly below the average of the two classes, the number of deaths is so small that no significance can be attached to this difference. The experience of the Bengal, Madras and Bombay Funds, so far as it is available, does not extend to daughters, other than incumbents, and that of the Indian Civil Pensions includes only a small number of deaths at the earlier ages. The figures in Table IV, however, indicate that the mortality at the younger ages is very similar to that of the daughters of subscribers to the Indian Military Pensions, the deaths under 30 being 6 as against 6·8 expected, according to that standard, and those under age 45 being 20 as against 21·0 expected. In these circumstances I have considered it to be sufficient to employ approximately the same rates of mortality for daughters at the younger ages as were used for the valuation of the Indian Military Pensions, the rates being made identical under age 12, but with a deduction of 10 per cent. to provide a margin for contingencies. The actual rates employed in the calculations are shown in the table appended.

Mortality of Sons.

13. It has been assumed that the mortality of the sons of subscribers will be similar to that in the experience of the Indian Military Pensions, a deduction of 10 per cent. being made from the latter rates, as in the case of the daughters, to provide a margin of safety. Owing to the short period of time of which the pensions of sons are payable any change in the assumed rate of mortality has only a small effect proportionately upon the values of either the contingent or actual pensions.

Remarriages of Widows.

14. The experience of the various funds gives very little basis for estimating the rates of the re-marriage of widows. Of the widows drawing Indian Civil Pensions only 13 had been re-married up to the date of the valuation, and among widows drawing pensions from the Bengal, Madras and Bombay Civil Funds only 10 remarriages took place in the 21 years covered by this investigation. These numbers are insufficient to furnish more than a mere indication of the probable rates of remarriage in future. Uncertainty in regard to this factor of the valuation is, however, of much less importance than would be the case in regard to the marriage rate of daughters. This is owing in the first place to the fact that in the case of a widow one-half of the pension is still payable to the incumbent on her remarriage, and to the further fact that such marriages will be relatively few, as the great majority of widows will become incumbents at ages where the probability of remarriage is small.

15. In the following table a comparison is made between the actual number of remarriages of widows, in certain age groups, and the estimated numbers according to the experience of (a) the Indian Military Pensions combined with the Bengal, Madras and Bombay Funds, 1888—1908 (see column headed I.M.P.), (b) the Bengal Uncovenanted Service Pensions, 1872—1901 (see column headed U.S.F.P.) :—

TOTALS ...	1,613	18·22	20·74	23

16. It will be seen that in the aggregate the experience is not very unlike either standard of comparison, but is rather closer to the Uncovenanted Service. In view of the very small extent of the data and the resulting uncertainty, I have employed in the present valuation remarriage rates equal to one-half of those of the Uncovenanted Service Table. This will leave a margin for contingencies similar to that provided in my recent valuation of the Indian Military Pensions.

Marriages of Daughters.

17. The experience as to the marriage rates prevailing at different ages among the daughters of subscribers is drawn almost entirely from the data furnished by the old funds. The facts are summarised in Table VII, which follows :—

Marriages of Daughters, 1890—1911.

Age.	At risk.	Married.	Marriage rate per cent.
15—19 ...	539	5	·93
20—24 ...	769	25	3·25

50—54 ...	1,014	2	·20
55—59 ...	874	...	.....
All ages ...	7,788	133	.....

18. It will be seen that the rates of marriage in successive age groups do not progress with much regularity. On the average they are about 5 per cent. less than those deduced from the experience of the Indian Military Pensions, and about 20 per cent. less than in the experience of the Uncovenanted Service Pension Fund, the average age of marriage being moreover appreciably later than in that fund. Apart from the fact that the available data are not very extensive, there is the possibility to be considered of a fall in the marriage rate in the future, the effect of which would be materially to increase the cost of pensions. To provide for this contingency the rates actually employed in the calculations, as shown in Table A in the Appendix, have been taken at 75 per cent. of the graduated rates deduced from the actual experience set out in the above table.

Retirements of Subscribers.

19. The proportionate number of subscribers assumed to retire from active service at the various ages is a very important factor in the valuation. Among subscribers to the Indian Civil Pensions few retirements have as yet occurred, only a small number of subscribers having, at the date of the valuation, reached the ages at which retirements are to be expected. In determining the probable rate of retirements in the future, therefore, it is necessary to be guided, to a large extent, by the experience of the older funds. In Table VIII following will be found a statement of the number of subscribers in active service who were under observation at the various ages, and the number of those who retired at each age. The ages have not been grouped here as in the previous statistical tables as the rate of retirement varies considerably in passing from age to age.

20. So far as it goes the experience of the Indian Civil Pensions is fairly in agreement with that of the old funds. For example, according to the rates of retirement in the former out of 1,000 subscribers entering the service at age 24 or under 950 of the survivors are still in active service at age 45, but only 550 at age 50, these proportions being practically the same as those deduced from the experience of the old funds, although the percentage at the intermediate ages are not so closely in agreement. On the whole it may be said that the tendency, while not very marked, has been towards an earlier average age of retirement; and this tendency is also observable in the experience of the two years that have elapsed since the date of the valuation, the figures for these years having been supplied to me especially with a view to investigating this point. This tendency to an earlier age of retirement will, however, be effectively checked in the course of the next eight or ten years. Hitherto the retirements that have taken place, if we except early retirements on account of health, have been exclusively those of subscribers who entered prior to 1893, at a period, that is, when the average age at which subscribers entered the service, was about 21 years. But in that year a change in the regulations took effect which resulted in the average age at entry into the service being increased to about 24 years. This will be apparent from the figures in the following table:—

21. It will be seen that for three years 1890—92, the average age at entry was 21.1, for the period 1894—1910 it was 24.1, and during the six years elapsed since the last valuation, 1905—10, it has been 24.3. This increase in the age at entry must be expected to produce eventually a corresponding increase though not necessarily of an equal amount in the average age of retirement. On the other hand, there may be factors which will operate in the opposite direction. The question is now under discussion as to how far any surplus brought out by the present valuation can be utilised to cancel the contributions at present payable by retired subscribers, and it is quite possible that such a change in the regulations might affect slightly the average age of retirement.

22. Assuming that the rates of retirement in the future continue to be as shown in the last column of the above table, the effect as regards the value of future contributions will be practically the same as if all subscribers retired at 51 years of age. Duly weighing the various considerations referred to in the preceding paragraph, I am of opinion that it will be sufficient for the purpose of this valuation to assume that retirements will take place in future on the average at age 50; and this has accordingly been done. This assumption will leave an adequate but not unreasonable margin for contingencies.

Withdrawals of Subscribers.

23. The financial effect of the withdrawal of subscribers has to be considered. In the case of married subscribers withdrawals may be regarded as unimportant, as, no sum being allowed for the surrender of the contract, there will generally result a relief of liability to the funds. The withdrawal upon their retirement of unmarried subscribers, however, will generally result in a loss to the funds; and in estimating the present value of the contributions to be received from unmarried subscribers this must be taken into account.

24. If we exclude from consideration early retirements on account of ill-health or other special circumstances, which, from their fewness and for other reasons, are not of importance in this connection, the normal retirements, taking place, say, after 45 years of age, have been very few in the experience of the Indian Civil Pensions. Even if we include the two years elapsed since the date of valuation there have been only 10 such retirements of unmarried subscribers, and two only of these have withdrawn from membership at or subsequent to the date of retirement. The number of such withdrawals will no doubt be kept in check in the first place by the smallness of the contribution required from retired unmarried subscribers, and, secondly, by the probability of marriage, or in the case of widowers, of re-marriage, with the consequent advantage in that event of having remained a subscriber. According to the experience of the old funds, about a third of the unmarried subscribers who retire at the normal ages eventually marry. The element of selection will probably come into operation in the case of those retired subscribers who withdraw, and the probability of marriage or re-marriage in these cases may be less than the average, but this is hardly more than surmise. I have considered that it will be sufficient for the purpose of this valuation to assume that in future 25 per cent. of the unmarried subscribers retiring will cease to contribute, but that, on the other hand, this will not affect the provision that will require to be made for pensions to future wives and children.

Liabilities for Future Wives and Children.

25. In addition to dealing with the liabilities that have actually accrued in the shape of pensions in course of payment and of the liabilities for contingent pensions to existing wives and children it is necessary in a valuation such as the present to bring into the account on the one side the present value of the liabilities for pensions in respect of any future marriages of contributors, whether now single or married, and in respect of any future births of children, and on the other side the present value of the donations and increased contributions which will become payable on the happening of these.

26. These liabilities for pensions to future wives and children have been sometimes referred to as "prospective" to distinguish them, for convenience, from the more immediate and tangible liabilities for pensions in course of payment, or for pensions that may become payable to present wives and children. No material distinction, however, can be drawn between these classes of liabilities. In general, when a subscriber enters the service, the liabilities incurred in return for his contributions are entirely "prospective." The value at that date of the contributions he is required to pay as an unmarried subscriber ought to be sufficient to cover the value of the prospective liabilities for pensions to any widow and any children he may ultimately leave surviving him, allowance being made for the additional contributions and donations that he may be required to pay on marriage or at the birth of children. As regards the pension on to any future widow the cost is largely, though not altogether, met by the additional contributions and donations payable upon marriage, but this is not so as regards pensions to future children, the cost of these being only partly met by additional contributions, the balance being provided out of the contributions of unmarried subscribers. In treating the latter as an asset it is necessary therefore to bring in on the other side of the Valuation Balance Sheet the value of the prospective liabilities they are intended to meet, otherwise a fictitious surplus would result.

27. Even assuming that there were at any particular valuation an approximate balance between the present value of the pensions, and of the additional contributions payable in respect of future marriages and births, this balance would be disturbed by any change, either in the amount of the contributions in the conditions under which they are payable, or in the rate of interest assumed in the valuation. Hence it would be impossible to estimate the financial effect of any such changes unless the present values both of the pensions and of the additional contributions were first ascertained.

28. In order to provide a basis for the valuation of the prospective assets and liabilities above referred to, an estimate must be made of the number of marriages that may be expected to take place among the subscribers of various ages and of the number of future sons and daughters that may be expected to be born in respect of present or future marriages.

Marriages of Subscribers.

29. In the table that follows is a statement of the number of unmarried subscribers under observation in various age groups and the number of marriages during the period 1890—1911, with the average rates of marriages in each age group:—

TABLE X.

Marriages of Subscribers, 1890—1911.

Ages.			At risk.	Married.	Rate per cent.
Under 24	...	...	1,670	92	5·5
25—29	...	...	4,036	360	8·9
30—34	...	...	1,961	213	10·9
35—39	...	...	806	72	8·9
40—44	...	...	262½	15	5·7
Over 45	...	...	16½	3	18·2
Totals			8,752	755

30. Allowance has to be made, however, for the change that has occurred in the average age of marriage during the 21 years under review, owing, in the main, to the change in the average age of entry into the service. In the rates of marriage actually employed in the valuation, shown in Table A aforesaid, the effect of this change has been taken into account, the rates of marriage being so taken as to preserve approximately the same number of marriages in the aggregate, but with a slightly higher average age at marriage than is shown by the above table.

Births of Future Children.

31. For greater convenience of calculation the number of the births of sons and daughters to fathers of given ages has been compared with the total number of subscribers, whether married or single, under observation at such ages. I have in this instance considered it advisable to confine the investigation to the past six years 1905—1911. During this period the ratio of the number of married men at each age to the total number of subscribers, at that age, has been practically constant apart from small accidental fluctuations at individual ages. The following table gives a summary of the experience in the form of a statement of the number of subscribers under observation, in various age groups, during the six years, and the number of births of sons and daughters to fathers of those ages:—

TABLE XI.

Births of Sons and Daughters, 1905—1911.

Ages of fathers.	Married subscribers under observation.	Sons born.	Issue rates per cent.	Daughters born.	Issue rates per cent.
Under 30 ...	1,720	47	2.73	45	2.62
30—34 ...	1,639	108	6.59	101	6.16
35—39 ...	1,865	124	6.65	80	4.29

50 and over ...	6	...	...	...	...
Totals ...	6,519	322	...	263	...

32. The rates of issue, as regards sons and daughters, employed in the valuation of the prospective liabilities for pensions to unborn children, as given in Table A, have been based upon an analysis of the experience as summarised in the preceding table.

Reserve for Future Expenses of Management.

33. Under the arrangements now in force the annual charge for expenses of management in India is limited to  $2\frac{1}{2}$  per cent. of the income from contributions and donations plus  $2\frac{1}{2}$  per cent. of the outgo for pensions, and the annual charge for expenses in London to 200%. In each valuation, as set out in the Valuation Balance Sheet, the sum reserved for future expenses represents approximately the capitalised value of these charges, properly apportionable to existing contracts.

Basis of Valuations.

34. The valuations have been based upon the rates of mortality among subscribers, and among the wives, widows and sons of subscribers, upon the rates of marriage of widows and of daughters, and upon the rates of marriage and issue of subscribers shown in Table A appended to this report. They are also based upon the assumptions as to retirements and withdrawals above referred to.

35. Valuations have been made upon the bases of rates of interest of 4 per cent. and  $4\frac{1}{2}$  per cent. respectively in accordance with instructions, and it is assumed in the case of each valuation that the capital will from year to year be credited with interest at the rate so long as any of the existing contracts remain in force.

Results of the Valuations.

36. The Valuation Balance Sheet appended to this report shows in detail the results of the alternative Valuations at 4 per cent. and  $4\frac{1}{2}$  per cent. respectively, upon the assumption that the full rates of contributions and donations as set out in the Regulations are payable in future. It will be seen that according to the valuation made at  $4\frac{1}{2}$  per cent. there is an estimated surplus of 770,897l.; and according to the valuation made at 4 per cent. an estimated surplus of 601,909l.

37. In each case the surplus is much more than sufficient to provide for the continuance of the abatement of 12½ per cent. in the contributions which is at present operative. The existence of the surplus is due to the fact that, mainly in consequence of light mortality prevailing amongst subscribers since the establishment of the present pension regulations, the contributions have proved more than sufficient to provide for the liabilities incurred.

38. As regards any proposals for the disposal of this surplus, certain suggestions have already been put forward with regard to the matters, and I have been instructed to consider and report upon these suggestions without delaying the presentation of this report. I propose in accordance with these instructions to report immediately upon the proposals referred to in a supplementary report.

Cost in future of Benefits provided by the State.

39. It remains to deal with the further question upon which I am instructed to report, namely, as to the probable effect of regulations affecting benefits provided by the State, in view of the increase in the number of active service members beyond the 900 contemplated when the scheme was instituted. At the date of the last valuation, 31st March 1905, the number in active service was 947, and at the date of the present valuations it was 1,168. This increase has been largely due to the fact that the members of the Bengal, Madras and Bombay Civil Funds have been retiring gradually from active service, and their places in the service have been taken by younger men who are subscribers to the Indian Civil Pensions. There were, however, at the date of valuation, only 49 members of the old funds remaining in active service, all of whom are over 50 years, and the majority of whom may be expected to retire within the next year or two. It is not probable, therefore, that the rapid increase in the number of subscribers will continue in the future. In Table IX has already been given a statement of the number of entrants, and the average age at entry for the past 21 years. The figures appear to indicate that the numbers annually joining the service are fairly constant. Over the whole of the 21 years covered by the investigation, the average annual number of entrants has been 50; for the latter half of that period, say the 11 years, 1900—1910, the average number has been 49·5; and for the six years elapsed since the last valuation the average number has been 50·5, so that we may fairly assume a figure of 50 entrants annually, as representing the normal condition of affairs. This number of annual entrants will maintain the numbers in active service at approximately 1,200, which is very nearly the present figure, and it has accordingly been adopted as the basis of the calculations which follow.

40. Upon the assumption of 50 annual entrants into the service in future, at an average age of 24, that the rates of mortality, marriage and issue, as set out in the appended Table A, will be experienced, and that the differences of ages in husbands and wives will be in accordance with experience I have made calculations, as to the probable annual cost of the benefits provided by the State at certain future dates. The net result of these calculations is that on the basis laid down above it may be expected that, when a stationary condition is reached (when theoretically the number of subscribers and of pensioners, and moreover the annual income from subscriptions, donations, and interest, and the annual outgo for benefits, have all become constant) the annual cost of the benefits paid by the State will be approximately :—

For widows' pensions	...	...	13,400
For daughters' pensions	...	...	24,600
For sons' pensions	...	...	1,900
Total annual cost	...	...	39,900

41. According to the regulation at present in force with regard to the benefits provided by the State, "should it at any time appear from a valuation that the aggregate liabilities on account of these benefits, when the pension list shall have reached a normal state, will exceed 35,000*l.* per annum, they will be subject to such reduction as may be necessary to restrict the annual assistance to 35,000*l.* per annum, but the reduction shall in no case affect the benefits payable to incumbent annuitants." It will be seen that according to the above estimate, the ultimate annual cost to the State of these benefits will somewhat exceed the abovementioned figure, but to an extent which cannot be considered serious, having regard to the present increased numbers in the service. I would point out, however, that the estimate given in the last paragraph, being founded upon the statistical tables employed as a basis for the valuation, which contain, specially as regards the rates of marriage, certain margins to meet contingencies, probably overestimates to some extent the ultimate annual cost to the State. This was unavoidable except by the use of an independent set of tables, the construction of which would have meant a great expenditure of labour and time. It should also be noted that the date at which the cost of pensions will attain its maximum level is very remote, and that upon the basis of the above estimate the annual cost to the Government will not reach 35,000*l.* per annum for about 60 years from the present time. Under these circumstances the discrepancy between the ultimate cost as estimated above and that provided for may be disregarded.

I have, etc.,
GEORGE F. HARDY.

ENCLOSURE No. 2 :—Sir George Hardy to India Office.

Indian Civil Service Family Pensions.

SIR,

I have now completed my investigation into the questions referred to me in the first part of your letter of the 10th September last in connection with the valuation of the Indian Civil Family Pensions, upon which I have recently reported, namely :—

- (1) The feasibility of relieving retired subscribers of the payment of contributions.
- (2) The possibility of continuing pensions to sons up to the age of 24.

These questions must be considered first with regard to the sufficiency of the estimated surplus brought out at the valuation to provide for these concessions, and secondly with regard to the equity of employing the surplus for these purposes.

According to the recent valuations, on the assumption that all future contributions will be paid in full, there is upon a  $4\frac{1}{2}$  per cent. basis a surplus of 770,897*l.*, and upon a 4 per cent. basis a surplus of 601,909*l.* On the  $4\frac{1}{2}$  per cent. basis there can be no doubt of the adequacy of the surplus to provide the additional benefits in question. It will be sufficient, therefore, to consider the matter from the point of view of the 4 per cent. valuation.

A revaluation has been made of the contributions payable by subscribers upon the assumption that these will, except as regards donations on marriage, cease upon retirement, the average age of retirement being taken at 50 as in the valuation. The effect of this assumption upon the items on the asset side of the valuation balance sheet will be seen from the following statement:—

Capitalised value of Contributions at 4 per cent.

In respect of—		As in Valuation report, 11th November 1913.	If ceasing upon retirement.
Present wives	...	722,656	446,848
Future wives	...	319,505	216,930
Present daughters	...	99,489	41,134
Future daughters	...	69,695	38,457
Present sons	...	41,114	26,798
Future sons	...	37,104	25,464
Bachelors and widowers	...	120,060	100,682
Totals	...	1,409,623	896,313

The total value of the contributions would, therefore, be reduced, if they ceased upon retirement, by the sum of 513,310£., which is well within the amount of the surplus of 601,909£. This surplus, however, is dependent upon the payment of all contributions in full. The capitalised cost of the abatement of 12½ per cent. at present operative, assuming no contributions to be payable after retirement, is estimated at 112,040£., and it will be seen, therefore, that the above surplus does not permit both of the total relief from contributions on retirement, and of the continuance of the present abatement of 12½ per cent.

The above estimate assumes that subscribers will remain entitled to claim pensions for their widows, although marriage may take place after retirement, and also for children who may be born to them subsequent to retirement. If no pensions are allowed to widows in the case of those subscribers who marry after retirement, nor to children born after retirement (or if, in the alternative, the cost of such pensions is entirely met by special contributions levied for the purpose); the net cost of relieving subscribers of their contributions after retirement, on the 4 per cent. valuation basis may be put at 490,000£. Some allowance is made in this estimate for the possible effect of such a regulation, in a certain number of cases, in either accelerating marriage or postponing retirement until marriage has taken place. It should also be noted that the table of Disparity Fines is affected by the discontinuance of subscriptions on retirement and would require to be increased.

The question of excluding widows from pension in cases where marriage takes place after retirement requires careful consideration. If they are not excluded, the scale of donations remaining as at present, instances will occasionally occur where a subscriber by marrying at an advanced age may bring a heavy liability upon the funds quite out of proportion to the donation he may be called upon to pay. On the other hand if all marriages after retirement are excluded from benefit, contributors who have remained unmarried up to the date of retirement may regard this as a hardship. The cases, however, in which contributors remain unmarried until retirement and marry subsequently are, in the normal course of things, very few. According to the rates of marriage as ascertained from the experience, out of every 100 subscribers entering the service and surviving to the age of retirement, 91 have married, and of the remainder only three marry subsequently. As regards children born after retirement, the saving effected by excluding these from benefit is only about 5,000£., so that the question is not financially important. Any hardship to unmarried subscribers might be removed by allowing pensions to widows where subscribers marry after retirement, and to children born after as well as before retirement, but at the same time raising the scale of donations on marriage in the case of retired subscribers, requiring reasonable evidence of health at date of marriage, and requiring donations to be paid on the birth of children the issue of such marriages. In calculating the amount of these donations due allowance should be made for the subscriptions paid during active service. It must be remembered, however, that a considerable part of these subscriptions are required in aid of the pensions to children. It might be left to the option of retired subscribers to secure these pensions for their widows or children.

Some concession to unmarried subscribers and widowers might also be made by providing that the full monthly contribution after 18 years' service should remain at 4*l.* 15*s.* instead of being advanced to 5*l.* 15*s.* after 23 and to 7*l.* 5*s.* after 28 years' service. The cost of this concession would not be serious as it would absorb only between 2,000*l.* and 3,000*l.* of the surplus.

Assuming the above suggestion to be carried out all widows and children receiving pensions as at present (revising the scale of donations for marriages taking place after retirement and adopting a scale for births resulting from such marriages), and no increase being made in the contribution of the unmarried subsequent to that made after 18 years' service, the net cost of these changes may be put down at approximately 498, 00*l.*

The estimated cost of continuing the pensions to sons up to age 24, instead of to age 21 as at present, is 15,180*l.*, assuming that the present rates of contribution are also paid up to age 24 in the event of the subscriber surviving. If allowance is made for an abatement of 12½ per cent. on these additional contributions the above figure will be very slightly increased. It may, to avoid complication, be put at 15,250*l.* with sufficient approximation either way.

We may set out the cost of the proposed concessions as under:—

(1) Estimated surplus in the 4 per cent. valuation	601,909
(2) Net cost of all contributions ceasing on retirement, as stated above; but no increase in contributions of unmarried subscribers after 18 years' service	498,000
(3) Net cost of extension of sons' benefits to age 24	15,250
(4) Cost of continuance of abatement of 12½ per cent. of contributions	112,040
Total cost of (2)+(3)+(4)	625,290

It will be seen, therefore, that the surplus as it stands is not sufficient to meet both the proposed concessions to subscribers, and at the same time to maintain the present rate of abatement. It would be so, however, but for the reserve necessity under existing conditions for expenses of management. If the necessity for this reserve could be avoided an additional sum would be set free towards meeting the cost of the proposed changes, amounting to 41,000*l.* In that event after making the above concessions to subscribers and maintaining the present rate of abatement there would still remain a balance of about 17,000*l.* undivided surplus, and although this is not, in itself a very substantial margin in comparison with the total liabilities upon the funds, a safeguard is provided in the power to reconsider the continuance of the abatements at each successive valuation.

Summing up the conclusions arrived at above—

- If the rate of interest allowed upon the funds is retained permanently at 4½ per cent., the surplus is sufficient to allow of the proposed concessions, and of abatements considerably in excess of those now allowed on contributions.
- If the rate of interest is fixed, during the continuance of the existing contracts, at 4 per cent., the funds being charged with expenses of management as at present, the proposed concessions are only possible if the present rate of abatement on contributions is considerably reduced. It could not be put with safety at more than 5 per cent. in lieu of 12½ per cent. as at present.
- If the rate of interest is fixed as above, at 4 per cent., and the funds are relieved from any future expenses of management, the surplus will be sufficient to provide for both of the proposed concessions.

A further question of considerable importance will need to be considered, namely, how far the present rates of contribution payable up to the date of retirement only, will be sufficient in the case of new entrants to provide for the proposed benefits. This can be best dealt with while discussing the equity of the proposed methods of disposing of the surplus, as the two questions are intimately related, the latter depending mainly upon the relation of the contributions of various kinds payable by subscribers to the benefits they are intended to secure. It will be sufficient to assume that subscribers enter on the average at 24, that they are then unmarried, and that they retire on the average at 50, all contributions then ceasing. On the basis of the mortality, marriage and issue rates employed in the valuation taking interest at 4 per cent. the case will then stand approximately as under :—

Capitalised value as at the date of entry into the Service of—

(1) Contributions payable during marriage... ..	502
(2) Donations on marriage (revised), say ... ..	76
(3) Pension for widow ... ..	526

If we suppose the contributions to be subject to an average abatement of  $12\frac{1}{2}$  per cent. this will reduce the net value of contributions and donations to 515*l.*, or nearly 98 per cent. of the discounted cost of the pension to widow. No provision is made here, however, for expenses of management, which, if we take them at  $2\frac{1}{2}$  per cent. on both benefits and contributions, will capitalise at about 24*l.* With these adjustments the figures would be as follows :—

Assets.

Value of contributions less $12\frac{1}{2}$ per cent. ... ..	...

Liabilities.

Cost of pension to widow
Expenses of management

It will be seen that when due allowance has been made for expenses of management there is a deficiency. On the other hand contributions payable while the subscriber is unmarried have not been brought into account. This is in accordance with the theory that the object of the contributions from unmarried subscribers is to provide in part for the pensions for children.

If we turn now to the children's pensions we find the relation of payments to benefits is approximately as follows, dealing as before with the average discounted values at the date of entering the service and including pensions to children born after retirement of subscribers :—

	Value of pensions. £	Value of contributions £
For sons (up to age 21) ... ..	41	43
For daughters ... ..	148	67
Contributions while unmarried ... ..	...	118
Expenses of management ... ..	11	...
	...	...
Less abatements at $12\frac{1}{2}$ per cent. ... ..	...	...
Totals ... ..	200	...

If the pensions to sons are continued until age 24 their capitalised value as given above will be increased to 53*l.*, while the value of the contributions will only be increased by a decimal. This will bring up the cost of pensions to children, capitalised as at the date of entry into the service to 212*l.*, the value of the corresponding contributions, including those payable by the subscriber while unmarried, being 226*l.* as above stated.

Summarising the above results the following would represent the conditions at the date of entry into the service, on the assumptions that—

- (1) Contributions cease at retirement.
- (2) If marriage occurs after retirement a pension is paid to the widow, the present scale of donations being increased.
- (3) Pensions to sons are extended to age 24, the present contributions being similarly extended.
- (4) Expenses of management are represented by a charge of 2½ per cent. on both benefits and contributions, including donations.
- (5) Interest is credited to the funds at 4 per cent. per annum.

		Capitalised Values.
		Contributions less 12½ per cent. abatement.	Pensions, etc.
Widows' pensions		515	526
Children's pensions		96	200
Contributions while unmarried		130	...
Management	...	...	35

The conclusion reached as regards new entrants is therefore practically in agreement with that already reached as to the existing body of subscribers, viz., that the contributions and donations payable up to the date of retirement are sufficient to meet the benefits (including the proposed extensions of sons' pensions to age 24) except for the charge for management.

It may further be deduced from the above considerations that the proposed relief from payment of further contributions in the case of retired subscribers is equitable, since on the average, a subscriber will by the date of retirement have practically paid for the benefits secured to him. The large surplus existing on the assumption that contributions will be paid in full up to the end of life, if distributed in the shape of a percentage abatement on all contributions, would not do justice to the older subscribers, and would be much too favourable to those who have more recently entered the service. Moreover, the abatement (which, computed on this basis, would be very large) could not be maintained as regards new entrants as it would bring the value of their prospective payments much below the value of their prospective benefits.

As regards the employment of a portion of the surplus to extend the age up to which sons' pensions are payable from 21 to 24, I regard this as a fair proposal, if arrangements can be made to render it possible by relieving the funds of the present charges for management. The payment of the present rate of contribution would be, of course, similarly extended, but I do not think that any increase in the rate of contributions for sons would be called for. It will be seen that the contributions, in respect of sons' pensions bear a much larger proportion of the cost of those pensions than is the case with the daughters. Excluding the charges for management and allowing for the present rate of abatement we may say that the contributions made on account of wives meet practically the full cost of the pensions on widowhood, those on account of the sons (assuming extension to 24) represent about 70 to 75 per cent. of the cost of the pensions, those for daughters about 40 per cent., the deficiencies being made good and a small margin added to cover general contingencies by the contributions from unmarried subscribers.

I have dealt fully, I think, with the two proposals referred to me, from the point of view of practicability and of equity, the points left over for further consideration being the scale of donations to be paid in the case of marriages after retirement and on the birth of children resulting from such marriages and the revision of the table of Disparity Fines.

As regards the second part of your letter of the 10th September, I am in communication with Mr. Badoek and hope to be of assistance to him in reporting upon the matters therein referred to.

ENCLOSURE No. 4:—Royal Commission to India Office.

From the Joint Secretaries to the Royal Commission on the Public Services in India.

12, Queen Anne's Gate,

London, S. W.,

SIR,

In the course of their enquiry in India the Royal Commission on the Public Services took evidence with regard to the Indian Civil Service Family Pension Fund. Since their return to this country they have also received from Mr. M. W. Fenton, of the Indian Civil Service, a reasoned memorandum of his views on the same subject, dated the 2nd June 1913, and of this a copy is enclosed. In so far as the evidence taken in India is concerned, the chief points raised relate to—

- (i) The hardship involved in the levy of contributions after retirement, and
- (ii) The desirability of continuing to sons pensions up to the age of 24.

Mr. Fenton's memorandum speaks for itself. The Royal Commission think that, if there is no objection on the part of His Majesty's Secretary of State for India, it would greatly facilitate the consideration of a very technical question if they could receive in writing the detailed observations of the authorities who control the working of the fund, on the points raised by Mr. Fenton and by the witnesses in India, together with suggestions as to the terms on which the two concessions, prayed for by the latter, could be granted if it is considered impossible to make them out of the existing surpluses. As between the two, the volume of evidence was distinctly in favour of the former. It is clearly felt by the members of the service to be an unjustifiable drain on their pensions to have to continue their contributions after retirement, and the matter is one which will need very careful investigation.

2. The Royal Commission would also be glad to be furnished with the exact figures to show, since the inception of the fund, first, the receipts and expenditure on account of management, and secondly, the value of the contributions actually made by the State.

I have, etc.,

The Under-Secretary of State for India.

M. S. D. BUTLER,
Joint Secretary.

Ordered that the despatch and enclosures be published in the Gazette of India for general information.

RESOLUTION.

POST OFFICE.

Delhi, the 5th March 1914.

No. 1446—1449-29.—In the Resolution of the Government of India in this Department No. 4566—4569-251, dated the 27th June 1910, it was decided that with the abolition of the system of deposits subject to six months' notice of withdrawal, the maximum limit of cash deposits in the Post Office Savings Bank should be raised from Rs. 200 to Rs. 500. The Government of India are of opinion that the existing limits on Savings Bank deposits may with advantage be still further extended, and they have recently had under consideration the question of affording further facilities to the public in this direction.

2. It has now been decided that :—

- (a) the present limit on the annual addition to cash held at call should be raised from Rs. 500 to Rs. 750, the new limit being fixed on the depositor's net annual deposit and not as at present on his gross deposit ;
- (b) the limit on the aggregate amount which may be held at call in any individual account should be raised from Rs. 2,000 to Rs. 5,000 ;
- (c) rupees 5,000 should be fixed as the total limit for investments through the Post Office Savings Bank in Government Securities, irrespective of the increased maximum limit for cash deposits ;
- (d) the present restriction on the amount of annual investments should be removed.

3. The Governor General in Council is therefore pleased to direct that the following rules shall be substituted for those published in the Resolution of the Government of India in this Department No. 4566—4569-251, dated the 27th June 1910, and that they shall come into force with effect from the 1st April 1914.

Persons who may deposit money.

5. Any person may deposit money in a Post Office Savings Bank (a) on his own behalf or (b) on behalf of any minor relative, or (c) on behalf of any minor of whom he is the guardian.

Exception.—A Government official may not open an account on behalf of a minor of whom he is the official guardian.

Explanation.—Minors are allowed to deposit money in their own names, and women, whether married or single, are allowed to deposit money in their own names, but subject, in the case of married women, to the limitations laid down in rule 6 (3).

Limitations as to opening accounts and deposits.

6. (1) Any person may open an account in his own name, but may not have more than one such account open.

(2) In addition to the account which a person may open in his own name, he may open any number of separate accounts on behalf of any minors who are related to him or of whom he is the guardian, provided that he shall not open more than one account on behalf of each such minor.

(3) The fact that an account has been opened on behalf of a minor shall not prevent such minor from opening an account in his own name; nor shall the fact that a married man has an account in his own name prevent his wife from opening a separate account in her own name, provided the money to be deposited by her is her own property or earning.

NOTE.—If, through any cause, an account has been opened in contravention of the provisions of this rule the depositor shall not be entitled to claim interest on the account and the Accountant-General may require him to close it at once.

7. Deposits in trust are not allowed, and cannot be recognised.

8. Money cannot be deposited in the name of two or more persons jointly, provided that nothing in this rule shall prevent the deposit of money in the name of a known firm.

9. The smallest sum of money that can be deposited at any time is four annas; and no sum can be deposited that includes a fraction of an anna.

10. The total amount which may be deposited in any one official year—from the 1st April to the 31st of March inclusive,—after deducting the amounts withdrawn during the year, may not exceed Rs. 750.

NOTE 1.—Amounts deposited and withdrawn for purposes of immediate investment, will not be taken into account in applying the annual limit of Rs. 750.

NOTE 2.—When an account is transferred from one Post Office Savings Bank to another, only such portion of the amount so transferred as was deposited and withdrawn in the current official year shall be included in calculating the limit of Rs. 750 prescribed in this rule.

11. The total amount at call which a depositor may have at any time, exclusive of interest for the current year, is Rs. 5,000 in the case of an adult and Rs. 1,000 in the case of an account opened on behalf of a minor by his relative or guardian.

NOTE.—The maximum balance of Rs. 5,000 (or Rs. 1,000 if the account was opened on behalf of a minor) may be increased by the addition from year to year of interest calculated on the maximum limit of Rs. 5,000 or Rs. 1,000, as the case may be, and also by interest on investments credited under rule 49.

Powers to withdraw money and limitations as to withdrawals.

12. A depositor may withdraw money from his account only once a week. By the term "week" is meant the period from Monday to Saturday, both days inclusive. A depositor may, therefore, withdraw money from his account on Saturday and again on the following Monday.

13. A minor may only withdraw money deposited by him in his own name. Money deposited on behalf of a minor may only be withdrawn during his minority by his guardian.

14. Women, whether married or single, may withdraw money deposited by them in their own names; and married women may also withdraw money deposited by them as single women, in their own names, their marriage notwithstanding. The fact that a female minor, on whose behalf money has been deposited, is married, or becomes married after the account has been opened on her own behalf, shall not prevent her from withdrawing the money so deposited on attaining majority.

15. A depositor may not withdraw a smaller sum than four annas, and he may not withdraw any sum which includes a fraction of an anna unless it be to close his account, in which case he may withdraw the whole balance at his credit.

How to open an Account.

16. Any person wishing to open an account should apply to the nearest post office that is a Savings Bank. Application need not necessarily be made in person; but the applicant must state his name and address. If he be an Indian he must also state his father's name and caste.

17. The intending depositor must sign a declaration, in the following form, that he has read and accepted the Post Office Savings Bank rules. If he be unable to write, he must attend personally, and, in the presence of a witness, affix his mark or seal to the declaration to be attested by the signature of the witness. If he should apply in person, a copy of these rules will be given to him to read, or they will be read and explained to him should he be unable to read. If he should not apply in person, a copy of these rules with the form of declaration will be sent to him and he must present the declaration duly signed, with the first deposit.

Form of declaration to be signed by depositor on making first deposit.

"I hereby declare that the Post Office Savings Bank Rules have been read <sup>by me</sup> <sub>to me</sub> and that I accept them as binding upon me."

"I further declare that I have no account opened by me on my own behalf at any Post Office Savings Bank."

18. Women may open accounts in their own names through their agents or, if they are married women, through their husbands or agents. The agent or husband will be required to produce a letter of authority in the prescribed form from the depositor and to sign the declaration that the depositor understands and accept the rules. No postal official may under

* NOTE.—The latter sentence is to be scored through in the case of an account opened on behalf of minor, in which case the person opening the account must make the following further declaration:—

"I declare that I have no account on behalf of the minor at any Post Office Savings Bank."

"I declare that the minor was born on (date by—Christian era as nearly as can be ascertained)".

this rule be the agent of any woman, except his own wife, in respect of an account held in the post office in which he is employed.

19. When the declaration is presented, duly signed, with the amount of the first deposit or when it has been signed by a depositor attending in person to make a deposit, the amount of the deposit will be entered in a pass-book which will be supplied to the depositor, and the entry will be initialled by the postmaster and stamped with the office stamp. The depositor will be required to sign a receipt for the pass-book.

20. If the account be opened at a sub or branch post office, the pass-book for the depositor will have to be obtained from the head office. A preliminary receipt for the amount of the first deposit will, therefore, be given to the depositor, who will be informed of the date on which he should call to receive the pass-book. When the pass-book is handed over to the depositor, he will be required to return this preliminary receipt and to sign a receipt for the pass-book. The amount of the original deposit will be entered in the pass-book by the head office, and the depositor will therefore have a guarantee that the sum has been received in that office. He should be careful to see that the entry in the pass-book corresponds with the amount entered in the preliminary receipt before giving up the latter.

Pass-book and its importance.

21. The pass-book will show, in the vernacular of the district or in English, as the depositor may wish, the number of his account, with the name of the office from which the book is issued, his own name and address. No deposit can be made and no money can be withdrawn from an account without its production, and the post office will not be responsible for any sum not acknowledged in the pass-book. Depositors should carefully examine their books before leaving the office, and ascertain that the entries are correct. They should also be careful to keep their pass-books in their own possession, as the post office does not accept responsibility for any loss caused to a depositor, if through his negligence, any person shall obtain possession of the book and fraudulently obtain the payment of any sum belonging to the depositor.

NOTE. In the case of an account opened at a sub or branch post office, the pass-book will be sent to the head office as soon as possible after the 30th April, when the pass book is presented for entry of interest under Rule 30. The depositor will obtain a receipt in exchange for his pass-book, and he must give up this receipt when his pass-book is returned to him.

Loss of Pass-book.

22. No charge will be made for the pass-book at first supplied to a depositor, or for any book issued to him in continuation of the original book which will be retained by the post office. But if a pass-book be lost or spoiled (except under circumstances over which the depositor has no control), or if any account be re-opened with the permission of the Accountant-General (under rule 35) before the expiration of three months from the date of closure, the depositor will have to pay one rupee for a fresh book.

Mode of depositing money after an account has been opened.

23. (1) A depositor may deposit money at the post office at which his account stands as often as he wishes, so long as the prescribed yearly and maximum limits are not exceeded. All that he is required to do is to take or send the amount to be deposited with his pass-book, to the post office. The amount of his deposit will be entered in the pass-book, and the balance struck as shown below. The entry will then be initialled by the postmaster and stamped with the date-stamp of the office, and the pass-book will be returned to the depositor or his messenger :—

Date.	Date-stamp of post office.	Amount of each deposit or withdrawal (to be entered in words).	Amount deposited.	Amount withdrawn.	Balance at credit of the depositor.	Initials of the postmaster.
1883.			Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
3rd April ...	...	Deposited ten rupees ...	10	...	10	A.B.C.
5th „ ...	...	Deposited twenty-five rupees.	25	...	35	A.B.C.
12th May ...	...	Withdrawn three rupees	...	3	32	A.B.C.

(2) A depositor whose account stands at a head office may deposit money at any of the sub-offices under that head office which are Savings Banks, and a depositor whose account stands at a sub-office may deposit money at the head office of the sub-office or at any of the sub-offices of the head office which are Savings Banks. Similarly, a depositor at a branch office may deposit money at the office to which it is subordinate and if such office is a sub-office, he may also deposit money at the head office of such sub-office. With these exceptions a depositor may deposit money only at the post office at which his account stands.

NOTE 1.—No deposit may be made to an account which has been ordered to be closed.

NOTE 2.—No deposit may be made to an account opened on behalf of a minor after he has attained the age of 18 years.

24. If the amount be deposited at a sub or branch post office, the depositor will receive in addition to the receipt in his pass-book, an acknowledgment from the head office, which will generally be the office at the head-quarters station of the district. This acknowledgment will be delivered to him in ordinary course through the post office. If it should not reach the depositor in proper time, or if, when it reaches him, it should show any signs of erasure, or should not agree with the entry in the pass-book the depositor should immediately apply to the postmaster of the head office, the name of which is in the pass-book, and renew his application again and again until he receives a satisfactory reply.

Mode of withdrawing Money.

25. When a depositor wishes to withdraw money he must present his pass-book personally or by agent at the post office at which his account stands, with a printed form of application for withdrawal, which can be obtained at the post office, signed by himself, and showing the balance at his credit and the amount which he wishes to withdraw. If the pass-book and application for withdrawal are presented by an agent, the name and signature of the agent should be entered in the application for withdrawal before it leaves the depositor's custody, and in any case the entries must be made before the application is presented at the post office. If the depositor is unable to write, he must attend personally and affix his mark or seal to the application. Should he be absolutely unable to attend personally, he must have his mark or seal affixed to the application and attested by some respectable witness, and the postmaster will make payment to the person presenting his application with the pass-book, after satisfying himself, by such enquiry as he may think proper, of the inability of the depositor to attend and of the genuine character of the application. The mark or seal of a depositor or messenger who cannot write must, at the time he receives payment of a withdrawal, be attested by the signature of a respectable witness (other than the paying officer) who is personally acquainted with the depositor or messenger (as the case may be) and also known to the postmaster or some member of the post office establishment.

NOTE 1.—If a depositor desires to withdraw the whole of the balance shown to his credit in his pass-book, he will be required to close his account.

NOTE 2.—In the case of withdrawals made from the accounts of female depositors by their authorised agents under rule 18, the agent must sign the following certificate on the application for withdrawal :—
“Certified that the depositor is on this day alive and sane.”

26. Should any person other than the father, or if the father is dead, the mother wish to withdraw money from an account opened on behalf of a minor and claim to do so as guardian of such minor, he will be required to fill in, on a form prescribed by the Director-General, answers to the following questions and such other questions as may be considered necessary, and will only be allowed to withdraw money on the order of the Postmaster-General in accordance with rule 41 :—

- (a) What is your relationship to the minor?
- (b) Is the father or mother of the minor dead, or are both parents dead? What near relatives of the minor are alive?
- (c) Have you been appointed guardian of the minor by will or deed or under any enactment in force in British India? (If the reply to this question is in the affirmative, the applicant should produce the documents on which he relies to support his claim.)
- (d) Are you an adult relative of the minor, and does he reside with you or is he maintained by you?

NOTE.—Every application for withdrawal from a minor's account must bear a certificate, in one or other of the forms given below,—according to the circumstances of the case—signed by the person making the application :—

- (i) In case of withdrawal from a male minor's account—"Certified that the amount sought to be withdrawn is required for the use of the minor."
- (ii) In case of withdrawal from a female minor's account by her husband—"Certified that the amount sought to be withdrawn is required for the use of the minor who is my legally married wife."
- (iii) In case of withdrawal from a female minor's account by any other person—"Certified that the amount sought to be withdrawn is required for the use of the minor, who is married."
not married

27. The amount to be withdrawn will be entered in the pass-book and a fresh balance struck, as in case of a deposit, against the initials of the postmaster and an impression of the date-stamp of the office. The amount will then be paid to the depositor or to the person presenting the pass-book and application, and his receipt taken, in all cases free of stamp duty, on the warrant of payment.

28. (1) The payment of a withdrawal at a sub-post office is subject to the condition that funds are available in the office. If funds are not available, they will be obtained as soon as possible. In such a case the depositor will be informed of the date on which he should come to the post office to receive payment, and he will retain his pass-book. The amount will be paid on presentation of the pass-book on the date mentioned or any subsequent date within one week from that date.

(2) Every application for a withdrawal at a branch post office will be sent to the head or sub-office to which the branch office is subordinate, for a warrant of payment. The depositor will be informed of the date on which he should come to the branch office to receive payment and he will retain his pass-book. The amount will be paid on presentation of the pass-book on the date mentioned or any subsequent date within one week from that date.

(3) Payment at sub and branch offices will be made to the depositor or other person presenting the pass-book under the conditions laid down in rule 25, and his receipt will be taken, in all cases free of stamp duty, on the warrant of payment. The transaction will be entered in the pass-book against the initials of the sub or branch postmaster and an impression of the date-stamp of the office.

NOTE.—In the case of an application to withdraw from (a) a minor's account, (b) a security deposit account, (c) any of the conjoint account, specified in rule 44, payment cannot, in any circumstances, be made until a warrant of payment is received from the head office.

Interest.

29. Interest will be allowed, until further orders, at the rate of 3 per cent. per annum on all deposits subject to the condition stated in this rule. This interest will be allowed for each calendar month on the lowest balance at credit of an account between the close of the fourth day and the end of the month : provided that interest shall be allowed only on sums of complete rupees, and that it shall be calculated to the nearest pie : provided also that interest shall not be allowed on any sum in excess of Rs. 5,000 (or of Rs. 1,000, if the account was opened on behalf of a minor).

NOTE 1.—When an order has been issued to close an account, interest ceases to accrue from the first day of the month in which the order is issued (see end of rule 33).

NOTE 2.—Interest on the account of a deceased depositor ceases to accrue from the first day of the month in which notice is issued to the person or persons recognised by the Postmaster-General as entitled to receive the balance of the account. No interest will be allowed on money deposited after his death in the account of a deceased depositor.

30. The interest calculated as above for each month will be added each year to the balance of each account. Depositors should present their pass-books as soon as possible after the 30th April, in order that the necessary entries may be made in them. If the pass-book be not presented for this purpose, the entry will be made on the next occasion when a deposit is made or when money is withdrawn.

NOTE 1.—Pass-books of depositors in sub and branch post offices will be sent to the head office for the entry of interest under this rule.

NOTE 2.—No balance will be struck in the pass-book after the 31st March until interest has been added for the past year.

Transfer of Accounts.

31. A depositor may have his account transferred, free of charge, to any post office that is a Savings Bank, provided that the account shall have been in existence for at least three months from the date on which it was originally opened. If he should wish to transfer his account, he must present his pass-book personally, or send it to the post office, and must in either case make a written application for transfer. The pass-book will be returned to the depositor (but see Note 3 below), who should present it as soon as possible at the post office to which his account has been transferred, with a specimen of his signature.

NOTE 1.—Accounts cannot be transferred from one head post office to another between the 16th and 31st March, both days inclusive.

NOTE 2.—Accounts ordered to be closed cannot be transferred; nor can an account be transferred after the death of the depositor.

NOTE 3.—The pass-book of a depositor in a sub or branch post office who wishes to transfer his account will first be sent to the head post office to which the sub or branch office is subordinate to have the orders authorising the transfer entered in the book.

NOTE 4.—When an application for the transfer of an account of a female depositor is made by her authorised agent, the agent must certify as follows above his signature on the application for transfer—

Closing an Account.

32. When a depositor wishes to close his account, he must present his pass-book with a form of application for withdrawal of the amount shown at his credit in the pass-book. The amount of interest due on his account up to the end of the calendar month preceding the date of presentation will be entered in the pass-book, and a final balance struck. The amount will then be paid to the depositor, and his receipt taken on the warrant of payment. The pass-book will be retained in the post office. If the application to close an account be presented at a sub or branch office, the same procedure will be followed as in the case of an ordinary withdrawal, except that the pass-book will be retained, and that the application and pass-book will, when interest is due, be in all cases sent to the head office for the warrant of payment.

NOTE.—The rule (see rule 12) which prevents a depositor from withdrawing money from his account more than once a week does not apply to the closing of an account, that is to say, an account may be closed within the week in which a withdrawal has been made.

33. If an order to close an account be issued by the Postmaster-General or the Accountant-General under these rules, notice in writing will be sent to the depositor requiring him to present his pass-book and receive payment of the balance at his credit as soon as convenient. After the date of such notice no deposit will be accepted on the account, and no interest will be allowed upon the balance after the end of the calendar month preceding such date.

34. An account opened on behalf of a minor must, if still open, be closed by the person on whose behalf it was opened, on his attaining the age of 18 years. When the late minor is not in India and delay would cause substantial hardship, the Postmaster-General may allow the late guardian to close the account (on behalf of the late minor) on his indemnifying the post office against loss from any future claim. If a minor after attaining the age of 18 years still remains a minor by law or order of a court of justice, his guardian must close the account on the minor completing 18 years of age. Interest on an account opened on behalf of a minor ceases to accrue from the first day of the month in which the minor attains the age of 18 years.

Re-opening an Account.

35. A depositor who has once closed an account cannot open another account until after the expiration of three months from the date of closure without the permission of the Accountant-General; and a depositor whose account has been closed by order cannot open a fresh account in any case without the permission of the authority which ordered it to be closed.

Dead Accounts.

36. Accounts in respect of which no transactions have taken place for the period specified below will be treated as "dead" and no subsequent deposit or withdrawal will be allowed in the case of such accounts without the previous orders of the Accountant-General:—

When the balance of the account				And when no sum has been deposited or withdrawn and no interest added for does not exceed	10	...	...	...	3	complete	years.
exceeds	100	...	...	...	12	"	"

NOTE 1.—By "transaction" in this rule is meant not only a deposit or withdrawal but also the presentation of the pass-book for the entry of interest.

NOTE 2.—A dead account does not lapse to Government, but may be re-opened at any time on the application of the depositor, and the interest that has accumulated will be added to the principal when the account is revived.

Procedure to be followed in cases of succession and guardianship.

37. If a depositor should die, leaving in a Post Office Savings Bank a balance, whether in cash or in Government securities, or both, not exceeding one thousand rupees, and if probate of his will, or letters of administration of his estate, or a certificate granted under Act VII of 1889, be not produced to the Postmaster-General within three months of the death of the said depositor, the Postmaster-General may pay the said sum of money to any person appearing to him to be entitled to receive it or to administer the estate of the deceased.

NOTE.—If the deceased depositor was a minor in whose name more accounts than one stand open the balances at credit of all these accounts will be added together for the purpose of applying this rule.

38. Balances whether in cash or Government securities, or both, in excess of Rs. 1,000 may only be paid on production of probate, letters of administration or a certificate under Act VII of 1889, unless otherwise ordered by the Director-General, who has discretionary power to dispense with such evidence in cases where he is of opinion that to require it would cause hardship, and that to dispense with it would involve no appreciable risk. If the balance in excess of Rs. 1,000 be that of a cash deposit account opened on behalf of a deceased minor—the balance of which, excluding interest, cannot under these rules exceed Rs. 1,000—the discretionary power may be exercised even if the condition of hardship be not established.

NOTE.—In the case of a deceased minor on whose behalf more accounts than one have been opened, and if the total balance (excluding interest for the current year) at credit of these accounts exceeds Rs. 1,000, the last sentence of this rule will apply.

39. If any depositor becomes insane or otherwise incapable of managing his affairs, and if such insanity or incapacity be proved to the satisfaction of the Postmaster-General, then the Postmaster-General may, from time to time, make payment out of the deposits to any proper person. Where a committee or manager has been duly appointed to administer the depositor's estate, nothing in this rule authorises payments to any person other than such committee or manager.

40. The deposits of non-commissioned officers and soldiers of the British Army who die intestate, desert, or become insane or otherwise incapable of managing their affairs, will be made over, on application to the President of the Committee of Adjustment; or to the legal representative of the deceased as defined in section 29, Regimental Debts Act, 1893 (56 Vict., ch. 5).

41. When any person other than the father, or, if the father is dead, the mother claims to withdraw money from an account opened on behalf of a minor as being the guardian of such minor, the Postmaster-General may authorise the applicant to withdraw money from the account for the minor's use, in accordance with the following rules:—

- (a) Where the applicant claims to be guardian under the law, on production of proof of the claim to the satisfaction of the Postmaster-General.
- (b) Where the applicant claims as guardian duly appointed by will or deed, on production of the documents supporting the claim.
- (c) Where the amount of the account does not exceed Rs. 250 and the applicant does not claim to be guardian under clause (a) or clause (b), upon his giving evidence to the satisfaction of the Postmaster-General that he (the applicant) is the guardian of the minor.
- (d) Where the amount of the account exceeds Rs. 250 and the applicant does not claim to be guardian under clause (a) or clause (b), upon the applicant producing a certificate of administration granted under Act VIII of 1890.
- (e) In any case of doubt the applicant (not being the father or mother of the minor) may be required to produce a certificate of administration, under Act VIII of 1890, before payment is made to him.

NOTE.—An authority given by the Postmaster-General under (c) will not hold good for a subsequent withdrawal if the balance of the account then exceeds Rs. 250.

Public Accounts.

42. The following special conditions govern the opening of "Public Accounts" and their transactions:—

- (a) Accounts may be opened by secretaries, treasurers, or managers of the funds of any dispensary, church or other religious institution, school, orphanage, asylum or library, or of any other funds contributed, for purposes other than the private or personal advantage or amusement of the contributors. Race, racquet, billiard, mess and similar funds, the objects of which are of a private or personal nature, cannot be allowed accounts.

Illustration.—The funds of regimental and public bands, which are maintained for purposes other than private advantage or amusement, are admissible.

Explanation.—(1) A library fund is admissible, even though the library is open only to subscribers.

- (2) If an institution has two or more distinct funds which cannot, under their constitution and in accordance with the conditions imposed by the donors, be amalgamated an account is admissible for each such fund.

- (3) The prohibition of current accounts when applied to a public account extends only to the use of the account for full details of the income and expenditure of the fund and does not prevent the periodical credit of subscriptions or other receipts, or the periodical withdrawal of money for expenditure, e.g., a building fund raised for the erection of a church or charitable institution is admissible.

- (b) Secretaries, treasurers, or managers of societies registered under the Co-operative Societies Act, 1912 (II of 1912), or under similar enactments in force in Native States, as well as liquidators of Co-operative Societies appointed as such under the provisions of section 42 of Act II of 1912, may be allowed accounts.
- (c) Secretaries and managers of benevolent funds (that is, funds formed by mutual subscription as an insurance against domestic misfortune) may be allowed accounts.
- (d) Officers of Government or of public institutions, such as railway and steamer companies, and the like, who collect subscriptions, voluntary or departmental, from their subordinates for departmental purposes, may be allowed accounts.

Explanation.—For the purpose of this rule, the term "Officers of Government" includes any officer of the Government of a Native State the Posts of which have been amalgamated with the Imperial Post.

- (e) Public accounts of the kind specified above must be designated by names indicating the objects to which the money is devoted, as A—pore Dispensary Fund, Workmen's Sick Fund, etc., and information must be given in writing regarding the object and source of income of the fund.
- (f) Each new public account must be authorised by the Postmaster-General before it is opened. The Postmaster-General is empowered to direct that a public account be closed should its object at any time be such that the account could not, under the rules, be opened as a public account.
- (g) In every case in which the holder of a public account, other than a public account held by an officer of Government in his official capacity, is changed, a fresh declaration (see rule 17) must be filled up.
- (h) The limitations laid down in rule 6 are not meant to prevent any person from opening more than one ex-officio or public account.
- (i) The prohibition against deposit in the name of two or more persons jointly (see rule 8) does not apply to public accounts.
- (j) The annual limit of Rs. 750 and the maximum limit of Rs. 5,000 for deposits (see rules 10 and 11), as well as the maximum limit of Rs. 5,000 for calculation of interest (see rule 29), do not apply to public accounts. But no public account may have at any time more than Rs. 10,000 at its credit, exclusive of interest for the current year, and no interest will be credited on any sum in excess of Rs. 10,000.
- (k) The amount of withdrawals within a calendar month from a public account is limited to Rs. 1,000, unless the person who holds the account gives notice to the post office at which the account stands, of his intention to make additional withdrawals. The notice must specify the amount to be withdrawn and be given one month in advance by means of an ordinary letter addressed to the postmaster which should specify the date on which it is intended to make the withdrawal, and if it is intended to withdraw the amount in two or more instalments, specific information must be given in the notice as to the number of instalments and the amount and date of withdrawal of each instalment.

NOTE.—The period of the notice prescribed above may in the case of public accounts opened under clause (b) of this rule be reduced by the Postmaster-General by general or special order.

- (l) In the form of declaration (see rule 17), which every intending depositor is required to sign, the words "I further declare that I have no account opened by me on my own behalf at any Post Office Savings Bank" should be scored through in the case of a public account.

43. No account may be allowed for money—

- (a) which is the property of Government, or
- (b) which has been received for credit of Government, or
- (c) which has been drawn from the Treasury for expenditure on account of Government, or
- (d) which is raised by taxation, either local or municipal, or
- (e) which is collected or received or held in trust by any public officer or court in accordance with any law, provided that the money is the property of Government.

NOTE 1.—Nothing in this rule prevents the opening of a public account for money which is not the property of Government by the managers of funds held in trust for the relief of the poor, for the provision of education or medical relief, or for the advancement of any other object of general public utility, irrespective of whether such managers are public officers or not.

NOTE 2.—Nothing in this rule prevents the opening of an account for a judicial deposit in accordance with a special order passed by a court of law in a particular case directing the investment of the money in the Post Office Savings Bank. Such an account, when admitted, is subject in every respect to the rules and limitations which govern ordinary private accounts.

44. The following special conditions govern the opening of the conjoint accounts specified below and their transactions:—

- (a) The Commanding Officer of a Native Regiment may open a single account with the Post Office Savings Bank on account of the men of his regiment, making his own arrangements about the separate accounts of the individuals, and about the distribution to them of the interest credited upon the conjoint account. In other respects the account shall, except when the contrary is stated, be subject to the general rules for other accounts. The Commanding Officer must, when opening the account, sign a certificate, that, to the best of his belief, the money is the property of the men of the regiment.
- (b) District Superintendents of Police, and officers in command or charge of any Police Force, may open similar accounts on account of the men of the Police Force under their command or charge.
- (c) Chairmen of District Boards and Municipalities are also allowed to have similar accounts on account of servants and such Boards and Municipalities, in accordance with rules which may be sanctioned from time to time by Local Governments.
- (d) Managers of Provident Funds authorised by Government in connection with Courts of Wards and other institutions administered or controlled by Government are also allowed to open similar accounts on behalf of non-pensionable employees paid from the funds of the Courts of Wards or other institutions in accordance with rules which may from time to time be sanctioned by Local Governments or Administrations.
- (e) Secretaries of Cantonment Committees are also allowed to open similar accounts on behalf of non-pensionable employees paid from cantonment funds, in accordance with rules which may from time to time be sanctioned by the Government of India.

NOTE.—Nothing in this rule shall be held to prevent any member of any of the above-mentioned classes of persons, for whom a conjoint account has been opened, from opening an account of his own, in his individual capacity.

- (f) The annual limit of Rs. 750 and the maximum limit of Rs. 5,000 for deposits, (see rules 10 and 11), as well as the maximum limit of Rs. 5,000 for calculation of interest (see rule 29), do not apply to accounts opened under this rule.
- (g) Except with the special sanction of the Director-General, the amount of withdrawals within a calendar month from an account opened under this rule is limited to Rs. 1,000, unless the person who holds the account gives notice to the post office at which the account stands of his intention to make additional withdrawals. The notice must specify the amount to be withdrawn and be given one month in advance, by means of an ordinary letter addressed to the postmaster, which should specify the date on which it is intended to make the withdrawal, and if it is intended to withdraw the amount in two or more instalments, specific information must be given in the notice as to the number of instalments and the amount and date of withdrawal of each instalment.
- (h) In the form of declaration (see rule 17), which every intending depositor is required to sign, the words "I further declare that I have no account opened by me on my own behalf at any Post Office Savings Bank" should be scored through in the case of accounts opened under this rule.

45. The following special conditions govern the opening of security deposit accounts and their transactions:—

- (a) Government servants, servants of railway companies, of local authorities and of Courts of Wards who are required by their employers to deposit security, contractors who are required by Government or local authorities to deposit security, and persons who are authorised under section 202 of the Sea Customs Act, VIII of 1878, to act as agents for the transaction of business in any Custom House on behalf of the public, and are required under that section to deposit security, may be allowed separate accounts for the security deposit only.

Explanation.—For the purpose of this rule, the term "Government servants" includes any servant of the Government of a Native State the posts of which have been amalgamated with the Imperial Post.

NOTE.—Local authority means any body corporate, municipal committee, or other persons legally entitled to the control or management of any local or municipal fund or legally entitled to impose any cess, rate, duty or tax upon any persons within any local area.

- (b) A person undertaking more than one work or contract at the same time may be allowed a separate account in respect of each.
- (c) The maximum limit for each separate account is Rs. 500, and the amount may be deposited in a single sum or by instalments.
- (d) A person may open a security deposit account either in his own behalf or on behalf of another person. More than one account, however, may not be opened as security for the same person in respect of the same work or contract.
- (e) A security deposit account may be opened in the joint names of the persons undertaking the same work or contract.
- (f) The depositor will be required to sign a letter (in a form prescribed by the Director-General) addressed to the postmaster, undertaking not to make any claim on the Savings Bank for the principal of the sum deposited, except with the express written sanction of the person referred to in the letter to whom the security is pledged; not to object to the payment by the Bank of the whole or part of the principal to such person on his claiming it and not to make any claim for interest from the date on which interest has ceased to accrue owing to the payment of the principal to such person or from the date on which such person has sanctioned the repayment of the deposit.
- (g) The officer to whom the security is pledged as above may, with the consent of the person pledging the security, open an account for such security in his own name, e.g., "Executive Engineer, A—pore, on account of security of A.B." In this case the deposit will be received from the officer to whom the security is pledged and the pass-book will be issued to him.
- (h) Interest on security deposits will accrue and be paid in the usual manner, subject to the conditions specified in the letter mentioned in clause (f) of this rule. No interest, however, will be allowed on any sum in excess of Rs. 500, that may be at credit of a security deposit account.
- (i) The prohibition against the transfer of an account until it has been in existence for three months (see rule 31) does not apply to security deposit accounts.
- (j) In the form of declaration (see rule 17), which every intending depositor is required to sign, the words "I further declare that I have no account opened by me on my own behalf at any Post Office Savings Bank" should be scored through in the case of a security deposit account.

INVESTMENTS.Purchase of Government Securities.*

46. (1) Any person whether previously a depositor in the Post Office Savings Bank or not may invest through the Post Office in Government securities, in one of the  $3\frac{1}{2}$  per cent. loans, specifying in his application either the sum to be invested or the nominal value of the securities to be purchased: provided that the sum to be invested or the nominal value of securities to be purchased shall be in whole rupees, and not less than Rs. 10: provided also that the total amount invested through the Post Office, after deducting any sum sold through the Post Office, shall not exceed Rs. 5,000 in the case of an adult or Rs. 1,000 in the case of a minor.

(2) If the nominal value of securities purchased is less than Rs. 100, an Investment Certificate will be issued. If the nominal value of the securities is Rs. 100, the investor may have either an Investment Certificate or a whole piece of Government paper for the amount, and if the nominal value of the securities is above Rs. 100, he may have either, (i) an Investment Certificate for the entire amount, or (ii) whole pieces of Government paper of Rs. 100 or any multiple of Rs. 100, and an Investment Certificate for the remainder, provided that the remainder is not less than Rs. 10.

NOTE.—In the case of all applications for the purchase of Government Securities, either the whole or a portion, of the balance standing at the credit of the depositor's Savings Bank account may be made available, or a special deposit made, for the purpose of providing the amount required.

(3) When whole pieces of Government paper are required, the investor has the option of requesting, in his application, that the paper should remain in the custody of the Accountant-General, or be delivered to him. In the former case, a receipt from the Accountant-General for the paper will be delivered to the investor. When paper is to be delivered to the investor, it will be encased for payment of interest at the district treasury and be forwarded to the Post Office for delivery to the investor. In the case of Government securities represented by an Investment Certificate, the securities will remain in the custody of the Accountant-General, and no paper can be delivered to the investor or encased for payment of interest at the treasury.

(4) Applications for Investment Certificates and Government Promissory Notes must be made on separate forms of application prescribed by the Director-General. If the applicant is already a depositor in the Post Office Savings Bank, he should present his pass-book with his application; if he is not already a depositor, a pass-book will be prepared and delivered to him.

(5) When an application for an Investment Certificate is presented at a head or a sub-post office, an Investment Certificate signed by the head or sub-postmaster, as the case may be, will be handed to the investor across the counter of the post office. When the application is presented at the branch post office, an Investment Certificate will be obtained for the investor from the head office or the sub-office to which the branch office is subordinate. The Accountant-General will fix the rate at which Government securities presented by Investment Certificates can be purchased. This rate will be communicated to head and sub-postmasters and will remain in force until it is changed by the Accountant-General.

(6) Two or more Investment Certificates may, at any time, be exchanged for a single certificate of their aggregate value, also, one or more Investment Certificates of the nominal value of not less than Rs. 100 may at any time be exchanged for a whole piece of Government paper of Rs. 100 or any multiple of Rs. 100. The certificates to be exchanged must be presented at the local post office, entered in the appropriate form of application prescribed for the purpose by the Director-General. Separate forms are provided for exchanging—

(a) two or more certificates for a single one, and

(b) one or more certificates for a whole piece of Government paper.

(7) In each case in which an Investment Certificate is issued by a sub-office, the depositor will receive a confirmation by post from the head office showing the number, date, and nominal value of the Investment Certificate and the cash balance left at credit of the account after the transaction. If the confirmation does not reach the depositor in proper time, or if, when it reaches him, it shows any signs of erasure, or does not agree with the entries in the Investment Certificate or the pass-book, the depositor should immediately apply to the postmaster of the head office and renew his application until he receives a satisfactory reply.

(8) Applications for Government Promissory Notes presented at any post office will be forwarded to the Accountant-General at Calcutta who will take the necessary steps for the purchase. The investor will be charged with the actual price paid for the Government Promissory Notes. The entries in connection with the investment will be noted in the pass-book by the head office.

NOTE.—The limit of Rs. 5,000 for investments through the Post Office does not apply to investments in connection with public accounts, with regimental, police, and other conjoint accounts, or with security deposit accounts.

Sale of Government securities.

47. (1) Any depositor may apply for sale through the Post Office of the whole, or of any portion, of any Government securities which may have been purchased for him through the Post Office, whether held by himself or held for him by the Accountant-General, provided that the securities bear no endorsement other than those made by and in favour of the Accountant-General and that, if only a portion of the Government securities is specified for sale, the normal value of this portion must not be (a) less than Rs. 10 or (b) such a sum as would leave a balance of securities of the nominal value of less than Rs. 10.

(2) Applications for the sale of (a) Investment Certificates, and (b) Government Promissory Notes, must be made on separate forms of application prescribed by the Director-General. In the former case, the application must be accompanied by the Investment Certificates, and the securities will be sold at the same rate as that fixed by the Accountant-General for the purchase of securities represented by Investment Certificates. In the latter case, such of the Government Promissory Notes to be sold as are not held by the Accountant-General, must be presented with the application endorsed in favour of the Accountant-General, and these, together with any Government Promissory Notes in the custody of that officer which are specified for sale, will be sold at the current market rate.

(3) The result of sale will be intimated to the depositor by the Accountant-General through the postmaster concerned, with the least possible delay after the receipt of the application. The proceeds of sale, together with any interest that may be due, will be credited to the depositor's Savings Bank account in the first instance and, if the annual or total cash limit of his account is hereby exceeded, the excess will not bear interest and must be withdrawn by the depositor.

NOTE.—Securities purchased in the name and on behalf of a minor cannot be sold during the minority except by the minor's legally constituted guardian, and the definition of guardian in rule 1 of these rules does not apply to the sale of such securities.

Safe Custody of Government Promissory Notes.

48. (1) A depositor may tender at a Post Office Savings Bank for safe custody by the Accountant-General, Government Promissory Notes which have been purchased for him through the Post Office. The tender must be made on the form prescribed by the Director-General, and the notes tendered must be endorsed by the Accountant-General. A receipt for the notes from the Accountant-General will be delivered to the depositor.

(2) A depositor may also, at any time, apply through the local post office for the delivery to him of any Government Promissory Notes which have been purchased for him through the Post Office. The application must be made in the form prescribed by the Director-General. The notes will be delivered to the depositor on his surrendering the receipt originally granted to him by the Accountant-General, duly endorsed, in acknowledgment of his having received back the notes.

Interest on Government Security.

49. So long as Government securities purchased through the Post Office remain in the custody of the Accountant-General, under rules 46 (3) and 48 (1), interest when due* will be drawn and advised to the local Post Office Savings Bank by the Accountant-General for credit to the depositor's account. If the annual or total cash limit of the account is exceeded, the excess will not bear interest.

50. No fee, commission, or brokerage of any kind is charged for the purchase, sale, safe custody or delivery out of custody of Government securities bought through the Post Office or for the realisation and remittance of interest on such securities. So long as Government securities purchased through the Post Office remain in the custody of the Accountant-General, * NOTE.—In the case of Government securities represented by Investment Certificates, interest will for the present, be due on the 1st May and 1st November of each year.

PROSPECTUS OF THE GOVERNMENT COMMERCIAL INSTITUTE.

THE Government Commercial Institute, Calcutta, affords a training of a practical and businesslike character, well up to date and capable of direct application to the commerce and trade of the city. It is neither a business college in which the academic element exceeds the vocational in relative importance nor a secondary school of commerce, but a higher school of commerce in which the vocational element predominates but in a liberal manner.

2 There is a specialised Day Course extending over two years, ending in the Commercial Course Final Examination. Provision is also made for more advanced and more technical instruction by means of evening lectures in Advanced Book-keeping, high speed in Shorthand and Typewriting, Political Economy, Mercantile Law, Annuities and Insurance, and Banking and Currency, ending annually in Commercial Course Special Examinations in each of the subjects. These lectures are intended to give persons already employed in business a chance of improving their efficiency as first-rate shorthand-writers, Typists or Book-keepers, and of gaining an intelligent insight into the economical, financial or legal principles on which commerce is based.

3. The aim of the Institute is to turn out a type of young man who, if he has received a thorough grounding in the ordinary school subjects, specially in English, has the makings of a useful assistant either in commercial firms or in Government offices generally, and who, if he is destined for commercial life and is willing to avail himself of the facilities offered for more advanced and more technical instruction by means of evening lectures, has the makings of a more useful assistant aspiring to be a businessman.

THE DAY COURSE.

4. There are two day classes—a first-year class and a second-year class. For the students of these classes the following course of study is prescribed :—

- (1) Modern English, and especially English correspondence, including commercial correspondence, letter drafting and précis-writing.
- (2) Arithmetic, including commercial and mental arithmetic.
- (3) One of the following languages, namely, Bengali, Hindi, Urdu, Uriya, French, German or Latin.
- (4) One of the following subjects, namely, book-keeping, shorthand-writing or typewriting.
- (5) Commercial Geography.

Arrangements are made to enable those students who may wish to do so to take up two or all of the following subjects, namely, book-keeping shorthand-writing and typewriting.

English.—The English teaching is as severely practical as it can be made. In the first-year class, the students regularly practise dictation and essay-writing. They also practise writing easy letters, both official and business, as between a private man and a firm, and making index and précis of such letters.

In the second-year class they study the advanced stages of Commercial Practice or Business Methods and are drilled constantly to work out complete transactions, enabling them to appreciate not only the exact relation which one item bears to another but also the place of each in the completed whole, the transactions given in outline furnishing material for guided work on the part of the students. They now practise making index and continuous précis, not only of all the series of letters arising in the transactions given but also of longer official letters and their replies from such bodies as Chambers of Commerce and other Associations. Their papers are corrected and returned soon after they are submitted. No text-books being prescribed, the students are under no temptation to cram, their capacity to write simple correct English with perspicuity and brevity thus developing under careful guidance.

Modern Bengali, including Bengali commercial correspondence, etc.—In Bengali “Kapalkundala” by Bankim Chandra Chatterjea is prescribed as a text-book affording a model for style and diction. Besides this language work, practices and principles obtaining in the commercial transactions covering different branches are also taught in Bengali, giving the students a further opportunity to learn them and to practise drafting business letters in their mother-tongue. They are required also to make index and précis, in Bengali, of commercial letters.

In order that they may be able to express themselves clearly and accurately in Bengali and in English and with a view more effectively to supplement the practical teaching in English, special attention is paid to translation of passages from English into Bengali and retranslation after some time has elapsed, and vice versa.

Commercial Geography.—The course in Commercial Geography deals specially with the relations of cause and effect that hold good between the general principles of geography and the occurrence, production, and exchange of commodities. It also deals in an elementary way with the history of commodities.

The Commercial Geography text-books used are: “Commercial Geography of the World” by A. J. Herbertson, “A Short Commercial Geography” by L. W. Lyde, “Elementary Commercial Geography” by H. R. Mill, and “A School Economic Atlas” by J. G. Bartholomew.

Commercial and Mental Arithmetic.—In Arithmetic the students are taught addition, subtraction, multiplication and division—simple and compound; approximation in multiplication and division; G. C. M. and L. C. M.; fractions—vulgar and decimal; practice; proportion—simple and compound (i.e., simple rule of three and double rule of three); the metric system; percentages, commission, etc.; proportional division; profit and loss; mixtures; interest—simple and compound; present worth and discount; stocks and shares; exchange—chain rule; square root. Grant and Hill’s “Commercial Arithmetic” and “Mental Arithmetic” are used.

Shorthand.—During the first-year of the course the students are thoroughly grounded in the theory of Pitman’s Shorthand and are expected to attain a speed of 50 words per minute at the end of the year. “Pitman’s Shorthand Instructor” is the text-book used. Throughout the second-year they practise speed. The minimum speed sought to be attained is 80 words per minute. The best students are found to attain a speed of 120 words a minute. In the Final Examination speed tests are held at 80, 100, 120 and 140 words per minute.

Typewriting.—The “Touch” system of Typewriting is carefully taught from the beginning. No particular text-book is used. The students are required to attain a minimum speed of 30 words per minute at the end of the two years’ course. Dexterous students are found capable of attaining the maximum speed prescribed for the examination, viz., 55 words per minute. The intermediate standard of speed test is 40 words per minute. They have also to pass a tabulating examination corresponding to each speed test.

Book-keeping.—The full course of the Day classes in Book-keeping includes instruction in the elementary stage. It is expected that a student shall have a satisfactory grounding in English and Arithmetic. In this course there is taught a Double Entry system with simple accounts and commercial transactions. Students are taught to open and keep the following books: Journal, Purchase Day Book, Sales Day Book, Cash Book, Bill Book and Ledger. Instruction is also given in making entries for outgoing and incoming single consignments. In connection with these books instruction is given in Trial Balance and preparation of Balance Sheet and Profit and Loss Accounts.

5. The students pay an admission fee of Rs 3. The monthly tuition fee is Rs. 3. The text-books which the students have to buy cost about Rs. 16.

6. The classes are held between 11 A.M. and 4 P.M. except on Saturdays, when they are held between 11 A.M. and 2 P.M. Students of typewriting are allowed to stay later for extra practice.

7. The session begins annually about the end of June and closes about the end of April. The usual Autumn and Christmas holidays are given.

8. Candidates who have passed the Matriculation examination are eligible for admission. Others are admitted, provided they satisfy the Education Department, by passing a preliminary test examination of a similar standard, that they have sufficient general education to enable them to derive advantage from the teaching.

9. Graduates and Intermediates may be admitted in the second-year class, provided they take up only Typewriting among the subjects mentioned in section (4), paragraph 4. They may be allowed to take up Shorthand or Book-keeping, provided they have sufficient knowledge in Shorthand or Book-keeping, as the case may be.

10. Candidates for admission should send in their applications to the Principal annually before the end of June.

THE EVENING COURSE.

The session begins annually about the end of June and closes about the middle of April.

11. There are at present Evening classes for the following subjects: Shorthand-writing, Typewriting and Book-keeping.

12. If classes can be formed, arrangements will be made for the delivery of lectures on Political Economy, Annuities and Insurance, Mercantile Law, Modern English, and Banking and Currency. Fees are paid according to the number of lectures delivered in each subject. Classes were formed last year in all the subjects except Modern English.

13. A student may be a member of one or more classes at his option.

14. Shorthand.—Students are admitted in July and also in December every year. The examination is held in April. For the session July to November the fee is Rs. 12, payable in four instalments of Rs. 3 each. Only those having a minimum speed of 60 words per minute are admitted in July. For the session December to mid-April, the fee is Rs. 16, payable in four instalments of Rs. 4 each. Those having a speed of 80 words a minute or more are admitted in December. Speed classes are so held as to enable a student to attain any of the four grades of speed required for the Special Examination, viz., 80, 100, 120 and 140 words per minute. There is no Theory class in the evening. The class sits at 6 P.M. daily (except on Saturdays and holidays).

15. Typewriting.—Beginners are admitted in July. They are carefully taught the "Touch" system. Advanced students are also admitted in this session. In December, only students having a speed of at least 20 words per minute are admitted. No beginner can join this session. By mid-April, when the examination is held, the minimum speed sought to be attained is 35 words per minute and the maximum is 60 words per minute. There is an intermediate speed test at 45 words per minute. For each of the three speed tests there is a corresponding accuracy test in tabulating, which is carefully taught. The fee is the same as that of the Shorthand class; but a reduction of Re. 1 per instalment of each of the two fees payable by a student, who is simultaneously a member of both the Shorthand and Typewriting classes, is granted, and the same reduction per instalment of each of the three fees payable is made when a student is simultaneously a member of three classes, viz., Shorthand, Typewriting and Book-keeping. The Typewriting class is divided into two groups, the first of which practise from 5 to 6-30 P.M. and the second from 6-30 to 8 P.M. (except on Saturdays and holidays).

16. Book-keeping.—The full course of the evening classes in Book-keeping includes instruction in two stages—the Elementary and the Advanced. Preparatory to the Elementary work it is expected that a student shall have a satisfactory grounding in English and Arithmetic—

- (a) In the first-year class, ending with the Commercial Course Special Examination in Elementary Book-keeping, the course is similar to that prescribed for the day course.
- (b) In the second-year class ending in the Commercial Course Special Examination in Advanced Book-keeping, the course includes matters as under:—

In the advanced stage there is considered the nature of capital, whether as money or property, stocks, shares, classification of capital, revenue accounts, the use of departmental ledgers, also the establishment and recoupment of sinking funds, investment accounts, public, railway, gas and water companies accounts. Joint-stock companies' accounts are dealt with completely. Instruction is also given in joint consignments, partnerships, contracts, etc. The nature and purposes of allowances to be made for depreciation in value of property are also made clear.

The fee for the Elementary Book-keeping class is Rs. 24, payable in eight instalments of Rs. 3 each, and that of the other Book-keeping class is Rs. 32, payable in eight instalments of Rs. 4 each. A reduction of Re. 1 per instalment of each of the two fees payable by a student who is a member simultaneously of two of the classes in Shorthand, Typewriting or Book-keeping will be granted, and the same reduction is granted per instalment of each of the three fees payable by a student who is a member simultaneously of three of the classes in Shorthand, Typewriting and Book-keeping.

17. Candidates who have attended the lectures in the day course will be eligible for admission to the evening course. Candidates for admission to Typewriting and the first-year Book-keeping classes must show that they have sufficient general education. Candidates for admission to the Shorthand and the second-year Book-keeping classes must show that they have sufficient knowledge of Shorthand or Book-keeping, as the case may be.

These proposals, however, have not yet been sanctioned.

Prizes.—First and second prizes of Rs. 75 and Rs. 50 respectively will be offered by the Bengal Chamber of Commerce for competition by the students of the Day class and another prize of Rs. 50 will be offered by the same body for competition among the students of the Evening classes in each of the following subjects:—

20. The Commercial Course Final Examination at the end of the two years' Day course and the Commercial Course Special Examinations in each of the subjects specified for evening lectures at the end of each year are controlled by the Commercial Course Advisory and Examination Board, a body consisting of educational officers and gentlemen engaged in commerce in Calcutta. On the results of these examinations certificates are granted by the Education Department, these certificates being endorsed by the Secretary, Bengal Chamber of Commerce, which body, as also the Bengal National Chamber of Commerce, have undertaken to publish the list of the successful candidates.

21. Up till now the Institute has turned out 312 successful candidates in the Final and Special Examinations. All of these are now employed in various offices, both mercantile and Government. A good many of them, viz., those that had joined either the Day or Evening classes with a tolerably fair grounding in English and could, therefore, make the best use of the training received here, have risen above the level and are now drawing from Rs. 60 to Rs. 120, some of them having even received two or three increases in the course of a year and are reported to be shaping very well in their respective spheres.

22. The Bengal Chamber of Commerce has issued a circular letter containing a request to its members to make it a rule to take the passed students of the Day classes, whenever possible, in preference to other clerks.

In its Notification No. 4122Mis., dated the 24th November 1911, the Government has recognised the comprehensiveness and thoroughness of the course of studies prescribed for our Final Examination by adopting it, with slight elimination and addition, for the Secretariat Clerical Service Examination, and has declared our successful candidates in the Final Examination as eligible to appear for it along with those who have passed the Intermediate and higher examinations of an Indian University.

STATEMENT OF THE PRESIDENT.

His Excellency the President having taken the chair rose and addressed the meeting as follows :—

" At a meeting on 5th March a representation was made to me by certain Hon'ble Members asking me to postpone the discussion of the resolutions arising out of the Financial Statement (which by our rules we take to-day) until a later date. The practice of other Legislative Councils was referred to as justifying this request, and it was pointed out to me that the time given to Hon'ble Members in which to prepare resolutions for the discussion was, in the opinion of those who signed the representation, obviously inadequate. I stated to the Council that I could not agree to the prayer of the representation for this year, but that I would consider whether the wishes of those who signed it could be met in subsequent years.

I have looked into the matter, and I find that, unless the Government of India alter their dates for dealing with the various stages of the India Budget, it will be impossible for me to do as I have been requested to do. Even if it be within my power to make the postponement asked for—a question into which I need not enter—it would not, I think, be a proper use of my power; for to postpone the discussions would only be to make them entirely futile in that the India Budget would meanwhile have been disposed of, and no recommendation by this Government, based upon resolutions presented to it, could be entertained.

Hon'ble Members, in basing their request on the practice of other Legislative Councils, are under a misapprehension. Neither in Madras, nor in Bombay, nor in any other province where a Legislative Council exists, does the discussion of analogous resolutions to those which can be moved here to-day begin on a date later than 13th March.

As to the length of time available to Hon'ble Members after they have received the amended Draft Financial Statement, I may say that Government introduced the present procedure, with the sanction of the Government of India, in the belief that it was an improvement on the procedure previously in force. Ten full days, instead of three as was the case before 1912, are now secured to Hon'ble Members in which to draft resolutions, and four further full days, in which to prepare speeches. It seems to me that these periods are not unduly short.

Probably in every year some Hon'ble Members may be unable to listen to the speeches delivered on behalf of Government when the various Budget heads are introduced, and it may seem to those Members that there might be possible advantage if they had longer time in which to read and study these speeches. This advantage could never be more than a very slight one; but, if I can secure it to Hon'ble Members in another year, I shall be glad to do so. At present, however, I do not see how I can.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

LIST OF BUSINESS—ITEM No. 1.

STARRED QUESTIONS

By the Hon'ble BABU UPENDRA LAL RAY :—

Salaries of
in the Customs House, Chittagong.

1. (a) Is it a fact that the ministerial officers employed in the Customs House at Chittagong have received no increment of salary since the year 1870?

(b) Are the Government considering the expediency of extending the recommendations of the Salaries Commission in respect of the emoluments of the said officers?

The Hon'ble Mr. STEPHENSON replied :—

1. (a) "The pay of the establishment was revised in 1891 and additions were made in 1896, 1907 and in 1908.

(b) The answer is in the negative."

By the Hon'ble BABU UPENDRA LAL RAY :—

Salaries of
in the Government
in the Presidency.

2. (a) Is it a fact that the salaries of the orderlies, process-serving peons and other menial servants employed in the Government courts and offices in this Presidency have remained the same for the last 50 years?

(b) Are the Government considering the question of raising the salaries of these employes?

The Hon'ble Mr. STEPHENSON replied :—

2. (a) "It is not a fact that the salaries of orderlies, process-serving peons and other menial servants in this Presidency have remained the same for the last 50 years. The minimum wage of all whole-time servants was raised to Rs. 6 per mensem in 1898, and the pay of peons in Calcutta, Alipore and Howrah was revised in 1902, and the pay of the Secretariat chaprasis and menials has been raised again since that date. In Eastern Bengal, the pay of menials at Dacca was raised to Rs. 8 per mensem and the pay of individual menials has, in the last few years, been raised in a considerable number of cases throughout the province.

(b) The question is under consideration and Government hope to be in a position shortly to address the Government of India on the subject."

UNSTARRED QUESTIONS

By the Hon'ble RAI RADHA CHARAN PAL BAHADUR :—

Sealdah through Basirhat and Sathkira to Khulna.

I.—Will the Government be pleased to state whether there is any proposal under their consideration of opening a chord line from Sealdah through Basirhat and Sathkira to Khulna?

The following answer by the Hon'ble Mr. Finnimore was laid on the table :—

I.—"A reconnaissance survey will shortly be carried out for a direct broad-gauge line connecting Calcutta with Khulna; but it is not possible to say at present through what points it will pass."

By the Hon'ble Mr. A. W. C. CHAPLIN :—

II.—Will the Government be pleased to state what progress has been made with the Dooars Road Improvement Scheme, and give specific information on the following points :—

Dooars Road Improvement Scheme.

- (a) What sum is expected to be expended on the scheme during the current financial year?
- (b) How much is it proposed to expend thereon in the next financial year?
- (c) What is the amount of the estimated cost of the full programme for the improvement of the Dooars roads, as submitted to Government by the Public Works Department; to what extent have this programme and estimate been sanctioned, and over how many years is it proposed to spread the work?
- (d) Has a preliminary programme of expenditure, spread over the next four or five years, now been definitely sanctioned; and, if so, will the Government be pleased to state the amount of funds to be allocated for this purpose?
- (e) Are the Government taking action in the direction of assisting the Jalpaiguri District Board by special grants for road construction and maintenance, in addition to such grants as may be allotted for the Public Works Department Dooars programme; and, if so, will the Government be pleased to state the amount of grants allotted?

The following answer by the Hon'ble Mr. Finnimore was laid on the table :—

II.—(a) and (c) "The scheme for the improvement of the Dooars roads proposed by the local authorities has been carefully considered by Government. The total approximate cost of the scheme, as proposed, amounted to 35 lakhs of rupees. Of this amount, it was proposed that 24½ lakhs should be spent by the Public Works Department and 10½ lakhs by the District Board, of which 6 lakhs should be a grant-in-aid from Provincial Revenues. As it is not possible during the next four years to provide more than 20 lakhs of rupees for these roads, the Commissioner, Rajshahi Division, has been asked to report, after consulting the local authorities and the Dooars Planters' Association, what works can be eliminated from the programme or postponed for further consideration after the financial year 1917-18, so as to reduce the total rough cost of the scheme, excluding District Board roads to be constructed from District Funds, to the sum of Rs. 20 lakhs that can be made available for the work. No reply has yet been received from the Commissioner to that reference.

Of the 2 lakhs provided in the current year's Provincial Civil Works Budget of the Public Works Department, it is anticipated that a sum of about Rs. 1,08,000 will be expended on the scheme during the current financial year. The preliminary programme for the improvement and maintenance of the roads under the Public Works Department is being worked up to as far as practicable in anticipation of the final programme referred to above. The detailed estimates for five roads have already been sanctioned, and another such estimate is under the consideration of Government.

(b) It is proposed to spend 4½ lakhs.

(d) This cannot be done until the report called for from the Commissioner alluded to in the reply to (a) and (c) is received.

(e) Government have no present intention of giving a special grant to the Jalpaiguri District Board for road construction and maintenance. The resources of the District Board have recently been very much increased by the surrender to them of the Public Works cess."

THE REVISED FINANCIAL STATEMENT.*LIST OF BUSINESS—ITEM No. 2.

The Hon'ble Sir William Duke presented the Revised Financial Statement for Bengal for 1914-15.

He said :—

“ My Lord, I have the honour to present the Revised Financial Statement for Bengal for 1914-15. There is absolutely nothing to say about this statement beyond what is contained in the memorandum which was circulated yesterday. The only change which has been introduced by the Government of India is in the estimate of receipts under V—Excise for 1914-15. The satisfactory feature is that the assignments of Rs. 1,50,000 and Rs. 26,000 sanctioned by the Government of India for education and remission of certain recoveries from local bodies, respectively, are recurring assignments from the year 1914-15 and not permanent additions.”

Calcutta, the 12th March 1914.

MEMORANDUM.

IN accordance with Rule 14 1 and 2. of the Bengal Legislative (Financial Statement) Rules, 1912, published with Notification No. 4482F., dated the 10th December 1912, the following memorandum is circulated indicating the alterations in the figures which have been made since the circulation of the Amended Draft Financial Statement, Bengal, for 1914-15, on the 4th instant.

2. The only change which has been made by the Government of India is in the estimate of receipts under V—Excise for 1914-15. The budget has been raised by 3 lakhs or from Rs. 1,55,00,000 to Rs. 1,58,00,000 in view of the Settlement of Excise shops now in progress which shows a larger increase than had been expected. The closing balance for 1914-15 will now be Rs. 1,98,32,000 against Rs. 1,95,32,000 adopted in the Amended Draft Financial Statement.

3. The assignments of Rs. 1,50,000 and Rs. 26,000 sanctioned by the Government of India for education and remission of certain recoveries from local bodies, respectively, are recurring assignments from the year 1914-15.

4. Copies of the revised Financial Statement are circulated herewith

F. W. DUKE.

REVISED FINANCIAL STATEMENT, BENGAL, 1914-15.PART I.—General Review.(1) ACCOUNTS FOR 1912-13.

In the revised estimate for 1912-13 which was laid before the Council on the 26th March 1913, the receipts of the year were taken at Rs. 7,12,53,000 and the charges at Rs. 5,95,55,000, while the anticipated closing balance was Rs. 2,83,23,000. The accounts of 1912-13 as finally closed show that the actual receipts amounted to Rs. 7,16,53,401 and the charges to Rs. 5,69,48,131, and the closing balance was Rs. 3,13,30,270. The receipts were thus better by Rs. 4,00,401, this improvement having occurred chiefly under Land Revenue Adjustments (Rs. 1,32,885) for the cost of forms for the Assam Administration; Excise (Rs. 2,59,045) owing to better settlement of shops and consequent larger advance collections in March 1913, and Miscellaneous (Rs. 1,36,339) on account of larger lapse of deposits. The actual charges were less by Rs. 26,06,869, chiefly under the following heads; Land Revenue (Rs. 1,26,872) owing to smaller expenditure on the improvement of Government Estates; Courts of Law (Rs. 1,65,600) as the expenditure under Civil and Sessions Courts and Mufussal law charges was smaller than anticipated; Police (Rs. 1,55,141) as the grant for police reforms and river police was not fully utilized; Ports and Pilotage (Rs. 1,15,991) due to larger recoveries by the Agent for Government Consignments, which are taken in reduction of expenditure; Education (Rs. 2,92,171) on account of short expenditure from Imperial grants; Miscellaneous (Rs. 1,31,390) owing to the transfer of the lump provision from this head to meet the charges for grain compensation allowance to the respective Departments; Civil Works in charge of the Public Works Department (Rs. 7,78,245) chiefly on account of lapses of grants for land acquisition for the extension of the Presidency College and School of Tropical Medicine, Calcutta, and lastly under Civil Works in charge of Civil officers (Rs. 7,13,616) owing to non-utilization of the full amount provided for expenditure on sanitation.

4. The principal fluctuations under the Revenue heads are set out below. The improvements aggregate Rs. 27,27,000, and are under the following heads :—

Stamps—(Rs. 1,00,000), due to larger sale of stamps chiefly in Calcutta principally on account of high prices ruling in the jute trade.

Excise—(Rs. 13,45,000), due to increase in license fees obtained by settlement of shops and to higher rates of duty on foreign and country spirit which came into effect from April 1911.

Assessed Taxes—(Rs. 4,50,000), owing to a general increase in profits.

Forests—(Rs. 2,50,000), due to sale of timber previously extracted from Buxa, to the expansion of fuel trade in Kurseong and to better prices obtained for timber in Buxa and Chittagong.

Registration—(Rs. 70,000), due to the increase in the number of registrations.

Courts of Law—(Rs. 1,02,000), due to larger receipts from magisterial fines and from court-fees realized in cash.

Jails—(Rs. 67,000), due to larger sale of manufactured articles.

Scientific and other Minor Departments—(Rs. 87,000), due to sale of quinine.

Miscellaneous—(Rs. 87,000), due chiefly to anticipated lapse of debt at the close of the year and partly to the sale of land at Railway at Chittagong and to the realization of larger fees on the completion of arrear audits.

Under the following heads, on the other hand, the revenue fell off, the total decrease being Rs. 4,09,000.

Land Revenue—(Rs. 1,49,000), on account of suspensions in the districts of Midnapore and Hooghly owing to floods.

Ports and Pilotage—(Rs. 1,60,000), chiefly under Pilotage receipts owing to decrease in the number of vessels.

Irrigation—Minor Works and Navigation—(Rs. 59,000), due to a falling off in the receipts of the Madaripore Bhil Route, on account of concessions granted to passenger steamers and in the Calcutta and Eastern canals on account of storms and a smaller traffic in rice and jute.

5. On the expenditure side the revised estimate shows a total decrease of Rs. 71,46,000, which is mainly accounted for under the following heads :—

Land Revenue—(Rs. 84,000), due to larger savings in the grant under salaries, and larger recoveries for partition work.

Excise—(Rs. 40,000), due to the lapse of the provision for reorganization of the department.

Police—(Rs. 1,74,000), due to the lump provisions for Police reforms and river police reorganization being only partially utilized.

Education—(Rs. 49,78,000), due to savings in the Imperial grants.

Medical—(Rs. 12,01,000), due to savings in the Imperial grants for Sanitation, and Medical relief and to the provision for the School of Tropical Medicine being only partially spent.

Scientific and other Minor Departments—(Rs. 1,81,000), due to savings in the grants of the Agricultural Department and Botanic gardens and also in the Imperial grant for Agriculture and allied objects.

Miscellaneous—(Rs. 2,37,000), due to the adjustment to the appropriate heads of the grants made by His Excellency, and to the transfer of charges for grain allowance to the different departments by reappropriation from the lump provision made under this head.

Civil works in charge of the Civil Department—(Rs. 1,90,000), due to the transfer of the grant to the Chittagong Port to the head Ports and Pilotage and also to savings in the grant for works of sanitary improvement.

On the other hand there will be a total increase in expenditure of Rs. 15,07,000 of which the most noticeable instances are :—

General Administration—(Rs. 1,52,000), due to larger expenditure on His Excellency's tour, initial expenditure on books and furniture for Council Library and to larger expenditure in the Civil Secretariat and Executive Council.

Courts of Law—(Rs. 3,43,000), due to larger expenditure for counsel's fees in connection with the Barisal conspiracy case and to larger expenditure under both Civil and Criminal Courts.

Jails—(Rs. 1,97,000), due to larger expenditure under rations and for purchase of raw materials.

Ports and Pilotage—(Rs. 62,000), owing to the adjustment of the grant to the Chittagong Port under this head.

Superannuation—(Rs. 87,000), due to the special charges for commutation value of pensions.

Irrigation—Major Works—(Rs. 33,000), due to cost of silt clearance in Range II and Gewankhally supply channel of the Hijili Tidi Canal.

Irrigation—Minor Works and Navigation—(Rs. 64,000), due to expenditure for flood damage repairs.

Civil Works in charge of the Public Works Department—(Rs. 3,70,000) due to additional grant for land acquisition charges for the school of Tropical medicine and extension of the President College.

6. The net result of these changes is that the closing balance for 1914, including the sum of 20 lakhs held in trust for the Calcutta Improvement Scheme, which was estimated in March last, at Rs. 1,93,70,000 is now estimated to amount to Rs. 3,04,30,000.

(3) BUDGET ESTIMATE, 1914-15.

7. The opening balance of 1914-15 is the closing balance of 1913-14 and is, therefore, Rs. 3,04,30,000.

8. The estimates for the year, as provisionally approved by the Government of India, adopt Rs. 6,29,95,000 as receipts and Rs. 7,35,93,000 as expenditure and a closing balance of Rs. 1,98,32,000. Out of the special grant of 50 lakhs for the Calcutta Improvement Scheme, which has appeared in the accounts since 1903-04, thirty lakhs have already been paid to the Improvement Trust and ten lakhs will be paid in 1914-15. 14. Stamps.—The Budget estimate of the total revenue from Stamps for 1913-14 was passed by the Government of India for Rs. 2,14,00,000. The actuals in 1912-13 amounted to Rs. 2,07,43,853, and those of the first nine months of 1913-14 exclusive of receipts under the Calcutta Improvement Act, exceeded the figures of the corresponding period of the preceding year by Rs. 7,17,000. In view of these figures, and allowing for the adjustment of receipts from the sale of unified stamps between the Postal and the Stamp Departments, the revised estimate for 1913-14 has been passed for Rs. 2,16,00,000. Allowing for a progressive increase of 7 lakhs the estimate for 1914-15 has been placed at Rs. 2,23,00,000. The Provincial share is one-half, and amounts to Rs. 1,08,00,000 for 1913-14, and Rs. 1,11,50,000 for 1914-15.

15. Excise.—The total collections under this head in 1912-13 amounted to Rs. 1,37,59,045 and the estimate for 1913-14 was passed by the Government of India for Rs. 1,38,55,000. The actuals of the first ten months of 1913-14 exceeded those of the corresponding period of last year by Rs. 13,84,000 and the revised estimate for 1913-14 has been passed for

Rs. 1,52,00,000. The increase is chiefly due to higher license fees obtained in the settlement of shops in February and March 1913 and also partly to the increase in the rate of duty on country spirits. There will be no settlement in Calcutta this year, and it is expected that the raising of duty will diminish the receipts from the consumption of liquor; as steps are being taken to check the consumption of opium and charas, it is thought inadvisable to provide for an increase of more than 6 lakhs in the estimate for next year. The budget estimate for 1914-15 has accordingly been placed at Rs. 1,58,00,000.

16. Provincial Rates.—The collections from Public Works Cess are now being surrendered to District Boards. Under General Rates for the management of Private Estates, the estimate of receipts for 1914-15 is Rs. 1,18,000 against Rs. 1,23,000 the revised estimate for 1913-14 and Rs. 1,06,144, the actuals of 1912-13.

17. Assessed Taxes.—The receipts from Income-tax for 1913-14 were estimated at Rs. 56,00,000. The actual collections in 1912-13 amounted to Rs. 55,51,652, while those in the first ten months of 1913-14 exceeded the figures of the corresponding period of last year by Rs. 9,25,000, and the revised estimate for 1913-14 has been placed at Rs. 65,00,000. The large increase in ten months was due to some of the Coal and Jute Companies and most of the Banks having shown large increases in their profits. In view of the unusual increase in 1913-14 it is not expected that the receipts in 1914-15 will be as high as in 1913-14 and the estimate has been placed at Rs. 61,00,000. The Provincial share is one-half and amounts to Rs. 30,50,000.

18. Forests.—The budget estimate for 1913-14 was Rs. 14,00,000 against Rs. 16,00,601, the actuals of 1912-13. The actual collections in the first ten months of 1913-14 show an increase of Rs. 1,27,000. The revised estimate for 1913-14 has been placed at Rs. 16,50,000. The increase over the budget is due to sale of timber previously extracted in Buxa where departmental extraction was given up and to expansion of the fuel trade in Kurseong and to the receipt of better sale prices than anticipated for timber in Buxa and Chittagong. The estimate for 1914-15 has been passed for Rs. 16,00,000.

19. Registration.—The receipts under this head for 1913-14 were estimated at Rs. 19,00,000. The actuals in 1912-13 amounted to Rs. 18,23,161, while the collections in the first nine months of 1913-14 show an increase of Rs. 1,24,000 as compared with those of the corresponding period of the preceding year. In view of these figures the revised estimate for 1913-14 has been placed at Rs. 19,70,000 and allowing for a normal increase of Rs. 80,000 the estimate for 1914-15 has been passed for Rs. 20,50,000.

20. Interest.—The estimate of loans, as submitted to the Government of India, provides for a return in the way of interest during 1914-15 of Rs. 4,87,000 as shown below :—

	Rs.
Interest on advances to cultivators, etc. ...	62,000
"    "    "    Co-operative Credit Societies ...	3,000
"    "    drainage and embankment advances ...	11,000
"    "    loans to landholders ...	1,74,000
"    "    "    to municipalities and district
Boards, etc. ...	2,20,000
Miscellaneous ...	14,000
Total ...	4,87,000

21. Law and Justice—Courts of Law.—The total collections under this head amounted to Rs. 8,14,901 and the estimate for 1913-14 was passed by the Government of India for Rs. 7,65,000. The actuals of the first nine months of 1913-14 show an increase of Rs. 40,000 over those of the corresponding period of the previous year and the revised estimate for 1913-14 has been passed for Rs. 8,67,000. The increase is chiefly due to unusually large receipts from Magisterial fines. The estimate for 1914-15 is Rs. 8,95,000.

22. Jails.—The actuals in 1912-13 amounted to Rs. 7,03,353 while the receipts in the first nine months of 1913-14 show an increase of Rs. 31,000 over those of the corresponding period of last year chiefly for larger cash sales of manufactured articles. The budget estimate for 1913-14 has accordingly been raised from Rs. 6,59,000 to Rs. 7,26,000 in the revised estimate and the estimate for 1914-15 has been passed for Rs. 7,23,000.

23. Police.—The budget estimate for 1913-14 was Rs. 1,62,000. This has been raised to Rs. 1,65,000 in the revised estimate with reference to the actuals of the first nine months of the current year. The estimate for 1914-15 is Rs. 1,77,000.

24. Ports and Pilotage.—The budget estimate for 1913-14 was Rs. 18,00,000. This has been reduced to Rs. 16,40,000 in the revised estimate with reference to the actuals of the first nine months of the year which show a decrease of Rs. 75,000 as compared with the figures for the corresponding period of last year. The decrease is under pilotage receipts and is due to a reduction in the number of vessels entering and leaving the Calcutta port, and specially to a certain number of vessels entering and leaving the port in ballast, thus affecting the earnings, as such vessels are of a draught much less than that of vessels clearing with cargo. In view of the increase in the Pilotage receipts in the past, the estimate for 1914-15 has been passed for Rs. 17,16,000 against Rs. 16,95,556, the actuals of 1911-12 and Rs. 17,52,191 the actuals of 1912-13.

25. Education.—The Budget estimate for 1913-14 was Rs. 7,51,000. This has been raised to Rs. 8,15,000 in the revised estimates, with reference to the actuals of the first nine months of the year. The improvement is mainly due to increases in fees from Government Colleges and Schools—General. The estimate for 1914-15 is Rs. 8,62,000.

26. Medical.—The Budget estimate for 1913-14 was Rs. 3,76,000 against Rs. 4,26,733, the actuals of 1912-13. The actuals of 1912-13 include Rs. 50,000 credited as a special contribution from the Indian Research Fund Association, for carrying out experiments in jungle-clearing in suitable localities. The actual collections in the current year, however, show increases chiefly under Medical College fees and under medicine sold by Civil Surgeons and the revised estimate for 1913-14 has been passed for Rs. 4,00,000. The estimate for 1914-15 is Rs. 3,97,000.

27. Scientific and other Minor Departments.—The estimate for 1913-14 was Rs. 2,26,000 against Rs. 2,17,931 the actuals of 1912-13. The collections from the sale of quinine and cinchona in the first eight months amounted to Rs. 1,07,000 against Rs. 21,000 in the corresponding period of the previous year. The revised estimate under this sub-head has been raised from Rs. 1,07,000 to Rs. 2,00,000 and the total estimate under this head has been raised from Rs. 2,26,000 to Rs. 3,13,000. The estimate for 1914-15 has been placed at Rs. 2,72,000 as it is not expected that the demand for quinine in that year will be as high as in 1913-14.

28. Receipts in aid of superannuation.—The estimate for 1913-14 was Rs. 42,000, but in the revised estimate this has been reduced to Rs. 38,000 in view of the actual collections of the first nine months of the year. The estimate for 1914-15 has been placed at Rs. 39,000.

29. Stationery and Printing.—The estimate for 1913-14 was Rs. 1,30,000 against Rs. 1,20,103 the actuals of 1912-13. The actuals of eight months of 1913-14, however, show an increase of Rs. 6,000 over those of the corresponding period of last year and the revised estimate for 1913-14 has been placed at Rs. 1,25,000. The estimate for 1914-15 is Rs. 1,20,000.

30. Miscellaneous.—The estimate under this head for 1913-14 was Rs. 5,91,000 against Rs. 7,72,339 the actuals of 1912-13 which included very heavy receipts (Rs. 6,38,026) from unclaimed deposits. These deposits, which are likely to lapse at the close of the year, may amount to Rs. 5,35,000, and the total revised estimate under this head has been placed at Rs. 6,78,000 as the sale-proceeds of tents from Government House stock at Dacca realized Rs. 5,634 and the sale of land to the Railway at Chittagong brought in Rs. 11,540. The estimate for 1914-15 has been passed for Rs. 5,92,000 as the estimate under unclaimed deposits has been placed at Rs. 4,80,000.

31. Irrigation—Major Works (Direct Receipts).—The estimate for 1913-14 was Rs. 2,80,000 against Rs. 2,73,918 the actuals of 1912-13. The actual collections in the first eight months of 1913-14 show a decrease of

Rs. 8,000, chiefly owing to the silting up of the Hijili Tidal Canal, which reduced the navigation receipts. The water-rates in the Midnapore Canal are also expected to fall short owing to reduction in the irrigated area and the revised estimate has been placed at Rs. 2,50,000. An increase in the irrigated area in the Midnapore Canal is expected in 1914-15 and the estimate has been passed for Rs. 2,67,000. The provincial share is one-half and amounts to Rs. 1,25,000 and Rs. 1,33,000 in 1913-14 and 1914-15, respectively.

32. Irrigation—Minor Works and Navigation in charge of the Public Works Department.—The estimate for 1913-14 was Rs. 6,85,000 against Rs. 6,40,210 the actuals of 1912-13. The actual collections in the first nine months of 1913-14 show a decrease of Rs. 74,000 as compared with the figures for the corresponding period of 1912-13 chiefly in the Madaripore Bheel route on account of concessions granted to steamer companies and in the Calcutta and Eastern Canals owing to the deficiency in the rice and jute traffic. The revised estimate has been reduced to Rs. 5,66,000. Receipts are expected on account of the levy of tolls on the Magrahat drainage from 1914-15 and the estimate has been passed for Rs. 6,10,000. The provincial share is one-half and amounts to Rs. 2,83,000 for 1913-14 and Rs. 3,05,000 for 1914-15.

33. Civil Works in charge of the Public Works Department.—The budget estimate for 1913-14 was Rs. 3,69,000 against Rs. 3,85,036 the actuals of 1912-13. The actual receipts in the first nine months of 1913-14 show an increase of Rs. 35,000 over those of the corresponding period of last year and the revised estimate for 1913-14 has been placed at Rs. 4,14,000. The increase is due to sale-proceeds of certain buildings. Excluding the special receipts in 1913-14 the estimate for 1914-15 has been passed for Rs. 3,85,000 the actuals of 1912-13.

EXPENDITURE.

34. Refunds and Drawbacks.—The total Provincial expenditure in 1914-15 is estimated at Rs. 1,35,000, against Rs. 1,41,000, the Budget estimate for 1913-14, and Rs. 1,44,035, the actuals of 1912-13. The estimates under this head are based, as usual, on the average actuals of the previous three years, excluding special payments. The actuals of 1910-11 included a special payment of Rs. 22,500 and those of 1911-12 a payment of Rs. 6,500 under Land Revenue. The actuals of 1912-13 also included special payments of Rs. 6,000 and Rs. 8,000 under Stamps. The revised estimate for the current year has been placed at Rs. 1,38,000.

35. Assignments and Compensations.—The estimate for 1913-14 was Rs. 33,000. The revised estimate has however been raised to Rs. 45,000 with reference to the actuals of the first nine months, against Rs. 50,905, the actuals of 1912-13. The estimate for 1914-15 is Rs. 43,000. The variations are due to payment of fluctuating malikana.

36. Land Revenue.—The total provincial expenditure for 1914-15 is estimated at Rs. 35,33,000, against Rs. 32,64,000, the revised, and Rs. 33,48,000, the Budget estimate, for 1913-14 as shown below :—

(6) Charges on account of fishery collection ...	1,000	.....	.....
Total ...	33,48,000	32,64,000	35,33,000

Under (1) provision has been made for an additional District Magistrate of the 24-Parganas and for the consequent additional Joint-Magistrate, for revision of the Kanungo establishment, for the purchase of a launch for the District Officer, Faridpur, for the purchase of iron safes for district and sub-divisional treasuries, larger provision for diet and travelling allowance to witnesses, law charges, and remuneration to copyists. The estimate under (3) includes special additional grants of Rs. 50,000 for the improvement of Government Estates and Rs. 67,000 for the reclamation of Sunderbans in the district of Bakarganj. The estimate under (4) amounts to Rs. 2,13,000 and includes Rs. 43,000 for the new survey school at Comilla. The variations under (5) are due to the debit of cost of the Director of Land Records to the different Imperial settlement operations. The estimate for 1914-15 includes Rs. 5,000 for the reorganization of his office.

37. Stamps.—The sanctioned estimate for 1913-14 was Rs. 7,25,000 which has been raised to Rs. 7,27,000 in the revised owing to the payment of heavier charges for the sale of general stamps against savings in the grant for stamp paper. The budget for 1914-15 is Rs. 7,52,000 and follows the revised, but provides for larger issue of stamp paper from Central Stores.

38. Excise.—The total expenditure for 1913-14 was originally estimated at Rs. 6,69,000, but in the revised estimate this has been reduced to Rs. 6,29,000 owing to the lapse of the lump provision of Rs. 50,000 for the reorganization of the department. The budget for 1914-15 is Rs. 8,77,000 and includes Rs. 1,50,000 for the reorganization, Rs. 50,000 for the construction of boats and launches and Rs. 50,000 for the construction of quarters.

39. Provincial Rates.—The cost of collections of the cesses and the valuation and revaluation charges will in the first instance be incurred by the District Officers but ultimately recovered from District Boards while transferring the cesses to those bodies so that nothing will fall on the general revenues.

40. Assessed Taxes.—The budget grant for 1913-14 is Rs. 1,57,000 but Rs. 1,51,000 has been adopted as the estimate for 1914-15. The decrease is due to the amalgamation of the establishment of the Board of Revenue with the Civil Secretariat.

41. Forests.—The sanctioned estimate for 1913-14 was Rs. 6,76,000 but in the revised estimate this has been reduced to Rs. 6,40,000 with reference to the actuals of the first nine months of the year. The decrease is due to the full complement of officers and executive establishment not being employed. The budget for 1914-15 amounts to Rs. 7,27,000 and includes the following items besides small items mentioned in paragraph 10 above :—

	Rs.
Reconstruction of Divisional officer's Bungalow at Kalimpong ... ..	8,000
Purchase of two elephants for the Chittagong Hill Tracts Division ... ..	6,000
Construction of four accommodation boats and two water boats for the Sunderbans	11,600

Reconstruction of Divisional officer's bungalow at Buxa Duars ... ..	8,000

42. Registration.—The estimate for 1913-14 is Rs. 11,16,000 but in the revised this has been reduced to Rs. 11,01,000 owing to the delay in the reorganization of the office establishment of the District Sub-Registrars. The budget for 1914-15 is Rs. 11,99,000 and includes the following items :—

	Rs.
Registrar of Joint Stock Companies and his office ... ..	21,858
Lump provision for increasing the leave reserve ... ..	10,000
Lump provision for increase of salary of District Sub-Registrars ... ..	8,100

	Rs.
Lump provision for revision of the cadre of Sub-Registrars ... ..	4,500
Provision for revision of the ministerial establishments in the head-quarters offices	45,610
Increased grant for record racks ...	2,000
Grant for the purchase of type-writers ...	3,000
Provision for cost of remitting salaries, etc., in Western Bengal Districts	3,000

43. Interest on Ordinary Debt.—This is interest payable from the Provincial revenues to the Imperial Government on the amount advanced by the latter to the Provincial Government for loans to cultivators, under the Agriculturists' Loans and Land Improvements Loans Acts, for advances to Co-operative Societies, for advances on drainage and embankment schemes, for loans to notabilities and to municipalities and other public corporations (excluding Presidency Corporations).

44. General Administration.—The estimate for 1913-14 was Rs. 23,02,000, but in the revised estimate this has been raised to Rs. 24,54,000. The increase is chiefly for larger expenditure on His Excellency's tour, for deputation of several special officers in the Civil Secretariat, for the purchase of books and furniture for the Council Library and Legislative Department and larger expenditure on Tour charges and contingencies of the members of the Executive Council. The estimate for 1914-15 amounts to Rs. 23,53,000 and includes Rs. 19,627 for the maintenance and improvements of the railway saloon carriages, larger grant for allowances and contingencies of the offices of the Private Secretary to Governor and the Military Secretary to Governor according to requirements, Rs. 5,000 for allowances to reporters and Rs. 5,000 for the purchase of books for the Council Library.

45. Law and Justice—Courts of Law.—The budget estimate for 1913-14 was Rs. 96,10,000, but the revised estimate has been raised to Rs. 99,53,000 with reference to the actual charges of the first nine months of the year, which were chiefly enhanced by the expenditure on law charges and fees to counsel in connection with the trial of Damodar Dey's suit in Burdwan and the Barisal conspiracy case and debit of grain compensation charges by transfer from 32—Miscellaneous. The estimate for 1914-15 is Rs. 99,53,000 and includes the following provisions :—

	Rs.
An additional Judge for High Court ...	48,000
Establishment for the additional Judge, High Court	5,148

Establishment of a court and detention house for juvenile offenders ... ..	17,400

46. Jails.—The estimate for 1913-14 is Rs. 20,79,000, but in the revised estimate this has been raised to Rs. 22,76,000 with reference to the actuals of the first nine months of the year. The increase is mainly due to larger dieting charges and partly also to larger purchase of raw materials in the Presidency Jail at Alipore. The estimate for 1914-15 is Rs. 20,76,000. It includes smaller provision for purchase of raw materials, but provides Rs. 40,000 for the revision of warders' service and Rs. 10,000 for new machinery for the Dacca Central Jail.

47. Police.—The following table shows the figures under this head :—

48. Ports and Pilotage.—The estimate for 1913-14 was Rs. 13,74,000 but in the revised estimate this has been raised to Rs. 14,36,000 for the adjustment under this head of the grant of Rs. 1,50,000 made to the Chittagong Port which was estimated under Civil Works in charge of Civil officers. Against this addition a large reduction in expenditure is expected in the grant under Pilotage establishment owing to the decline in pilotage receipts. The estimate for 1914-15 amounts to Rs. 15,39,000 and includes larger grant for pilotage establishment due to anticipated trade activity as well as the payment of Rs. 1,50,000 to the Chittagong Port Fund.

The estimate for 1913-14 was Rs. 1,34,88,000 but in the revised estimate this has been reduced to Rs. 85,10,000 with reference to the actuals of the first nine months of the year. The decrease is chiefly due to partial utilization of the Imperial grants and the stoppage of the equilibrium grant on the surrender of the Public Works Cess to the District Boards and to the transfer of the provision of Rs. 50,000 for the Comilla Survey School to the head 3—Land Revenue. The budget for 1914-15 includes the following items :—

	Rs.
Assistant Director of Public Instruction for Muhammadan Education ...	26,720
Appointment of a wholetime Professor of Geology ...	4,200

	Rs.
Provision for the creation of 3 additional Provincial Educational Service appointments ...	10,200

50. Medical.—The budget grant for 1913-14 was Rs. 41,01,000. This has been reduced to Rs. 29,00,000 in the revised estimate with reference to the actuals of the first nine months of the year. The decrease is chiefly due to savings to the extent of 10 lakhs in the grant for expenditure on sanitation, Rs. 80,000 in the lump grant for medical relief, Rs. 50,000 for jungle clearing, one lakh for the School of Tropical Medicine and to non-utilization of the provision for the purchase of quinine by the Sanitary Commissioner for sale in the Eastern Bengal districts. The estimate for 1914-15 is Rs. 47,81,000 and includes the following items :—

	Rs.
Provision for the revision of Civil Surgeons' offices	2,000
Teaching allowances to the three Resident Surgeons and Physicians, Medical College Hospital ...	7,200

51. Political.—The estimate for 1914-15 is Rs. 29,000, which is also the budget grant for 1913-14, against Rs. 30,000, the revised estimate for the current year. The increase in the current year is due to larger payments for Durbar presents owing to the installation of the new Maharaja of Cooch Bihar.

52. Scientific and other Minor Departments.—The total charges under this head for 1913-14 were originally estimated at Rs. 17,13,000, but in the revised estimate this has been reduced to Rs. 15,32,000. The decrease is chiefly due to savings in expenditure from the Imperial grant for agriculture. Rupees 30,000 was transferred to the Forest Department and the balance was not fully spent. Savings were also effected in the grants for the Agricultural Department, Botanic Gardens and Fishery Department. The estimate for 1914-15 is Rs. 17,30,000 and includes the following provisions :—

	Rs.
For non-recurring improvements of the Agricultural Department ...	1,00,000
Regrant of the unspent balance of the Imperial grant for Agricultural Department ...	52,000
Regrant of the unspent balance of the Imperial grant for Cinchona Department ...	29,975

Provision for registration of steamer-borne trade at Bhairab Bazar in Mymensingh ...	1,200
Provision for contribution to the Eastern Bengal State Railway for the construction of a bungalow for the Assistant Superintendent of Emigration at Goalundo ...	3,000

53. Superannuation.—The estimate for 1913-14 is Rs. 30,22,000, but in the revised this has been raised to Rs. 31,09,000, owing chiefly to the provision for commuted value of pensions to the extent of Rs. 75,000. The budget for 1914-15 amounts to Rs. 32,31,000 as the charges under this head tend to rise year after year owing to increase in the number of pensioners.

54. Stationery and Printing.—The following table shows the charges under this head :—

HEADS.	Actuals, 1912-13.	Budget estimate, 1913-14.	Revised estimate, 1913-14.	Budget estimate, 1914-15.

The increased provision under Forms Department is for the payment of allowances to assistants of that office on the introduction of Jail hours on its transfer to the jail. The increase under Government presses is due to larger provision for plant, furniture and contingencies and a lump provision for additional establishment required for the removal of a portion of the press from the Writers' Buildings to Koila Ghât Street.

55. Miscellaneous.—The Budget estimate for 1913-14 was Rs. 9,53,000, but in the revised estimate this has been reduced to Rs. 7,16,000. The reduction is chiefly due to the adjustment, under appropriate heads, of the expenditure on grain compensation allowance and the charges sanctioned by His Excellency from the provision for petty grants, and to the reappropriation of the reserve provision of Rs. 1,50,000, in order to meet expenditure under other heads. Against these transfers additional charges were incurred for the District Administration and the Calcutta Port Facilities Committee and the expenditure on gratuitous relief in flooded areas, for which there were no provisions in the budget. Special payments were also made to the Prisoners' Aid Society for acquisition of land, to the "Refuge" for regrant of the undrawn grant for 1912-13, to the Calcutta Orphanage and the Anath Bhandar for the purchase of buildings. The estimate for 1914-15 is Rs. 10,81,000, and includes a lump provision of Rs. 4,00,000 for the payment of grain compensation allowance for all departments : Rs. 1,00,000 to be placed at the disposal of His Excellency for petty grants, Rs. 1,50,000 for general reserve for unforeseen requirements, Rs. 20,000 for District Administration Committee, Rs. 3,000 for the Port Facilities Committee, Rs. 50,000 for gratuitous relief in the flooded area and Rs. 26,000 being the amount recently sanctioned by the Government of India on account of recoveries from local bodies which will be remitted, it being assumed for estimate purposes that the increase will result in an increase of expenditure, though in most cases there will actually be a reduction in revenue. A corresponding assignment has been given from the Imperial revenues for the purpose.

56. Irrigation—Major Works (Working Expenses).—The estimate for 1913-14 amounting to Rs. 2,40,000 has been raised to Rs. 3,06,000 in the revised estimate for the inclusion of the charges for silt-clearance, Range II and Gewankhally supply channel of the Hijili Tidal Canal. The estimate for 1914-15 has been raised for Rs. 2,96,000 and includes Rs. 45,000 for silt-clearance in the Main canal and supply channel of the Hijili Tidal Canal and also to some special repairs to the distributaries of the Midnapore Canal. The provincial share is one-half and amounts to Rs. 1,53,000 for 1913-14 and Rs. 1,48,000 for 1914-15.

57. Irrigation—Minor Works and Navigation in charge of the Public Works Department.—The actual charges in 1912-13 amounted to Rs. 15,36,307 and the estimate for 1913-14 was Rs. 18,66,000. Additional grants have been sanctioned during the year for repairs to embankments damaged by floods, and silt-clearance of the Protapkhally khal in the district of Midnapore and the revised estimate for 1913-14 has been passed for Rs. 19,94,000. The estimate for 1914-15 amounts to Rs. 22,38,000 and includes the following special provisions :—

	Rs.
Clearing the bed of the Saraswati River in connection with the Rajapur Drainage Works ...	54,000
Works in connection with the Jessore Drainage Division ... ..	20,000
Dredging the entrance of the Bhagirathi and Gorai rivers ... ..	16,000
Construction of a new sluice below Jujuti in connection with the Eden Canal ... ..	35,000

The Provincial share is one-half and amounts to Rs. 9,97,000 for 1913-14 and Rs. 11,19,000 for 1914-15.

58. Minor Works and Navigation in charge of the Civil Department.—The estimate for 1914-15 is Rs. 8,000 against Rs. 3,000 the budget grant for 1913-14. The estimate for 1914-15 includes Rs. 5,000 for grant-in-aid for bandalling the Ganges near Rampore Boalia.

The following table shows budget grants for 1913-14 and 1914-15 with the revised estimate for 1913-14 :—

RESOLUTIONS.Expenditure—Head 24—Medical.*

Appendix to the List of Business—Motion No. I.—The Hon'ble Maharaja Ranajit Sinha of Nashipur asked for leave to withdraw the following Resolution which stood in his name :—

“ This Council recommends to the Governor in Council that, out of the non-recurring grant of Rs. 18,82,772, under the head Sanitation, a sum of two lakhs, or such other sum as the Government may deem proper, be set apart for the sanitary survey of certain of the municipalities of Bengal.”

He said :—

“ My Lord, I understand that the Government of India are going to issue a resolution on sanitary matters very soon, and that the question of the Sanitary Survey also will be considered in that respect ; and so, with your Lordship's permission, I beg to withdraw the resolution which stands in my name.”

The Resolution was by leave of the President withdrawn.

Appendix to the List of Business—Motion No. II.—The Hon'ble Maharaja Ranajit Sinha of Nashipur moved the following Resolution :—

“ This Council recommends to the Governor in Council that, out of the non-recurring grant of Rs. 18,82,772, under the head Sanitation, a sum of two lakhs, or such other sum as the Government may deem proper, be utilized in building a sanitarium at some healthy station for the benefit of the people of Bengal.”

He said :—

“ My Lord, the Government are already doing their best for the improvement of the sanitation of Bengal, and large sums of money have been provided for that purpose. Bengal is so situated now that it has no health station, except Darjeeling, where people can go for a change of air or to recruit their health. It is most desirable that some suitable site should be selected to which people can resort for the recruitment of their health. Darjeeling especially is not suited to all Indians, because it has a very cold climate. There is the Lewis Jubilee Sanitarium, which is doing good work and is very useful in this respect, but the people—I mean most of the people—cannot avail themselves of the opportunity which is afforded to go there. The initiative might be taken by the Government, and the general public asked to contribute, if necessary, for the benefit of the people of Bengal. With these few observations I beg formally to move the resolution.

The Hon'ble Mr. SAMMAN said :—

“ My Lord, however worthy the intentions of the Hon'ble Mover of this resolution, I fear that there are two substantial reasons which prevent Government from accepting it. In the first place, the cost of establishing a sanitarium is not a charge upon the grant for sanitary improvements, but is one upon Medical; in the second place, the establishment of a sanitarium will involve recurring charges which cannot be met out of a non-recurring grant such as the one now under discussion. The Hon'ble Member has made no suggestion whatever as to how these recurring charges are to be met. Putting aside the technical objections, I may observe that the establishment of a sanitarium in this Province is not a new proposal. Some few years ago a proposal was made to establish a sanitarium somewhere in the plains, and the site selected tentatively was at Simultala. That proposal was discussed for some time, but was eventually dropped. Towards that scheme the Hon'ble Maharaja of Burdwan offered the munificent contribution of one lakh, but after lengthy deliberation it was decided to drop the proposal. Simultala has now passed out of this Province, and the Hon'ble Mover has made no suggestion whatever as to what healthy site might be selected. I may mention that, in my own opinion, a sanitarium of this nature for general purposes involves a very heavy expenditure, and will really offer relief to only a very small portion of the population. There is another kind of sanitarium which might possibly be established—that is, a sanitarium for the treatment of tuberculosis; this question has recently been under discussion by the Corporation of Calcutta who have addressed the Government on the subject. The matter is now under consideration, and the Sanitary Commissioner will have to investigate it, and until that investigation is finished it is quite impossible to take any further step in advance. As, however, the charge is not one which can be debited to the grant for sanitary improvement, I hope that the Hon'ble Mover will be pleased to withdraw his motion."

The Hon'ble MAHARAJA RANAJIT SINHA of Nashipur said :—

"After the observations which have been made by the Hon'ble Member, with Your Excellency's permission I beg to withdraw my resolution."

The resolution was then, by leave of the President, withdrawn.

Appendix to the List of Business—Motion No. III.—The Hon'ble Maharaja Ranajit Sinha of Nashipur moved the following Resolution :—

"This Council recommends to the Governor in Council that, out of the non-recurring grant of Rs. 18,82,772. under the head Sanitation, a sum of Rs. 5,000 be allotted to the Murshidabad Municipality as a grant for jungle cutting, with a view to the sanitary improvement of that Municipality."

He said:—

"My Lord, it appears from the Census Report that the population of the Murshidabad Municipality is steadily and gradually decreasing. In the year 1901, the population was 13,385, whereas in 1911 it came down to 12,308. From the previous census I find that the population was more than 13,385, so that every ten years the population has been decreasing by about 3,000. If this state of things continues, I am afraid the Murshidabad Municipality will, in a few years, be depopulated altogether. We find that every house there is more or less surrounded by dense jungle, or with numbers of superfluous trees and, consequently, the sanitation of the town is far from satisfactory. It is essentially necessary that something should be done to improve the sanitation. Apart from the more important questions of water-supply and drainage, I think there would be some improvement if the jungle within the Municipality were cut down. I have put down the figures of Rs. 5,000 at a guess, but I am sure that local officers, if consulted in this matter, will agree in thinking that the jungle should be removed from the Municipality, and I hope that your Lordship's Government will see their way to grant at least some amount for this purpose.

With these few observations I beg to move my resolution."

The Hon'ble MR. SAMMAN SAID :—

"The Hon'ble Maharaja of Nashipur has asked for a grant of Rs. 5,000 to the Murshidabad Municipality for jungle-cutting, and it sounds as though he considers that this would be a specific for the rapid decrease in the population. He may be right, but, apart from this question, in a matter of this sort, it is obviously for the Municipal Commissioners themselves to take the first step. No application has up to the present been received by Government for any such assistance and, until such application has been received, it will be quite impossible for Government to accept this resolution. There is no lack of funds, and if an application is received, it will undoubtedly be carefully considered on its merits.

Ben. Act of 1884.) I would, however, point out to the Hon'ble Mover that the Municipal Act already contains a section—Section 195—which gives the Municipal Commissioners power under certain circumstances to compel the owners and occupiers to remove superfluous and noxious growth. If full advantage be taken of this section by the Municipal Commissioners there will probably be no necessity for a grant such as is recommended in this resolution."

The Hon'ble MAHARAJA RANAJIT SINHA of Nashipur said :—

" My Lord, I am fully aware that there is a section in the Municipal Act by which the Municipal Commissioners can compel the ratepayers to have jungles cut down, but I think that as the section is worded—it refers to noxious trees and jungles—it does not give the power to compel the ratepayers to cut down the superfluous trees which surround their houses. Besides, I think it will be a great hardship if the ratepayers are forced to cut down all their trees, and, if this amount were granted to the Municipality, they would be able to pay something to the ratepayers by way of compensation for having those trees cut down. My friend the Hon'ble Mr. Samman said that there had been no application from the Municipality in this respect, but so far as my knowledge goes, whenever the Heads of Departments have visited the district, the Murshidabad Municipality have always made a reference to the subject in the addresses which they have presented, and I think that that might be considered as a sufficient application for this purpose."

The resolution was then put and lost.

(2) The Governor General in Council may, subject to such conditions and restrictions as he thinks fit, delegate to a Local Government, or to Local Governments generally, all or any of his powers to make rules under sub-section (1).

(3) All rules made under this Act shall be published in the Gazette of India, if made by the Governor General in Council, or, if made by the Local Government in the exercise of a delegated power, in the local official Gazette ; and, on such publication, shall have effect as if enacted in this Act.

5. If any money borrowed in accordance with the provisions of this Act, or any interest or costs due in respect thereof, is or are not repaid according to the conditions of the loan, the Local Government, if itself the lender, may, and, if the Local Government is not the lender, shall, on the application of the lender, attach the funds on the security of which the loan was made. 7. Except as provided by or under this Act, no local authority shall, for any purpose, borrow money upon, or otherwise charge, its funds ; and any contract otherwise made for that purpose after the passing of this Act shall be void :

Provided that nothing herein contained shall be deemed—

(a) to preclude any local authority from exercising the borrowing powers conferred on it by any special enactment now or hereafter in force ; or

DRAFT RULES FOR THE MAGRA HÂT CHANNELS.

1. Every vessel entering or making use of the Magra Hât channels shall be liable to measurement for the purpose of ascertaining the tolls payable. In case of any reasonable doubt, the persons appointed by the Governor in Council as Collectors of Tolls or Navigation Canal Officers shall have authority to again measure a vessel notwithstanding that it was measured before.

2. Vessels for the purpose of the determination of maundage shall be divided into three classes as follows:—

Class I.—To include all vessels of the usual native types of build known as saltees, but not bond fide tal (or palm-tree) dongas and not exceeding 50 maunds by canal measurement.

Class II.—To include all other vessels of usual native types of build or cutters.

Class III.—To include all steamers, flats, barges and other square-built boats.

The net maundage of every vessel, whether laden or empty, shall, for the purposes of the Canals Act, 1864, and of these rules be determined by the following measurements:—

CLASS I.

A.—The product of one-quarter the inside length of the vessel, measured along the centre line from stem to stern, multiplied by the interior greatest breadth of the vessel multiplied by three-quarters of the depth, measured from the top of the vessel amidships to the interior bottom of the vessel is to be taken as equal to the number of maunds upon which toll shall be levied.

B.—The measurement of the length to be made in feet, rejecting inches, and of the breadth and depth in feet and quarters of a foot, rejecting any remainder of less than a quarter of a foot.

C.—Any vessel the maundage of which calculated as above exceeds 50 maunds shall be reckoned as a vessel under class II.

CLASS II.

A.—The product of one-quarter the length of the vessel from stem to stern measured outside and along the water line, multiplied by the greatest interior breadth of the vessel multiplied by the greatest interior depth from the water line to the interior bottom of the vessel, is to be taken as equal to the number of maunds upon which tolls shall be levied.

B.—The measurement of the length is to be made in feet, rejecting inches, the measurement of the breadth and depth is to be made in feet and quarters of a foot, rejecting any remainder less than a quarter of a foot.

C.—The maundage on which the amount of toll is calculated shall be reckoned to the nearest integral multiple of  $12\frac{1}{2}$  maunds, rejecting any remainder of less than  $12\frac{1}{2}$  maunds. In the case of boats exceeding 500 maunds by measurement the maundage shall be reckoned to the nearest integral multiple of 50 maunds rejecting any remainder of less than 50 maunds.

D.—In the case of boats carrying passengers only, one foot shall be deducted from the full interior depth of the vessel, the other measurements and the calculations for maundage being made in the methods prescribed for vessels under Class II.

CLASS III.

A.—For vessels of class III, the number of maunds obtained by the system of measurement prescribed for vessels of class II shall be increased by one-half. For vessels of this class exceeding 1,000 maunds by measurement, the maundage shall be reckoned to the nearest integral multiple of 100 maunds rejecting any remainder of less than 100 maunds. In the case of steamers, the maundage determined as above shall be reduced by one-third as an allowance for engine space.

B.—In case of steamers that have been surveyed under the Inland Steam-vessels Act, 1884, the registered tonnage entered in the certificate may be accepted as the tonnage of the steamer in lieu of measurement.

3. All vessels under class I, known and defined as saltees, will be charged under a system of compounded tollage in accordance with rules contained in Appendix A.

4. Every vessel included in classes II and III entering or passing along the canal shall be furnished with a ticket on paying the prescribed toll. The ticket shall specify the station at which it has been issued, the name of the person in charge of the vessel, the date on which the voyage commenced, the point to which the vessel may proceed on the line of navigation, the maundage of the vessel, the amount of toll charged, the number of days allowed for the voyage, and the date of such last day. The number of days so allowed without additional payment shall be calculated as follows:—

Boats.—One day for every eight miles or portion of eight miles, to be traversed together with one day for every 100 maunds of measurement or part of 100 maunds.

Floats (timber).—One day for every five miles for any number of timbers not exceeding fifty, and one day for every additional fifty or part of fifty.

Rifts (bamboos).—One day for every five miles for any number not exceeding five hundred and one day for every additional five hundred or part of five hundred.

5. Every vessel which does not complete its voyage within the number of days allowed by rule 4 shall, for each day or part of a day in excess, be liable to an extra charge equal to one-half of the toll payable on the maundage of the vessel as per the Schedule of Rates in Appendix B, provided that in no case shall the demurrage charged exceed Rs. 5 per diem. The Superintending Engineer may, at his discretion, exempt any boats on any line of navigation, or any portion of line of navigation from the payment required by this rule.

Exemption from payment of demurrage may, at the discretion of the Collector of Tolls, be granted for vessels detained in the channels (steamers broken down and boats damaged) by stress of weather, should immediate notice of detention, for the information of the Collector of Tolls, Magra Hât channels, be given to the nearest toll-station.

6. All tolls are payable on demand and shall be paid at the toll-station before a vessel is permitted to proceed: Provided that the Collector of Tolls may, at his discretion, permit vessels belonging to individuals or firms of recognised standing to proceed without prepayment on an undertaking that the bills for tollage due shall be liquidated monthly on presentation.

7. The ticket must be kept on board the vessel and must be produced for inspection when demanded by any person authorised to do so. If, on demand, the ticket is not produced, such person shall assess the tollage as provided in rule 2, and shall require payment of toll, and unless and until the toll is paid, or the original ticket or a duplicate is produced as evidence that toll has already been paid, the vessel will be liable to seizure and detention in accordance with the provisions of section 9 of the Canals Act, 1861.

8. Duplicates of lost tickets, of which the numbers and dates can be satisfactorily established, will be granted by the Collector of Tolls on payment of a sum of Re. 1. Provided that for tickets on which the total tollage is less than Rs. 4, the fee to be charged for a duplicate shall be one-quarter of the total tollage with a minimum of As. 4.

9. A vessel, which has been detained under these rules or under section 9 of the said Act, may not be removed from the canal without the order of the Collector of Tolls until the toll due has been paid. During such detention the manjhi, owner or agent must make arrangements for the safety of the vessel and cargo.

10. All vessels, whether the property of Government or of private owners, are liable for toll, except those exempted by the provisions of Bengal Government Circular No. 11., dated the 11th July 1906.

11. Vessels may be hauled up for repairs on the banks of the canals with the previous written permission of the Supervisor or Navigation Canal Officer. A rent calculated at one-sixth the rate of ordinary demurrage will be charged for the time the vessel occupies the bank.

12. At places where mooring posts have been provided by the Supervisor or Navigation Canal Officer, vessels desiring to moor shall be made fast in single line along the banks to such posts in such manner as the Supervisor or Navigation Canal Officer may direct, and shall not be moored in any other manner.

13. The Supervisor or Navigation Canal Officer may, by written notice to be posted at the toll offices, prohibit the dropping of anchors or the putting up of bamboos or luggies in any specified part of the canals or on the banks.

14. Vessels shall be allowed to make fast in single line along the canal banks in such manner as may be directed by the Supervisor or Navigation Canal Officer from time to time, and no boat shall be made fast or be placed outside of boats so secured. No boat or raft shall be placed in such a position as to endanger the safety or obstruct the passage of other boats. Every vessel, when stationary, shall be securely fastened, and shall at all times have some person in attendance on board. Every vessel in motion shall have a sufficient crew.

15. Vessels passing through the canals shall keep in separate lines, empty boats keeping close to the bank, and those that are laden in the centre.

16. In portions of the canals where only one towing-path exists, vessels shall moor on the side opposite to the towing path, and the towing-path side shall always be kept clear.

17. Iron-built cargo boats, with outside angle iron projecting beyond the wooden fenders, will not be allowed to enter the locks unless permanent fenders are fixed over the edges of the angle iron so as to prevent them from causing damage to the locks.

18. No fire, or open, unprotected light of any description shall be used on boats containing petroleum, jute, hay or straw in any place prohibited by the Navigation Canal Officer or Supervisor, and no fire, or open, or unprotected light (except in the case of steamers, the galley and engine-room fires and the electric light) shall be used on any vessel while in a lock basin.

19. No person shall wilfully or negligently allow a vessel to sink in the canals.

20. In every case of a sunken vessel, whether due to negligence or otherwise, the Supervisor or Navigation Canal Officer and his subordinates shall offer every assistance in removing the same.

If in three days after the occurrence of a wreck it is seen that prompt measures are not being taken by the owner to remove the sunken vessel from the line of navigation, the Supervisor or Navigation Canal Officer and his subordinates shall make their own arrangements for the removal of the same at the expense of the owner, provided that, in cases where navigation is seriously obstructed, arrangements may be made at once to remove the wreck.

21. When a sunken vessel has been recovered, the Supervisor or Navigation Canal Officer shall cause notices to be posted at the locks, toll offices or other prominent places calling on those concerned to pay to the Collector of Tolls all toll or demurrage which may be due, as well as the expenses incurred in the recovery of the vessel and cargo. Should the sum due be not paid within fifteen days of the date of notice, the vessel and its furniture, or so much of it as may be necessary for the recovery of the dues, will be sold under the procedure directed in section 9 of the Canals Act, 1864.

22. The purchaser of a vessel sold under the provisions of section 9 of the said Act shall have the right to take it out of the canal on the day of purchase, or within such time as may be allowed by the Collector of Tolls, without payment of tolls.

23. When any laden vessel which has sunk has been recovered, or when any laden vessel has been seized under the provisions of the said Act or of these rules, the Supervisor or Navigation Canal Officer shall give immediate notice of the recovery or seizure to the owner of the cargo or his agent, requiring the removal of the cargo without delay and informing him that he will be required to pay all expenses necessary for the proper custody and storage of the cargo until removed.

24. If the Supervisor or Navigation Canal Officer be unable to ascertain the name and place of business or the abode of the owner of the cargo of such vessel, the notice prescribed in rule 21 shall be effected by a notice exhibited in his office and by advertisement in at least one English and one vernacular Calcutta newspaper.

25. No steam-vessel, whose length exceeds thirty feet, shall ply in the Magra Hât channels except in the following:—Diamond Harbour creek, Usti Nainan outfall, Nazra khal, Sangrampur khal up to Sangrampur bridge, and the Sarjipur outer khal up to the Surjipur bridge.

26. Lights and Signals.—All vessels, whether travelling or moored in the Magra Hât channels, must, between sunset and sunrise, carry a white light in a lantern on the forepart of the vessel where it can be distinctly seen from all sides. All steam-vessels in motion shall carry the lights prescribed by the Board of Trade Regulations. Barges or boats attached to a steam-vessel, whether in motion or moored shall carry the light prescribed above.

27. Speed of vessels.—Every vessel plying in the Magra Hât channels must, between sunset and sunrise, limit her speed to three miles per hour. No steam-vessels shall ply between sunset and sunrise in channels detailed in rule 25.

28. No vessel shall remain in the outer entrance channels of the locks at Diamond Harbour and Uttarbhag nor in the inner lock channel and diversion channel of the Diamond Harbour lock and sluice, nor in the approach channels to any sluice. A board will be put up limiting the portion of the channels in which boats are not permitted to moor.

29. The places at which boats cannot be loaded or unloaded will be fixed by the Superintending Engineer, South-Western Circle, and will be demarcated with suitable posts and notice boards.

30. For any contravention of rules 10, 14, 15, 16, 17, 19, 20, 26, 27 and 28, the person in charge of the vessel or other person in fault shall, on conviction before a Magistrate, be liable to a fine not exceeding Rs. 50 for any one infringement, or Rs. 5 a day for any continuing infringement.

31. The channels may be closed, whenever necessary, for effecting the necessary repairs to them on one month's notice of the intention so to close them being given; but, in the event of any sudden emergency, the channels may be closed at any time without prior notice, and no claim in such cases by owners of vessels or others for compensation on account of detention or otherwise shall be entertained.

32. The term "Navigation Canal Officer," as used in these rules, shall include all persons appointed to collect tolls under section 8 of the Canals Act, 1864, and all Public Works officers or subordinates in charge of the channel, not below the grade of Sub-Overseer.

33. No vessel whose beam exceeds 19 feet will be permitted to enter the channels through the Diamond Harbour lock. The same prohibition will apply in the case of the Uttarbhag lock to all vessels exceeding 14 feet beam.

34. Any vessel which enters the channels through the Diamond Harbour lock for the purpose of taking refuge during stormy weather will be charged a nominal toll of As. 8 per boat, provided the vessel leaves the channel again as soon as the weather conditions permit, and does not load or unload cargo inside the channel. All vessels seeking refuge under this rule must anchor in the creek close to the toll-collector's office and will not be permitted to proceed up the creek without paying the usual tolls.

35. Any vessel entering the channels through the Diamond Harbour lock and proceeding to load or unload at the Diamond Harbour station only will be charged tollage at the rate of As. 2 per 100 maunds to include the return journey. Should such boats proceed up the creek, they will be charged the ordinary tolls.

APPENDIX A.

Rules for licensing and registration of saltees or vessels under class I.

1. As provided for under rule 3, no vessel coming under class I, rule 2, shall ply, whether regularly or only occasionally in, or partly within and partly without the limits of, the Magra Hât channels unless licensed and registered by the Collector of Tolls of the Magra Hât channels.

2. Every owner of a vessel or his agent or manjhi shall apply to the Collector of Tolls, Magra Hât channels, for licensing and registration, giving the owner's name and residence or those of his agent duly authorised to act for him.

3. Every license granted under these rules shall continue in force for either six months or one year from the date of issue.

4. The license is not transferable, and if the ownership or manjhi or both of the vessel be changed, notice of the transfer must be given to the Collector of Tolls of Magra Hât channels, who will endorse the change of ownership on the certificate and register free of charge.

5. The license certificate granted for a vessel should contain the registered number of the vessel, owner's name and residence, name of manjhi, the maundage measurements, amount of compounded tollage and the dates of issue and expiry and shall be kept on board. It shall be produced, when required, by a Navigation Canal Officer and shall be delivered up on the expiration of the license.

6. The charge for the issue of a duplicate license to vessels in lieu of those defaced or lost is Re. 1.

7. The registered number of every licensed vessel shall be engraved, or branded, as well as painted in figures easily discernible on both sides of the vessel for which a charge of Re. 1 will be made. These figures shall be legibly maintained during the period of the license.

8. On the expiration of the license the manjhi shall deliver up his ticket to the toll collector at the station from which it was issued.

9. No person in charge of any licensed vessel plying within the limits of the Magra Hât channels shall use or have any ticket resembling those granted under the authority of these rules.

10. Every renewal of a license shall, unless the Navigation Canal Officer considers it unnecessary, involve the issue of a fresh license certificate without alteration in the registered number of the vessel.

11. Every vessel under class I, found plying in the channels without being licensed and registered shall be charged a demurrage rate of Rs. 3 for every such offence, provided that such vessel is not proceeding to the nearest toll station for the purpose of obtaining a license and being registered RESOLUTION—By the Government of India, Department of Commerce and Industry.

THE following information relative to the Shipping, Engineering and Machinery Exhibition which will be held in London in September and October 1914 is published for general information.

SHIPPING, ENGINEERING AND MACHINERY EXHIBITION.

OLYMPIA, LONDON.

September 25th to October 17th, 1914.

Organized by the Trade on Co-operative Principles.

PROSPECTUS.

THERE has been no fully representative Shipping, Engineering and Machinery Exhibition in London for many years, and in view of the great importance of the Naval, Shipping, and General Engineering Industries of this country, it has been decided to hold such an Exhibition in the Autumn of 1914.

For this purpose Olympia, the second largest Exhibition Hall in the world, has been taken for an Exhibition to be held from September 25th to October 17th, 1914, inclusive.

It is proposed, in connection with this Exhibition, to devote the main body of the Hall to Naval and Shipping Exhibits, and also important Exhibits of Marine and General Engineering Appliances, working or otherwise.

The only two Exhibitions of importance of this character which have been held in this country for the last thirty years are the Naval Architecture and Marine Engineering and Fisheries Exhibition at Tynemouth, September, 1881, and the Naval and Mercantile Marine Exhibition at Olympia in 1910, and it is therefore considered that the time is ripe to hold a really representative and comprehensive Exhibition of Specialities connected with these great Industries, particularly in view of the remarkable advances during recent years in all directions.

As far as possible the Exhibits will be sectionized under the following Classification of Exhibits. headings :—

Foundry Requisites.
Lifts and Lifting Tackle.

This Exhibition will be run on the Co-operative Principle, every Exhibitor having a direct interest in the undertaking. An Exhibitors' Committee will be formed to control the general organization. The profits will be allocated partly to Exhibitors by way of rebate on space and partly to the Managers as a fee for their services.

It is proposed that a bonus of not less than 20% on the value of space taken by each individual Exhibitor shall be declared before the Managers receive any share of the profits.

The fact that the Managers have been associated during the last twelve years with numerous successful Technical Exhibitions is sufficient evidence of the organizing capacity at the back of this enterprise. The last of the series of which they were Organizing Managers, namely, the Engineering and Machinery Exhibition, Olympia, 1912, was stated on every hand to be the most successful Exhibition of its kind ever held.

It is proposed to devote the whole of the Wall Space on the Blythe Road side to exhibits of Gas Engines and Suction Gas Plants, and the Wall Space on the Hammer-smith side to demonstrations of Acetylene Welding and Cutting, this particular process having come very much to the front in connection with Marine Engineering during the past two years; and the aim generally will be to sectionize the exhibits as far as possible.

Exhibits of Accessories, Journals, and Office Appliances will not be allowed in the main Hall. This will be reserved entirely for firms manufacturing Heavy Machinery, Naval and Shipping Appliances, &c.

The price will be as usual at Olympia, Rs. 4 to Rs. 2-6 per square foot, according to position, and will include the provision of Platforms. on hire, free of charge to Exhibitors, throughout the Hall.

Price of space.

Special consideration will be given to the question of the quick and economical handling of goods, and the Management hope to make arrangements with various contractors whereby Exhibitors will be able to have their goods, of all classes, received and lifted at fixed rates.

Handling of Goods.

Electric current for power purposes and lighting and water-supply service will be provided to the fullest extent of the facilities at Olympia, and at the rates charged by Olympia (1912), Ltd., so as to enable Exhibitors to show their specialities in motion. Provision will also be made for the supply of steam.

Power.

A special publicity department will be formed so as to attract buyers from Colonial and Foreign Countries as well as from the manufacturing centres of Great Britain, and at least 5,000 Special Invitation Tickets will be sent to Government and other engineers throughout the world. Advertisements will be placed with the leading technical papers, and a Press Bureau formed under the management of an expert. Advance particulars will be sent to the technical and daily papers from time to time, and all facilities afforded them of dealing adequately with the Exhibition. Every endeavour will be made through foreign correspondents to arrange for special excursions to the Exhibition, from France and other countries, of engineers and others interested in the exhibits. It has been found that excursions of this kind increase the commercial value of Trade Exhibitions, resulting, as they do, in the opening up of many new and valuable connections.

Publicity.

Addison Road Station, adjoining Olympia, is in direct railway communication with all the great lines of Great Britain.

Railway Facilities.

The Organizers will have the assistance of a strong Committee of Leading Engineers, and this is a guarantee that the wishes of the general body of Exhibitors with regard to the organization of the Exhibition will, as far as possible, be carried out.

Committee.

A suitable space will be allotted for an Exhibitors' Club and Writing Room, which will be catered for by Messrs. Joseph Lyons & Co., Ltd., Tea and Light Refreshments being provided at reasonable rates. Each Exhibitor's Season Ticket includes Membership of Club.

Exhibitors' Club.

Plans, Application Forms, and further particulars can be obtained on application to

PROSPECTUS OF THE GOVERNMENT COMMERCIAL INSTITUTE.

THE Government Commercial Institute, Calcutta, affords a training of a practical and businesslike character, well up to date and capable of direct application to the commerce and trade of the city.— It is neither a business college in which the academic element exceeds the vocational in relative importance nor a secondary school of commerce, but a higher school of commerce in which the vocational element predominates but in a liberal manner.

2. There is a specialised Day Course extending over two years, ending in the Commercial Course Final Examination. Provision is also made for more advanced and more technical instruction by means of evening lectures in Advanced Book-keeping, high speed in Shorthand and Typewriting, Political Economy, Mercantile Law, Annuities and Insurance, and Banking and Currency, ending annually in Commercial Course Special Examinations in each of the subjects. These lectures are intended to give persons already employed in business a chance of improving their efficiency as first-rate shorthand-writers, Typists or Book-keepers, and of gaining an intelligent insight into the economical, financial or legal principles on which commerce is based.

3. The aim of the Institute is to turn out a type of young man who, if he has received a thorough grounding in the ordinary school subjects, specially in English, has the makings of a useful assistant either in commercial firms or in Government offices generally, and who, if he is destined for commercial life and is willing to avail himself of the facilities offered for more advanced and more technical instruction by means of evening lectures, has the makings of a more useful assistant aspiring to be a businessman.

THE DAY COURSE.

4. There are two day classes—» first-year class and a second-year class. For the students of these classes the following course of study is prescribed :—

- (1) Modern English, and especially English correspondence, including commercial correspondence, letter drafting and précis-writing.
- (2) Arithmetic, including commercial and mental arithmetic.
- (3) One of the following languages, namely, Bengali, Hindi, Urdu, Uriya, French, German or Latin.
- (4) One of the following subjects, namely, book-keeping, shorthand-writing or typewriting.
- (5) Commercial Geography.

Arrangements are made to enable those students who may wish to do so to take up two or all of the following subjects, namely, book-keeping shorthand-writing and typewriting.

English.—The English teaching is as severely practical as it can be made. In the first-year class, the students regularly practise dictation and essay-writing. They also practise writing easy letters, both official and business, as between a private man and a firm, and making index and précis of such letters.

In the second-year class they study the advanced stages of Commercial Practice or Business Methods and are drilled constantly to work out complete transactions, enabling them to appreciate not only the exact relation which one item bears to another but also the place of each in the completed whole, the transactions given in outline furnishing material for aided work on the part of the students. They now practise making index and continuous précis, not only of all the series of letters arising in the transactions given but also of longer official letters and their replies from such bodies as Chambers of Commerce and other Associations. Their papers are corrected and returned soon after they are submitted. No text-books being prescribed, the students are under no temptation to cram, their capacity to write simple correct English with perspicuity and brevity thus developing under careful guidance.

Modern Bengali, including Bengali commercial correspondence, etc.—In Bengali “Kapalkundala” by Bankim Chandra Chatterjea is prescribed as a text-book affording a model for style and diction. Besides this language work, practices and principles obtaining in the commercial transactions covering different branches are also taught in Bengali, giving the students a further opportunity to learn them and to practise drafting business letters in their mother-tongue. They are required also to make index and précis, in Bengali, of commercial letters.

In order that they may be able to express themselves clearly and accurately in Bengali and in English and with a view more effectively to supplement the practical teaching in English, special attention is paid to translation of passages from English into Bengali and retranslation after some time has elapsed, and vice versa.

Commercial Geography.—The course in Commercial Geography deals specially with the relations of cause and effect that hold good between the general principles of geography and the occurrence, production, and exchange of commodities. It also deals in an elementary way with the history of commodities.

The Commercial Geography text-books used are “Commercial Geography of the World” by A. J. Herbertson, “A Short Commercial Geography” by L. W. Lyde, “Elementary Commercial Geography” by H. R. Mill, and “A School Economic Atlas” by J. G. Bartholomew.

Commercial and Mental Arithmetic.—In Arithmetic the students are taught addition, subtraction, multiplication and division—simple and compound; approximation in multiplication and division; G. C. M. and L. C. M.; fractions—vulgar and decimal; practice; proportion—simple and compound (i.e., simple rule of three and double rule of three); the metric system; percentages, commission, etc.; proportional division; profit and loss; mixtures; interest—simple and compound; present worth and discount; stocks and shares; exchange—chain rule; square root. Grant and Hill’s “Commercial Arithmetic” and “Mental Arithmetic” are used.

Shorthand.—During the first-year of the course the students are thoroughly grounded in the theory of Pitman’s Shorthand and are expected to attain a speed of 50 words per minute at the end of the year. “Pitman’s Shorthand Instructor” is the text-book used. Throughout the second-year they practise speed. The minimum speed sought to be attained is 80 words per minute. The best students are found to attain a speed of 120 words a minute. In the Final Examination speed tests are held at 80, 100, 120 and 140 words per minute.

Typewriting.—The “Touch” system of Typewriting is carefully taught from the beginning. No particular text-book is used. The students are required to attain a minimum speed of 30 words per minute at the end of the two years’ course. Dexterous students are found capable of attaining the maximum speed prescribed for the examination, viz., 55 words per minute. The intermediate standard of speed test is 40 words per minute. They have also to pass a tabulating examination corresponding to each speed test.

Book-keeping.—The full course of the Day classes in Book-keeping includes instruction in the elementary stage. It is expected that a student shall have a satisfactory grounding in English and Arithmetic. In this course there is taught a Double Entry system with simple accounts and commercial transactions. Students are taught to open and keep the following books: Journal, Purchase Day Book, Sales Day Book, Cash Book, Bill Book and Ledger. Instruction is also given in making entries for outgoing and incoming single consignments. In connection with these books instruction is given in Trial Balance and preparation of Balance Sheet and Profit and Loss Accounts.

5. The students pay an admission fee of Rs. 3. The monthly tuition fee is Rs. 3. The text-books which the students have to buy cost about Rs. 16.

6. The classes are held between 11 A.M. and 4 P.M. except on Saturdays, when they are held between 11 A.M. and 2 P.M. Students of typewriting are allowed to stay later for extra practice.

7. The session begins annually about the end of June and closes about the end of April. The usual Autumn and Christmas holidays are given.

8. Candidates who have passed the Matriculation examination are eligible for admission. Others are admitted, provided they satisfy the Education Department, by passing a preliminary test examination of a similar standard, that they have sufficient general education to enable them to derive advantage from the teaching.

X 9. Graduates and Intermediates may be admitted in the second-year class, provided they take up only Typewriting among the subjects mentioned in section (4), paragraph 4. They may be allowed to take up Shorthand or Book-keeping, provided they have sufficient knowledge in Shorthand or Book-keeping, as the case may be.

10. Candidates for admission should send in their applications to the Principal annually before the end of June.

THE EVENING COURSE.

The session begins annually about the end of June and closes about the middle of April.

11. There are at present Evening classes for the following subjects: Shorthand-writing, Typewriting and Book-keeping.

Fees are paid according to the number of lectures delivered in each subject. Classes were formed last year in all the subjects except Modern English.

13. A student may be a member of one or more classes at his option.

14. Shorthand.—Students are admitted in July and also in December every year. The examination is held in April. For the session July to November the fee is Rs. 12, payable in four instalments of Rs. 3 each. Only those having a minimum speed of 60 words per minute are admitted in July. For the session December to mid-April, the fee is Rs. 16, payable in four instalments of Rs. 4 each. Those having a speed of 80 words a minute or more are admitted in December. Speed classes are so held as to enable a student to attain any of the four grades of speed required for the Special Examination, viz., 80, 100, 120 and 140 words per minute. There is no Theory class in the evening. The class sits at 6 P.M. daily (except on Saturdays and holidays).

15. Typewriting.—Beginners are admitted in July. They are carefully taught the "Touch" system. Advanced students are also admitted in this session. In December, only students having a speed of at least 20 words per minute are admitted. No beginner can join this session. By mid-April, when the examination is held, the minimum speed sought to be attained is 35 words per minute and the maximum is 60 words per minute. There is an intermediate speed test at 45 words per minute. For each of the three speed tests there is a corresponding accuracy test in tabulating, which is carefully taught. The fee is the same as that of the Shorthand class; but a reduction of Re. 1 per instalment of each of the two fees payable by a student, who is simultaneously a member of both the Shorthand and Typewriting classes, is granted, and the same reduction per instalment of each of the three fees payable is made when a student is simultaneously a member of three classes, viz., Shorthand, Typewriting and Book-keeping. The Typewriting class is divided into two groups, the first of which practise from 5 to 6-30 P.M. and the second from 6-30 to 8 P.M. (except on Saturdays and holidays).

16. Book-keeping.—The full course of the evening classes in Book-keeping includes instruction in two stages—the Elementary and the Advanced. Preparatory to the Elementary work it is expected that a student shall have a satisfactory grounding in English and Arithmetic—

(a) In the first-year class, ending with the Commercial Course Special Examination in Elementary Book-keeping, the course is similar to that prescribed for the day course.

(b) In the second-year class ending in the Commercial Course Special Examination in Advanced Book-keeping, the course includes matters as under:—

In the advanced stage there is considered the nature of capital, whether as money or property, stocks, shares, classification of capital, revenue accounts, the use of departmental ledgers, also the establishment and reconpment of sinking funds, investment accounts, public, railway, gas and water companies accounts. Joint-stock companies' accounts are dealt with completely. Instruction is also given in joint consignments, partnerships, contracts, etc. The nature and purposes of allowances to be made for depreciation in value of property are also made clear.

The fee for the Elementary Book-keeping class is Rs. 24. payable in eight instalments of Rs. 3 each, and that of the other Book-keeping class is Rs. 32, payable in eight instalments of Rs. 4 each. A reduction of Re. 1 per instalment of each of the two fees payable by a student who is a member simultaneously of two of the classes in Shorthand, Typewriting or Book-keeping will be granted, and the same reduction is granted per instalment of each of the three fees payable by a student who is a member simultaneously of three of the classes in Shorthand, Typewriting and Book-keeping.

17. Candidates who have attended the lectures in the day course will be eligible for admission to the evening course. Others will be admitted, provided they appear qualified for the class or classes they seek to join. Candidates for admission to Typewriting and the first-year Book-keeping classes must show that they have sufficient general education. Candidates for admission to the Shorthand and the second-year Book-keeping classes must show that they have sufficient knowledge of Shorthand or Book-keeping, as the case may be.

18. Examinations.—The following examinations are held annually in April:—

The fee is Rs. 5 for each Special Examination and Rs. 8 for the Final Examination.

19. Scholarships.—It has been proposed that three scholarships of Rs. 12 each will be awarded to those among the students admitted in the first-year Day class in the Government Commercial Institute, who have secured the highest number of marks in English in the Matriculation examination of the Calcutta University, and that three scholarships of Rs. 20 each will be awarded to the students of the second-year Day class who will obtain the highest total number of marks at a preliminary examination to be held at the end of the first year for the purpose of awarding the scholarships and determining promotion. These proposals, however, have not yet been sanctioned.

Prizes.—First and second prizes of Rs. 75 and Rs. 50 respectively will be offered by the Bengal Chamber of Commerce for competition by the students of the Day class and another prize of Rs. 50 will be offered by the same body for competition among the students of the Evening classes in each of the following subjects:—

Mercantile Law, Banking and Currency, Annuities and Insurance, Political Economy, Modern English, Shorthand and Advanced Book-keeping.

Three prizes are offered by the Remington Typewriter Company to be awarded to the three students of the Institute obtaining the highest marks for efficiency in Typewriting.

A prize of Rs. 50 has been offered by the Hon'ble Rai Sitanath Roy Bahadur to be awarded to the student who would pass in Banking and Currency, heading the list, in the Commercial Course Special Examination.

20. The Commercial Course Final Examination at the end of the two years' Day course and the Commercial Course Special Examinations in each of the subjects specified for evening lectures at the end of each year are controlled by the Commercial Course Advisory and Examination Board, a body consisting of educational officers and gentlemen engaged in commerce in Calcutta. On the results of these examinations certificates are granted by the Education Department, these certificates being endorsed by the Secretary, Bengal Chamber of Commerce, which body, as also the Bengal National Chamber of Commerce, have undertaken to publish the list of the successful candidates.

21. Up till now the Institute has turned out 312 successful candidates in the Final and Special Examinations. All of these are now employed in various offices, both mercantile and Government. A good many of them, viz., those that had joined either the Day or Evening classes with a tolerably fair grounding in English and could, therefore, make the best use of the training received here, have risen above the level and are now drawing from Rs. 60 to Rs. 120, some of them having even received two or three increases in the course of a year and are reported to be shaping very well in their respective spheres.

22. The Bengal Chamber of Commerce has issued a circular letter containing a request to its members to make it a rule to take the passed students of the Day classes, whenever possible, in preference to other clerks.

In its Notification No. 4122Mis., dated the 24th November 1911, the Government has recognised the comprehensiveness and thoroughness of the course of studies prescribed for our Final Examination by adopting it, with slight elimination and addition, for the Secretariat Clerical Service Examination, and has declared our successful candidates in the Final Examination as eligible to appear for it along with those who have passed the Intermediate and higher examinations of an Indian University.

23. Candidates for admission should send in their applications to the Principal annually before the end of June.

(b) If not, are the Government prepared to cause an inquiry to be made in the matter?

The Hon'ble Mr. SAMMAN, replied :—

(a) & (b) "Government have received a representation on this matter. The question of the adequacy of the present provisions of the law to prevent the adulteration of food and drugs is at present under the consideration of Government and this matter will be considered at the same time."

by the Hon'ble BABU SURENDRA NATH BANERJI :—

* 2. (a) Will the Government be pleased to state—ment.

Customs

(ii) how many of them are Europeans and how many Indians?

(b) Is it a fact that in the Bombay Customs Department there are 17 Indian appraisers out of a total of 24?

The Hon'ble Mr. STEPHENSON replied :—

(a), (i) & (ii) "There are 24 appraisers in the Calcutta Customs Department, of whom 3 are Indians and 21, Europeans or Anglo-Indians."

(b) Government have no recent information about the Bombay Customs Department, but in 1912 there were 17 Indian appraisers out of 25."

* 3. (a) Is it a fact that the Secretary of State, in his Despatch No. 102 Revenue, dated the 27th August, 1909, commented on the non-employment of Indians in the Appraising and Preventive establishments of the Calcutta Customs and called attention to the opinion expressed by the Public Service Commission of 1887 that there was no justifiable ground for the exclusion of candidates of any race from these branches of the Public Service? Dis

(b) Is it a fact that, during the term of Mr. Howard's incumbency as Collector of Customs, three Indians were appointed as appraisers as an experimental measure and proved, on the whole, quite satisfactory?

(c) Is it a fact that the Bengal Government subsequently decided that, out of a total of 24 appraisers' posts, 8 at least should be reserved for Indians, and that the Collector of Customs was accordingly directed to appoint Indians and Europeans alternately until the maximum number of 8 Indians had been reached?

(d) Is it a fact that, just before this arrangement was directed to come into force, a European was appointed to the last vacancy and that he started on Rs. 500 a month instead of the usual initial salary?

The Hon'ble MR. STEPHENSON replied :—

(a) "In the Despatch referred to, the Secretary of State commented on the non-employment of Indians in the Appraising and Preventive establishments of the Calcutta Customs and quoted the opinion of the Public Service Commission that 'there is no ground for the exclusion of qualified candidates of any race from the Appraisers' or Preventive branches of the Customs Service.'"

(b) Four Indians were appointed as appraisers. The work of one of these did not justify his confirmation, but the Board reported in 1912 that the other three had proved on the whole satisfactory.

(c) In 1912, Government decided that the Board should aim at appointing 8 Indians as appraisers, but it was left to the Board to decide on what principles they would appoint this number so as to preserve a proper proportion between Indians and Europeans at various stages of service.

(d) In 1913, a European was appointed as an expert appraiser, starting on a salary of Rs. 500 a month. This was in accordance with the orders of the Secretary of State that the Collector should be authorized to recruit, when necessary, experts on a pay higher than the initial pay of the service, subject to the condition that the number of officers so recruited does not at any time exceed eight."

If so, will the Government be pleased to state their names and the several periods of extensions granted to them?

(b) Will the Government be pleased to state whether it is intended to appoint an Indian to the next vacancy in the Appraisers' establishment?

(c) Will the Government be pleased to state when the maximum number of 8 Indian appraisers will be reached in the Calcutta Customs Establishment?

The Hon'ble MR. STEPHENSON replied :—

(a), (i) & (ii) "Three appraisers, to whom extensions have already been granted, will retire during 1914 unless further extensions are granted.

Their names are—

Mr. Girard, who has been on extensions since October, 1910 ;

Mr. Battye, who is on one year's extension up to the 19th November, 1914 ;

Mr. Vanspall, who is on one year's extension up to the 24th April, 1914.

(b) The question of the next appointment as appraiser will be decided when a vacancy occurs.

(c) It is impossible to say when the number of 8 Indian appraisers will be reached, as this depends very largely on the extensions that may be given and on the necessity that may arise for recruiting experts."

(a) "The existing orders on the subject are that wherever benefit may result from communicating an unfavourable report, or where fairness demands its communication, the officer reported on is informed of the contents of the report."

The Hon'ble Mr. SAMMAN replied :—

“The following measures were adopted :—

- (1) Thirty sub-assistant surgeons and one assistant surgeon as supervisor were employed during the fever season in the districts noted below to afford medical aid and to distribute quinine free of charge in malaria-stricken areas :—

Nadia.	Hooghly.
Jessore.	Darjeeling.
Murshidabad.	Malda.

Twenty-seven sub-assistant surgeons were also deputed to the districts in the Burdwan Division (viz., Burdwan, Midnapore, Hooghly, Serampore, Howrah and Birbhum) which lately suffered from floods. These officers were also partially employed on quinine distribution and the treatment of malaria cases.

- (2) Three assistant surgeons have been employed to give lectures on malaria in schools and colleges.
- (3) One assistant surgeon and five sub-assistant surgeons are on duty in the Western Duars in Jalpaiguri in connection with anti-malarial operations.
- (4) For popularising quinine, almanacs containing a leaflet on malaria and its cure were printed and widely distributed in all districts.

All these measures were generally appreciated, and have proved beneficial.”

Construction of a hostel for Muhammadan students in Calcutta.

The Hon'ble Mr. SAMMAN replied :—

"Government are aware that the present hostel accommodation for Muhammadan college students is insufficient and are fully alive to the increasing necessities for additional accommodation for such students. A sum of Rs. 91,000 has already been set aside for the addition of a wing to the Baker Madrasa Hostel to accommodate Muhammadan students of the Presidency College, and grants have been made to other colleges subject to the condition that one-fifth of the seats in the hostel should be reserved for Muhammadans. Further accommodation is still necessary, especially for the Presidency College and the University Law College; but the amount that will be required for the former depends largely on another question which is at present engaging the attention of Government, viz., the establishment of an Arts college for Muhammadans on the site of the present Madrasa."

The Hon'ble Mr. SAMMAN replied :—

"The Hon'ble Member is referred to the answer given to Question No. 3 asked by the Hon'ble Maharaja Manindra Chandra Nandi in the Imperial Legislative Council on the 3rd February, 1914. The Hon'ble Sir Harcourt Butler said that the Secretary of State had expressed his general approval of the Dacca University Scheme, but that his orders regarding detailed features of the scheme had not been received. He stated further that it would be necessary to undertake legislation, but that it was impossible to state when such legislation would be introduced.

Government have taken in hand the preparation of detailed plans and estimates for all the buildings involved in the scheme prepared by the Dacca University Committee, and are also examining the scheme in detail with a view to drafting regulations and framing the necessary legislation. The Hon'ble Mr. SAMMAN replied :—

more urgent claims in other directions for the improvement of primary education, it was felt that the best method of giving effect to the wishes of the Government of India would be to apply such funds as would be left over, after carrying out the more important reforms, to the establishment of schools in backward communities, in which either no fees would be charged or only fees far lower than those paid in ordinary schools. (b) Is that river in danger of being silted up at its source?

The following answer by the Hon'ble Mr. FINNIMORE was laid on the table :—

(a) "There are a series of shoals extending for a distance of 3 miles from the entrance of the Dhaleshwari river from the Jamuna over which there is only  $2\frac{1}{2}$  feet of water, which is insufficient for steamer traffic but sufficient for country boats. As the river is wide, there is a fair quantity of water passing down.

There are also several shoals above Dacca with about  $2\frac{1}{2}$  feet of water over them.

Dredging is in progress and the dredger is now working downwards from the entrance. Besides dredging, a considerable amount of bandalling work is being done to keep the channels open.

(b) Are the Government considering the question of postponing the demand for settlement expenses in the affected parts of the aforesaid subdivision?

The following answer by the Hon'ble Mr. KERR was laid on the table :—

(a) "Government are aware that a certain amount of distress has existed for some time past in portions of the Gopalganj subdivision of the Faridpur district. The Commissioner reports that the distress at present is nowhere very great and that the situation calls for no anxiety. Boro paddy is being extensively cultivated and promises well.

(b) Survey and settlement costs are being collected only in the high lands of the Maksudpur and Kasiani thanas, where there has been no distress. In other parts of the subdivision, no coercive measures are being employed, and costs are being realised only from those persons who pay voluntarily. ## THE CHITTAGONG PORT BILL, 1914.

List of Business—Item No. 3.—The Hon'ble Mr. Lyon presented the Report of the Select Committee on the Chittagong Port Bill, 1914, and moved that the said Report be taken into consideration.

He said —

"I need not detain the Council for long in making this motion. It is with great pleasure that we have been able to present an unanimous Report for the acceptance of the Council. When introducing the Bill, I explained that there were one or two matters concerning which there was some difference of opinion, and that for that reason the Government deemed it best not to send the Bill at once to Select Committee, but to give time for it to be fully debated and considered by the persons affected by it, and also to give time to enable us to obtain the services of one of the members of the commercial community who were particularly interested in the Bill, to be added to our Council and to the Select Committee to be appointed for the consideration of the Bill. I am glad to say that the action we took has been justified by the results. The Bill has been very carefully considered by those who are affected by it, and the result of that consideration has been that the Port Commissioners and those members of the Port Commission who were opposed to the majority, have been able to approach the final question of the consideration of the Bill in a spirit of great reasonableness, and have met each other in such a manner that their differences have been composed, and that the final result has been one that Government could accept. I will refer, therefore, in dealing with the Report of the Select Committee, only to those particular points in which there was originally some difference of opinion.

The first is that concerning the use of the jetties which, as I explained before, are, in Chittagong, the property of the Railway Company and not the property of the Port.

As I explained, the difficulty as to the exercise of their authority over the jetty by the Railway Company has been met by the special provision which lays down that the Railway Board shall have final authority in the matter of any modification of the rates to be charged at these jetties, and, secondly, by the executive arrangement which has been arrived at between the Government of India and ourselves, that the Local Government shall be consulted before any change in rates is made by the Railway Board. I am glad to say that upon this point the safeguards that have been provided have been deemed by those affected to be adequate.

A somewhat more difficult matter was the operation of clause 43—one of the compulsory clauses of the Bill. As a preliminary to the consideration of clause 43, we made a slight modification in sub-clause (d) of clause 25 of the Bill, by which we provided that those who are mainly interested in the application of the compulsory clauses of the Bill shall not be prevented, by the operation of that sub-clause, from voting in any matter concerning the application of the compulsory clauses of the Bill. A good deal of importance was attributed to the introduction of that proviso, and Government found it possible to accept it.

W. then came to the actual application of clause 43. The main difficulty, as represented to us by the members of the Select Committee who were connected with the Port and who were also representatives of the regular periodic services of coasting steamers and inland steamers, was that, under clause 43, they might be ordered to make use of inadequate facilities provided for them in the Port, from time to time, while they would be left to carry out the greater portion of their work by means of their own establishment and plant. They urged that the maintenance of this establishment and plant would be inevitable, owing to the impossibility of allowing their vessels to wait in the stream until access could be given to them to any particular pontoon or jetty. They therefore asked that their services might be exempted from the operation of clause 43 of the Bill until adequate facilities were provided by the Port for dealing with their share of the trade of the Port, and until they could accordingly dispense with the special staff and plant which are at present provided by them for the landing and shipping of goods and passengers. This representation appeared to the Select Committee and to the Government to be a reasonable one, and it has been agreed, with the approval of the Port Commissioners, that these services shall be exempted from the operation of clause 43 until adequate facilities are provided for them.

It is to be understood that this exemption will be accorded to each particular service of steamers separately, and that, should the Port Commissioners provide adequately for one particular service, it will be open to the Commissioners to cancel the exemption of that service—open to the Commissioners, I should say, with the consent of the Local Government—and to bring into operation the provisions of clause 43 with respect to it, the point being borne in mind that each Company is to be protected from a partial operation of clause 43, which, while compelling the use of a jetty or pontoon for some of its steamers, would not provide adequately for all the steamers of the periodic service concerned.

This arrangement has met the views of the Steamer Companies affected, and will be carried out in due course after the passing of the Bill.

That, I think, disposes of the difficulty with which we were confronted when the Bill was originally proposed, and I believe that, with the carrying out of these arrangements, the Bill will be accepted, with the approval of everybody concerned.

I beg, therefore, my Lord, to present the Report of the Select Committee on the Chittagong Port Bill, 1914, and to move that the said Report be taken into consideration."

The motion was then put and agreed to.

LIST OF AMENDMENTS TO THE CHITTAGONG PORT BILL.

LIST OF AMENDMENTS—MOTION NO. 1. CLAUSE 2.

The Hon'ble Mr. LYON said :—

" I have to move a few small and purely formal amendments to the Bill. The first of them relates to a technical matter. Under section 8 of the Local Authorities Loans Act, XI of 1879, the borrowing of money in certain circumstances by any local authority is prohibited, but exceptions are provided for the Municipalities of Calcutta, Bombay and Madras, the Trustees of the Ports of Bombay and Madras, the Commissioners for making improvements in the Port of Calcutta, and the Commissioners for the Port of Rangoon.

In view of clauses 75 and 76 in this Bill, which provide for borrowing powers and borrowing by the Port Commissioners, it was thought necessary that we should add to these exemptions the Commissioners for the Port of Chittagong. This was provided for in our Bill. The Government of India informed us, however, that they themselves were engaged in amending the Loans Authorities Bill, and that, if they passed their Amending Bill before we passed ours, it would be unnecessary for us to make this amendment. They have now (only yesterday) passed their Bill, and have introduced therein the amendment which we proposed to introduce here. I therefore beg to move that clause 2 (2) of the Bill be omitted."

The motion was then put and agreed to.

Second Schedule.

List of Amendments—Motion No. II.—The Hon'ble Mr. Lyon moved that the Second Schedule to the Bill be omitted.

He said :—

"This is a consequential amendment introduced for the reason I have just explained."

The motion was then put and agreed to.

Third Schedule.

List of Amendments—Motion No. III.—The Hon'ble Mr. Lyon moved that, for Articles 1, 2 and 3 of Part I of the Third Schedule to the Bill, the following be substituted, namely :—

- (1) All the land belonging to Government, bounded on the east by the Nintolly creek ; on the south by the Karnaphuli river ; on the west by the Monohurkhali creek ; and on the north by a line drawn from Nintolly creek to Monohurkhali creek, east and west immediately to the south of the premises owned by B. R. Texeira, known at the time of the passing of the Chittagong Port Commissioners Act, 1887, hereinafter in this Schedule called the said Act, as the Sailors' Home.
- (2) The land held by Government at the time of the passing of the said Act in the occupation of the Customs Department, bounded on the east by the road known as the Rangamati road ; on the south by the land belonging to Government, the boundaries of which are set forth in Article 1 ; on the west by the Monohurkhali creek ; and on the north by private property, viz., plot No. 7 of the cadastral survey, but excluding plot No. 12 of the said survey.
- (3) The land held by Government, bounded on the east by the Monohurkhali creek ; on the south by the land, at the time of the passing of the said Act, occupied by the Government Salt Golahs ; on the west by a public road leading to the Sadar Ghat jetty ; and on the north by private property, viz., plot No. 19 of the cadastral survey.

He said :—

"The Third Schedule to the Bill contains a recital of the immovable property transferred by Government to the Commissioners under the Port Commissioners Act, 1887, with elaborate lists of boundaries. It has taken a very long time to revise and amend those boundaries correctly, and unfortunately it was not possible to get a complete review of them prepared before the Bill was dealt with in Committee. We have now, however, received a proper statement of these boundaries and, in consequence, we wish to introduce certain Articles into the Third Schedule in the place of the existing Articles 1, 2 and 3 of that Schedule."

The motion was put and agreed to.

List of Amendments—Motion No. IV.—The Hon'ble Mr. Lyon moved that, in line 6 of Article 9 of the said Schedule to the Bill, for the word and figure " clause 4 " the word and figure " Article 5 " be substituted.

He said :—

"My Lord, I have, in connection with the same Schedule, to move that, in line 6 of Article 9 of the said Schedule to the Bill, for the word and figure ' clause 4 ' the word and figure ' Article 5 ' be substituted.

This is a purely formal amendment."

The motion was then put and agreed to.

List of Business—Item No. 4.—The Hon'ble Mr. Lyon moved that the Secretary be directed to renumber the clauses and sub-clauses of the Bill in consecutive order, and to make corresponding alterations in all cross-references thereto.

The motion was put and agreed to.

List of Business—Item No. 5.—The Hon'ble Mr. Lyon moved that the Bill, as settled in Council, be passed.

He said :—

"I hope that I may congratulate the House on passing a very useful and valuable piece of legislation."

The motion was then put and agreed to.

RESOLUTIONS.

List of Business—Item No. 6.—The Hon'ble Babu Surendra Nath Ray moved the following Resolution :—

This Council recommends to the Governor in Council that the proposal to abolish the Engineering College at Sibpur be dropped, and that the said College be either retained at Sibpur, or, if its present site is considered unsuitable,—

- (i) be removed to a suitable site in Calcutta or its immediate vicinity, or
- (ii) be made a branch of the proposed Technological Institute in Calcutta.

He said :—

"I must say at the outset that I am not opposed to the opening of a department of Civil Engineering in the proposed Dacca University. What I want, however, is that the College at Sibpur be not abolished, but that, if the Government think of removing it, it may be removed to Calcutta or its immediate vicinity.

In reply to a question put in this Council by my hon'ble friend Dr. Nilratan Sarkar on the 13th March last, the Hon'ble Mr. Kerr said : 'Government are aware that a considerable body of opinion desires that provision should be made for the teaching of Civil Engineering in Calcutta or its neighbourhood on the abandonment of the Sibpur College. Public opinion has already been invited upon the proposals made by the Dacca University Committee, and the scheme for the Technological College referred to above will also be published for public consideration before any final decision is come to upon it.'

In reply to a question put in this Council by the Hon'ble Rai Nalinaksha Basu Bahadur on the 1st September last, the Hon'ble Mr. Cumming said : 'The proposals for providing the instructions now imparted at Sibpur partly in the Dacca University and partly in the projected Technological Institute in Calcutta are still under the consideration of Government.'

Some of the leading Associations of Calcutta have been asked their opinion on the report of the Technological Institute Committee, and they have submitted their opinion and the whole matter is now under the consideration of Government. It is necessary that Government should be apprised of the opinion of the people of this Province who are already represented in your Lordship's Council. As this subject, I mean the retention of the Engineering College at Sibpur, or of its removal to Calcutta or in its immediate vicinity, or, if the Government so desire, of making it a department of the proposed Technological Institute, cannot be considered by the Council except in the form of a Resolution of this Council, I have thought it proper to bring forward this Resolution. We are not as yet aware as to the reason of the present proposal for removing the Civil Engineering College from Sibpur. The utility of the College has never been questioned. Men in authority have testified to the good work done by the College. It would be considered as a reactionary measure by the people at least of this part of the province if there be no Civil Engineering College in or about Calcutta.

If the Civil Engineering College at Sibpur had proved to be a failure, there would certainly have been some justification for its abolition. The Hon'ble Mr. Nathan, at a meeting of the Technological Institute Committee in 1912, alluded to the long and excellent record of higher engineering education in Bengal. And all this higher engineering has been hitherto imparted by the Sibpur College. Rai Krishna Chandra Banarji Bahadur, who, I think, held the position of a Superintending Engineer in Bengal, has pointed out in a speech delivered by him in the Central Council of the Association for the Advancement of Scientific and Industrial Education in April 1912, that there are at least 120 Bengali Civil Engineers outside the permanent establishment of the Public Works Department, which clearly shows that, besides Government service, there are other openings in Bengal for men who have adopted civil engineering as their profession. And last but not least, it was only the other day that a Sibpur student was appointed by your Lordship's Government to the blue ribbon of the Engineering service—I mean the Secretaryship of your Lordship's Government.

I have come to learn from inquiries made by me that, out of a total of 90 students at present prosecuting their studies in the Engineering Department of the Sibpur College, 42 or nearly half the number of students come from the Presidency Division alone, 14 from the Burdwan Division and that only 15 students come from the Dacca Division; whereas in the Apprentice Department of the College, out of a total of 162 students exactly half the number, viz., 81, come from the Presidency Division and 41 from the Burdwan Division; whereas the number of students from the Dacca Division is only 21. I respectfully submit that in all matters, specially in matters educational, the claims of the most important divisions of the Province ought to be taken into consideration.

The Civil Engineering College at Sibpur is not and has not been quite sufficient to meet the requirements of the students of Bengal who want to qualify themselves as civil engineers. It is admitted by administrators of the Province that the supply of engineers is not equal to the demand. At one time students from Bengal went to Roorkee and to Poona to get instructions in civil engineering and in both the places, be it said to their credit, they acquitted themselves remarkably well. The Roorkee Engineering College is now practically closed to the natives of Bengal. It was only the other day, I mean about the middle of December last, that a Resolution was moved in the Bombay Legislative Council to close the doors of the Poona College of Engineering to all except the inhabitants of the Bombay Presidency and the Native States under the same Presidency. Though the Engineering College at Sibpur has been in existence for nearly 35 years, I find, from the calendar for 1913-14 of the College of Engineering at Poona, kindly forwarded to me by the Principal of the College, and from the answers given to me in reply to my questions, that there are at present 9 Bengali students in that College, that 61 Bengali students passed from the Poona Engineering College in the years 1900-13 and that in each of the years 1903 and 1906, as many as 9 students passed from that College. This proves the necessity for the establishment of another Engineering College in the Province. There are now, moreover, about 40 or 50 Bengali students in England and Scotland studying civil engineering. This information I received only by the last mail. The Dacca University, where it is proposed to have a Civil Engineering Department teaching up to the B.E. standard, will admit only 20 students per annum and will generally have about 60 students on its rolls, though it may hereafter take in about 90 to 100 students. There is a larger demand for engineers than the Sibpur College can supply, and that even Dacca, with its maximum number of students, will not be able to supply the public demand. It therefore becomes an imperative necessity that there should be an institution for the promotion of higher civil engineering in or about Calcutta. As I have said at the very outset, I am not opposed to the establishment of an Engineering College at Dacca because of the growing requirements of the country. What, however, I want to impress upon your Lordship's Government is the fact that here in Calcutta we have got a fully-equipped University having the Arts, Science, Medical and Engineering faculties all affiliated to it. Here in Calcutta a great impetus has been given of late to the study of scientific subjects and pursuit of industrial activities by public and private munificence and by the opening of professorial chairs attached to the University College of Science.

Why should the Calcutta University—the premier University in India, having a brilliant record, be now mutilated and deprived of one of its principal departments of study in the midst of its useful career? We only want that Sibpur should not be sacrificed and the money obtained by sale of the college buildings and lands be utilised for the establishment of a Civil Engineering College at Dacca, and the annual expenditure incurred at Sibpur be spent in another part of the Province.

It may be argued that a Technological Institute is going to be opened ere long by Government in Calcutta, and that will supply a much-needed want of the people of this country. The proposed institute may be productive of great good. People have asked for it for a number of years, and we are sincerely grateful to Government for at last taking up the subject. But, my Lord, if, by conferring a boon upon the people of this Province, your Lordship's Government deprive the people of another boon of which they have been in the enjoyment for nearly half a century, the people will not very much appreciate the boon thus conferred. It will be considered as a retrograde step. The loss to the people of this part of the Province by the abolition of the Sibpur Civil Engineering College will outweigh the gain by the establishment of the Technological Institute, which, I humbly submit, is only problematic. Moreover, there is a vast difference between the education imparted in the Technological Institute and in a Civil Engineering College. The Association for the Advancement of Scientific and Industrial Education of Indians, in their letter to your Lordship's Government, have justly said that for a pure Technological Institute, without its civil engineering department, to have a sufficient number of students, the country must wait for some time yet. It should also be remembered that in every Technological Institute in Europe, America or Japan, the civil engineering department is one of the important and indispensable components.

The Dacca University Committee admits that Calcutta is a centre of great engineering activity. "that living in the neighbourhood of Calcutta the members of the Engineering staff would have facilities for intercourse with men engaged in large projects and works, which facilities must be denied to them at Dacca." Calcutta and Howrah, with their waterworks and drainage, roads and buildings, with their docks, wharves and bridges, with mills and manufactories extending for about 40 miles on both sides of the river Hooghly, with the works of the Municipal Corporations and Improvement Trust in full swing, with the different railway lines and railway workshops, are, I need hardly say, the places where engineering training can properly be given. The Dacca University Committee frankly admits that some of the suggestions made for imparting instructions to the boys of the Engineering College at Dacca would not be more than a mere palliative, and it considered that from that particular point of view Dacca was at a manifest disadvantage as compared with the neighbourhood of Calcutta.

There is no doubt the proposal in the report of the Technological Institute is to have a civil engineering department up to the overseer grade attached to it. If, by spending a little more money, the Government can have the civil engineering department teaching up to the B.E. standard as a department of the Technological Institute, we do not demur to such an arrangement. The Hon'ble Mr. Küchler, one of the members of the Technological Institute Committee, proposed that, even if a residential College for Civil Engineering be established by Government, the authorities of the Technological Institute should not be precluded from opening classes in higher civil engineering if such a course be found desirable. In fact, his proposal that, if two institutions cannot be provided separately, then provision of a non-residential nature should be made for the teaching of higher civil engineering in the Technological Institute, was carried.

The old theory that it is necessary to give up Sibpur on account of its unhealthiness has, I think, been exploded. The Principal of the Sibpur Engineering College, Mr. Heaton, thus speaks on the healthiness of the locality, as it appears from the report of the Committee of the proposed Technological Institute : "The reference from Government in regard to the Sibpur site prejudiced discussion on this site, and the Committee condemned it because members did not believe or even investigate my assertions in regard to the great improvement that has taken place in regard to the healthiness in the ten years that have elapsed since we first thought of the advisability of removing to Ranchi." It appears from the said report that my hon'ble friend, Dr. Sarbadhikari, and Mr. Heaton raised the question of the possible retention of the Sibpur College on its present site, but that the Chairman pointed out that in the resolution appointing the Committee the assumption is made that the college was to be removed. It further appears, I quote from the published proceedings of the said Committee, that Dr. Sarbadhikari was in favour of maintaining a higher standard of teaching. But a bad name had already been given to the sanitary condition of Sibpur and the only course left was to hang it.

It appears from the statistics supplied to me by the Sanitary Commissioner of Bengal that Howrah town which includes Sibpur has been gradually becoming healthier, and we see that in 1912 it was the healthiest as compared with Calcutta and Dacca, the mortality of Howrah in 1912 being 25·17, that of Calcutta 28·13 and that of Dacca 32·34 per mille. I have thought it proper to compare the mortality of Howrah with that of Calcutta and Dacca for the simple reason that in Calcutta there are about fifteen thousand graduates and undergraduates prosecuting their studies in the different institutions at the present time, while in Dacca it is proposed to have a new university with a civil engineering department—though it is not healthier than Sibpur.

Large grants, both recurring and non-recurring, have been made to your Lordship's Government by the Imperial Government for education. If any portion of this amount is spent for a Civil Engineering College in or near about Calcutta, it will be money usefully spent. "It is my wish," said His Imperial Majesty the King-Emperor, in reply to the address presented by the University of Calcutta on the 4th January, 1912 in this very building, "that there shall be spread over the land a network of schools and colleges, from which will go forth loyal, manly and useful citizens, able to hold their own in industries and agriculture and all the vocations of life, and it is my wish, too, that the homes of my Indian subjects may be brightened, and their labour sweetened by the spread of knowledge, with all that follows in its train—a higher level of thought, of comfort and of health. It is through education that my wish will be fulfilled, and the cause of education in India will be very close to my heart." The proposal to abolish the Civil Engineering College at Sibpur—following so soon after the words of hope and encouragement of His Imperial Majesty—words which still keep ringing in our ears—has, I need hardly say, come with feelings of disappointment upon all. Let knowledge grow from more to more is our earnest wish, and we hope and trust that your Lordship's Government will foster her growth."

The Hon'ble Mr. Lyon said :—

"My Lord, I presume that the Council would not wish the question to be put without some reply being given to the speech made by the Hon'ble Babu Surendra Nath Ray, though he has not been supported by any other member of the Council. The speech that he has made has ended with a reference to a certain promise made by His Imperial Majesty, to the great pleasure and enthusiasm of the people of India. I wish to preface my remarks by reminding this House that everything we are doing with reference to the Sibpur Engineering College, or with reference to industrial or technical education is imbued with, and is absolutely based upon, the spirit of the statements made by His Imperial Majesty, and our most earnest desire is to do everything that we can to increase the advantages offered to the people of Bengal in this matter of industrial and technical education, as in all other matters connected with education. There can be no ground for a suggestion that in anything that we are doing with reference to the Sibpur Engineering College, we wish to restrict the facilities offered to Bengal or lower the standard of education in Bengal, and I am perfectly certain that the Hon'ble Member will himself acknowledge that all that we are doing is with the object I have already stated. I wish to put that in the forefront of my remarks, because there may be other gentlemen who may be inclined to take the same line.

I wish to acknowledge, in the next place, the Hon'ble Member's acceptance of the proposal that there should be an Engineering College at Dacca. I think that I detected in some of the arguments subsequently used by the Hon'ble Member some slight drawing back from the whole-hearted support which he first gave to the establishment of an Engineering College at Dacca, but I do not wish to press that point, seeing that he has actually accepted it.

I should next like to say a few words with reference to certain definite points raised by his Resolution.

In the first place, the wording of the Resolution is such that, I think, it would be extremely difficult for the Government or this Council to accept it. The wording of the substantive motion is that the proposal to abolish the Engineering College at Sibpur be dropped, with the addition that the said College be either retained at Sibpur, or, if its present site is considered unsuitable, be removed to a suitable site in Calcutta or its immediate vicinity, or be made a branch of the proposed Technological Institute in Calcutta.

I venture to say that we cannot treat the Sibpur Engineering College as an entirely indivisible whole, and that the Hon'ble Members' proposition that the abolition of the Sibpur Engineering College be dropped is destructive of any possible alternative such as he subsequently suggests. The basis of the whole scheme that we have put forward before the public of Bengal is the separation of the two main functions of the Civil Engineering College at Sibpur. The Principal of the Sibpur Engineering College has pointed out more than once that the institution at Sibpur is a great deal more than a Civil Engineering College, and that it imparts mechanical and electrical engineering instruction, provides for mining and dyeing classes and has also attempted to provide for other branches of industrial education. The scheme which we have placed before the people of Bengal, and which is still under consideration, is a scheme for developing each branch of the present institution at Sibpur. We have proposed to establish mining classes in the mining districts, with the enthusiastic consent of all who are concerned with mining. We also propose to establish a Technological Institute in Calcutta, in accordance with the unanimous recommendations of a committee appointed to consider the subject, which contained influential engineers, officials and members of the commercial and other communities in Bengal, to deal with those other branches which are now dealt with in the Sibpur College. I gather from the Hon'ble Member's speech that he approves of these schemes. How is such approval consistent with his proposition that the abolition of the Sibpur Engineering College should be dropped?

We come then to the Engineering College and the branches attached to it. One of the points on which all persons whom we have consulted and who know anything of the training of engineers are unanimous is that the training of junior officers to deal with engineering, such as overseers and supervisors, must be separated from the training of Assistant Engineers. It is a technical matter and may be left to those who understand the technicalities of the profession; but it is a very important point, and if the Hon'ble Member will go back to the papers which he has studied so carefully, he will find that most people have accepted the principle that these two branches of training should be separate. I may point out incidentally that the necessity for this separation was one of the reasons why the Ranchi Scheme was given up. When the Ranchi Scheme was proposed, strong arguments were adduced to show that Sibpur was entirely unfitted, for other reasons besides unhealthiness, for the purposes for which it was being used, that the buildings were inadequate, having been built for other purposes, such as Public Works Department workshops and so on, and that the proximity to the town of Calcutta was unwholesome for students as also was the unhealthiness of the place. While those were all adduced as being strong reasons for removing the college to Ranchi, none of the strong opinions as to the necessity of retaining the College in Calcutta, and as to the danger and difficulties in which the people of Bengal would be placed owing to its removal to Ranchi were then mentioned. Another of the reasons why the Ranchi Scheme failed was because it was found that all who were acquainted with the latest developments of technical education were convinced that for that purpose, and for that purpose alone, it was necessary for us to establish an institute in the very heart of Calcutta, in the neighbourhood of business houses, the headquarters of the firms which might eventually utilise the services of our men, and near those very industrial concerns in which were employed the artisans who would attend the night classes to be established in the institute. That was one of the reasons for coming back from Ranchi to Calcutta, and it is incidentally one of the reasons why Sibpur is unsuitable for our purpose; but the main reason is this that a single institute at Ranchi was inadvisable because it was desirable to separate civil engineering studies for the higher classes from the studies for the posts of overseers and supervisors.

I will not go into the question of the Dacca University. The matter is now before the Secretary of State, and he is considering the details of the scheme of the Dacca University. But I wish to point out one other very important reason which has not been touched on by the Hon'ble Babu Surendra Nath Ray, why it will be inadvisable for this Council to accept a definite resolution of this kind at the present moment, and that is because the whole question of the training of our engineers has been raised by evidence before the Public Services Commission. A great deal of evidence has been given before the Public Services Commission as to the best way of training our engineers, and there can be no doubt that the Commission will deal with this question, and will probably deal with it very thoroughly. I think that the Council will be hampering itself, will be blocking its way to the subsequent acceptance of a scheme which they might otherwise look upon favourably, if they now record a somewhat hasty resolution with reference to the Sibpur Institution. There has been a question of the establishment of an Imperial College for engineers from all parts of India and I gather that gentlemen who are members of this Council are not afraid that Bengali students in such an institution would be in any way backward or would show inability or incapacity to come to the front, and I may say at once that I myself agree with them. I believe that, so far as the capacity of the Bengali student to work his way to the front in any institution of the kind is concerned, we have nothing to fear. But that is a scheme and a possibility—there are reasons for and reasons against it. I have on a previous occasion given some reasons against the scheme based upon what I believe was the general opinion expressed at the time, but other reasons may be given which may change our views in this matter, and I doubt whether it is wise for this Council to block the way for such a scheme by the adoption of the present resolution.

There is yet another reason why it would be unwise to accept this resolution, and that is that the Technological Institute Scheme, which has been received, I may say, most favourably in all its main propositions (although there are details, which we are perfectly willing to consider, which have come in for criticism), is still on the anvil, and may be modified or altered in various important respects. This resolution that we should drop the proposal for the abolition of the College at Sibpur directly traverses the favourable opinions we have received in reference to the Technological Institute.

On these grounds, I am afraid that Government are not prepared to accept this resolution, which would seem to block the way to further progress in industrial education in Calcutta, nor do I think this Council would be wise in accepting it. I wish to put it as strongly as possible that we are all for progress; that we are all united in the desire for it, we are all anxious to expand our institutions, to extend them on the right lines, and to give further and further opportunities, especially in the matter of industrial education. Having this anxious desire before us, we, from the Government point of view, are equally anxious that we should not appear to be hidebound in our affections for existing institutions, if we can improve such institutions. The Hon'ble Member has given us eloquent proof of the success of the Bengali students at Sibpur. What I wish to put before this Council is that if, with the limited opportunities and with the well-known and accepted disadvantages at Sibpur, the Bengali students have been able to cope with these difficulties and have been so successful in their profession, what might they not do under improved circumstances, and with those improved opportunities for learning which we desire to give them? I trust that the Council will not hamper the way to future expansion by the acceptance of this resolution."

The Hon'ble BABU SURENDRA NATH BANERJI said :—

"My Lord, on this side of the House we have listened with great interest and attention to the speech of the Hon'ble Member in opposing the resolution of my hon'ble friend to the left. The Hon'ble Member has told us that the Government is all for progress—expansion in the matter of education. I can assure him from this side of the House that non-official members will cordially co-operate with the Government in all matters calculated to further advance the cause of educational progress in all directions. But what we feel is this : that if the Sibpur College is abolished, and if suitable arrangements are not made for the higher training of Bengalis in the matter of engineering, instead of expansion there will be restriction in an important direction. My Lord, we have heard a great deal about literary education, about its undue growth and extension. Newspapers have dinned that remark into our ears in season and out of season, and here is a resolution placed before your Lordship's Council for the purpose of giving a stimulus not to the growth of literary but of technical education, which will give bread to the people of Bengal, and therefore we expect that in this matter the whole-hearted sympathies of Government will be accorded to us. But what we fear is this: that if the Sibpur College is abolished and if no adequate arrangements are made for the training of subordinates as well as of civil engineers, a set-back will be given to the cause of technical education in this Province. Is the Hon'ble Member prepared to give us an assurance that, when the Sibpur College is abolished, or when its scope is restricted, adequate arrangements will be made in Bengal for the higher training of Bengalis in civil engineering? I fail to discover any assurance of that kind in the Hon'ble Member's speech. The Hon'ble Member has pointed out to us difficulties and obstacles which are in the way. The Hon'ble Member has advised this Council not to accept the resolution of my friend on the ground that the matter is now before the Public Services Commission, that important suggestions will be made by that Commission, and that, as those suggestions will have to be considered, it will be premature to accept a resolution of this kind. I may say at once that there is considerable force in that contention. We must not jump to any conclusion either way for or against the resolution, but we want a distinct and clear and deliberate assurance from the Government that something will be done in the Province of Bengal to have in or near Calcutta an Engineering College teaching engineering up to the highest standard. It will not do to have an emasculated branch of the Civil Engineering College in the Technological Institute, and that is all that, we understand, is intended; for, as I learn, subordinates are to be trained, but what about engineering assistants and executive engineers? Where are the facilities for their education and training? I am afraid, as has already been pointed out, that Poona College will soon be closed to us. Roorkee College has already been closed, and where are the people of Bengal to go for training in the higher branches of civil engineering? Is the Hon'ble Member prepared to give us an assurance that in or near Calcutta, amid the environments of the metropolis, an Engineering College will be established, or any institute that will teach engineering in all its departments? which will produce subordinates as well as train up higher engineers? Is my hon'ble friend prepared to give us this assurance? In that case I will advise my friend to withdraw his resolution. My Lord, there is a very strong feeling and apprehension with regard to the abolition of the Sibpur College. The feeling is that, if the College be abolished, no similar institution will be established, and the Technological Institute will be an emasculated institution so far as the higher training of civil engineers are concerned. My Lord, I do not think that I need detain the Council at any greater length but I feel that, if the Government in this matter are willing to co-operate with us, we are willing to help the Government so far as lies in our power. We shall throw no difficulties in the way; we have no desire to press this resolution, but we want an assurance from my hon'ble friend that, in the event of the abolition of the Sibpur College, some institution will be established in the vicinity of Calcutta, teaching engineering to the higher standards, producing subordinates as well as higher engineers. I only want to say one word more with reference to our attitude in connection with this matter. We do not at all object to the establishment of a school of civil engineering in Dacca. Let there be a school of civil engineers in Dacca by all means; but we feel that, in a place like Calcutta, the home and centre of the industries, with its educational atmosphere, there ought to be a fully equipped engineering college. This is our attitude in regard to this matter."

The Hon'ble MAULVI A. K. FAZ-UL-HAQ said :—

"My Lord, in view of the turn the discussion has taken, I think it my duty to say a few words on the resolution which has been moved by my friend the Hon'ble Babu Surendra Nath Ray. I think, my Lord, that my friend has made out a very strong case for the establishment of a college for engineering in or near Calcutta in case the Sibpur Engineering College be abolished. I say this in view of the fact that the districts of the western part of the Presidency are, so far as communications are concerned, so badly situated with reference to Dacca that it will be very inconvenient for people living in the western districts to send their boys to Dacca for education. I do not think I exaggerate when I say that a man living at Birbhum or Bankura, for instance, would prefer a journey to Peshawar to undertaking a journey to Dacca for any purpose, and therefore, indeed, the very simple question which it resolves itself into is this: whether a case has been made out for an Engineering College at Sibpur and whether there is any justification for going on with the proposed Engineering College in connection with the Dacca University. Now, my Lord, if my friend had made it a condition that the proposed Engineering College at Dacca should be dropped in order that his resolution may be accepted, I should certainly have voted against his resolution; but at the very outset he gave us to understand that he did not want to make that condition. The question therefore comes to this: whether we should have both the institutions or whether Government are going to give us one at the sacrifice of the other. So far as this question is concerned, the only point that requires consideration is the question of expense. I have listened to the reply given by the Hon'ble Mr. Lyon on the speech of my hon'ble friend, and I confess that I have not been able to make out any other objection than the one relating to expense; but so far as expense is concerned, I think, my Lord, Government have no justification to plead pecuniary embarrassment in order not to carry out a scheme which is certainly for the good of the country. If Government can find money for the duplication and reduplication of capitals, they can certainly find money for such a very useful institution as an Engineering College at Dacca."

The Hon'ble Mr. LYON said :—

"May I rise to a point of order? I said nothing as regards expense at all.

The Hon'ble MAULVI A. K. FAZ-UL-HAQ, continuing, said :—

"I was merely anticipating Government's objection on the score of expense, because it seems to me that, if it is conceded that an Engineering College at Sibpur is necessary, and that an Engineering College at Dacca is also necessary, the only question that can arise is one of expense. So far as expense is concerned, I have already said that Government have not been able to make out any case, but, as Government do not wish to press the objection on this score, I do not wish to say anything further; but subject to the restriction that the scheme for an Engineering College in connection with the University at Dacca should not be interfered with, I beg to support the resolution of my hon'ble friend."

The Hon'ble BABU MAHENDRA NATH RAY said :—

"I have no doubt that the Council fully appreciates the difficulties to the acceptance of the resolution as it stands that have been pointed out by the Hon'ble Mr. Lyon, but the principal thing which the Council has to consider is not whether it should accept the resolution moved by the Hon'ble Babu Surendra Nath Ray in its entirety, but whether it does or does not involve questions of great importance upon which the views of the Council should be ascertained. The Hon'ble Mr. Lyon has explained that the present Sibpur Engineering College consists of various departments, that it trains that class of officers called overseers; that it holds mining classes, and that it also trains that very useful class of officers called assistant engineers. It is very easy to realise the difficulty of having one composite institution which will undertake all these multifarious duties, and therefore it might be very desirable to have in the place of a composite institution like this, separate mining classes to be held in the colliery districts, a central technological institution in Calcutta, certain classes for the training of what are called overseers, or apprentices, and a separate institution for the training of assistant engineers. That is all understood, and any difficulty that lies in the way of accepting the motion moved by my friend is fully realised, and perhaps, after the explanations that the Hon'ble Mr. Lyon has given, my friend might withdraw his motion. At the same time, as the discussion has taken this turn, it is desirable that one point upon which considerable emphasis was laid by my friend the Hon'ble Babu Surendra Nath Banerji should not be lost sight of. Is it the idea to remove from the neighbourhood of Calcutta an institution where assistant engineers are to be trained? If there is an idea like that, it is time that this Council should definitely express its opinion that that idea ought not to be entertained. I was looking this morning, my Lord, into the list of the principal engineering colleges and technical colleges in the United Kingdom. I find that there are 15 universities which have faculties of engineering attached to them. That implies that each of these 15 universities has an institution annexed to it for the teaching of engineers. I find that, out of the 15 universities, 13 are situated at or in the neighbourhood of big manufacturing towns. The only two which are excluded from the list are the Universities of Cambridge and St. Andrews, places which cannot be considered as being manufacturing towns. The other chief engineering colleges are all situated at or in the neighbourhood of London, and of the numerous technical colleges in the United Kingdom, by far the largest majority of them are situated at big manufacturing provincial towns. If that is so, to my mind it proves the necessity of engineering colleges for the training of the highest classes of engineers being located near manufacturing towns. If the proposal therefore be to remove the College at Sibpur, so far as it is concerned with the training of assistant engineers, to a place far away from the neighbourhood of Calcutta, it is a proposal which I must say must stand condemned on scientific grounds. There is no desire on the part of any member present here, I hope, to deprecate the establishment of a faculty of engineering in connection with the Dacca College, or the institution of an engineering college in connection with that University. What is objectionable is that there should not be either at Calcutta, or in the neighbourhood of Calcutta, a single engineering college for the training of what the Hon'ble Mr. Lyon has called assistant engineers. There have been, with regard to the existing arrangements, as far as I understand, several objections made, many of which will not bear careful criticism. I do not wish to revive the old question of the insanitary condition of that particular part of the town of Howrah where the present Sibpur Engineering College is situated. I have occasion to meet very frequently a retired eminent European professor who worked in that college for 20 years, a gentleman of considerable eminence as a man of science, in the enjoyment of robust health, and he told me that he had occasion to make a careful inquiry into the question of the sanitary condition of Sibpur. He was there for over 20 years, but he said that only two genuine cases of death from malaria could be traced during the period of over 20 years that he was there, and he concluded that if Sibpur had been as insanitary as it was represented to be, he would not have been now at that stage of his life in the enjoyment of sound health. Another objection which has often been suggested is this: that if you are to have an engineering college on the residential system, what does it matter to you whether it is situated in Sibpur or far away at Dacca? The answer to that is, that although there should be a college at Dacca, and I hope there will be an engineering college also at Bankipur at no distant future, the location of even a residential college should be fixed in reasonable proximity to that part of the country from which the majority of the students come. And the figures which my hon'ble friend the Hon'ble Babu Surendra Nath Ray has supplied have convinced me that the majority of the students, who read in the Engineering College for the purpose of receiving training as assistant engineers, come from, or from the neighbourhood of, the Presidency Division. It would therefore be a calamity to the people of this part of the country—a calamity to those who want to get a training as assistant engineers either for entering the Public Works Department, or for carrying on their profession on their own account—it will be a calamity to them if a residential college for the training of assistant engineers throughout this Presidency be removed to Dacca. Let there be a college at Dacca, let there be a college at Bankipur for the matter of that, for the training of assistant engineers; but let us have either in Calcutta or its neighbourhood one engineering college at least for the training of assistant engineers. That is the idea and, if that idea is approved by Government, I do not see any reason why my friend the Hon'ble Babu Surendra Nath Ray should press his motion."

The Hon'ble DR. NILRATAN SARKAR said :—

"My Lord, if we are supporting the resolution which has been moved by my hon'ble friend Babu Surendra Nath Ray, it is not from any geographical sentiment or parochial ideas. We feel that, with the removal of the higher departments of the Engineering College at Sibpur, there will be a set-back in the matter of engineering education in this Province. We have never been convinced by the reasons that have been adduced in condemnation of Sibpur. A good deal has been said as regards the insanitary condition and the unsuitable conditions of the surrounding College premises at Sibpur. Well, these are defects that may be easily remedied by suitable measures, and many of them have already been removed. Another objection that has been raised in this connection is that the two departments of engineering training, the higher and the lower, should not be held on the same premises or in the same college. Now, it must be admitted that there is a difference of opinion in this connection, because I find such high authorities like the Hon'ble Mr. Küchler, the late Director of Public Instruction, Mr. Wyness, Professor Everett and Dr. Denning—all these gentlemen—holding that it would be best to dovetail the higher engineering classes into the proposed Technological Institute. In fact, so far as we can find, we think that it would be a more economical and perhaps more efficient arrangement to have the higher and the lower departments of engineering education all accommodated in the same college. Then, my Lord, an objection has been raised in this connection to the effect that the Engineering College must be a residential college. Permit me to quote again from the Hon'ble Mr. Küchler's views when he said that by far the great majority of the engineers, who come out to India to serve in the higher appointments, have been trained not in residential colleges, but in institutions similar in character to the Technological Institute that is going to be established. Dr. Denning, our late Director of Industries, says that the tendency in Western countries has been to establish engineering colleges in industrial centres. Now, when there is such a difference of opinion amongst experts, I do not know what to do, how to choose our course, but, so far as I can see, I think it would be preferable for us—I mean it would be desirable for us to insist upon having an engineering college attached to the proposed Technological Institute that is going to be established in Calcutta. Then, my Lord, as regards the education of civil engineers, there is no question about that. In the budget every year large sums are being entered under the head of expenses with regard to the Public Works Department. In fact, this is the largest item this year—it is over one crore of rupees—and that being the largest item, it follows naturally that a good portion of it should be spent upon the staff, so that its education will gradually increase year by year.

Mr. Nathan, while serving on the Committee of Technological Institution, said that of all the higher engineering students of Bengal almost all have been appointed. In fact, there are very few unemployed, and in the near future, with the vast expansion of the country and with the establishment of our Improvement Trust and other things, the demand will go on increasing. Every year there are many miles of waterways and roadways opened, and there is also unceasing activity of the Government in building operations under the Public Works Department; and every year therefore it appears that the demand for civil engineers will go on increasing. Now, if the demand goes on increasing in this way, is it too much to expect that we should have another Engineering College in addition to the one which we have at Sibpur, or, in other words, we should have two? If it is impossible to retain the Civil Engineering College at Sibpur, it may be incorporated in the Technological Institute that is going to be established in Calcutta. That would complete that Institute in many details and it will also further another end, i.e., it will leave unimpaired one of the most important faculties of the University of Calcutta.

As regards the quality of teaching, attacks, both direct and indirect, have often been made against the Sibpur College. So far as I have been able to gather, there is a unanimity of opinion as regards the quality of the theoretical training imparted to the students there. All are agreed that the theoretical training is very good. Of course such defects as have been pointed out have been mostly in the direction of practical training. Where are we to get a better field for the practical training of students than Calcutta? I think therefore that we should insist on our retaining an Engineering College in or near Calcutta even if it be impossible to retain it at Sibpur on other grounds."

The Hon'ble Mr. FISSIMORE said :—

"My Lord, I should like to make a few remarks on one or two points. It appears to me that this is principally a question of supply and demand. The first question is whether we require an Engineering College at Calcutta or not. At present we have an Engineering College at Sibpur, which trains boys to become civil engineers, that is to train them for what has been called executive engineers and assistant engineers, that is, to be competent by higher education to tackle large engineering problems and be able to do the work required of men of high theoretical qualifications. I think it is fairly obvious that men who have passed the higher examination to become engineers would become and do become very dissatisfied if they have to take the lower branch of the profession, and in fact my own personal experience has been that they are very dissatisfied, and we do not get the same class of men for subordinates from the B.E.'s who come from Sibpur now, as we used to get in the old days by recruiting from practical men who had been trained as work sarkars and then became sub-overseers and eventually upper subordinates. I think, for this reason, it is very necessary that the two branches should be recruited from men educated in separate institutions. At present we first of all offer the appointments available in the subordinate service to the failed B.E. students at Sibpur, that is, those who are unable to obtain the higher appointments of assistant engineers. They readily accept appointments as subordinates in the Department on Rs. 80 a month to start with, because, I conclude, they get nothing better elsewhere, and from the time they enter the Department to the time they leave it, they remain dissatisfied. This is to my mind a very good reason for separating the training of the two branches. I say this with reference to the men who come into the Public Works Department. I imagine those who take other similar subordinate service must have the same feeling. Therefore, I think, it is very much better that there should be one college for the higher training and another for the training of those men who would be satisfied with smaller appointments.

Then the question comes in as to whether we should provide a central college for all India, or whether we should keep up the present practice of separate colleges for different provinces. Coming back to the point of expense, I think that we can, with the same amount of money, afford a better training to the youth of India in a central college than we can in separate colleges in different provinces. For this reason alone, it seems to me, for the benefit of the youth of India that we should have a central college established. I think the evidence given before the Public Services Commission has shewn that this is the right thing to do. We do not know what is going to be done, but it is my opinion that it should be done, and I think for the present we should confine the provincial colleges to the training of lower-grade men. If, however, a central college is not to be established, it is very necessary that we should have a well-equipped Provincial College for the training of engineers.

Then we come to the question : Should we have one or two colleges? At present, there is certainly not enough demand for the number of boys theoretically trained for the higher grade of the Engineering passed out of the Sibpur College. There are not enough appointments for the boys of one college. Therefore there is certainly no necessity for more than one college.

Then we come to the question as to where the college should be placed—in Calcutta or in Dacca. Arguments have been adduced in favour of Calcutta, because there are so many engineering works and workshops in or near Calcutta, whereas there are not any in Dacca. On the other hand, the atmosphere of a residential university at Dacca which will raise the tone of education in this province is a strong argument for having it at Dacca.

There has been an engineering college, one of the best and most successful, in England and which has no connection with, nor is situated near, any larger manufacturing town—I refer to the Cooper's Hill College, and I think I am right in saying that any students who have obtained Cooper's Hill diplomas have always been successful in getting employment not only to the Indian Public Works Department but all over the world. I think that sufficiently proves that an engineering college to be successful need not be near any manufacturing centre. I think that a great deal of the success of Cooper's Hill was due to the healthy life that was led there. We were all recruited from the same ranks of society and we all had the same goal to reach, that is to say, we all wished to be successful engineers. I really think that it would be for the best education of the youth of India, who wish to become successful engineers, to have a large central college which would be brought up on the same lines as Cooper's Hill was, and would be located somewhere in the centre of India. If that is not possible, I certainly think that we should have one college placed at Dacca, where we would have the surroundings of good educationists and boys who are really trying to reach a higher ideal. For that reason I unhesitatingly say that, if we have a provincial college, that college should be at Dacca, and I consider two colleges will be more than the requirements of the present time."

The Hon'ble DR. DEBA PRASAD SARBADHIKARI said :—

"Whatever differences there may be in regard to the details of the Resolution, it is almost certain that we are at one in regard to the main issue. The details must be left to the judgment of the Government. My Lord, my hon'ble friend Mr. Lyon, who gratuitously seemed to imagine that there was no support to the Resolution on this side of the House, must by this time be sick of the plethora of support accorded to the Resolution now. I believe the desire on this part of the House was not to take up the time of the Council unnecessarily, if there were no official opposition. We were flattering ourselves that the motion would be acceptable to Government, and we should not have to take up the time of the Council. But my hon'ble friend's reply has dispelled that idea, and every one who has thought about the matter feels it his duty to express sympathy with the object of the Resolution.

My Lord, pointed reference has been made by the Hon'ble Member to the consideration of the Committee in connection with the Sibpur College question, but it was not possible for the Committee as constituted to go into the question of the removal of the Sibpur College. The Committee of which I was a member was charged with the consideration of the details of the measure on the supposition that the Government had quite made up their mind to remove the College. A Committee like that could not go into matters that were sure to come before this Council which would have investigated the question in all its aspects. If, my Lord, upon the suggestion of the Hon'ble Mr. Finnimore, upon the public opinion and the Government opinion the whole question hangs, then I think no useful purpose will be served in thrashing out the question at this stage and we have no materials before us of dealing with the question and must wait for the report of the Public Services Commission for consideration as to whether a central college should be established or not. We have not thought out the matter as yet, but I think it would be ideal for India to have a central college of the kind suggested by the Hon'ble Mr. Finnimore, though I notice that there is a vigorous shaking of the head on this side of the House. Details are not before us, and we need not go into them now. There will be time enough to deal with the question in all its practical aspects as they present themselves to us.

My Lord, the question to be considered is whether Calcutta should be deprived of all facilities for a higher engineering training. As I have followed the Hon'ble Mr. Lyon, he was good enough to say that no restriction of facilities of any kind were to be attempted and no lowering of standard was to be thought of in connection with education in Bengal. And if that policy is followed in regard to engineering training and if all facilities for imparting a higher civil engineering training in Calcutta is not to be interfered with, then I do not think this Resolution ought to be pressed. In the face of such an assurance, we can now take up the matter in all its details.

My Lord, we are often told that established facts should not be lightly disturbed. The established fact of the Sibpur College, which has existed for more than 35 years—in fact ever since the foundation of the Presidency College with which it was incorporated at first—which has produced subordinates as well as engineers of high calibre who could do credit to their place anywhere whether in the Corporation or in the service of Government and against which nothing definite can be urged or has been urged should not be disturbed so lightly.

My Lord, it has been pointed out that the Committee which sat on the Sibpur College question went into the matter thoroughly. That matter is still before your Excellency's Government for final consideration. My Lord, I feel that, from the materials placed before us, no case could be made out for the removal of the Sibpur College from its existing site. On the other hand, if, in its place, a technical institute such as the Hon'ble Mr. Finnimore has suggested is started, it would fall far short of the requirements of civil engineering training, although it would turn out good subordinates. If the Hon'ble Mr. Finnimore's proposition is carried forward, my friend the Hon'ble Dr. Nilratan Sarkar, with his fat fee of Rs. 16, can claim that there should be a medical college for high class doctors like him and another for the practitioners whose fee does not exceed Rs. 4. The successful Indian engineers in Bengal, Rai A. P. Sarkar, and a number of others whose names are well known, cannot claim to have had an exclusive training. We have got to go to the same college and take our chance. If it be our keismat to earn only Rs. 80 a month, we will be content with that; but nobody can say from beforehand as to who would turn out a Rai A. P. Sarkar and who not. My Lord, the Hon'ble Mr. Finnimore's proposal for a separate college for turning out subordinates will not find acceptance in expert circles. There are other aspects of the question too. Exceptions can be taken at the duplication of the college staff, of laboratories, libraries, and so on—one set for the higher training and one for the lower. It has never been attempted anywhere. Of course regarding the very subordinate staff—the sub-overseers—this principle may be followed. But regarding the general provision, this principle can never apply.

My Lord, much has been said of the extreme unhealthiness of Sibpur. This question was raised when the Ranchi proposal was first made. Ranchi was to have a model college, an engineering college, everything in fact except the Medical College which was thought to be too elaborate to be safely removed. When that idea was dispelled for reasons other than those referred to by the Hon'ble Mr. Lyon, people were content to fall back upon their old resources and saw a thousand aspects which were never there before. Apart from that, health in Sibpur is as good as anywhere else. It has been improved, and, may be further improved, as also the teaching staff and the buildings if they are found insufficient. As for Dacca, it may have an engineering college of its own. We don't object to that. But there is no reason why Sibpur College should be removed from its present site."

The Hon'ble RAI RADHA CHARAN PAL BAHADUR said :—

"My Lord, I do not think that any of my countrymen will be slow to acknowledge with gratitude the promise of establishing a Technological Institute in Calcutta. At the same time, we wish to associate ourselves with the observations that have been made with reference to the Resolution moved by the Hon'ble Babu Surendra Nath Ray, and we think that the abolition of a higher grade engineering college, viz., the Sibpur College, is a thing which is not welcomed by the community to which we belong.

My Lord, we have all listened to the able and lucid speech of the Hon'ble Mr. Lyon, and as far as we gather, Government—as we all know—are very anxious to give every facility for the expansion of education—literary or scientific—in the country. But the arrangements that are proposed to be made do not show what expansion is to be given to the engineering education on this side of Bengal. I have closely followed the speech of the Hon'ble Mr. Finimore and I think he is quite right in saying that the number of B.E.'s. that are turned out by the Calcutta University do not find that adequate employment which is commensurate to the education that they receive, and this fact engenders a certain amount of dissatisfaction.

My Lord, I believe that it is one of the reasons for which it is intended to restrict the number of higher colleges for engineering education in Bengal, that it is not found possible to give employment to all highly-trained men either under Government or under local bodies. I have some experience of local bodies; and although in the Calcutta Corporation we have been successful to a certain extent in securing the admission of highly-trained Indians in higher appointments, there are some local bodies where we find that there is an inclination of importing men from outside India and to stifle the scope for the employment of talented men who have been brought up in this country. If, my Lord, the door is wide open to all who come out of higher grade colleges, whether in this country or abroad, I think that the country's dissatisfaction which is engendered by highly-trained men not receiving that adequate recognition of their abilities and talents will, to a considerable extent, disappear. I do not think that it is intended to restrict the number of higher grade colleges in Bengal. If it is necessary, by all means let us have a higher grade engineering college in Dacca; but why should Calcutta or its vicinity be deprived of the College which it already possesses? As far as we have been able to gather, no facts or figures or convincing arguments have been adduced for the entire disappearance of a high-grade college from Calcutta; and I believe that this will considerably affect the engineering education of our boys on this side of Bengal. People who are anxious to give their sons proper engineering education will not have that facility which they now enjoy, and boys who have a natural aptitude for engineering will not also have the same facility which they at present enjoy.

Before I conclude, I wish to quote from the observation of a distinguished countryman of ours, Sir Rajendra Mukharji, whose opinion is held in esteem by the Government. He very moderately put forward that, in view of the important building and other construction works that have been executed in Calcutta, this is the best centre in the Province for instruction in engineering.

The meeting agreed that a civil engineering college up to, and including, the overseer classes should be at Calcutta and that for higher-grade teaching this would also be the best place if financial considerations admit of this entertainment being undertaken, Government have generously allotted from year to year a certain sum of money for the expansion of education and I do not think that funds will be wanting for establishing not only one college here on this side of Bengal but another college, if necessary, in East Bengal for the promotion of engineering education. With these few words, my Lord, I beg to support the motion of my friend the Hon'ble Babu Surendra Nath Ray, although I may differ with him as regards the wording of his motion."

The Hon'ble RAI NALINAKSHA BASU BAHADUR said :—

"My Lord, I beg to support the motion of my hon'ble friend Mr. Surendra Nath Ray that the proposal to abolish the Engineering College at Sibpur be dropped, and that the said College be either retained at Sibpur, or, if its present site is considered unsuitable, be removed to a suitable site in Calcutta or its vicinity, or be made a branch of the proposed Technological Institute in Calcutta. My Lord, when the Cooper's Hill College was in existence, a considerable number of Bengal students used to prosecute their studies in higher branches of engineering there, but it has been closed. The Thomason College at Roorkee was previously open to our students, and an appreciable number of our boys passed their examinations from that college with great credit to themselves; but it has positively shut its doors against them and that the only college in Bengal where the Bengal students now receive their training in higher subjects of engineering, etc., is the Engineering College at Sibpur, and I believe that, owing to want of seats there, many students are compelled to go to Poona to take admission to the Engineering College there. We regret to hear that it is going to be done away with, and in its place an Engineering College at Dacca is going to be established. My Lord, if what we have heard is true, there can be no doubt that Western Bengal would be a great loser on account of the removal of the College. We have been given to understand that a great Technological Institute, in which instructions up to a high standard will be given in subjects such as mechanical and electrical engineering and technological chemistry, is going to be established at Calcutta, and that the institute will be affiliated to the Calcutta University, and we are also aware that on an enquiry to bring the Technological Institute into closer touch and more practical relations with the employers of labour in India, Lieutenant-Colonel Atkinson and Mr. T. S. Dawson have recommended that an institution for civil, mechanical and electrical engineering and for industrial chemistry be established on the outskirts of Calcutta. As Sibpur, where the College is now situated, is very close to Calcutta, in which a large number of big engineering firms are located, there can be no doubt that this college is likely to serve the purpose mentioned by the above authorities. I do not understand why the College should not be further improved and made a department of the Government, the Technological Institute to be established hereafter. If the present site of the College is unsuitable, or has already been transferred, the College can be conveniently located in some other place in Calcutta or in its neighbourhood. It is said that Dacca has an apprentice department, but Sibpur has also such a department, and, moreover, there are many technical schools in Western Bengal which have been affiliated to the Sibpur College, and I cannot conceive why a new college is going to be established at Dacca without improving the existing College at Sibpur and making it a department of the proposed Technological Institute. It is to be borne in mind that the purpose mentioned by the abovenamed authorities, viz., Colonel Atkinson and Mr. Dawson, cannot be served if the college be located in any place which is at some distance from Calcutta. If, in the opinion of the Government, an engineering college is needed for the benefit of Eastern Bengal at Dacca, we have no objection to the establishment of one there; but there does not exist any cogent reason why the Sibpur College should be done away with. It is an admitted fact, my Lord, that the College has done excellent work and has turned out fully-qualified men who have done honour to the service in which they have been employed."

The Hon'ble MR. HORNELL said :—

My Lord, I intervene at this moment of the debate, but I do so mainly because I find it exceedingly difficult to understand exactly what my hon'ble friends opposite are advocating. The resolution reads :—

This Council recommends to the Governor in Council that the proposal to abolish the Engineering College at Sibpur be dropped, and that the said College be either retained at Sibpur, or, if its present site is considered unsuitable,—

(i) be removed to a suitable site in Calcutta or its immediate vicinity,

(ii) be made a branch of the proposed Technological Institute in Calcutta.

In the course of the speech which was delivered by the Hon'ble Mr. Finnimore, he pointed out that the Sibpur Engineering College at present contained very many different branches, and he put forward the view, which has a great deal of expert opinion behind it, that the training of Civil Engineers of the highest classes would be better carried out in an institution for this higher civil engineering, and is not done at its best if it is combined in an institution for the training of those who are brought up to be definitely subordinates. Then the discussion seemed to me to wander a certain amount, but it was brought back by the Hon'ble Babu Mahendra Nath Ray, who made it quite clear that his view was, whatever rearrangement the Government might undertake with regard to the existing arrangement at Sibpur, he could not support that rearrangement unless one of the outcomes of them was that there should be a college in or near Calcutta for the training of Civil Engineers of the highest class. He did not, I think wisely, touch upon the difficulty or the argument that it is not considered desirable that civil engineers of the highest class and people of the overseer class should be trained in one and the same institution, and I imagine that his point of view was that that was a matter for experts; but that all that he wished to insist upon was that there should be in or near Calcutta always a college for the training of civil engineers of the highest class. The Hon'ble Mr. Finnimore in his speech gave what seemed to be excellent reasons for thinking that civil engineers of the highest class are better trained in an institution which devotes its energies to them, and does not take up all grades of engineering. And he said, and it seemed to me also to be very true, that people who were trained to be civil engineers and who had hopes perhaps to enter the Public Works Department did not make the best subordinates, the best sub-overseers and such like though they were often driven, or at least were willing to enter the Public Works Department in that capacity. He suggested that they were not perhaps quite satisfied with the prospects of the employment which they had been able to obtain, and he also gave reasons for supposing that if you wished to train a man for a sub-overseer or an overseer, perhaps the course of his training for that object is not quite the same as that required for a civil engineer of the highest class. The Hon'ble Dr. Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari started by saying that he was in favour of an Imperial College, but then I gathered that he was not in favour of any college or any scheme which excluded the possibility of there being, or rather excluded the certainty of there being, a Civil Engineering College of the highest class in Calcutta. I fail to see how you can be in favour of an Imperial College and at the same time qualify it by the statement that you are only in favour of a scheme of that kind if the College is to be located in Calcutta. A great deal has been said about the necessity of such an institution in Calcutta, but I have listened in vain for any argument in favour of such contention other than the argument that the Civil Engineering College should be situated in proximity to industries. Suggestions have been made by the Hon'ble Mr. Finnimore which seem to traverse that principle to a certain extent, but I do not wish to labour this point. I think it is certainly a matter of opinion. The point I wish to make clear is this: If it is desirable that civil engineers of the highest grade should be trained in institutions apart from overseers, then clearly the existing arrangements at Sibpur cannot be continued indefinitely. The Hon'ble Dr. Doba Prasad Sarbadhikari, in the latter part of his speech, seems to think that the existing arrangements were extremely desirable, for he said, why should not overseers be trained along with the engineers? who is to know who is going to be the engineer and who is going to be the overseer? should there not be, in that case, if the argument holds good, medical colleges at which successful practitioners should be trained in one college, while the unsuccessful people who have to take lesser positions in life are to be trained in another? It seems to me the argument as regards the medical colleges would be rather,—is it desirable, would it be always desirable, to give to those who are being trained among such people as compounders the education you would give to a man who wishes to be a leading doctor? It seems to me that the Hon'ble Mr. Finnimore's point was that, if a man who was trained to be a doctor had to face life as a compounder, he would be a discontented compounder, and probably he would have been a better man if his training had been more closely directed towards the compounding. Unless the Council are prepared to accept the view that the training of engineers of all classes should be continued in the same institution, they cannot, I think, acquiesce in the suggestion that the arrangements at Sibpur remain unchanged. Nor can they, it seems to me, advocate as a possible alternative the arrangements now made at Sibpur, that there should be at the Technological Institute, civil engineering classes, because the Technological Institute will be concerned not with the training at all of civil engineers in the first instance; but with the training of people for various industries, which is a very different thing. Therefore what I wish to make quite clear is this—are the Council going to accept the view that there should be that separate provision for the training of civil engineers of the highest class? If it is, then the continuance of Sibpur in its present state and the opening of civil engineering classes in a Technological Institute in Calcutta will not meet the difficulty.

The Hon'ble Mr. BYOMKES CHAKRAVARTI said:—

“My LORD, I desire to add a few words in support of the Resolution, and my claim to take up the time of this House for a few minutes is based upon the fact that in early life I was for a period of about 15 months a Professor in the Sibpur Engineering College—Professor of Mathematics and Physical Science. I have not been there very recently, and therefore I cannot speak with any degree of personal experience as to what has been happening there since my time. When I was there, although in point of fact there was one institution for the training of various grades of engineers and overseers, in reality there were four institutions, because there was a class A, there was a class B, there was a class C, and there was a class D. The teaching staff was different, the training was different, the arrangements for their education were different, and therefore I do not think that by association in the same place they suffered in any way at all. To my mind the question seems to be this: in or about Calcutta there has been an institution teaching higher grades of civil engineering: The point is whether a case has been made out that it should cease to exist where it has existed for at least 30 years, and that a new institution should be started at Dacca for the benefit of all, as I understand, on the ground that there will be a healthy emulation, inasmuch as there is going to be a teaching University at Dacca. So far as the advantages of a teaching university are concerned, at Sibpur most of the students are resident students, and they have to emulate with one another. I rather think, speaking as a lawyer, that the onus has been wrongly placed on this side of the House ; we, supporting this Resolution, say that the onus is on the other side of the House. It is said that the existing state of affairs should be changed, and that the institution should be transplanted from Calcutta to Dacca, and for that, so far as I have been able to gather, the reason is that there is going to be a teaching university at Dacca. If your funds allow ; if you will be able to get a sufficient number of students from that part of the country, have an institution for the teaching of higher civil engineering in that part of the country by all means ; but what we do say is that here we have had an institution for the last 30 years, and it is for the convenience of all ; it is not for the convenience of only, say, Hindus or Muhammadans. I speak with a certain degree of experience with regard to the members of the domiciled community that there are a great many of them who will find it rather hard if they have to go from this part of the country to Dacca for the purposes of their education. As regards unhealthiness, I lived at Sibpur. I lived there continuously for 15 months. I did not die, nor did any of the staff in my time die, nor do I remember any of the students dying there on account of malaria or cholera ; so that if it was not unhealthy 30 years ago. I do not think that, with all the sanitary improvements which have been made there, Sibpur is unhealthier now than it used to be 30 years ago. The point is this : it will be a great hardship. The country is very large, and with regard to this part of the country, for example, a man going from Burdwan to Dacca, he does not want to go so far away from his home for purposes of education. You have an institution. Do not destroy it. Then, it is said that there are discontented people. They may be justly discontented ; if they are deserving and do not get higher appointments, then their discontent is justified. On the other hand, if they are not qualified, and they are discontented, then they have only to blame themselves. I do not know the working of the Public Works Department, nor do I know the working of the public bodies who have to employ engineers ; but this I do know that, if in point of fact there is only fair play, and no question of favour or imported labour—that imported labour should be preferred to the labour of the country—then I say, and I speak with a certain degree of insistence, that the members of the Sibpur Engineering College have done remarkably well. There was a student of mine of the name of Mr. Ward. I do not know where he is employed now, but I was told when I came back from England after some years that he was doing remarkably well, and he was trained under me, an Indian, in the Sibpur Engineering College ; so it is idle to suggest that you only create a number of discontented men. There is bound to be discontent if the reason for the selection is not quite a fair one, that is, if there is any question of imported labour being preferred to labour of the country. With these words I support the Resolution."

The Hon'ble Mr. SINHA said :—

"May I venture to add a few remarks to what has been said ? I think that there has been considerable misunderstanding in the matter. I followed the Hon'ble Mr. Lyon very carefully, and I think it was his advice to the Council not to come to any present decision on this question, and not to make any definite recommendation as to whether the college should or should not be retained in Sibpur ; and I understand that the reason why my hon'ble friend recommended that course was this : that the Public Services Commission, which has had this matter before it for consideration, may make recommendations which might necessitate, at any rate, the reconsideration of any decision which we might come to now. Well, I thought that that was an extremely forcible argument. I have no doubt that it is ; but surely, if that is the advice to the Council, it must also be the intention of the Government, and that is what I think my hon'ble friends on this side have not understood. It must be the intention of the Government to come to no decision on this question as to whether the College should or should not be removed. If the Hon'ble Mr. Lyon asks us not to come to any decision as regards this matter, it connotes—it necessarily connotes—that the Hon'ble Mr. Lyon and the Government of which he is a member have not come to any decision themselves on this question, and that they are going to hold their hands, that they are not going to determine and conclude the matter unless and until they have the recommendations of the Public Services Commission, or unless the matter has been considered in the light of such recommendations as may be made. If, therefore, I am right in that, that the Hon'ble Mr. Lyon's advice to the Council not to make any definite recommendation is based on the idea that subsequent events may compel them to reconsider their decision, it applies equally to Government, and I do not understand why it should be difficult for Government to give an assurance to the non-official members on this side of the House that no decision will be come to, and no change will be made, unless and until the recommendations of the Public Services Commission have been made and considered."

The Hon'ble Mr. LYON said :—

"The point raised by the Hon'ble Mr. Sinha is so important that I think it is desirable that I should say something with reference to it. I do not propose to go back on the previous debate, as the remarks by various non-official members have been dealt with on behalf of Government by the Hon'ble Mr. Hornell and the Hon'ble Mr. Finnimore—but with reference to the question of what will be proposed by the Public Services Commission, I can say that, so far as we are concerned, the final decision as to the complete arrangements to be made for the training of assistant engineers will certainly not be concluded, and cannot be concluded, until the Public Services Commission have reported. And one important reason for this is, that any recommendation made by the Public Services Commission will have to be considered by the highest authorities before final orders on the subject can be passed. But I must qualify my statement in one respect. We are not the only persons, as I pointed out in my first speech, who are considering this subject. Certain proposals have gone up to the Government of India and to the Secretary of State, and it would of course be quite impossible for me or for this Local Government to give any undertaking in this Council on the subject of the action to be taken by them on these matters.

The question of the establishment of a Technological Institute in Calcutta may also have to go up to the Government of India, and I do not think the Hon'ble Member would wish us to postpone indefinitely the proposals as regards the Technological Institute, for the reason that the pupils of the Technological Institute are not those whose careers will be dealt with by the Public Services Commission."

The Hon'ble Mr. SINHA said :—

"I do not for one moment mean that the Government should not proceed to consider matters. All I did say was that the Government should not come to a decision."

The Hon'ble Mr. LYON said :—

"My difficulty goes slightly beyond that, in that we shall deal with this matter without reference to our present proceedings, because the pupils of the Technological Institute are not those whose careers will be dealt with by the Public Services Commission. But I may say that it seems to this Government perfectly clear that the question of the training to be afforded to civil engineers will not be completely dealt with and settled, so far as the Government of Bengal is concerned, before the Public Services Commission has considered the subject."

The Hon'ble BABU SURENDRA NATH RAY said :—

"After the statement just made by the Hon'ble Mr. Lyon, I think it proper to withdraw my Resolution."

The Resolution was then, by the permission of the President, withdrawn,

ADJOURNMENT.

The PRESIDENT said :—

“There are further Resolutions, but it has been suggested to me that, as to-day is Saturday, the majority of the Members of this Council may possibly not wish to return after the usual lunch interval, but would prefer to adjourn till Monday. On the other hand, there may be some who would prefer to go on.”

The Hon'ble BABU SURENDRA NATH BANERJI said :—

“Monday would suit us very well. I do not think it will take more than two hours to discuss the remaining business, and most of us would prefer Monday.”

The Hon'ble MAHARAJADHIRAJA OF BURDWAN said :—

“I agree with Babu Surendra Nath Banarji, and would prefer to continue on Monday.”

The PRESIDENT said :—

“The Hon'ble Babu Surendra Nath Banerji probably knows how long it will take to finish the remaining business better than I do. There is, it seems, a general feeling in favour of the Council being adjourned till Monday. I will adjourn till Monday accordingly.”

The Council was then adjourned to Monday, the 2nd March, 1914, at 11 A.M.

DEATH OF LORD MINTO, LATE VICEROY AND GOVERNOR-GENERAL OF INDIA.

His Excellency the President having taken the chair rose and addressed the Council (who all remained standing) as follows :—

“ I feel sure that Hon'ble Members will agree with me that it is only right that this Council should at once adjourn out of respect for the memory of one with whom this place—this very room—is closely associated, and who passed away yesterday. I need say but little. Lord Minto left India only a few years ago, and many of you knew him and loved him. I am certain that in Calcutta, in Bengal, sorrow is to-day widespread, and that it is a very genuine and heartfelt sympathy which goes out to his widow and to his children.

Five consecutive generations (as he himself once reminded you) of his family lived within this building—that in itself is a remarkable thing which Bengal is not likely to forget. I am tempted to recall to you some lines which he himself quoted with approbation :—

‘The nerve unshaken by mischance,
The care unlessened by success ;
And modest bearing to enhance
The natural charm of manliness.’

There must be many looking back just now with admiration on those very qualities of his, for it was those very qualities which endeared him to all who knew him both as Viceroy and as man.

For us here the thought uppermost in our minds probably is—that it was in this room, little more than four years ago, that he welcomed ‘the members of the newly-constituted Imperial Council on their first assembly at the capital of the Indian Empire.’ Our Council is the direct outcome of the reforms which Lord Minto then inaugurated and of which he spoke so hopefully.

You remember his statement of belief that ‘the fellow service of British and Indian administrators under a supreme British Government is the key to the future political happiness of this country.’ We recognise that Lord Minto worked hard for India in that belief and, recognising that, we honour his memory.

This Council stands adjourned until to-morrow at 11 A.M.”

RESOLUTIONS

(Under the Rules for the discussion of matters of general public interest).

(The discussion of items Nos. 7, 8 and 9 of the List of Business, which had been held over from the meeting of the 28th February, was to-day proceeded with.)

List of Business—Item No. 7.—The Hon'ble RAJA MAHENDRA RANJAN RAY CHAUDHURI moved the following Resolution :—

This Council recommends to the Governor in Council the appointment of a committee, to be composed of official and non-official Members of the Council of whom the Inspector-General of Civil Hospitals, Bengal, shall be one) and of representatives of District Boards and Local Boards from each Division of this Province, for the purpose of—

- (i) inquiring into the causes of the recent rise in the ratio of infantile mortality in this Presidency, and
- (ii) recommending such remedial and preventive measures as may be deemed to be best calculated to reduce the same.

He said :—

“ My Lord, I am grateful to your Lordship for permitting me to move this Resolution on the important subject of infant mortality. I speak on the subject with considerable diffidence as, owing to the shortness of time at my disposal, I found it was impossible to give the subject the amount of close study and attention it called for. There is a great deal of literature regarding infant life and there are many interesting works dealing with it, some of which, if I had time, I should have very much liked to have looked up. I trust, however, that my inability to deal adequately with the question will not prejudice the cause which my Resolution has in view. It is really high time that the subject of infantile mortality in Bengal received the serious attention of the Government and representative public men. I think I cannot do better than quote here a passage from a Resolution by Your Excellency's Government on the subject, dated the 14th July, 1913, reviewing the Census Report by Mr. O'Malley, Superintendent of Census Operations, Bengal. Paragraph 9 of the Resolution runs thus : 'The rate of infant mortality is appalling. One child out of every five dies within a year of birth. Calcutta, in spite of its good sanitation and good water-supply, heads the list with a death-rate among infants of 31 per cent. Early marriage, utter ignorance of the simplest rules of hygiene, insanitary surroundings, and, among the parents of the labouring classes, poverty, which compels the mother to work almost up to the day of her confinement, are among the causes which reduce the chances of a child's surviving the early stages of its life.'

In view of this Resolution of the Government of Bengal and the facts it brings to light, further efforts on my part, to support the Resolution I have had the honour to move, seem scarcely necessary. But, nevertheless, I must endeavour to strengthen my case, if that is possible, by quoting some more facts and figures from the official report. Mr. O'Malley, in his Census Report, admits the rate of infant mortality as being extraordinarily high. In West Bengal the rate is 22 deaths in every 100 of infants in the first year of their birth; North Bengal, 21 per cent. and Central Bengal, 20 per cent.; it is comparatively low in East Bengal, where the rate is 18 per cent., and in Calcutta 31 infants out of every 100 die in the year of their birth, bringing sorrow into numerous homes. In North Bengal, Jalpaiguri has attained notoriety as being the most deadly place, with its appalling rate of 27 per cent., or 270 per mille. Burdwan ranks next with its 24 per cent., Dinajpur keeping abreast with Burdwan; Noakhali shows some improvement, with its ratio of 15 per cent., and Tippera has a ratio of 16 per cent. In England and Wales the annual average death-rate among children is very much lower and, certainly, not more than 15 per cent., including London. In 1907, the death-rate in England and Wales reached the minimum, having been only 118 per 1,000 or 11·8 per cent., which is, roughly speaking, about one-third the ratio prevailing in Calcutta. Pages could be filled with extracts and quotations from recognised authoritative works on the subject to show that the proportion of infant deaths in Bengal has reached a climax, when it can no longer be viewed with equanimity. The figures themselves are too sufficiently eloquent and pathetic to need the use of any words and are calculated to appeal to our feelings of humanity, and rouse us to action for the mitigation of the evil. It is amply true that Heaven helps those who help themselves; but, at the same time, it is a universally-admitted axiom that our first duty lies towards those who are most helpless and dependent on others, and I feel sure that this dreadful state of things in regard to infant mortality has only to be brought to the notice of the Government in a proper way to be remedied so far as it lies in their power. For there are no two opinions about the fact that the British Government is always actuated by the highest humanitarian principles, and humanity has always been one of its most dominant and conspicuous traits. It is quite true that there are certain causes extant which have a very prejudicial influence upon the lives of infants in the very early stages, and there are also certain other causes which diminish the chances of infant life, and which are at the same time beyond the control of human power, such as hereditary diseases, congenital defects, and climatic conditions. But, on the other hand, it is equally true that there are many causes operating inimically to infant life which are to a great extent preventable, such as feeding with improper and impure food, dangerous exposure to highly insanitary surroundings filled with germs of malaria, cholera, tetanus and other deadly and fatal diseases. The ignorance of parents, and especially of mothers, of simple rules of domestic hygiene, and early marriages are also among the chief reasons which are said to greatly contribute to the increase of infant mortality; but, my Lord, education and knowledge are spreading, and the evil of early marriage is daily dying out, and yet mortality amongst infants is on the increase, and if ignorance of science and hygiene were such potential causes of the death-rate among the little ones, I should think all the semi-civilised and totally-uncivilised tribes and races would long ago have been wiped off the face of the earth. But, perhaps, some of them show greater virility and stamina than our race, which is practically a race of students, and counts amongst it millions of followers of the goddess Saraswati. While I do not for a moment suggest that ignorance of ordinary rules of hygiene and domestic sanitation, and a want of skilled knowledge in the art of rearing infants are not injurious to infant life, I should like to make it clear that my deep conviction is that the general abject poverty amongst a large portion of the masses, and deteriorated physique and constitution, and the great scarcity of milk constitute by far the greater and more powerful evils which tend to produce this deplorable state of things. If malaria can be rooted out from the country, and the people of Bengal saved from being sapped by this deadly monster, if the channels and sources to bring sustenance to the people could be multiplied and developed, and if the gradual disappearance of cattle could be effectively checked and arrested, I think, my Lord, even in spite of the popular ignorance of hygiene and science of life, mothers would not so frequently be robbed of the joy and pleasure of their lives, and bury their babes in clouds of grief, and sorrow would not so often cast a gloom over bright and cheerful homes.

As practical measures, however, against this great evil, the mitigation of which I am sure the Government has as much at heart as we have, I would venture to suggest the following :—

- (1) that the Education Department be urged to add instruction in elementary hygiene, with reference to the dietary and rearing of infants to the present curriculum followed in the schools;
- (2) that the Government do establish or support dépôts for the supply of pure milk, and defray the cost out of the exchequer, or have such dépôts established or supported by District Boards or Municipalities and give them substantial pecuniary aid;
- (3) that legislation be undertaken to provide for the payment of a fee of at least five rupees for the slaughtering of a young cow before it has calved, and to provide adequate arrangement for pasture;
- (4) that legislation be undertaken to enforce abstention from factory or any kind of hired labour away from home for at least three months commencing immediately before the expected time of confinement;
- (5) that all preparations offered or sold as food for infants must be examined by an analyst and passed by him as non-injurious.
- (6) that trained daïs and nurses be posted in all important villages possessing a charitable or aided hospital or dispensary and directed to attend confinement cases amongst the poor gratis or at a nominal fee;
- (7) that legislation should be undertaken immediately to render the sale of adulterated milk much more difficult and risky than at present, and the offence easily detectable and more highly punishable. At present about 8 per cent. or more of the supplies of milk offered for sale are adulterated or watered, or the cream abstracted fraudulently. Milk, as is well known, is the best medium for bacteria to multiply in;
- (8) a scheme of free-lying-in hospitals for the poor may be formulated and gradually given effect to.

I do not know, my Lord, what the fate of my Resolution is going to be; accepted or not, it is true that action lies entirely in the power of the Government and a committee can only advise and discuss matters. I have no intention of persisting in my demand for a committee, if Government think they can do whatever is possible to be done in the matter without such a committee. I only sincerely regret the present deplorable high proportion of infant mortality, and earnestly wish the adoption of prompt measures for its arrest and reduction. That is all I seek and nothing more, and I leave to Your Excellency's generous and just mind and to Your Excellency's Government the determining of the means best calculated to attain this object, though I must add the acceptance of the Resolution and the appointment of a special committee as asked for would go a great way in attracting the attention of the authorities, as well as of the people, to this important matter and in marking, I might say, the beginning of a period of improvement."

The Hon'ble NAWAB SYED SHAMS-UL-HUDA said

"My Lord, I am at some disadvantage in meeting from the Government side the Resolution which is moved by my hon'ble friend, as he was not quite audible from this side of the house. However, I have been able to obtain a general idea of his arguments, and I can at once say that we are obliged to him for drawing attention to this important matter.

Government are fully alive to the importance of the question and the necessity for remedial measures. The figures for Bengal, though somewhat lower than those for the whole of India, are still very large and we should have gladly accepted the resolution had we been convinced of its utility. But the fact is that there is no necessity for an investigation into the causes or remedies. These are fairly well known and have from time to time occupied the attention of Government. Most of the causes, however, lie too deep to be touched by any spasmodic efforts. In an article that appeared in the 'Journal of the Associated Medical Women of India' from the pen of an expert on the subject, the causes will be found fully discussed. Most important of these is the marriage between immature parents, malarial conditions of the country, the poverty of the parents and, above all, ignorance of the elementary rules of hygiene on the part of the people and their obstinate adherence to certain old usages. The incompetence of the village dais, the careless way of cutting and dressing the umbilical cord, which alone is said to be responsible for 20 to 30 per cent. of the total infantile mortality, aggravate the situation. In the year 1904, the Government Resolution on the Annual Sanitary Report drew attention of the Sanitary Commissioner to this question of infantile mortality, and the Sanitary Commissioner submitted a report discussing the causes and suggesting remedial measures. He was then asked to prepare a note containing directions for the care and feeding of infants. This was translated into Bengali, Hindi and Uriya and distributed among villagers through vaccinators. It was, however, found that no one cared to read them. I may, however, assure the Hon'ble Member that we are determined to make a systematic effort to do what we can to combat ignorance and to diffuse knowledge of sanitation and necessary preventive measures among the people, and the Hon'ble Member may rest assured that the discussion he has raised will not be thrown away. I hope that the Hon'ble Member will be satisfied with the assurance and see his way to withdraw the Resolution."

The Hon'ble RAJA MAHENDRA RANJAN RAY CHAUDHURI said :—

"I thank the Hon'ble Member for the assurance he has given that every effort will be made to mitigate this evil, and in view of this assurance I beg Your Excellency's leave to withdraw the Resolution."

The Resolution was then, by leave of the President, withdrawn.

List of Business—Item No. 8.—The Hon'ble Mazharul Maulvi Anwar Chaudhuri moved the following Resolution :—

This Council recommends to His Excellency the Governor in Council that necessary measures be taken, as soon as possible, effectually to protect the tract of country lying on the right bank of the river Damodar, and situated in the districts of Burdwan, Hooghly and Howrah, from the effects of flooding by that river.

He said :—

“My Lord, the subject of the Resolution which I have the honour to move has a long and sad history, and I hope the Council will bear with me if I seem to be a little long in my remarks. Before the East Indian Railway was constructed, the river Damodar had, from ancient times, embankments on both sides; and the inhabitants of the country on both sides lived in health and prosperity like the people of other parts of Bengal.

From ancient times it was the duty of the Maharaja of Burdwan to keep these embankments in repair as the river flowed through his zamindari.

At the time of the Revenue Settlement of the year 1788 the Raj Estate was given a remission of 60,001 sicca rupees for keeping the bunds on both sides in repair; and this arrangement was confirmed in the year 1791; but, in the year 1809, the Government took up the management and repairs of the embankments, and the Burdwan Raj from that time began to pay, and has ever since been paying, the said sum of 60,001 sicca rupees over and above the revenue which it used to pay before. Parganas Mandalghat and Chetna having been some time after lost to the Burdwan Estate, it has since then been paying 53,738 sicca or 57,320-8-6 in Company's rupees, the balance being realized, I suppose, from those who are in possession of the two parganas—Chetna and Mandalghat.

Thus Your Lordship and the Council will see that in the year 1809 the Government made a solemn compact with the people living on both sides of the river through their zamindar, the Maharaja of Burdwan, to protect them from floods by keeping the embankments in repair.

By the year 1855, however, all this was forgotten; for we find that in that year the Government ordered the removal of 20 miles of embankment on the right or west bank of the Damodar. This was evidently done with the object of protecting the Grand Trunk Road and the East Indian Railway, and to prevent the possible deterioration of the Port of Calcutta by the sand carried down by the river Damodar.

Having regard to the disastrous consequences that have ensued, it is difficult for a native of the luckless country within the flood-zone on the west side of the river to speak of its absolute abandonment to the tender mercies of the Damodar in the language of moderation. It was not only a violation of the guarantee given in 1809, but it looked very like the sacrifice of the interests of the poor and the weak at the altar of those of the rich and strong. I am quite willing to believe that the gentlemen who advised this reckless act did not foresee its terrible consequences; but whether they did foresee them or not, they made themselves felt very quickly indeed. For we find, on the 1st June 1860, the Superintending Engineer, Burdwan Circle, Captain J. P. Beadle, writing to the Chief Engineer, Lower Provinces, about the havoc that had already been done by the Damodar in the country on the west bank and referring to the duty which the Government owed to the people and suggesting measures to minimize the damages. Nothing, however, was done, and very soon after the waters of the river finding resistance on the left or east bank, and none whatever on the right or west bank, cut a new channel at Begua in the Burdwan district and began to devastate an ever-increasing area on the west side, till now we find that about 800 villages, principally in the districts of Hooghly and Burdwan, are inundated every year, to the unspeakable misery and suffering and loss of health and property of the unfortunate people living in them.

My Lord, the condition of these villages is deplorable in the extreme, rich paddy fields have been laid waste by deposit of sand, low-lying marshes have formed on almost three sides of most of the villages within the affected area, tanks from which people used to draw their supply of drinking water have been silted up, and the waters of those that exist now are rendered unfit for use in the rainy season, being more in the condition of liquid mud than anything else ; and the result is that, after each flood, cholera, dysentery and diarrhoea break out in the villages and levy their annual tolls of human lives, and later in the season, when the marshes begin to dry up, fell malaria makes its unwelcome appearance in a more or less epidemic form.

The houses of the people who have the misfortune to live in this part of the country are not safe, and almost every year a large number of mud houses are either washed away or simply tumble down. During these floods, when the surrounding country is submerged, poisonous snakes take shelter in the raised homesteads of the people, and there are always cases of death from snake-bite, some of which are reported and some are not. On an average, every fourth year a flood of more than usual severity makes its appearance, and then a larger number of mud houses are destroyed, and, if this flood comes late in the rainy season, the rice crop on those portions of the fields which are not much damaged during ordinary floods are wholly destroyed and the poor raiyats are left to bemoan their fate without means to support themselves, their families and their cattle.

My Lord, it is beyond my power to describe adequately the miseries and sufferings of the luckless inhabitants of these 800 villages. Your Lordship and the Hon'ble Members of this Council must have gathered some idea of these sufferings from the reports which appeared in the newspapers after the disastrous flood of August last. As a member of the Hooghly Flood Relief Committee I had to distribute charitable relief in thana Arambagh, and I can assure Your Excellency and the Hon'ble Members that those reports were by no means exaggerated. The Hon'ble Mr. Lyon, who visited some portions of the affected area, has some experience of these sufferings, and the statements which the Hon'ble Sir William Duke made in this Council on the 1st of September last also show what the people had to suffer from the last disastrous flood.

My Lord, of the affected area, the villages, within the flood-zone in thanas Arambagh and Pursura are the worst, and these villages are so difficult of access that even the noble band of volunteers who so heroically sacrificed their health and comforts to relieve human suffering after the last flood could not penetrate into most of them. A few years ago the Hooghly District Board allotted a lakh of rupees for the construction of a road from Tarakeshwar to Arambagh ; but the idea had to be given up, as engineers were of opinion that the road, if constructed, would be destroyed the very next rainy season. So the subdivision of Arambagh is still without a road connecting it with the headquarters of the district, and the Government officers from the Divisional Canal Commissioner downwards find it extremely difficult to tour in the subdivision. My Lord, it is true that rabi crops are grown in scattered patches where there are deposits of silt in some or most of the affected villages, but that is a poor compensation for the permanent loss of the rice crops in the greater part of their fields.

Early in the 'sixties of the last century' the late Rai Rama Prasad Roy Bahadur, together with the late Babu Jay Krista Mukharji of Uttarpara and other leading landholders, drew the attention of the Government to the loss inflicted on them by the removal of the embankment on the right side of the Damodar and claimed compensation for their losses.

Then, in the year 1888, some enquiries were made and a Resolution on the subject was issued by Government (No. 1980 I., dated the 18th December, 1888), and the British Indian Association was asked to express their opinions on the questions discussed therein ; and the British Indian Association in its Secretary's letter dated the 23rd May, 1889, to the Secretary in the Public Works Department, while expressing their opinion in the matter, submitted that 'the Revenue Laws generally lay down that zamindars would not be entitled to any remission of revenue for losses entailed by floods, inundation and diluvion. This, however, contemplates accidental losses beyond the control of man; but the question would be very different when the destruction of miles over miles of fertile land would be the result of deliberate acts of Government. Here the question would naturally arise—Whether the Government should not only grant remission of revenue but also compensation for losses.' Then the letter went on to say that in the case of raiyats the loss would include loss of houses, cattle and human life and that in their case justice and humanity alike demanded that every provision should be made to grant them adequate compensation.

One would have thought that after this the Government would set about devising measures to stop or mitigate the ravages of the annual floods or at the least do nothing to aggravate them. But the facts are quite otherwise; and the acts of the Government which followed seem to indicate that in order to ensure the safety of the Railway and the Port of Calcutta, the Government deliberately determined to abandon the poor and long-suffering people living in the villages on the right bank of the river to their fate and also to aggravate their loss and suffering. My Lord, the above is not in the least coloured or exaggerated; for we find that in 1890 another length of 10 miles of the embankment on the western side of the river was abandoned, and Your Lordship and the Hon'ble Members can well see that the natural consequence of that act was, if anything, to considerably increase the area of devastation. I am quite willing to acknowledge, and I do acknowledge it with gratitude, that since then Government has been taking steps to devise means to alleviate, if not to completely stop, the ravages of the floods.

In the year 1901, the Government was pleased to place Mr. D. B. Horn Superintending Engineer on special duty, to report whether any remedial measure could be adopted to mitigate the extent of damage annually caused by the Damodar floods and that distinguished engineer, after thorough enquiry and investigation, submitted his report on the 21st February, 1902, suggesting various measures, one of which he considered the most feasible and the least expensive. This scheme was the training of the Begua river (as the channel about 30 miles in length from the Begua Breach in the district of Burdwan to Fesuli on the left bank of the Rupnarayan is called) by excavating its channel in suitable places and thereby encouraging it to scour its own bed for the speedy discharge of the flood-water.

Mr. Horn also pointed out in his report that, if his plan was adopted, the construction of the Howrah-Bishnupur line would be less expensive by reason of a less number of bridges and culverts being required. The scheme recommended by Mr. Horn was, however, not adopted and it has up to now remained a pious wish only.

Then, in 1906, or 1907, Babu Bhuendra Nath Basu, who has his ancestral house within the affected area, having drawn the attention of the Government to the sufferings of the unhappy people, a survey was made and he was asked by Government (letter No. T.—L. dated the 24th May, 1897) to suggest some specific scheme. Paragraph 6 of the letter No. 3219, dated the 13th May, 1907, from the Superintending Engineer to the Chief Engineer, Bengal, which also was sent to Babu Bhupendra Nath Basu, contains the following passage: 'The question of the future action to be taken in the drainage and navigation in this part of the country remains to be considered. There can be no doubt that a very large area had been laid waste by the flood-waters from the Begua Breach and with a view to reduce the damage as much as possible, it is necessary that the water should be drained off as quickly as possible.' Babu Bhupendra Nath Basu agreed with the views of the engineers and recommended the removal of the bars and other impediments to the free and quick discharge of the waters through the Begua river, but even this very small measure of relief was not given in deference to the opinion of the Subdivisional Officer of Arambagh who reported against the scheme.

About this time Rai Lalit Mohan Sing Bahadur of Chuckdighi having persuaded the then Lieutenant-Governor Sir Andrew Fraser to see for himself the state of things, that kind-hearted ruler actually visited the upper part of the Begua river and expressed great sympathy for the miseries and losses of the long-suffering people and promised speedy relief. The people of the affected area thereupon submitted a memorial through the District Magistrate of Hooghly and the Commissioner of the Burdwan Division, and in reply to his letter forwarding the memorial the Commissioner got a letter from the Secretary to the Board of Revenue (No. 4496 A., dated the 19th November, 1907), which ran as follows :—

‘ With reference to your letter No. 319, dated the 31st August, 1907, submitting a memorial to His Honour the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal by a large number of inhabitants on both banks of the river Damodar, I am directed to request that the memorialists may be informed that a definite scheme for improving the tract is now under the consideration of Government.’

Then, in March, 1908, in answer to a question by the Hon'ble Dr. Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari, another inhabitant of the affected country, the then Secretary to the Government of Bengal in the Public Works Department stated : ‘ The scheme to which the Lieutenant-Governor has accorded administrative approval and which it is intended to carry out at the cost of the general revenue, is the following : It is proposed to make an earthen embankment or dam across the head of the channel where it leaves the Damodar river and to provide for the escape of the flood-waters by means of two long overflows or weirs at the level of the natural bank which will be paved with rubble, stones or concrete blocks. The object aimed at is to retain the low-water flow in the old channel of the Damodar while permitting the flood-water, which is far in excess of what the channel of the river can accommodate, to spill over the bank without cutting a deep channel.’

Then, on the 25th July, 1908, there appeared in the ‘ Indian Engineering ’ the following paragraph : ‘ Bengal Government have, it is understood, approved of a scheme for affording some relief to the country on the right bank of the Damodar river from the permanent liability to inundation which it is subject to at present. The area adversely affected is considerable and the Government think that the large expenditure which is involved in the execution of the proposed scheme, viz., 1½ lakhs of rupees, is quite justified. In the Hooghly district alone the money-value of the crops, which will be saved when relief is afforded, is estimated at 6 lakhs per annum. The Government have also, we believe, decided that the whole cost of the scheme should be met from the Provincial Revenue and that the proprietors of the land should not be required to pay anything.’

The visit of Sir Andrew Fraser to the Begua Hana and the administrative sanction accorded by Government to the scheme of making a weir at Begua raised very high hopes in the breasts of the long-suffering people of the affected area, but these hopes were doomed to sad disappointment, and the sanction of Government accorded to the scheme remains an administrative sanction still.

Then, on the 16th September, 1909, the Hon'ble Dr. Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari forwarded, with a covering letter of his own, another largely-signed memorial of the inhabitants of the locality to the Government of Sir Edward Baker and received the stereotyped reply that the memorial would receive sympathetic consideration.

Thereafter, on the 26th April, 1910, Maharaja Sir Pradyot Kumar Tagore, as Secretary to the British Indian Association, addressed a letter to the Hon'ble Mr. T. Butler, the then Secretary to the Government of Bengal, Public Works Department, in which he requested that the scheme of Mr. Horn might be given effect to by making a weir at the Begua Hana and connecting the Kana Nadi with the Rupnarayan at Bakshi by cutting a small canal and, in reply, the Maharaja received a letter from Mr. Butler (No. 162 T.—I., dated the 2nd May, 1910) to the effect that the subject was under the consideration of the Government.

The Resolution which was moved by the Hon'ble Dr. Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari in March, 1913, and the reply, which was given by the Hon'ble Mr. Lyon, must be fresh in the memory of Your Lordship and of most of the Hon'ble Members of this Council.

My Lord, the losses and sufferings of the people who have the misfortune of living in this part of the country, situated so close to Calcutta, were brought to the knowledge of everybody most vividly by the harrowing tales of woe and misery which appeared in the newspapers after the last disastrous flood, as also from official documents and reports of District Officers.

The attention of Government and of the public was so pointedly directed to the ravages of the last flood because there were breaches in the eastern embankment and the town of Burdwan was flooded and the railway line was breached, resulting in the stoppage of railway communication from Calcutta to Asansol by the East Indian Railway for more than a week. But for these so much would not have been heard about it. Every fourth year we who live in this utterly-neglected part of Bengal are subjected to miseries and losses only a little less in degree, but not much notice is taken of them. Every year some families from a number of villages are leaving their hearths and homes and removing farther west in consequence of their paddy lands having been rendered permanently unculturable and their homes having become uninhabitable. Raiyats are surrendering their holdings and the unfortunate patnidars are throwing up their patnis and thus every year some patnis are put up to sale under Regulation VIII of 1819, and, there being naturally no purchaser, the Maharaja of Burdwan is obliged to buy them in and to take them under his khas management at a loss. These facts must be well known to Government.

For more than half a century we have been suffering without any remedy, and each year our sufferings are being aggravated.

Government, it is true, have all along been considering what measures to adopt, but up to now nothing tangible has been done and the people have been driven to the verge of despair.

A vast amount of literature has grown up round the subject and the Government have from time to time prepared schemes and, almost immediately after, given them up either on the score of expense or on some other ground and the unfortunate people are left to their fate.

It appears from the Hon'ble Mr. Lyon's speech in March last year, in reply to the Resolution moved by Dr. Sarbadhikari, that the matter was under the consideration of Government engineers for a quarter of a century, and surveys have been made and plans prepared in sufficient number. Recently, through the valuable and instructive report of Sir Edward Buck Government is in possession of all the facts of the Italian system of Bonificazione, which, shortly, consists in training or harnessing the rivers, as it is called, and compelling them to deepen their own channels and at the same time to raise the level of the land on either side.

My Lord, it is high time that something was done to put an end to our sufferings. No half-hearted and halting palliative measures will meet the requirements of the grave situation which has come into existence. The evil must be eradicated root and branch.

The Hon'ble Mr. Lyon, in March last year, referred to a scheme of making a huge reservoir in the catchment area of the river in the hills far to the north, which, according to the distinguished engineers, Mr. Horn and the late Mr. Maconchy, was the only really possible and effective solution of the problem; but this scheme was summarily brushed aside on the score of expense, as it was estimated to cost between 32 and 40 lakhs of rupees.

My Lord, a great and prosperous Government like ours ought not to shrink from any measure which would undoubtedly promote the health and prosperity of about 800 villages, with a population of about 4 lakhs, on the score of expense. When it is considered that the scheme of Messrs. Horn and Maconchy would not only prevent the floods but also improve the sanitation of the area and make the Damodar river navigable throughout or for the greater part of the year, and that above all these it would remove all future danger of breaches on the left or east bank, like those which occurred in August last, the question of expense ought not to be allowed to stand in the way. It appears from Sir Edward Buck's report that Italy has spent in 42 years 42 millions sterling in the beneficent system of river training which has banished malaria from Italy and vastly increased the value of land. I refuse to believe that our highly-qualified and therefore highly-paid engineers, with all their previous experience and the complete information of the Italian system now at their disposal, cannot devise a scheme for training a small river like the Begua, only 30 miles in length. Of course any really effective scheme must be more or less expensive; but expense should not, as I have already said, stand in the way.

It is well known and it also appears from the speech of the Hon'ble Mr. Lyon in Council in March last that the people living on the west bank of the Damodar have been sacrificed for the protection of the East Indian Railway, the Port of Calcutta and, latterly, of the Bengal-Nagpur Railway. Surely it is but reason and justice that the East Indian Railway Company, the Calcutta Port Trust and the Bengal-Nagpur Railway Company, all rich and prosperous corporations, should be made to materially contribute towards the cost of relieving us from our distress. These contributions will be nothing more than long-due arrears of premia for their insurance against damages by the action of the river Damodar. Every commercial house pays for insurance of its property and there is no reason why the East Indian Railway, the Bengal-Nagpur Railway and the Port Trust should not pay for ensuring theirs.

I have already stated that since 1809 the Government has been receiving Rs. 60,001 sicca every year from the Maharaja of Burdwan and the proprietors of parganas Mandalghat and Chetua for the avowed object of protecting the country on both sides of the Damodar from floods by keeping the embankments on both sides in repairs. Of this sum of Rs. 60,001 sicca, Rs. 25,000 sicca at least may fairly be claimed for the embankment on the west side which was removed in 1855. The people living on the west side of the river may justly claim that the Government is their trustee for the sum of Rs. 25,000 sicca which they have received from their zamindar every year for the last 60 or 55 years. This sum without interest comes up to Rs. 13,75,000 sicca or nearly 15 lakhs in Company's rupees, and with compound interest at 4 per cent. with half-yearly interest comes up to over 48 lakhs in sicca and over 51 lakhs in Company's rupees, and we can in justice, equity and good conscience demand that this large sum should be spent in devising and carrying out measures to prevent the disastrous floods. Perhaps I shall be told that the Government are spending the whole of Rs. 57,320-8-6 which it annually receives from the Burdwan Estate or more in keeping the eastern embankment alone in repairs; but that does not take away a jot from the justice and strength of the claim of the people living on the west side that about half of the sum should have been spent and now the accumulations for the last 60 years should be spent for their benefit. A bargain is a bargain, whether it is profitable or not, and Government cannot say that because it is not profitable they will fulfil only half of it and not the whole. This large sum and the contributions which we may fairly and justly claim from the East Indian Railway and the Bengal-Nagpur Railway Companies and the Calcutta Port Trust will more than suffice to meet the cost of any works for the betterment of our miserable condition.

Even if there were no funds over which we had any special claim, the Government are bound to protect the lives and property of the people from floods out of the general revenues. It is a duty more urgent and important than the duty of protecting the people from thieves and dacoits, for they only rob the comparatively rich at irregular times, while the cruel Damodar knows no such distinction and goes on in its work of ruin and devastation with almost clock-work regularity. If the engineers are not hampered by considerations of expense, an efficient scheme will be readily forthcoming; and there is already the scheme of Messrs. Horn and Maconchy of a huge reservoir in the catchment area ready to hand. Half of the sum of Rs. 57,320-8-6, maintenance charge, which the Government will continue to receive from the Burdwan Raj Estate, together with annual contributions, i.e., premia, for their insurance, from the Railway Companies, and the Port Trust, will, I venture to think, more than meet the yearly maintenance charge of any works that may be undertaken.

Your Lordship and the Hon'ble Members will see from what I have stated that we have suffered in health and substance too long and we ought not to suffer any longer.

My Lord, if anything is to be done it ought to be done as quickly as possible; else what with floods, malaria, and the other diseases consequent on the floods, very few will be left to benefit by a perfect scheme which may be devised in the distant future. Let it not be said in the words of Sadi:—'By the time the antidote comes from Irak, the person bitten by the snake will have died.'

My Lord, if measures be adopted during Your Excellency's administration to improve our miserable lot, your memory will for ever live enshrined in the grateful breasts of hundreds of thousands of contented and happy people and their prayers will go up to the feet of the throne of our Almighty and Merciful Father for your long life, health and happiness.

With these words, my Lord, I commend the Resolution to the acceptance of the Council and I hope the Government will accept it as they have been anxious for the past few years to alleviate our distress."

The Hon'ble MAHARAJADHIRAJA BAHADUR OF BURDWAN said:—

"My Lord, the subject-matter of the Resolution is one in which the Burdwan Raj is naturally deeply interested, and what the Hon'ble Maulvi Mazharul Anwar Chaudhuri has said regarding the distress of the people on the west side of the river Damodar is perfectly true. While on this subject I cannot help thinking that my ancestors were very wise in handing over the maintenance of the embankment to Government, for I would not like to have been in their position myself to-day. While stating that, I must, however, put forward a strong appeal on behalf of the inhabitants of the west bank of the river Damodar, a large number of whom happen to be tenants of the Burdwan Raj, for their condition is certainly not an enviable one. I am not an expert; therefore, I am not in a position to put before Your Excellency and Your Excellency's Government either the scheme of Mr. Horn or Mr. Maconchy. What, however, I do advocate and advocate strongly is that, if the protection of the inhabitants on the west bank of the Damodar has to be secured, it should be done without delay, and the Government must prepare themselves to lay out a very large sum which alone can alleviate the present distress. The answer, of course, that we may expect—and not an entirely unjustifiable one on the part of the Government—is that the cost of such a scheme would seem to be at present prohibitive. But if the cost be prohibitive, is it right on the part of Government to go on holding out promises that schemes are under consideration? Would it not be better to speak out once for all and say that the scheme is an impossible one?

Another thing, my Lord, that I should like to point out in this connection is that a good deal has been said by the Hon'ble Maulvi M. Anwar Chaudhuri regarding the condition of the people after the floods of the river Damodar in August last. Of course, it was an exceptional occurrence, and we all hope that we may not live to see another disaster like that. But the point is, as I said or rather hinted at in my speech delivered at the Town Hall when we met to raise money for relieving the distressed—at which meeting your Lordship presided,—that the people had begun to lose confidence in Government in the way the existing embankments were being maintained. And only very recently I have had good authority on which I can say that the repairs that have been done to the eastern embankment after the floods have not been done properly. This is a matter to which I beg to draw Your Excellency's attention.

Another point is this—whether the Railway Company should be made to pay for the benefit that they have derived all these years. I do not wish to bring it forward here, but if there are to be more railways, whether grand chords or small chords, the Government should see that adequate viaducts and adequate waterways are kept when the railway line is put up, for it was very clearly shown during the recent floods that the Burdwan town would have been in a worse plight had not the railway viaducts and the railway openings given way. The Railway authorities have been, as is well known, on the quiet, closing up a great many openings for reasons best known to themselves.

All that I wish to point out is this. Whether it be a settled policy on the part of the Government to abandon the western embankment of the Damodar or not is a matter of which the Government is the best person to judge, but whatever embankments we have to protect, or whatever protective measures have to be commenced, they should be done well and early; and it should be seen that the embankments now in existence are kept in proper order, and that steps for the alleviation of the distressed on the western side of the Damodar be taken up at an early date.

With these few words, my Lord, I beg to support the general principles underlying the Resolution of my hon'ble friend."

The Hon'ble Mr. FINNIMORE said :—

"I have listened with very great interest to the speeches of the Hon'ble Mover of this Resolution and of the Hon'ble Maharaja of Burdwan. The question raised by the Resolution is one of considerable importance, and has the sympathy of Government. The abandonment of the embankments on the western side of the river was not done without very careful consideration at the time it was done. Considerable discussion took place at that time, and it was only after the matter had been very carefully investigated by the engineers at the time that this proposal was adopted. It is hardly necessary for me to go further into the ancient history of the case, and I pass on to the investigation made by Mr. Horn in 1902, when he went very carefully into the question and submitted a very able report in which the situation was very carefully summed up. This investigation showed that the only effective remedy was to hold up the floods of the Damodar by the construction of a huge reservoir, the cost of which was estimated by him at 1½ crore of rupees, not Rs. 32,00,000, as stated by the Hon'ble Mover of this Resolution. It was then decided that the benefits which would accrue from the expenditure of that large sum of money would not be compensated for by the advantages provided. Mr. Horn's conclusions were summed up at the end of his report, and he came to the conclusion that the only practical proposition, after considering the question of reservoirs, was the training of the Begua river. In Mr. Horn's report various suggestions were made as to the best way of training this river, and an estimate was subsequently prepared for a dam at the Begua Breach which was sanctioned by Government for a cost of Rs. 4,20,000. As may be imagined, the effect of this dam had to be very carefully considered and, before this large expenditure was incurred, we had an investigation made by Mr. Nethersole, the Inspector-General of Irrigation in India, who was here last year. He made an investigation as to the probable effect of this dam, but he expressed an opinion which was very much against it; in fact, he condemned it entirely. I will read what he said about it :—

'After discussing the question with the officers concerned, I am of opinion that success is doubtful and the expense not justified. The Damodar is at a much higher level than the flooded tract and nothing short of continuous bunding of the right bank, which was deliberately abandoned years ago, would be effective in keeping out the floods. Flooding of the tract would probably be as heavy by spills farther down as they are via the Begua, while the effect of such heavy scouring of the contracted Damodar channel might very probably enhance the "James and Mary" shoal in the Hooghly.

In the circumstances I do not recommend the proposals for sanction, but would suggest that the setting-back the congested bunds on the Baxi khal and constructing a low-level drain with tidal sluices to discharge into the Damodar in its tidal reach will probably afford the necessary relief to the stagnant floods much earlier and more economically. These modified proposals are, I think, worth investigation.

After that recommendation of Mr. Nethersole was received, investigations have been going on. Mr. Addams-Williams, one of our most expert engineers, is now engaged in these investigations, and we are now awaiting his report. The opportunity was taken of Mr. Nethersole's presence here this year for him to again inspect the locality after last year's flood, and I will read what he says as a result of that inspection :—

I had the advantage of inspecting a part of the Damodar river and the tract of the country flooded by it during my investigation last year and I then formed an opinion on the general question of the best policy to pursue regarding flood banks of this river. Nothing in the last flood of 1913, which appears to have been a record one, alters the opinion I then formed. Indeed, on the contrary it confirms it. The case moreover, has been very carefully investigated by several other engineers in the past, and I may say that the whole weight of the opinion of officers who have examined or considered this case is solid. I, therefore, only need record here briefly the general policy based on that opinion which has in the past been laid down and which should be adhered to :—

- (1) The maintenance of the left bank is obligatory and it should be maintained in a thoroughly efficient state and raised and strengthened where recent experience has shown that it was too low or too weak.
- (2) The right bank should not be protected and it would be advisable in my opinion to open out all spills which were closed when the right bank protection was formerly attempted.
- (3) It is, I consider, inadvisable to create spills on the left bank. Works necessary for this would be expensive, and I doubt whether it could be shown to be in any sense efficient in proportion to the certain great cost.
- (4) It is desirable to give all relief possible to the exit of flood-water at the lower end of the spill area. The construction in the Baxi embankments, to which I drew attention in my last year's note, was very pointedly proved by observed differences of levels above and below this point during the last floods, and there can be no doubt about the importance of opening out this out-fall to clear floods more quickly than at present, as well as, to some extent, to moderate the flood-levels.

Since then Mr. Addams-Williams has been going on with his investigations, and we are now awaiting the results of those investigations. I think it will be rather premature now to come to any definite decision as to what should be done, that is to say, to commit ourselves to any definite line of policy, either to make a big reservoir in the hills or to carry out this opening-out of the bunds lower down. This must depend, I think, entirely on the result of Mr. Addams-Williams's report. It may be quite possible that the expense in connection with the opening-out of the bunds may be very much less than that of a reservoir in the hills, and if that were the case it might be the better plan; I think it will be premature now to commit ourselves to the Resolution, that is to say, that an effectual remedy should be found at once. It is an extremely large question and has engaged our attention for many years. It has the full sympathy of Government, and we are doing all we can to meet the difficulty. After all, it must be remembered that what has happened is a natural process. You have the rivers coming down from the hills laden with silt. The natural effect will be for them to spread out and raise the ground on either side. If you make continuous embankments, you have the river confined within those embankments and the bed of the river gradually rising above the countries outside, and when the time comes when a breach occurs in those embankments, the result will be very much greater damage than if you allowed the river to spread out on either side. We are committed to the present state of affairs, and we have to deal with it as best we can. I would therefore strongly advise that we should await the result of Mr. Addams-Williams's investigations, and Government are fully prepared to do what they can to meet the situation. They quite realise the difficulties which the inhabitants in that area are now put to and, having full sympathy with them, will do all they can to mitigate the evils; and I trust that with this assurance the Mover of the Resolution will withdraw it."

The Hon'ble MAULVI MAZHARUL ANWAR CHAUDHURI said :—

"My Lord, I never proposed that the Government should commit themselves to any particular scheme. My object in moving this Resolution was simply to request the Government to do as quickly as possible what they had been promising for a very long time; but, in view of what has fallen from the Hon'ble Mr. Finnimore, I accept the assurance of the Government that they are considering schemes for the alleviation of our distress; and in these circumstances I beg to withdraw my Resolution."

The Resolution was then, by leave of the President, withdrawn.

List of Business—Item No. 9.—The Hon'ble Nawab Syed Nawab Ali Chaudhuri said :

"My Lord, I beg that, with Your Excellency's permission, the Resolution which stands in my name may be postponed till a later date."

The discussion of the following Resolution was thereupon, by leave of the President, postponed.

THE HON'BLE NAWAB SAYYID NAWAB ALI CHAUDHURI, KHAN BAHADUR, to move the following Resolution :—

This Council recommends to the Governor in Council that an expert committee, consisting of officials and non-officials and presided over by the Director of Public Instruction, be appointed to formulate definite recommendations to Government for the furtherance and spread of Muhammadan education in this Presidency, such committee to be representative of Muhammadan interests throughout the Presidency and to be assisted by the Special Officer in charge of Muhammadan Education as secretary.

Calcutta Hospital.

III.—Will the Government be pleased to state what steps (if any) have been taken to remedy the general inadequacy of the Calcutta Eye Hospital to which the attention of Government was called by a letter from the European Association, dated the 3rd November, 1913?

The following answer by the Hon'ble MR. STEPHENSON was laid on the table :—

"A new and up-to-date Eye Hospital attached to the Medical College is admittedly desirable, and proposals for building such a hospital are now before Government. But, in view of the heavy expenditure involved, the project must wait till funds can be provided. The specific remedial measures suggested in the letter referred to by the Hon'ble Member were that bathrooms should be erected for European patients and the nursing staff, that the wards should be partitioned by means of movable wooden screens and that a specially-qualified nurse should be appointed for the Operating Theatre. Government are advised that bathrooms for the nursing staff are not necessary, as this staff lives in the Nurses' quarters and that it is not desirable to partition the wards as ventilation would thereby be impeded. As regards bathrooms for European patients, the Hospital authorities report that the Hospital was never designed for European patients and that it cannot now be satisfactorily adapted to suit their requirements. The necessary structural alterations would be expensive and unsatisfactory, and they do not, therefore, recommend that anything should be done in this respect in the present Hospital. The question of a nurse for the Operating Theatre is under consideration."

LEGISLATIVE BUSINESS.

LIST OF BUSINESS—ITEM No. 2.

THE BENGAL MEDICAL BILL, 1914.

THE Hon'ble Mr. Stephenson presented the Report of the Select Committee on the Bengal Medical Bill, 1914.

He said :—

My Lord, I beg to present the Report of the Select Committee on the Bengal Medical Bill. I do not propose to discuss in detail the alterations we have made which are fully explained in our Report, but perhaps I may be allowed to refer shortly to the alteration made in clause 27 inasmuch as there is still a very great deal of misapprehension as to the certificates mentioned in that clause. We have made it perhaps a little clearer that the certificates concerned are only those which are required to be given by an Act of the Legislature and further only those which are so required to be given by a medical practitioner. The ordinary medical certificates which are required for the purposes of obtaining leave or exemption from attendance in a Court of Justice or certificates of birth or death are not affected by this clause. I have had a fairly systematic search made through our Acts and, though I am not prepared to say that the list is absolutely exhaustive, the following are, as far as I have been able to ascertain, the only certificates which an unregistered practitioner will not be able to grant. I leave aside those certificates which are required to be given by a medical officer appointed by Government because they are not directly affected by this clause inasmuch as it may be taken that Government will not appoint in such case an unregistered practitioner. Under the Lepers Act of 1898, an unregistered practitioner cannot be an Inspector and therefore will not be able to certify that a patient is suffering from leprosy. Under the Assam Labour Act of 1901, he will not be able to give a valid certificate of fitness for labour in the case of intended emigrants. Under the Indian Factories Act and the Indian Mines Act, a certificate that a worker is over 12 years will not be accepted from an unregistered practitioner. Under the Lunacy Act of 1912, he will not be able to certify that the patient is a lunatic. Under the Bengal Vaccination Act, he will not be able to certify that a child is unfit for vaccination or is immune; nor can he give a certificate of successful vaccination. Under the Inoculation Act, he cannot certify that a person who has been inoculated is free from infection. These are, as far as my researches go, the only certificates which this Bill will debar an unregistered practitioner from giving, and I think the Council will agree that the apprehension that this clause will impose unjustifiable hardship and expense on the poorer classes of the community is not well founded, and I trust that this explanation will remove the misconception which is at the back of a great deal of the opposition which still remains to the Bill.

THE AMENDED DRAFT FINANCIAL STATEMENT.

LIST OF BUSINESS—ITEM No. 3.

THE Hon'ble Sir William Duke presented the amended draft Financial Statement for Bengal for 1914-15.

AMENDED DRAFT FINANCIAL STATEMENT, BENGAL, 1914-15.

PART I.—General Review.

(1) ACCOUNTS FOR 1912-13.

In the revised estimate for 1912-13 which was laid before the Council on the 26th March 1913, the receipts of the year were taken at Rs. 7,12,53,000 and the charges at Rs. 5,95,55,000, while the anticipated closing balance was Rs. 2,83,23,000. The accounts of 1912-13 as finally closed show that the actual receipts amounted to Rs. 7,16,53,401 and the charges to Rs. 5,69,48,131, and the closing balance was Rs. 3,13,30,270. The receipts were thus better by Rs. 4,00,401, this improvement having occurred chiefly under Land Revenue Adjustments (Rs. 1,32,885) for the cost of forms for the Assam Administration; Excise (Rs. 2,59,045) owing to better settlement of shops and consequent larger advance collections in March 1913, and Miscellaneous (Rs. 1,36,339) on account of larger lapse of deposits. The actual charges were less by Rs. 26,06,869, chiefly under the following heads: Land Revenue (Rs. 1,26,872) owing to smaller expenditure on the improvement of Government Estates; Courts of Law (Rs. 1,65,600) as the expenditure under Civil and Sessions Courts and Mufussal law charges was smaller than anticipated; Police (Rs. 1,55,141) as the grant for police reforms and river police was not fully utilized; Ports and Pilotage (Rs. 1,15,991) due to larger recoveries by the Agent for Government Consignments, which are taken in reduction of expenditure; Education (Rs. 2,92,171) on account of short expenditure from Imperial grants; Miscellaneous (Rs. 1,31,390) owing to the transfer of the lump provision from this head to meet the charges for grain compensation allowance to the respective Departments; Civil Works in charge of the Public Works Department (Rs. 7,78,245) chiefly on account of lapses of grants for land acquisition for the extension of the Presidency College and School of Tropical Medicine, Calcutta, and lastly under Civil Works in charge of Civil officers (Rs. 7,13,616) owing to non-utilization of the full amount provided for expenditure on sanitation.

(2) REVISED ESTIMATE, 1913-14.

2. The revised estimate for 1913-14, as now passed, on the basis of the actuals of the first nine, and in some cases ten, months of the current year, is compared below with the sanctioned estimate for the year:—

	Sanctioned estimate.	Revised estimate.	Better (+) or worse (—).
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
Opening balance ..	2,83,23,000	3,13,30,000	+30,07,000

Closing balance ...	1,93,70,000	3,04,30,000	+1,10,60,000

3. The increase under adjustments is due to the additional assignments from Imperial to Provincial Revenues as well as to other changes shown below :—

	Rs.	Rs.
Add—
Recurring Imperial grant to the Church Missionary Society College, Calcutta ... ..	6,000
Recurring Imperial grant for the improvement of female education...	30,000

	<hr/>	1,16,000
		96,000

4. The principal fluctuations under the Revenue heads are noticed briefly below. The improvements aggregate Rs. 27,27,000, and are chiefly under the following heads :—

Stamps—(Rs. 1,00,000), due to larger sale of stamps chiefly in Calcutta and principally on account of high prices ruling in the jute trade.

Excise—(Rs. 13,45,000), due to increase in license fees obtained in the settlement of shops and to higher rates of duty on ganja and country spirit which came into effect from April 1913.

Assessed Taxes—(Rs. 4,50,000), owing to a general increase in trade profits.

Forests—(Rs. 2,50,000), due to sale of timber previously extracted in Buxa, to the expansion of fuel trade in Kurseong and to better prices obtained for timber in Buxa and Chittagong.

Registration—(Rs. 70,000), due to the increase in the number of registrations.

Courts of Law—(Rs. 1,02,000), due to larger receipts from magisterial fines and from court-fees realized in cash.

Jails—(Rs. 67,000), due to larger sale of manufactured articles.

Scientific and other Minor Departments—(Rs. 87,000), due to larger sale of quinine.

Miscellaneous—(Rs. 87,000), due chiefly to anticipated lapse of deposits at the close of the year and partly to the sale of land to the Railway at Chittagong and to the realization of larger audit fees on the completion of arrear audits.

Under the following heads, on the other hand, the revenue fell off, the total decrease being Rs. 4,09,000.

Land Revenue—(Rs. 1,49,000), on account of suspensions in the districts of Midnapore and Hooghly owing to floods.

Ports and Pilotage—(Rs. 1,60,000), chiefly under Pilotage receipts owing to decrease in the number of vessels.

Irrigation—Minor Works and Navigation—(Rs. 59,000); due to a falling off in the receipts of the Madaripore Bhil Route, on account of concessions granted to passenger steamers and in the Calcutta and Eastern canals on account of storms and a smaller traffic in rice and jute.

5. On the expenditure side the revised estimate shows a total decrease of Rs. 71,46,000, which is mainly accounted for under the following heads :—

Land Revenue—(Rs. 84,000), due to larger savings in the grant under salaries, and larger recoveries for partition work.

Excise—(Rs. 40,000), due to the lapse of the provision for reorganization of the department.

Police—(Rs. 1,74,000), due to the lump provisions for Police reforms and river police reorganization being only partially utilized.

Education—(Rs. 49,78,000), due to savings in the Imperial grants.

Medical—(Rs. 12,01,000), due to savings in the Imperial grants for Sanitation, and Medical relief and to the provision for the School of Tropical Medicine being only partially spent.

Scientific and other Minor Departments—(Rs. 1,81,000), due to savings in the grants of the Agricultural Department and Botanic gardens and also in the Imperial grant for Agriculture and allied objects.

Miscellaneous—(Rs. 2,37,000), due to the adjustment to the appropriate heads of the grants made by His Excellency, and to the transfer of charges for grain allowance to the different departments by reappropriation from the lump provision made under this head.

Civil works in charge of the Civil Department—(Rs. 1,90,000), due to the transfer of the grant to the Chittagong Port to the head Ports and Pilotage and also to savings in the grant for works of sanitary improvement.

On the other hand there will be a total increase in expenditure of Rs. 15,07,000 of which the most noticeable instances are :—

General Administration—(Rs. 1,52,000), due to larger expenditure on His Excellency's tour, initial expenditure on books and furniture for Council Library and to larger expenditure in the Civil Secretariat and Executive Council.

Courts of Law—(Rs. 3,43,000), due to larger expenditure for counsel's fees in connection with the Barisal conspiracy case and to larger expenditure under both Civil and Criminal Courts.

Jails—(Rs. 1,97,000), due to larger expenditure under rations and for purchase of raw materials.

Ports and Pilotage—(Rs. 62,000), owing to the adjustment of the grant to the Chittagong Port under this head.

Superannuation—(Rs. 87,000), due to the special charges for commuted value of pensions.

Irrigation—Major Works—(Rs. 33,000), due to cost of silt clearance in Range II and Gewankhally supply channel of the Hijili Tidal Canal.

Irrigation—Minor Works and Navigation—(Rs. 64,000), due to expenditure for flood damage repairs.

Civil Works in charge of the Public Works Department—(Rs. 3,70,000), due to additional grant for land acquisition charges for the school of Tropical medicine and extension of the Presidency College.

6. The net result of these changes is that the closing balance for 1913-14, including the sum of 20 lakhs held in trust for the Calcutta Improvement Scheme, which was estimated in March last at Rs. 1,93,70,000 is now estimated to amount to Rs. 3,04,30,000.

(3) BUDGET ESTIMATE, 1914-15.

7. The opening balance of 1914-15 is the closing balance of 1913-14 and is, therefore, Rs. 3,04,30,000.

8. The estimates for the year, as provisionally approved by the Government of India, adopt Rs. 6,26,95,000 as receipts and Rs. 7,35,93,000 as expenditure and a closing balance of Rs. 1,95,32,000. Out of the special grant of 50 lakhs for the Calcutta Improvement Scheme, which has appeared in the accounts since 1903-04, thirty lakhs have already been paid to the Improvement Trust and ten lakhs will be paid in 1914-15. Of the estimated closing balance the following are earmarked :—

	Rs.
Minimum balance ... ..	20,00,000
Calcutta Improvement Trust ... ..	10,00,000
Balance of discretionary grant ... ..	5,00,000
Provision promised for dredger in 1914-15 ...	5,00,000
Reorganization of Subordinate Police and River Police in Eastern Bengal (non-recurring) ...	10,50,000
Secondary Education (Not utilized) ... ..	93,000
Popular Education ( Ditto ) ... ..	27,000

Ditto in Calcutta ... ..	60,000
Non-recurring grant of 1912-13 out of 75 lakhs ...	27,05,000
Old non-recurring grant ... ..	2,81,000
Probable savings in the budget provision for Imperial grants of the Education Department for the year 1914-15 ... ..	5,00,000
Non-recurring grant of 1912-13 for Sanitation out of 20 lakhs ... ..	13,25,000
Old non-recurring grant ... ..	1,50,000
Probable savings in the budget provision for Sanitary grant for the year 1914-15 ... ..	10,00,000
Bengal Government contribution for the construction of Ranchi Lunatic Asylum ...	25,00,000
Amount earmarked for provincial equipment of the three years 1915-16 to 1917-18 ...	24,00,000
Total ... ..	1,69,36,000

This leaves a free balance of (Rs. 1,95,32,000—1,69,36,000=) Rs. 25,96,000 which is available for new expenditure in the near future and is not too large a sum to keep in reserve.

9. The total estimated charges for 1914-15 amount to Rs. 7,35,93,000 which is in excess of the income by Rs. 1,08,98,000, owing mainly to the following provisions :—

	Rs.	Rs.
Education—
Lump provision for non-recurring expenditure out of the Imperial grant made in 1910-11 ... ..	5,11,000
Non-recurring grant for the construction of hostels outside Calcutta and Dacca ... ..	2,17,000
Non-recurring grant for the construction of hostels in Calcutta ... ..	8,70,000

RECEIPTS.

11. Land Revenue.—The total collections in 1912-13 amounted to Rs. 2,79,87,156, and the estimate for 1914-15, as provisionally passed by the Government of India, is Rs. 2,96,64,000, against Rs. 2,80,42,000, the revised estimate for 1913-14. 		7,64,000

The net assignment from Imperial Revenues is Rs. 65,48,000—7,64,000 = Rs. 57,84,000.

14. Stamps.—The Budget estimate of the total revenue from Stamps for 1913-14 was passed by the Government of India for Rs. 2,14,00,000. The actuals in 1912-13 amounted to Rs. 2,07,43,853, and those of the first nine months of 1913-14 exclusive of receipts under the Calcutta Improvement Act, exceeded the figures of the corresponding period of the preceding year by Rs. 7,17,000. In view of these figures, and allowing for the adjustment of receipts from the sale of unified stamps between the Postal and the Stamp Departments, the revised estimate for 1913-14 has been passed for Rs. 2,16,00,000. Allowing for a progressive increase of 7 lakhs the estimate for 1914-15 has been placed at Rs. 2,23,00,000. The Provincial share is one-half, and amounts to Rs. 1,08,00,000 for 1913-14, and Rs. 1,11,50,000 for 1914-15.

15. Excise.—The total collections under this head in 1912-13 amounted to Rs. 1,37,59,045 and the estimate for 1913-14 was passed by the Government of India for Rs. 1,38,55,000. The actuals of the first ten months of 1913-14 exceeded those of the corresponding period of last year by Rs. 13,84,000 and the revised estimate for 1913-14 has been passed for

Rs. 1,52,00,000. The increase is chiefly due to higher license fees obtained in the settlement of shops in February and March 1913 and also partly to the increase in the rate of duty on country spirits. There will be no settlement in Calcutta this year, and it is expected that the raising of duty will diminish the receipts from the consumption of liquor; as steps are being taken to check the consumption of opium and charas, it is thought inadvisable to provide for an increase of more than 3 lakhs in the estimate for next year. The budget estimate for 1914-15 has accordingly been placed at Rs. 1,55,00,000.

16. Provincial Rates.—The collections from Public Works Cess are now being surrendered to District Boards. Under General Rates for the management of Private Estates, the estimate of receipts for 1914-15 is Rs. 1,18,000 against Rs. 1,23,000 the revised estimate for 1913-14 and Rs. 1,06,144, the actuals of 1912-13.

17. Assessed Taxes.—The receipts from Income-tax for 1913-14 were estimated at Rs. 56,00,000. The actual collections in 1912-13 amounted to Rs. 55,51,652, while those in the first ten months of 1913-14 exceeded the figures of the corresponding period of last year by Rs. 9,25,000, and the revised estimate for 1913-14 has been placed at Rs. 65,00,000. The large increase in ten months was due to some of the Coal and Jute Companies and most of the Banks having shown large increases in their profits. In view of the unusual increase in 1913-14 it is not expected that the receipts in 1914-15 will be as high as in 1913-14 and the estimate has been placed at Rs. 61,00,000. The Provincial share is one-half and amounts to Rs. 30,50,000.

18. Forests.—The budget estimate for 1913-14 was Rs. 14,00,000 against Rs. 16,00,601, the actuals of 1912-13. The actual collections in the first ten months of 1913-14 show an increase of Rs. 1,27,000. The revised estimate for 1913-14 has been placed at Rs. 16,50,000. The increase over the budget is due to sale of timber previously extracted in Buxa where departmental extraction was given up and to expansion of the fuel trade in Kurseong and to the receipt of better sale prices than anticipated for timber in Buxa and Chittagong. The estimate for 1914-15 has been passed for Rs. 16,00,000.

19. Registration.—The receipts under this head for 1913-14 were estimated at Rs. 19,00,000. The actuals in 1912-13 amounted to Rs. 18,23,161, while the collections in the first nine months of 1913-14 show an increase of Rs. 1,24,000 as compared with those of the corresponding period of the preceding year. In view of these figures the revised estimate for 1913-14 has been placed at Rs. 19,70,000 and allowing for a normal increase of Rs. 80,000 the estimate for 1914-15 has been passed for Rs. 20,50,000.

20. Interest.—The estimate of loans, as submitted to the Government of India, provides for a return in the way of interest during 1914-15 of Rs. 4,87,000 as shown below :—

	Rs.
Interest on advances to cultivators, etc. ...	62,000
"    "    "    Co-operative Credit Societies ...	3,000
"    "    "    drainage and embankment advances ...	14,000
"    "    "    loans to landholders ...	1,71,000
"    "    "    to municipalities and district
Boards, etc. ...	2,20,000
Miscellaneous ...	14,000
Total ...	4,87,000

21. Law and Justice—Courts of Law.—The total collections under this head amounted to Rs. 8,14,901 and the estimate for 1913-14 was passed by the Government of India for Rs. 7,65,000. The actuals of the first nine months of 1913-14 show an increase of Rs. 40,000 over those of the corresponding period of the previous year and the revised estimate for 1913-14 has been passed for Rs. 8,67,000. The increase is chiefly due to unusually large receipts from Magisterial fines. The estimate for 1914-15 is Rs. 8,95,000.

22. Jails.—The actuals in 1912-13 amounted to Rs. 7,03,353 while the receipts in the first nine months of 1913-14 show an increase of Rs. 31,000

over those of the corresponding period of last year chiefly for larger cash sales of manufactured articles. The budget estimate for 1913-14 has accordingly been raised from Rs. 6,59,000 to Rs. 7,26,000 in the revised estimate and the estimate for 1914-15 has been passed for Rs. 7,23,000.

23. Police.—The budget estimate for 1913-14 was Rs. 1,62,000. This has been raised to Rs. 1,65,000 in the revised estimate with reference to the actuals of the first nine months of the current year. The estimate for 1914-15 is Rs. 1,77,000.

24. Ports and Pilotage.—The budget estimate for 1913-14 was Rs. 18,00,000. This has been reduced to Rs. 16,40,000 in the revised estimate with reference to the actuals of the first nine months of the year which show a decrease of Rs. 75,000 as compared with the figures for the corresponding period of last year. The decrease is under pilotage receipts and is due to a reduction in the number of vessels entering and leaving the Calcutta port, and specially to a certain number of vessels entering and leaving the port in ballast, thus affecting the earnings, as such vessels are of a draught much less than that of vessels clearing with cargo. In view of the increase in the Pilotage receipts in the past, the estimate for 1914-15 has been passed for Rs. 17,16,000 against Rs. 16,95,556, the actuals of 1911-12 and Rs. 17,52,191 the actuals of 1912-13.

25. Education.—The Budget estimate for 1913-14 was Rs. 7,51,000. This has been raised to Rs. 8,15,000 in the revised estimates, with reference to the actuals of the first nine months of the year. The improvement is mainly due to increases in fees from Government Colleges and Schools—General. The estimate for 1914-15 is Rs. 8,62,000.

26. Medical.—The Budget estimate for 1913-14 was Rs. 3,76,000 against Rs. 4,26,733, the actuals of 1912-13. The actuals of 1912-13 include Rs. 50,000 credited as a special contribution from the Indian Research Fund Association, for carrying out experiments in jungle-clearing in suitable localities. The actual collections in the current year, however, show increases chiefly under Medical College fees and under medicine sold by Civil Surgeons and the revised estimate for 1913-14 has been passed for Rs. 4,00,000. The estimate for 1914-15 is Rs. 3,97,000.

27. Scientific and other Minor Departments.—The estimate for 1913-14 was Rs. 2,26,000 against Rs. 2,17,931 the actuals of 1912-13. The collections from the sale of quinine and cinchona in the first eight months amounted to Rs. 1,07,000 against Rs. 21,000 in the corresponding period of the previous year. The revised estimate under this sub-head has been raised from Rs. 1,07,000 to Rs. 2,00,000 and the total estimate under this head has been raised from Rs. 2,26,000 to Rs. 3,13,000. The estimate for 1914-15 has been placed at Rs. 2,72,000 as it is not expected that the demand for quinine in that year will be as high as in 1913-14.

28. Receipts in aid of superannuation.—The estimate for 1913-14 was Rs. 42,000, but in the revised estimate this has been reduced to Rs. 38,000 in view of the actual collections of the first nine months of the year. The estimate for 1914-15 has been placed at Rs. 39,000.

29. Stationery and Printing.—The estimate for 1913-14 was Rs. 1,30,000 against Rs. 1,20,103 the actuals of 1912-13. The actuals of eight months of 1913-14, however, show an increase of Rs. 6,000 over those of the corresponding period of last year and the revised estimate for 1913-14 has been placed at Rs. 1,25,000. The estimate for 1914-15 is Rs. 1,20,000.

30. Miscellaneous.—The estimate under this head for 1913-14 was Rs. 5,91,000 against Rs. 7,72,339 the actuals of 1912-13 which included very heavy receipts (Rs. 6,38,026) from unclaimed deposits. These deposits, which are likely to lapse at the close of the year, may amount to Rs. 5,35,000, and the total revised estimate under this head has been placed at Rs. 6,78,000 as the sale-proceeds of tents from Government House stock at Dacca realized Rs. 5,634 and the sale of land to the Railway at Chittagong brought in Rs. 11,540. The estimate for 1914-15 has been passed for Rs. 5,92,000 as the estimate under unclaimed deposits has been placed at Rs. 4,80,000.

31. Irrigation—Major Works (Direct Receipts).—The estimate for 1913-14 was Rs. 2,80,000 against Rs. 2,73,918 the actuals of 1912-13. The actual collections in the first eight months of 1913-14 show a decrease of

Rs. 8,000, chiefly owing to the silting up of the Hijili Tidal Canal, which reduced the navigation receipts. The water-rates in the Midnapore Canal are also expected to fall short owing to reduction in the irrigated area and the revised estimate has been placed at Rs. 2,50,000. An increase in the irrigated area in the Midnapore Canal is expected in 1914-15 and the estimate has been passed for Rs. 2,67,000. The provincial share is one-half and amounts to Rs. 1,25,000 and Rs. 1,33,000 in 1913-14 and 1914-15, respectively.

32. Irrigation—Minor Works and Navigation in charge of the Public Works Department.—The estimate for 1913-14 was Rs. 6,85,000 against Rs. 6,40,210 the actuals of 1912-13. The actual collections in the first nine months of 1913-14 show a decrease of Rs. 74,000 as compared with the figures for the corresponding period of 1912-13 chiefly in the Madaripore Bheel route on account of concessions granted to steamer companies and in the Calcutta and Eastern Canals owing to the deficiency in the rice and jute traffic. The revised estimate has been reduced to Rs. 5,66,000. Receipts are expected on account of the levy of tolls on the Magrahat drainage from 1914-15 and the estimate has been passed for Rs. 6,10,000. The provincial share is one-half and amounts to Rs. 2,83,000 for 1913-14 and Rs. 3,05,000 for 1914-15.

33. Civil Works in charge of the Public Works Department.—The budget estimate for 1913-14 was Rs. 3,69,000 against Rs. 3,85,036 the actuals of 1912-13. The actual receipts in the first nine months of 1913-14 show an increase of Rs. 35,000 over those of the corresponding period of last year and the revised estimate for 1913-14 has been placed at Rs. 4,14,000. The increase is due to sale-proceeds of certain buildings. Excluding the special receipts in 1913-14 the estimate for 1914-15 has been passed for Rs. 3,85,000 the actuals of 1912-13.

EXPENDITURE.

34. Refunds and Drawbacks.—The total Provincial expenditure in 1914-15 is estimated at Rs. 1,35,000, against Rs. 1,41,000, the Budget estimate for 1913-14, and Rs. 1,44,035, the actuals of 1912-13. The estimates under this head are based, as usual, on the average actuals of the previous three years, excluding special payments. The actuals of 1910-11 included a special payment of Rs. 22,500 and those of 1911-12 a payment of Rs. 6,500 under Land Revenue. The actuals of 1912-13 also included special payments of Rs. 6,000 and Rs. 8,000 under Stamps. The revised estimate for the current year has been placed at Rs. 1,38,000.

35. Assignments and Compensations.—The estimate for 1913-14 was Rs. 33,000. The revised estimate has however been raised to Rs. 45,000 with reference to the actuals of the first nine months, against Rs. 50,905, the actuals of 1912-13. The estimate for 1914-15 is Rs. 43,000. The variations are due to payment of fluctuating malikana.

36. Land Revenue.—The total provincial expenditure for 1914-15 is estimated at Rs. 35,33,000, against Rs. 32,64,000, the revised, and Rs. 33,48,000, the Budget estimate, for 1913-14 as shown below :—

Total ...	33,48,000	32,64,000	35,33,000

Under (1) provision has been made for an additional District Magistrate of the 24-Parganas and for the consequent additional Joint-Magistrate, for revision of the Kanungo establishment, for the purchase of a launch for the District Officer, Faridpur, for the purchase of iron safes for district and sub-divisional treasuries, larger provision for diet and travelling allowance to witnesses, law charges, and remuneration to copyists. The estimate under (3) includes special additional grants of Rs. 50,000 for the improvement of Government Estates and Rs. 67,000 for the reclamation of Sunderbans in the district of Bakarganj. The estimate under (4) amounts to Rs. 2,13,000 and includes Rs. 43,000 for the new survey school at Comilla. The variations under (5) are due to the debit of cost of the Director of Land Records to the different Imperial settlement operations. The estimate for 1914-15 includes Rs. 5,000 for the reorganization of his office.

37. Stamps.—The sanctioned estimate for 1913-14 was Rs. 7,25,000 which has been raised to Rs. 7,27,000 in the revised owing to the payment of heavier charges for the sale of general stamps against savings in the grant for stamp paper. The budget for 1914-15 is Rs. 7,52,000 and follows the revised, but provides for larger issue of stamp paper from Central Stores.

38. Excise.—The total expenditure for 1913-14 was originally estimated at Rs. 6,69,000, but in the revised estimate this has been reduced to Rs. 6,29,000 owing to the lapse of the lump provision of Rs. 50,000 for the reorganization of the department. The budget for 1914-15 is Rs. 8,77,000 and includes Rs. 1,50,000 for the reorganization, Rs. 50,000 for the construction of boats and launches and Rs. 50,000 for the construction of quarters.

39. Provincial Rates.—The cost of collections of the cesses and the valuation and revaluation charges will in the first instance be incurred by the District Officers but ultimately recovered from District Boards while transferring the cesses to those bodies so that nothing will fall on the general revenues.

40. Assessed Taxes.—The budget grant for 1913-14 is Rs. 1,57,000 but Rs. 1,51,000 has been adopted as the estimate for 1914-15. The decrease is due to the amalgamation of the establishment of the Board of Revenue with the Civil Secretariat.

41. Forests.—The sanctioned estimate for 1913-14 was Rs. 6,76,000 but in the revised estimate this has been reduced to Rs. 6,40,000 with reference to the actuals of the first nine months of the year. The decrease is due to the full complement of officers and executive establishment not being employed. The budget for 1914-15 amounts to Rs. 7,27,000 and includes the following items besides small items mentioned in paragraph 10 above :—

	Rs.
Reconstruction of Divisional officer's Bungalow at Kalimpong ... ..	8,000

42. Registration.—The estimate for 1913-14 is Rs. 11,16,000 but in the revised this has been reduced to Rs. 11,01,000 owing to the delay in the reorganization of the office establishment of the District Sub-Registrars. The budget for 1914-15 is Rs. 11,99,000 and includes the following items :—

	Rs.
Registrar of Joint Stock Companies and his office ... ..	21,858
Lump provision for increasing the leave reserve ... ..	10,000
Lump provision for increase of salary of District Sub-Registrars ... ..	8,100

Increased grant for record racks ...	2,000
Grant for the purchase of type-writers ...	3,000
Provision for cost of remitting salaries, etc., in Western Bengal Districts	3,000

43. Interest on Ordinary Debt.—This is interest payable from the Provincial revenues to the Imperial Government on the amount advanced by the latter to the Provincial Government for loans to cultivators, under the Agriculturists' Loans and Land Improvements Loans Acts, for advances to Co-operative Societies, for advances on drainage and embankment schemes, for loans to notabilities and to municipalities and other public corporations (excluding Presidency Corporations).

44. General Administration.—The estimate for 1913-14 was Rs. 23,02,000, but in the revised estimate this has been raised to Rs. 24,51,000. The increase is chiefly for larger expenditure on His Excellency's tour, for deputation of several special officers in the Civil Secretariat, for the purchase of books and furniture for the Council Library and Legislative Department and larger expenditure on Tour charges and contingencies of the members of the Executive Council. The estimate for 1914-15 amounts to Rs. 23,53,000 and includes Rs. 19,627 for the maintenance and improvements of the railway saloon carriages, larger grant for allowances and contingencies of the offices of the Private Secretary to Governor and the Military Secretary to Governor according to requirements, Rs. 5,000 for allowances to reporters and Rs. 5,000 for the purchase of books for the Council Library.

45. Law and Justice—Courts of Law.—The budget estimate for 1913-14 was Rs. 96,10,000, but the revised estimate has been raised to Rs. 99,53,000 with reference to the actual charges of the first nine months of the year, which were chiefly enhanced by the expenditure on law charges and fees to counsel in connection with the trial of Damodar Dey's suit in Burdwan and the Barisal conspiracy case and debit of grain compensation charges by transfer from 32—Miscellaneous. The estimate for 1914-15 is Rs. 99,53,000 and includes the following provisions:—

	Rs.
An additional Judge for High Court ...	48,000
Establishment for the additional Judge, High Court	5,148

46. Jails.—The estimate for 1913-14 is Rs. 20,79,000, but in the revised estimate this has been raised to Rs. 22,76,000 with reference to the actuals of the first nine months of the year. The increase is mainly due to larger dieting charges and partly also to larger purchase of raw materials in the Presidency Jail at Alipore. The estimate for 1914-15 is Rs. 20,76,000. It includes smaller provision for purchase of raw materials, but provides Rs. 40,000 for the revision of warders' service and Rs. 10,000 for new machinery for the Dacca Central Jail.

47. Police.—The following table shows the figures under this head :—

In view of the actuals of the first nine months of 1913-14, the revised estimate has been placed at Rs. 94,08,000. The decrease is due to smaller expenditure on Presidency police and to partial utilization of lump provisions for Police reforms and River Police reorganization. 48. Ports and Pilotage.—The estimate for 1913-14 was Rs. 13,74,000 but in the revised estimate this has been raised to Rs. 14,36,000 for the adjustment under this head of the grant of Rs. 1,50,000 made to the Chittagong Port which was estimated under Civil Works in charge of Civil officers. Against this addition a large reduction in expenditure is expected in the grant under Pilotage establishment owing to the decline in pilotage receipts. The estimate for 1914-15 amounts to Rs. 15,39,000 and includes larger grant for pilotage establishment due to anticipated trade activity as well as the payment of Rs. 1,50,000 to the Chittagong Port Fund.

The estimate for 1913-14 was Rs. 1,34,88,000 but in the revised estimate, this has been reduced to Rs. 85,10,000 with reference to the actuals of the first nine months of the year. The decrease is chiefly due to partial utilization of the Imperial grants and the stoppage of the equilibrium grant on the surrender of the Public Works Cess to the District Boards and to the transfer of the provision of Rs. 50,000 for the Comilla Survey School to the head 3—Land Revenue. The budget for 1914-15 includes the following items :—

	Rs.

50. Medical.—The budget grant for 1913-14 was Rs. 41,01,000. This has been reduced to Rs. 29,00,000 in the revised estimate with reference to the actuals of the first nine months of the year. The decrease is chiefly due to savings to the extent of 10 lakhs in the grant for expenditure on sanitation, Rs. 80,000 in the lump grant for medical relief, Rs. 50,000 for jungle clearing, one lakh for the School of Tropical Medicine and to non-utilization of the provision for the purchase of quinine by the Sanitary Commissioner for sale in the Eastern Bengal districts. The estimate for 1914-15 is Rs. 47,81,000 and includes the following items :—

	Rs.

The increase in the current year is due to larger payments for Durbar presents owing to the installation of the new Maharaja of Cooch Bihar.

52. Scientific and other Minor Departments.—The total charges under this head for 1913-14 were originally estimated at Rs. 17,13,000, but in the revised estimate this has been reduced to Rs. 15,32,000. The decrease is chiefly due to savings in expenditure from the Imperial grant for agriculture. Rupees 30,000 was transferred to the Forest Department and the balance was not fully spent. Savings were also effected in the grants for the Agricultural Department, Botanic Gardens and Fishery Department. The estimate for 1914-15 is Rs. 17,30,000 and includes the following provisions :—

	Rs.

53. Superannuation.—The estimate for 1913-14 is Rs. 30,22,000, but in the revised this has been raised to Rs. 31,09,000, owing chiefly to the provision for commuted value of pensions to the extent of Rs. 75,000. The budget for 1914-15 amounts to Rs. 32,31,000 as the charges under this head tend to rise year after year owing to increase in the number of pensioners.

54. Stationery and Printing.—The following table shows the charges under this head :—

HEADS.	Actuals. 1912-13.	Budget estimate, 1913-14.	Revised estimate, 1913-14.	Budget estimate, 1914-15.

The increased provision under Forms Department is for the payment of allowances to assistants of that office on the introduction of Jail hours on its transfer to the jail. The increase under Government presses is due to larger provision for plant, furniture and contingencies and a lump provision for additional establishment required for the removal of a portion of the press from the Writers' Buildings to Koila Ghât Street.

55. Miscellaneous.—The Budget estimate for 1913-14 was Rs. 9,53,000, but in the revised estimate this has been reduced to Rs. 7,16,000. The reduction is chiefly due to the adjustment, under appropriate heads, of the expenditure on grain compensation allowance and the charges sanctioned by His Excellency from the provision for petty grants, and to the reappropriation of the reserve provision of Rs. 1,50,000, in order to meet expenditure under other heads. Against these transfers additional charges were incurred for the District Administration and the Calcutta Port Facilities Committee and the expenditure on gratuitous relief in flooded areas, for which there were no provisions in the budget. Special payments were also made to the Prisoners' Aid Society for acquisition of land, to the "Refuge" for regrant of the undrawn grant for 1912-13, to the Calcutta Orphanage and the Anath Bhandar for the purchase of buildings. The estimate for 1914-15 is Rs. 10,81,000, and includes a lump provision of Rs. 4,00,000 for the payment of grain compensation allowance for all departments : Rs. 1,00,000 to be placed at the disposal of His Excellency for petty grants, Rs. 1,50,000 for general reserve for unforeseen requirements, Rs. 20,000 for District Administration Committee, Rs. 3,000 for the Port Facilities Committee, Rs. 50,000 for gratuitous relief in the flooded area and Rs. 26,000 being the amount recently sanctioned by the Government of India on account of recoveries from local bodies which will be remitted, it being assumed for estimate purposes that the increase will result in an increase of expenditure, though in most cases there will actually be a reduction in revenue. A corresponding assignment has been given from the Imperial revenues for the purpose.

56. Irrigation—Major Works (Working Expenses).—The estimate for 1913-14 amounting to Rs. 2,40,000 has been raised to Rs. 3,06,000 in the revised estimate for the inclusion of the charges for silt-clearance, Range II and Gewankhally supply channel of the Hijili Tidal Canal. The estimate for 1914-15 has been passed for Rs. 2,96,000 and includes Rs. 45,000 for silt-clearance in the Main canal and supply channel of the Hijili Tidal Canal and also to some special repairs to the distributaries of the Midnapore Canal. The provincial share is one-half and amounts to Rs. 1,53,000 for 1913-14 and Rs. 1,48,000 for 1914-15.

57. Irrigation—Minor Works and Navigation in charge of the Public Works Department.—The actual charges in 1912-13 amounted to Rs. 15,36,307 and the estimate for 1913-14 was Rs. 18,66,000. Additional grants have been sanctioned during the year for repairs to embankments damaged by floods, and silt-clearance of the Protapkhally khal in the district of Midnapore and the revised estimate for 1913-14 has been passed for Rs. 19,94,000. The estimate for 1914-15 amounts to Rs. 22,38,000 and includes the following special provisions :—

ing scale of Munsiffs in Bengal is 6 in the first grade, 12 in the second grade and 24 in the third grade. The following additions to the cadre have been sanctioned.

The sanctioned strength of Munsiffs in Bengal is 245. The present and the sanctioned grading of Munsiffs is as shown below :—

The total cost involved in the reorganization of the Provincial Judicial Service and the regrading of Munsiffs is Rs. 52,800+15,600=Rs. 68,400.

In the Budget for 1913-14 a provision of Rs. 50,000 was made for the regrading of Munsiffs. The sanction of the Secretary of State has just been received.

(a) As regards Superintendents, the two posts have been proposed to be added to the third and fourth grades on Rs. 900 and Rs. 800, or the extra cost will amount to Rs. 1,700 per month.

(b) As regards the Assistant Superintendent, the proposal is that, with the addition of one post, the appointments should be regraded as follows:—

The increase of cost per mensem on this account comes to Rs. 600.

(c) In regard to Deputy Superintendents, it is proposed to add the extra appointment to the fourth grade on Rs. 250.

(d) Besides the above there is a proposal for the grant of house-rent allowance, at the rate of Rs. 200 a month, to the Additional Superintendent at Alipore.

(e) Added to the above is the cost on account of the proposal made in the letter from this Government, No. 3518 A.—D., dated the 23rd September 1912, for the grant of a fixed conveyance allowance of Rs. 50 a month for the Deputy or Assistant Superintendent of Police in charge of the Dacca Town Police.

The Hon'ble SIR WILLIAM DUKE said :—

The detailed features of the Revised and Budget Estimates have, I think, been fully and clearly explained in the Financial Statement and my memorandum which accompanies it, and I shall, therefore, content myself with a very rapid survey of the provincial financial position. Last year our figures were swelled by grants from Imperial Revenues to the amount of nearly a crore and a half, but this year, as the Hon'ble Members will have seen, the Government of India are not in a position to largely subsidise the provinces, and the occasion is therefore the more convenient for examining the financial situation of the Province under its present settlement. Members will have been struck by the size of the estimated provincial balance, on 31st March, 1914, Rs. 3,04,30,000, which is larger than I remember at any previous period; but if they have studied the statement carefully they will have understood that while this large balance does include a very satisfactory increase of our ordinary income, it is still more due to short expenditure, that is to say, to our inability to lay out more rapidly the large special grants received from the Imperial Government in recent years, which now seem to have come to an end for the time being. Our principal heads of revenue are Land Revenue, Stamps and Excise which between them furnish two-thirds of our total income. Land Revenue is a very slowly expanding head and there has been a set-back in the current year owing to floods in some districts. But we hope to make up this next year and to continue the steady, if slow, progress. Stamps show a very satisfactory and steady increase. This head is one of the indices of provincial prosperity, and though sensitive to trade and agricultural fluctuations, it is a source of income on whose steady expansion we can safely rely. Excise is perhaps the most important single head of income inasmuch as it is entirely provincial. The increase in Excise Revenue has been very marked, and I think we may congratulate ourselves that we have obtained it without any violation of temperance principles. Last April, we raised the rate of duty on country spirit and reasonably expected that this would have an adverse effect on license fees. The settlements, however, gave unexpectedly large results, and the combination of the high settlement figures and the increased duty has resulted in an increase of 14 lakhs in our Revised Estimate, while the latest returns available show that there has been a decrease in consumption. We are again raising the duty from the 1st April next year, but we have not thought it safe to count again on such a large accession of revenue. There is clear evidence that we are forcing up the retail price of excise articles and Government are taking their full share of this enhancement in price. The increase of revenue ultimately depends upon the prosperity of the consuming classes, and as prices are forced up and as excisable articles become more and more the luxuries of those who are comparatively well off, so does the revenue become increasingly dependent on the continuance of prosperity. Bad agricultural seasons or periods of industrial depression would substantially check its expansion. It is also necessary to proceed carefully because it would be fatal from all points of view to raise the retail price to the point at which it would be impossible to prevent illicit practices; but I think we may congratulate ourselves that in the current year we have received such a largely-increased revenue from a diminished consumption. The remaining third of our revenue is made up of a large number of receipts of varying importance, and with the exception of Registration and Assessed taxes, which is liable to considerable fluctuation, they are not capable of any very great expansion. Our total revenue has expanded in the last two years and, as I said last year, under the present settlement we hope to count on an expansion of 10 or 11 lakhs a year.

On the expenditure side the increase has very largely outstripped this normal increase of revenue, but any comparison is vitiated by the fact that the expenditure figures include a considerable number of schemes which are financed from the Imperial grants. Our ordinary expenditure, however, is steadily increasing, and it is no easy matter to make the increase keep pace with the slow expansion of the revenue. We are endeavouring, therefore, as far as our finances permit, to place the equipment of all Departments on a satisfactory basis before we attempt further extensions of our activities. We are providing, for example, for the reorganisation of the Excise Department, for a thorough revision of the Registration Department, for an increase in the pay of the rank and file of the Police Department, and we have taken up the question of increasing the pay of the menials of all Departments. This all involves heavy recurring expenditure; but we feel that it would be unwise to launch out into extensions until we have our existing services properly organised and adequately paid.

As regards non-recurring expenditure, we have drawn up a programme of official buildings to be spread over the next four years which will to some extent remedy the deficiencies of the past, and we are embarking on a scheme of roads to remedy the disadvantages hitherto suffered by an important portion of the Province. This programme will absorb all the money available for public works in the next four years, and, in addition, will require a draft of 40 lakhs on our balances. We have provided so far as we can foresee them for all possible calls upon us and have still reserved a free balance of nearly 26 lakhs. There is, however, always the unforeseen to be reckoned with so that we do not feel that it would be safe further to deplete this reserve which amounts to less than 5 per cent. of our ordinary annual expenditure.

I have said that a considerable portion of our increased expenditure had been financed from the Imperial grants, but it must be remembered that even such expenditure does in most cases in the long run involve further recurring expenditure from Provincial Funds: nor must we overlook the fact that these grants by occupying the energies of the Departments concerned have relieved the Provincial Finance of demands from those Departments for further expansion, but that as soon as the grants are exhausted, if they are not replenished from the same source, these Departments will still insist upon maintaining their course of development and will look to provincial funds to provide the means. The process of exhaustion has been slow as is natural at first, but it is likely to gain in rapidity very much after the first difficulties have been overcome. Upon the whole, while the revised estimate shows an expenditure of 56 lakhs greater than in 1912-13, the estimate for next year is again 110 lakhs greater than the revised. Taking the non-recurring grants, we started in 1912 with Rs. 20,77,000 for Police reorganisation and River Police. We have spent Rs. 5,13,000 in two years and have Rs. 15,64,000 left, but we have budgeted for a very considerable increase in the rate of spending next year. For Education we started our settlement with Rs. 20,10,000 and have received Rs. 1,03,00,000 since. We have spent Rs. 35,63,000 and have Rs. 87,47,000 still to spend; but here again we anticipate a very much more rapid rate of progression next year. For Sanitation, we started with Rs. 14,86,000 and have since received a further grant of Rs. 20,00,000. We have spent Rs. 9,28,000 and have Rs. 25,58,000 left. Besides these non-recurring grants, we have received outside the settlement recurring grants of Rs. 25,65,000 for Education and of Rs. 5 lakhs for Sanitation. Hitherto these have not been fully worked up to and the savings have been regranted; but in future we anticipate that the grants should be fully utilised and there will be no saving.

• Upon the whole, I think that we may claim that the last two years have shown a marked development of provincial institutions, and that while that has been secured mainly by direct assistance from the Imperial Government, yet the progress in our regular income has also been satisfactory and justifies us in looking forward with some confidence to the future.

LIST OF BUSINESS—ITEM No. 4.

The Hon'ble Mr. Lyon introduced the following heads:—

Revenue.—

1—Land-revenue.

Expenditure—

- 3. Land-revenue.
- 8. Provincial Rates.
- 18. General Administration.

He said :—

My Lord,—

The full notes which are given in the Financial Statement leave me very little to say as to the figures under these heads. Hon'ble Members will note that under the revised estimate for Land Revenue Receipts in the current year there has been a falling-off of Rs. 2,60,000 due to suspensions of revenue in the districts of Midnapore and Hooghly. I believe that these suspensions will meet with the approbation of the Members of Council.

Under the Land Revenue Expenditure head there is a notable increase of Rs. 96,000 under the sub-head of Government Estates. This is due to a special grant that is contemplated in the current year to improve these estates. The Board of Revenue has for some years past been pressing for such a grant in order to enable it to carry out some much-needed improvements, and Government have been glad to find it possible to make that grant in the coming year. There is also an increase under the same head, under Survey and Settlement expenditure, which is accounted for by a charge of Rs. 43,000 on account of the Comilla Survey School. The establishment of this school has been undertaken in accordance with repeated recommendations from expert officers, and excellent arrangements have been made for it by Major Hirst, the Director of Surveys. It is hoped that this new departure will prove a success, as special care is being taken to give an adequate training in survey of all descriptions to the various classes of students who attend the school.

Under the head Provincial Rates it will be noticed that the entries in the present budget are reduced to small sums representing general rates levied for the management of private estates, the Public Works Cess which used to figure under this head having been handed over to District Boards.

The fluctuations in the figures under General Administration are due in the main to temporary causes such as the deputation of officers on special duty. The estimate for the current year, however, includes a somewhat larger allotment for services in connection with the establishment of His Excellency the Governor, according to ascertained requirements, and allotments in connection with the proceedings of this Council for the payment of reporters and purchase of books.

LIST OF BUSINESS—ITEM No. 5.

The Hon'ble Mr. Kerr introduced the following heads :—

Revenue—

IX—Forests.

Expenditure—

11. Forests.

Revenue—

XXI—Scientific and other Minor Departments.

Expenditure—

26. Scientific and other Minor Departments (including Agriculture and Veterinary).

He said :—

My Lord, I have the honour to introduce the budget heads relating to the Forest Department. On this occasion last year I pointed out what a very valuable property the Presidency of Bengal has in its forests, but stated that for various reasons, it was not anticipated that the high profits earned in 1912-13 would be maintained. We accordingly made a cautious estimate for a net profit of a little over 7 lakhs for the year 1913-14. I am glad to say that this estimate has proved unduly pessimistic. Owing to larger sales and better prices for timber and fuel, we now anticipate a gross revenue of  $16\frac{1}{2}$  lakhs in the current year, with an expenditure of about  $6\frac{1}{2}$  lakhs, leaving us with a net revenue of 10 lakhs, which constitutes a record. For next year we have estimated a gross revenue of 16 lakhs, but we propose to take the opportunity to provide for some urgent wants of the Department, and have consequently provided for a total expenditure of  $7\frac{1}{2}$  lakhs. Our net profit is therefore expected to work out to about  $8\frac{1}{2}$  lakhs.

I turn now to the head "Scientific and other Minor Departments." The revised estimates of receipts for the current year have been raised from Rs. 2,26,000 to Rs. 3,13,000. The increase is almost entirely due to larger demands for quinine which is expected to bring in 2 lakhs as compared with Rs. 1,07,000 provided for in the budget. For 1914-15 receipts from the sale of quinine have been taken at  $1\frac{1}{2}$  lakh, and the total receipts under this head have been put at Rs. 2,72,000.

On the expenditure side of the budget, the most important head and the only one with which I propose to deal at any length is that of agriculture. In the current year we provided for an expenditure of Rs. 4,84,000 for the normal requirements of the Department and, in addition, there was the special Imperial grant of  $1\frac{1}{2}$  lakh, making a total provision of Rs. 6,34,000. Of this we expect to spend only Rs. 5,47,000. The saving is due to delays in the acquisition of land for the sericultural nursery scheme which I described last year and to the purchase of cattle for the Rangpur Dairy Farm not having proceeded at so rapid a pace as was anticipated. The savings in the Imperial grant, amounting to Rs. 52,000, will not lapse, but have been re-granted for next year. The total sanctioned budget estimate of the Agricultural Department for 1914-15 amounts to Rs. 7,07,000, of which Rs. 5,55,000 represents the ordinary expenditure of the Department, Rs. 52,000 the regrant of the Imperial grant, and Rs. 1,00,000 a special provincial grant for capital expenditure to improve the equipment of the Department and to provide for various urgent requirements. The increase in the ordinary expenditure is due to the expansion of work in various directions. The Secretary of State has recently sanctioned the appointment of a Second Deputy Director for this Province, and this appointment will render it possible to undertake a wider programme, particularly in demonstration work, for which it has for some time been recognised that the existing staff, working under a single Deputy Director, is quite inadequate. The balance of the Imperial grant will be mainly spent in completing the equipment of the Rangpur Dairy Farm, while the objects on which the provincial grant is to be spent have not yet been finally selected.

A full account of the work of the Agricultural Department was given in the Government Resolution on the subject, which was recently published, and I need not take the Council over the same ground again. I need only say, as regards sericulture, that four large model nurseries for the supply of pure seed free from disease have been constructed and are in working order, two more are under construction, while two other projects have been approved and land is being acquired for them. The mulberry census of the silk-growing districts will shortly be completed, and we shall then be in a position to draw up a complete programme and estimate for the model nursery scheme.

The Rangpur Dairy Farm has made considerable progress, but is not yet in full working order, owing, mainly, to difficulty and delay in procuring suitable cattle. It was only in November that actual possession was obtained of the land. There is now a herd of 51 cows on the farm, and there is keen competition for all the milk that can be supplied.

The investigation of the ufra disease of rice continued to receive the attention of the Economic Botanist, and inquiries have also been made into the subject by Dr. Butler of Pusa, the Imperial Mycologist, who published a valuable monograph on the disease a few months ago. The worm which causes the disease has been definitely identified, and it is hoped that the study of its life history, which is now being carried out, will lead to the discovery of practical measures for combating the pest. Meanwhile, a number of experiments carried out by the Economic Botanist have proved successful, in that the crops treated were not attacked by the disease, though of course the result of one year's experiments are not conclusive, since the disease might not have occurred even if no remedial measures had been undertaken. It has, however, been established more or less definitely that the disease occurs mainly in paddy sown broadcast on lowlands and that transplanted paddy is comparatively immune from attack.

The substitution of a crop of aus paddy or jute followed by transplanted aman for the usual mixture of aus and broad-cast aman has yielded good results. It is reported that the cultivators in many places already appreciate the importance of burning the stubble and ploughing the soil on infected plots, and arrangements have been made for systematic work on these lines.

No specific provision has been made in the budget for the jute forecast, though this business occupies a large part of the time of the Director and his staff. It was recently represented to Government by the Jute Forecasts Committee of the Chamber of Commerce that the trade considered the existing arrangements for the check of the panchayats' returns, on which the forecast is based, to be inadequate. It was understood that the trade would be willing to contribute towards the cost of a more detailed check than is at present possible, and a scheme was drawn up accordingly and published for consideration. Government have not yet received the views of the trade on the subject, but it is observed that there is a tendency in some quarters to regard it as undignified on the part of Government to accept any contribution from the trade for the purpose of improving the forecast. In regard to this, I would merely point out that those members of the trade who have asked for a special staff to be put on outside the ordinary machinery at the disposal of Government, for the improvement of the statistics of a particular crop, are asking for something which is given in no other province in India. The members of this Council, who have occasion to study the budget, are well aware that the funds at the disposal of Government are strictly limited and how difficult it is to find funds for the urgent and insistent requirements for different parts of the province. In these circumstances, it would be impossible, as well as inequitable, for Government to devote any considerable share of the ordinary revenue of the country to a scheme for the improvement of statistics relating to a single industry, however important. The expenditure upon any exclusive and costly measures for the improvement of jute statistics cannot therefore be thrown upon the general taxpayer. Meanwhile, Government are fairly justified in claiming that the collection of statistics through panchayats, which recent developments of the panchayati system have rendered possible, has effected a very considerable improvement in the forecast, and the development of this system will continue to receive careful attention, so far as funds and staff permit, whatever action may be taken in regard to the special scheme which has been drawn up at the request of the trade.

I need not take the Council in detail through the other sub-heads of this portion of the budget. They are, I think, sufficiently explained in the draft Financial Statement, which is in the hands of Hon'ble Members. If any further information is desired on any point before the meeting next week, I shall be very glad to supply it.

LIST OF BUSINESS—ITEM No. 6.

The Hon'ble MR. MOBERLY introduced the following heads :—

Revenue—

V—Excise.

Expenditure—

7. Excise.

He said :—

My Lord, I have the honour to introduce the budget heads which relate to Excise.

The actual receipts in 1912-13 amounted to Rs. 1,37,59,045 and came within a lakh of the original estimate. The revised estimate had been reduced to 135 lakhs on the basis of ten months' actuals. But a large increase in the last two months of the year, due mainly to the facts, first, that the settlements in the districts of Eastern Bengal, when two months' advance license fees are deposited, were held later than in 1911-12, and, second, that, contrary to expectation, higher license fees were obtained, caused these figures to be exceeded by more than 2½ lakhs.

The sanctioned estimate for the current year was Rs. 1,38,55,000. At the time when this estimate was framed it was anticipated that the actuals for 1912-13 would only amount to 135 lakhs. It was known that the rate of duty on country spirit and ganja would be enhanced from 1st April, 1913, but it was not certain what the effect of the enhancement would be. It was, however, naturally anticipated that there would be some decrease in license fees which would be rather more than counterbalanced by an increase in the receipts from duty. The budget estimate for the current year accordingly provided for increases, as compared with the revised estimates, for 1912-13, of Rs. 2,56,000 and Rs. 30,000, respectively, under the heads Country Spirit and Ganja. Increases of Rs. 20,000 under the head of Tari and of Rs. 40,000 under the head Gain on Sale-proceeds of Excise Opium were budgeted for in expectation of a normal expansion of revenue. The other heads were left unchanged.

Contrary to expectation, the settlements which were held in February and March 1912-13 resulted in an enhancement of license fees to the extent of more than 8 lakhs. Opium, country spirit and ganja contributed most largely in the order named. It became apparent at the beginning of the current year that the estimate would be largely exceeded.

This increased taxation caused a general rise in the retail price of the principal intoxicants and this again reacted upon consumption. Excluding the three districts of the Chittageng Division, in which the substitution of the system of contract supply for the outstill system, with effect from the 1st April, 1913, renders accurate comparison impossible; the figures for country spirit for the first nine months show an increase of Rs. 4,30,000 in revenue and a decrease of 33,922 proof gallons in consumption as compared with the corresponding period of 1912-13. The revenue from ganja increased during the same period by Rs. 4,40,000, whilst consumption decreased by 88 maunds 13 seers. The revenue from opium increased by Rs. 2,66,000, and though the consumption increased by 6 maunds 12 seers, the rate of increase was considerably slower than in the preceding year when the total increase was more than 29 maunds, and since the 1st quarter there has only been an increase of 8 seers.

The actuals for the first ten months of the current year exceeded those of the corresponding period of 1912-13 by Rs. 13,84,000, and, after making allowance for the unusually heavy receipts in February and March of last year, the revised estimate for the current year has been put at 152 lakhs. Ganja, country spirit and opium account for almost the whole of the increase; the decrease of Rs. 40,000 under the head Gain on Sale-proceeds of Excise Opium is due to the fact that the increase in the consumption of opium has been less than was anticipated when the original estimate was framed.

In framing the estimate for 1914-15 two factors introduce an element of uncertainty. The first is that the duty on country spirit will again be increased from 1st April in most of the districts of the Burdwan, Presidency, Dacca and Rajshahi Divisions. In the Burdwan and Presidency Divisions the object of this measure is to force up prices, which (except in Calcutta) were little affected by the increase of duty during the current year, with the object of checking consumption; in the Dacca and Rajshahi Divisions, where prices rose considerably, the object is mainly to transfer to the fixed head of Duty revenue which would otherwise have contributed to swell the fluctuating head of license fees to an undesirable extent. The second factor is that it has been decided to curtail the hours during which retail shops may be open for the sale of intoxicants. From 1st April no such shop may be opened before 8 A.M. in the hot and 10 A.M. in the cold weather and all drug shops will be closed at sunset. Liquor shops will also be closed at sunset in purely rural areas, but in urban and industrial areas no change will be made from the present hours, as consumers of the labouring classes are often unable to obtain supplies of stimulants until comparatively late in the evening. It is difficult to forecast the precise effect of these changes upon consumption.

The estimate for 1914-15 has accordingly been framed so as to give a moderate increase of 3 lakhs over the revised estimate for the current year. The estimated increase from country spirit is Rs. 1,85,000 and from ganja Rs. 65,000. Pachwai has been put at about Rs. 10,000 in advance of the actuals in 1912-13. The sale-proceeds of excise opium have been reduced by Rs. 15,000 as compared with the revised estimates of the current year, and if consumption remains stationary, as in the 2nd and 3rd quarters of the current year, the estimate will not be exceeded. No change from the revised estimate of the current year has been made under other heads.

Turning to expenditure the decrease in the present year's revised estimate is due to the fact that the sum of half a lakh provided for the reorganization of the department has lapsed, as the scheme has not yet been sanctioned by the Secretary of State. The increase of  $2\frac{1}{2}$  lakhs in the budget estimate for 1914-15 is made up of  $1\frac{1}{2}$  lakh for the reorganization scheme  $\frac{1}{2}$  a lakh for the provision of departmental quarters as a first instalment of the sum required to provide residences for officers who have to serve in out-of-the-way places where suitable house accommodation is not available, and half a lakh as a first instalment towards the provision of the launches and boats which are needed for touring and preventive work in the districts of Eastern Bengal.

LIST OF BUSINESS—ITEM No. 7.

The Hon'ble Mr. STEPHENSON introduced the following heads :—

Expenditure—

- 6. Stamps.
- 10. Assessed Taxes.

He said :—

My Lord, I have the honour to introduce the heads of expenditure under 6—Stamps and 10—Assessed Taxes.

These heads are fully explained in the amended Draft Financial Statement, and I have nothing further to add in their regard.

LIST OF BUSINESS—ITEM No. 8.

The Hon'ble NAWAB SYED SHAMS-UL-HUDA introduced the following head :—

Expenditure—

- 19A. Courts of law.

He said :—

My Lord, I rise to introduce the figures relating to Courts of Law. The noticeable features on the expenditure side may be summarised as follows :—

The total budget estimate for 1913-14 was Rs. 96,10,000, but the revised estimate has been raised to Rs. 99,53,000 with reference to the increased charges for the first nine months of the year, owing, chiefly, to the additional expenditure on law charges and fees to counsel in Government litigation.

The total estimate for the next financial year has been fixed at Rs. 99,53,000. This includes a provision of Rs. 53,148 for an Additional Judge of the Calcutta High Court and his establishment. Provisions have also been made for a new Inspector of Judicial offices. An additional provision of Rs. 70,000 has further been made on account of fees to pleaders in criminal cases. Additional ministerial establishment for the new Police Courts in the northern and southern sections of the town have also been provided for. The revision of the bailiffs' establishment of the Calcutta Small Cause Court has recently been sanctioned by Government and the necessary provision has been included in the estimates for 1914-15.

Under the head Mufassal Establishment, provision has been made for three Assistant Government Pleaders, viz., one for Sirajganj, one for Magerpet and one for Brahmanbaria. Increased provisions have also been made for the additional Sub-Judges and the new scale of munsifs recently sanctioned by the Secretary of State. There also exists a lump provision for the increase of pay of the last grade of Munsifs from Rs. 200 to Rs. 250 a month.

The grant for the next year for residences of Judicial officers has been fixed at Rs. 50,000. With this amount it is proposed, with the concurrence of the High Court, to take up during the next year the construction of residences for the District Judge of Bakarganj and the Munsif of Pingua, which are the most important of residential projects. Rupees 1,50,000 has been allotted to Civil Courts, and it is proposed to distribute this amount among several urgent projects, the most important of which are the construction of a double munsif at Bishal, the construction of a quadruple munsif at Netrokona and the construction of a single munsif at Munshiganj.

The constitution of the Calcutta Police has not yet been brought into full accord with the principles of organization laid down by the Police Commission of 1902-03. The ordinary reserve required to supply vacancies caused by casualties is short of the prescribed scale. Besides, there is not a fully-constituted headquarters force. The want has been partly supplied by the newly-constituted civil armed police, but there is no adequate provision for the supply of escorts. The necessity of supplying escorts from the ordinary reserve adds to the difficulty of granting leave to applicants and causes much discontent, which is evidenced by frequent resignations. It is hoped that with the reserve at its proper strength, this condition will be remedied. A grant was made last year for the purpose but it was not fully utilized.

The Calcutta Police has at present no school of its own for the training of recruits and officers. Formerly, the Bengal Police used to supply the demands of the Calcutta Police, but since the reconstitution of the province, the police schools are barely sufficient for the requirements of the provincial police and Calcutta must make its own arrangements for the training of its recruits. It is hoped that with the establishment of a training school in Calcutta there will be a considerable improvement in the efficiency of the rank and file.

General Explanation.—In the Province of Eastern Bengal and Assam the Secretary of State had sanctioned a thorough reorganization of the Police, the total amount of recurring charges involved being Rs. 5,19,000. Such schemes require a long time to bring into effect and this has been introduced gradually as funds permitted. The provision which is made for next year will complete it so far as recurring expenditure is concerned. The scheme, however, also involved a great deal of non-recurring expenditure on buildings and other objects and much of this remains to be undertaken. In addition, new wants are springing up in all directions, and the organization and equipment of the Police all over the Province are still susceptible of much improvement in order to bring it into line with the changing and developing conditions of the country. The Inspector-General of Police proposed a lump provision of Rs. 27,56,700 for 81 new schemes pending sanction of Government. Financial exigencies compelled that this should be considerably curtailed, but a lump provision of Rs. 14,46,000 has been made for 30 new projects of the most pressing nature, the principal items of which are—

(1) Reorganization of the Subordinate Police in the Eastern Bengal Districts—
Rs. 4,04,855.

* Rupees 3,13,385 of this is non-recurring and Rs. 91,470 is recurring. This completes the scheme.

(2) Reorganization of the River Police in the Eastern Bengal Districts—
Rs. 5,21,775.

Rupees 4,50,263 of this is non-recurring and Rs. 71,512, recurring. This completes the original scheme which amounted to Rs. 3,42,000 recurring. Rupees 4,49,555 was provided for the scheme in the Budget of 1913-14.

Of the remaining items, the following are the most important :—

(1) Revision of the Superior Police Cadre—Rs. 33,600.

The system of posting an additional Superintendent in the heavier districts tried in the Eastern Bengal having worked satisfactorily, it has, with the sanction of the Government of India, been extended temporarily for two years in the districts of the 24-Parganas and Midnapore. The provision represents the cost of the two additional Superintendents and the appointment of Assistant and Deputy Superintendents which the proposal will involve when sanction is received to the retention of these appointments.

(2) Regrading of Sub-Inspectors and Head Constables in Eastern Bengal Districts—Rs. 37,800.

There is a scale fixed for the grading of Sub-Inspectors and Head Constables which provides for a larger number of officers in the higher grades than are at present employed. The numbers of additional Sub-Inspectors and Head Constables recruited annually towards the completion of the reorganization scheme are largely employed in the lowest grade with the result that the numbers in the lower grades are disproportionately large. It is therefore necessary gradually to raise the number in the higher grades within the limits of the sanctioned scale by corresponding reduction in the lower grades so as to obviate block of promotion.

(3) Improvement of the Pay and Prospects of Constables and Head Constables—Rs. 4,75,000.

The present rate of pay of constables was fixed on the recommendation of the Police Commission of 1902-03, and more than ten years have now elapsed during which we have had sufficient experience to test its adequacy. It may have been sufficient at the time, but owing to the increased cost of living it is no longer so, and satisfactory men cannot be recruited or retained at the present pay. It is proposed to raise the pay of the lowest grade of constable to Rs. 10 and the others in proportion, with some increase to head constables also. These proposals which have been submitted for consideration and orders to the Government of India are the result of experience gained. Rupees 4,75,000 has been budgeted for the purpose. The grant of a living wage to the constable seemed to Government to be a matter of the first urgency, although smaller reforms also of great importance have had to be postponed to permit of it.

(4) Purchase of Mymensingh Hospital—Rs. 60,000.

This is required for the extension of the Sadar police-station, the accommodation of which is inadequate.

(5) Increase of Cadre of Deputy Superintendents of Police—Rs. 17,100.

With a view to improve the Police administration, the principle has been accepted of placing an officer of gazetted rank in charge of the more important of the subdivisions in Bengal, and it is therefore proposed to make addition to the cadre of Deputy Superintendents as funds are available. As a step to this end, a provision of Rs. 17,100 has been made during the next financial year.

The rate of horse allowance fixed for the Bengal Police is Rs. 15 a month. Complaints are universal as to the impossibility of keeping a pony and syce at this figure. Local officers are unanimous on the subject, while the initial pay of Rs. 50, which a sub-inspector gets, does not permit him to meet the extra cost. It is therefore proposed to give Rs. 20 for horse allowance, except in the district of the 24 Parganas and the towns of Howrah, Dacca and Narayanganj, where somewhat more is required.

A proposal for the withdrawal of the two companies of Indian infantry at present stationed at Buxa in the Jalpaiguri district is under the consideration of the Government of India in the Army Department. The object of keeping the troops at Buxa was the protection of the Bhutan frontier. In the event of the withdrawal being ultimately sanctioned, the Local Government will have to take over the post and garrison it with one company of Military Police, which is therefore provided for.

(8) Settling of Karwal Nuts of the Rajshahi Division—Rs. 26,600.

The first step we have taken under the Criminal Tribes Act is with respect to the Karwal Nuts of the Rajshahi Division by getting them registered under the Act. The reclamation of criminal tribes by non-official philanthropic agency seems to have better chances of success than Government agency has ever attained. If we can get the tribes settled, we shall have done much to cope with crime in the Rajshahi Division. Negotiations with Brigadier Robertson who manages the criminal work of the Salvation Army have given us a rough idea of the amount necessary for buildings and the recurring grant required by the Salvation Army if they are to undertake the work. A site has been selected at Saidpur for the purpose, and provision has also been made in the Budget, subject to the approval, by the Government of India, of the scheme for settling the tribe.

(9) Appointment of a Fourth-range Deputy Inspector-General—Rs. 25,000.

As a result of the recent decentralization of work and the enhancement of the powers of the Deputy Inspectors-General, the necessity has been represented of dividing the charge of the Deputy Inspector-General of the Presidency Range, which includes the Presidency and Burdwan Divisions, and to place each of these under a separate officer of that rank. The proposal is at present under examination by Government.

Jails.

(1) Revision of the Warder Establishment—Rs. 40,000.

At present two different scales of pay obtain in the Presidency of Bengal—men in Eastern Bengal drawing pay at the rates sanctioned for the late Eastern Bengal and Assam Government, and those in the Presidency and Burdwan Divisions and the district of Darjeeling drawing pay as in old Bengal. It is proposed to assimilate the different scales and to improve the general condition of the warder service by an increase in their number and an improvement in their pay similar to that proposed for the police and by granting certain other concessions. The scheme involves an annual recurring expenditure of about Rs. 64,000. Part provision has been made, as sanction of the Secretary of State is not likely to be obtained by the beginning of the financial year 1914-15.

(2) Purchase of new machinery for the Dacca Central Jail—Rs. 10,000.

The press at the Dacca Central Jail is being abolished, and to replace the industry it is proposed to start a blanket factory with plant and machinery like the one at the Bhagalpur Central Jail in the Province of Bihar and Orissa at an estimated cost of about Rs. 46,000. Rupees 10,000 has been budgeted, and the balance will come out of the provision for Jail manufactures.

LIST OF BUSINESS—ITEM No. 10.

In the unavoidable absence of the Hon'ble Mr. Hornell, the Hon'ble Mr. Samman (with the permission of the President) read out Mr. Hornell's speech introducing the following heads :—

Revenue—

XIX—Education.

Expenditure—

22. Education.

My Lord,

1. I have the honour to introduce the heads of the Financial Statement which deal with Education, XIX—Revenue and 22—Expenditure.

2. Although a reference to the Revenue side of the Financial Statement may perhaps be of comparatively little interest, it is still satisfactory to note a distinct upward tendency in the record of income derived under this head in successive budgets. This to my mind is a healthy and a hopeful sign indicating, as it does, a growing appreciation of the need and importance of education. For there is still, I think, something in the old saying that those advantages are most prized that are paid for.

3. On the Expenditure side of the Education budget in prospect interest will centre chiefly around the assignments which the Government of India made in the years 1911-12, 1912-13 and 1913-14. The Financial Statement before us contains two new allotments of Imperial grants for education. One is a recurring grant of Rs. 1,50,000, of which intimation has just been received from the Government of India. The other is a grant of Rs. 30,000 for female education, made by the Government of India a few months ago to supplement the grants for the improvement and expansion of the education of Indian girls and women included in the lump grants of Rs. 9,25,000 and Rs. 13,20,000 which were placed at the disposal of the Local Government last year and the year before. The total grant for female education thus amounts to the sum of Rs. 2,44,000 : to this I shall revert.

4. I shall now proceed to discuss the various sums provided in lump in the statement, and it will facilitate matters if I refer to them in the order in which they appear in the table.

5. The first item in the list is a provision of Rs. 5,11,000, which represents the sum likely to be spent out of the unexpended balance of the non-recurring Imperial grants made in 1911-12. The allotment is earmarked for specific schemes which are in process of completion.

6. The next item in the Financial Statement is the provision of Rs. 11,72,000. This is made up of the recurring Imperial grant of Rs. 9,25,000 plus Rs. 2,47,000 which represents the unexpended portion of the previous year's grant which was utilised on capital objects. The sum of Rs. 2,47,000 is therefore non-recurring. This item relates to the improvement of popular education—a term which has been used to include elementary education, female education, hostels, technical and European education. The total sum granted for expenditure under these heads amounted to Rs. 9,65,000, but of this sum Rs. 40,000 is specially earmarked for the education of the poorer classes of the domiciled community in the city of Calcutta, and this sum has been included under the head of Grant-in-aid in the Financial Statement. The general scheme of the distribution and utilisation of this grant was set forth in the able and lucid statement made by my predecessor in office in introducing the Education budget of the current financial year. It only remains for me to narrate in some detail what progress has been made in giving effect to the schemes already delineated, and to indicate generally the line of advance which has been made possible by the additional grants communicated by the Imperial Government towards the close of the last financial year, viz., the non-recurring grant of Rs. 75 lakhs and the recurring grant of Rs. 13,20,000.

7. It will be convenient to deal with the grant of Rs. 9,25,000 in conjunction with that of Rs. 13,20,000. Before doing so I would invite attention to the fact that the latter grant includes a provision of 5 lakhs for the Dacca University, which we may leave out of account in the present connection. The sum available for other branches of education is therefore Rs. 8,20,000. The following table will shew the disposition of these two grants, which are intended for recurring expenditure, in terms of the sanctioning order of the Government of India :—

	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
I. Elementary education of Indian boys ...	6,06,000	3,65,000	9,65,000
II. Education of girls ...	1,07,000	1,07,000	2,14,000
III. Technical and special education ...	34,000	37,000	71,000
IV. European education ...	50,000	60,000	1,10,000
V. Hostels ...	1,32,000	Nil	1,32,000
VI. Mannal instruction ...	Nil	25,000	25,000
VII. Secondary education...	Nil	2,26,000	2,26,000
VIII. Unallotted balance ...	2,000	Nil	2,000
Total ...	9,25,000	8,20,000	17,45,000

8. The scheme for the utilisation of the provision of Rs. 6,00,000 for elementary education was clearly described by Mr. Küchler last year, and I shall therefore confine myself to the consideration of the new grant of Rs. 3,65,000. It was not found practicable to utilise this allotment on schemes of a recurring nature during the current year and, following the precedent of the year 1912-13, the grant was employed in financing capital schemes relating to primary education.

9. The total immediate requirements of the year under this head are estimated to amount to Rs. 7,75,963, as described below :—

	Rs.
For the construction of new Board primary schools ...	4,92,065
For the construction of Guru-training school buildings ...	13,898
For new buildings of aided primary schools ...	1,50,000
„ equipment of primary schools ...	1,00,000
„ reconstruction and repair of Guru-training schools ...	20,000
Total ...	7,75,963

10. Of this sum, Rs. 3,65,000 will be borne against the allotment under consideration, and the balance will be met from the Imperial grant for non-recurring expenditure on primary education included in the sum of Rs. 24,80,000, which will be dealt with later.

11. In future years it is proposed to utilise the grants in—

	Rs.
(a) further increasing the pay of trained teachers in primary schools ...	67,248
(b) maintenance of new Board primary schools ...	1,07,760
(c) inaugurating a new system of training primary school teachers involving (1) higher salaries for the staff of training schools and (2) enhanced stipends for teachers under training ...	1,63,520
(d) the establishment of schools in backward localities ...	6,000
(e) grants for specifically Muhammadan education ...	20,000

12. In arranging the general plan for the utilization of this grant due regard has been paid to the general principles enunciated by the Government of India in recent communications to Local Governments, which broadly and briefly resolve themselves into—

- (1) expansion of the system of primary education,
- (2) encouragement of improved methods of teaching, and
- (3) enhanced salaries for teachers.

While laying down these general principles, the Government of India recognized that, in regard to primary education, the conditions varied greatly in different provinces. In the old Province of Bengal, for instance, where there is already some sort of primary school for a little over every three square miles of the total area of the province the multiplication of schools may very well be not so urgent a problem as the increase in the attendance at and the improvement of the teaching in existing schools. In some parts of India at the present time no teacher in a primary school gets less than Rs. 12 a month. In Burma all the conditions are different and monastic schools are an important feature of the organization and so on. Different problems again present themselves when board schools and aided schools, respectively, are the basis of the system of primary education. Nor must it be supposed that the policy laid down in these general terms for the immediate future limits the aspirations of the Government of India or the Local Government. Indeed, the Government of India hope that the day is not far distant when teachers in primary schools will receive considerably higher remuneration, when all teachers will be trained and it will in consequence be possible to give them greater scope for initiative and originality. The proposals for the distribution of the grant of Rs. 3,65,000, therefore, are framed to follow such lines as are justified by the peculiar conditions of Bengal at the present time. Reverting to the first of the selected heads of expenditure, viz., increase of salaries of teachers of primary schools, the average amount of money drawn by an aided primary school pandit before the grants of 1913-1914 were made available was Rs. 7 and of this about Rs. 5 came from fees. It has now been raised to Rs. 10 in the case of a trained teacher and to Rs. 8 in the case of an untrained Guru. In consideration of other urgent demands on the present allotment it is not practicable to devote more than Rs. 67,248 to increasing the pay of trained Gurus; this sum will allow of an increase of Re. 1 over and above the Rs. 3 given last year. Our programme of improvement must touch the problem at all points, but our first consideration must be the trained teacher.

13. With regard to the provision for the maintenance of board schools, it may be explained that it is expected that 608 new board schools will have been constructed by the end of the year in Eastern Bengal districts and 290 schools are scheduled for Western Bengal districts. The cost of maintaining these institutions at Rs. 10 a month each will amount to Rs. 1,07,760 per annum.

14. The question of the training of primary school teachers is of paramount importance. Up to date two separate systems of training have obtained in Western and Eastern Bengal. The results of these systems have been on the whole ineffectual; and it is time to consider their reorganization.

15. A detailed scheme of improvement has been worked out on the following general lines :—

- (a) The provision of an improved staff for all Guru-training schools capable of housing such a staff and of working on superior lines. The number of these schools will be 55 in all: 10 in Eastern Bengal and 45 in Western Bengal. This will involve a total recurring yearly expenditure of Rs. 1,32,000 on staff alone.

The present provision in the budget is Rs. 48,180 and the net amount to be debited for staff to Imperial grants is Rs. 83,520. It will take some time before this expenditure is actually in operation, as the best available men have to be selected and the present incumbents provided for elsewhere. By the end of this calendar year it should be possible to pay out the bulk of the increased grants, but many years must necessarily elapse before really suitable buildings are ready for all the remaining Guru schools of the Presidency (there being some 30 more schools in East Bengal and 33 in West Bengal); and for the increased recurring charges consequent upon new buildings and improved staff, we must of necessity look to the Government of India.

- (b) The next item under this head is the amount necessary for increased stipends to Gurus in training. Rates have continued to rise steadily in the past five years until Inspectors consider a minimum stipend of Rs. 9—10 a month to be essential. It must be remembered that the Guru comes from a school where he may be earning Rs. 4 with fees in addition (in all about Rs. 8) and his abode may be comfortably fixed. He may get presents of food and he probably also makes a little out of cultivation.

Obviously, if he can go to a training school only at considerable financial loss to himself, he goes there unwillingly and remains there as it were under protest more specially in the absence of any real prospect of adding substantially to his earning capacity by being trained. The number of existing sanctioned stipends is 2,028 and to this must be added the number of extra stipends needed for 10 new Guru schools now being constructed in East Bengal. The total is thus 2,228 and the amount required for these stipends at the rate of Rs. 10 will be about Rs. 2,70,000. Of this sum we have already in our provincial budget Rs. 1,90,000; the total additional cost will be Rs. 60,000. This figure is not an ultimate figure, but it will meet our requirements for some time to come. The figure 2,028 represents the number of stipend-holders for whom accommodation is provided. All these stipends are not taken up as yet.

16. The proposals enunciated above amount to—

			Rs.
(1) Increase of pay of teachers	...	...	67,246
(2) Board schools' maintenance	...	...	1,07,760
(3) Guru school staff	...	...	83,520
(4) Gurus' stipends	...	...	80,000
		Total	3,38,528

It remains to consider the disposal of the balance of the grant of Rs. 3,65,000.

17. In communicating the assignment of the recent Imperial grants for elementary education, the Government of India adverted to the desirability of utilising part of the grant for the purpose of reducing fees in elementary schools and for providing free education in schools in backward areas, and it may be asked to what extent effect has been given to the line of action indicated.

18. It may be stated at once that very little has as yet been done in this direction. This may seem somewhat disappointing, but I would explain that the Government of India's suggestion has not been ignored. An investigation into existing conditions shows that roughly one-third of the boys at school in East Bengal and one-tenth of those in Western Bengal are reading practically free. In view of more pressing claims in other directions it has been decided that the best way of giving effect to the wishes of the Government of India would be to devote such funds as are available after the more urgent reforms have been accomplished to the establishment of schools in backward localities.

19. Schools cannot exist without teachers and, in a special sense in this Presidency, a primary school teacher is a primary school teacher; obviously then the first call on any scheme for the expansion and improvement of primary education was to improve the remuneration of the teachers. A definite step has been taken in this direction by allotting a considerable proportion of the total Imperial grant for elementary education to increasing the pay of teachers. Much more is still required, and there are other and hardly less important claims. With regard to the establishment of schools in backward areas, I am glad to say that something, though comparatively little, is being done.

20. It is proposed during the next year to allot Rs. 30,000 out of the Imperial non-recurring grant of 10 lakhs for elementary education, to which I shall refer later, to the establishment of schools in backward localities; and in these schools, for the upkeep of which Rs. 6,000 will for the present be reserved out of the recurring grant of Rs. 3,65,000, no fees will be charged.

21. With regard to the share of the grant which will be devoted specifically to Muhammadan education, I may say that the teachers of maktabas will participate with the Pathashala Gurus in the benefit of the grants allocated for increasing the pay of trained and untrained teachers and, in addition, a sum of Rs. 20,000 will be available for the assistance of Muhammadan education generally.

22. We shall now pass on to the grant available for female education, viz., Rs. 2,44,000. Last year Mr. Küchler made certain proposals for the utilisation of the first grant of Rs. 1,07,000. These proposals have been generally approved by Government and expenditure is being and will be incurred accordingly. With the additional grant of Rs. 1,37,000 subsequently communicated, it will be possible to make a still further advance, and for convenience, sake I propose to lay before the Council a comprehensive scheme of expenditure for the whole sum of Rs. 2,44,000—

	Rs.
For strengthening the female inspecting agency ...	32,435
For the training of teachers ...	58,500
For additional scholarships...	21,000
Total ...	1,11,935

Grants-in-aid—

For zanana education ...	11,700
„ high schools for girls ...	25,400
„ middle „ „ ...	29,600
„ primary „ „ ...	36,000
„ the teaching of needlework and instruction in Kindergarten methods ...	6,720
„ Muhammadan girls' schools ...	10,000
Reserve ...	13,145
Total ...	2,44,000

23. Female education, I am glad to say, received a measure of assistance which is more or less commensurate with its most immediate needs. Progress has been slow and must necessarily be slow, but with the funds now at our disposal and the interest, which is quickly awakening on all sides in the education of Indian girls and women, a very appreciable advance ought to and will be made during the next few years.

24. The scheme of expenditure outlined above calls for little in the way of explanation. It is proposed for the present to appoint five additional Assistant Inspectresses of Schools, including a special Assistant Inspectress for Calcutta and an Assistant Inspectress for zanana work and Muhammadan education in the mufassal for the Presidency and Burdwan Divisions. These appointments will be made shortly. In this connection it will be interesting to note that Government will be shortly addressed on the subject of providing certain concessions and facilities for the female inspecting staff. The lot of these ladies under present circumstances is, I am afraid, not a pleasant one. They are obliged to travel in all seasons and under trying conditions, and it is proposed to alleviate their difficulties by the provision of proper accommodation, suitable escorts and other concessions such as special rates of travelling allowances. The cost of the proposals in contemplation will be met from the amount held in reserve.

25. One of the most important features of the scheme of distribution of this grant is the provision of a good training college for women teachers in Calcutta. The scheme is yet in process of development, but the main purpose of the proposed institution is to supplement the work which is now being done by the Missionary institutions, more especially in the direction of training teachers, both those who will teach through the medium of the vernacular and those who will teach through the medium of English for middle and high schools.

26. The provision under the head of scholarships will go some way towards supplementing our efforts in other directions to promote and encourage the education of Indian girls and women. It may be explained that the provision of these special scholarships will not involve the closing to girls of those general scholarships which are open to them in competition with boys.

27. It will be observed that Rs. 10,000 has been specifically set aside for Muhammadan girls' schools. It would, however, be quite wrong to suppose that this is the only portion of the grant in which this section of the community will share. The schools which we are establishing and assisting are for all, including Muhammadans; and Muhammadan girls are now beginning to resort to them in increasing numbers. There are some Moslems who prefer that their girls should go to specifically Muhammadan schools, and the object of allotting this portion of the grant to the purpose above referred to is to improve and expand specifically Muhammadan girls' schools. It is not, however, regarded as practicable that all or anything like all the demands of the Muhammadans in this direction could ever be met by these schools.

28. With regard to the grants for technical and special schools, I need only repeat that the allotment will be devoted partly to non-recurring expenditure, e.g., equipment and improvement of workshops, and partly to schemes which involve recurring expenditure. The previous year's grant of Rs. 34,000 is fully utilised, and expenditure is being incurred out of the new grant of Rs. 37,000, as it becomes necessary or desirable.

29. Under the head European Education, we have a total Imperial grant of Rs. 1,10,000, excluding the grant of Rs. 40,000 for the education of the poorer classes of the domiciled community in the city of Calcutta, the principles of the distribution of which were clearly explained in Mr. Küchler's speech last year. The proposals which have been submitted to Government for the allotment of this grant have been based on the principle that grants should be made to schools in such measure as would relieve the school authorities (wholly in the case of elementary schools and in part in the case of schools of a higher grade) of the cost incurred by them in maintaining an adequate and efficient staff and thereby enable them not only to offer reasonable salaries to their teachers but also to extend and improve the scope of their work. The sum available falls far short of the amount actually required for the purpose and it has been possible to suggest the admission of only a small number of selected institutions to the benefit of the scheme. A further sum of Rs. 50,000 is urgently required to give effect to the scheme in its entirety. The proposed distribution provides for the participation of railway schools in the scheme.

30. With regard to the provision of Rs. 1,32,000 for recurring expenditure on hostels, it may be explained that the scheme referred to by Mr. Küchler in the course of his speech last year was subjected to some considerable modification, a process which resulted in the postponement of proposals during the current year in which the allotment has been largely devoted to capital expenditure. It is proposed to utilize the grant during the year 1914-15 partly for non-recurring expenditure and partly to finance the improvement of the working of hostels attached to colleges and schools. The bulk of the money will be devoted to the latter purpose.

31. The recurring grant for manual instruction, Rs. 25,000, will not be spent this year but it is not to be imagined that the money is lost to us. The money will be re-granted when necessary. The question of manual training needs to be very carefully and wisely planned and the matter is receiving due attention. This allotment, it may be explained, is intended for Indian schools only.

32. The current year's grant for secondary education which amounts to Rs. 2,26,000 will be utilized on capital projects during the year. This course was necessary pending the completion of the investigation into the actual conditions of secondary schools in the Presidency. The disposal of this grant is being dealt with in conjunction with the previous grant of

Rs. 1,50,000 which was specifically sanctioned for the improvement of secondary aided English schools with the object of enabling school authorities to maintain a staff in accordance with the requirements accepted in the proposals for the improvement of secondary education which prescribed a minimum expenditure of Rs. 540 a month for high schools and Rs. 145 a month for middle English schools. The grant of Rs. 2,26,000 has not been limited to aided schools and will therefore, in accordance with the general principles laid down by the Government of India, be available for all classes of secondary schools including Government institutions. The requirements of each school will have to be considered individually and it is hoped that a full scheme of distribution will be ready before very long.

33. The grant of Rs. 1,50,000 referred to above was distributed among the five divisions of Bengal as under :—

				Rs.
Presidency Division	...	...	...	40,000
Burdwan ditto	...	...	...	35,000
Dacca ditto	...	...	...	30,000
Rajshahi ditto	...	...	...	20,000
Chittagong ditto	...	...	...	25,000
Total				1,50,000

34. The total sum available, viz., Rs. 2,26,000 + 1,500 or Rs. 3,76,000 falls far short of the requirements of the scheme for the improvement of secondary education which contemplates an ultimate annual recurring expenditure of a sum approaching 14 lakhs. It has not therefore been practicable to consider any but the most pressing needs and it is not possible to say at present whether, and if so, to what extent, it will be feasible to set aside specific funds out of this allotment for purely Muhammadan institutions, e.g., madrasas; but the matter will receive proper consideration.

35. In referring to the Rs. 1,50,000 grant for secondary education it is necessary to explain that the provision shown against this head in the Financial statement, viz., Rs. 1,28,000, stands to be adjusted, and there need be no apprehension that the full amount will not be available.

36. Before passing on to the next head of expenditure it may be explained that a sum of about Rs. 1,20,000 only could be spent out of the lump allotment of Rs. 13,20,000 for recurring expenditure. The balance has been regranted and appears as a provision of Rs. 12,00,000 and immediately below the item of Rs. 13,20,000 in the table on page 19 of the Financial Statement.

37. This brings us to the next item on the list to be discussed, viz., Rs. 2,17,000. This merely represents the regranted unexpended balance of the non-recurring Imperial grant of Rs. 4 lakhs made in 1912-13 for hostels outside Calcutta and Dacca. The provision is earmarked for specific projects in process of completion and requires no further explanation.

38. Similarly, in the case of the provision of Rs. 8,70,000, which is the unexpended balance of the non-recurring Imperial grant for hostels in Calcutta, the scheme of distribution was indicated by Mr. Kuehler last year. The rate of progress in the case of this allotment has been extremely disappointing. Various causes are accountable for this. Most of the schemes involve the acquisition of sites and extensive building operations and it seems impossible to make any appreciable headway. In the first place, suitable sites are difficult to find and when found they are valued at much higher rates than the allotments available can sustain. In cases in which sites have been obtained, the building operations have been protracted, plans are suddenly altered or the schemes revised and so on. It is hoped, however, that the balance will be considerably diminished during the course of the ensuing financial year.

39. The next item on the list is part of the Imperial non-recurring assignment of 75 lakhs which is composed of the following grants :—

	Rs.
1. For the construction of hostels in the Presidency of Bengal and to provide for the Dacca hostel scheme ... ..	20,50,000
2. For colleges, secondary schools and training institutions ... ..	7,00,000
3. For elementary schools ... ..	10,00,000
4. For educational hygiene, gymnasia, etc. ... ..	3,50,000
5. Manual instruction ... ..	1,00,000
6. For girls' schools, technical and special schools ... ..	5,00,000
7. For European education ... ..	5,00,000
8. For Dacca University ... ..	15,00,000
9. For Calcutta University ... ..	8,00,000
Total ... ..	75,00,000

40. Deducting items Nos. 8 and 9, which refer to grants to the Calcutta and Dacca Universities, with which allotments the Education Department is not directly concerned, the total amount available for general education stands at Rs. 52,00,000.

41. The sums provided in the education budget of the current year and in the Financial Statement under discussion are but instalments of the total assignment of Rs. 75,00,000. This was too large a sum to be spent all in one year. The first year's allotment represents, roughly, one-third of the whole assignment and the sum of Rs. 30 lakhs, which it is proposed to provide in the next budget, represents the amount which it is anticipated, it will be possible to spend in the year 1914-15.

42. In dealing with this particular assignment, therefore, it has been considered proper to relate our requirements upon the full grant available for the various objects with which we are immediately concerned, and not upon the specific budget allotments for the year 1914-15. I shall therefore proceed to shew how we propose to take up the allotment of Rs. 52,00,000 under the heads for which the Director of Public Instruction is directly responsible.

43. (a) Rupees 20,50,000.

This provision has been set out as follows :—

	Rs.
1. For the Dacca Enclave Scheme ... ..	10,00,000
2. For the Medical College hostel ... ..	5,00,000
3. For hostels attached to schools and colleges in the Presidency ... ..	5,50,000
Total ... ..	20,50,000

44. What is known as the Dacca Enclave Scheme is a project which aims at consolidation within the limits of Dacca town, the object being to provide every quarter of the city with schools, each institution affected by the scheme to be self-contained with hostels and teachers' quarters. The scheme has been worked out in detail. Land acquisition proceedings are involved, and a large portion of the amount set aside for the scheme will be taken up in this way.

45. The project for the establishment of a Government hostel for medical students scarcely needs explanation. The provision of proper hostel accommodation for medical students has long been a crying need.

46. Against the provision of Rs. 5,50,000 set aside for school and college hostels, we have a large number of projects, aggregating in cost

Rs. 15,50,000. Projects are being matured and will be financed as they are ready for the disbursement of funds.

47. Rupees 7,00,000 for colleges, secondary schools and training institutions.

It is proposed to distribute the grant as follows :—

	Rs.
1. College and school buildings ... ..	2,82,000
2. For the Muhammadan Arts College ... ..	2,00,000
3. Reserve for financing two or three large schemes which are approaching maturity ...	2,18,000
Total ... ..	7,00,000

From an investigation instituted by me during the year I ascertained that there is a vast array of projects on the books of the department, the execution of which is dependent on the provision of special grants for the purpose. The total estimated requirements amount to Rs. 54,96,861. This estimate includes such important schemes as the improvement of the Presidency College, the establishment of a Muhammadan Arts College, the rebuilding of the Sanskrit College and the improvement of the buildings for secondary schools. The allotment available can cover a small fraction only of the estimated requirements. The allocation of this allotment has therefore been a matter of considerable difficulty, and there does not seem to be any immediate prospect of taking up the great majority of the schemes which have been put forward.

48. Rupees 10,00,000 for elementary education.

I shall first indicate briefly the requirements under this head. In order to complete the scheme for the construction of Boards' schools in each Panchayati Union of the Presidency and to provide Gurni-training schools of the proposed type in East and West Bengal, it is estimated that a sum of Rs. 14,51,000 roughly will be required, after providing for the requirements of middle vernacular schools, the total estimated cost amounts approximately to Rs. 15 lakhs. In dealing with the recurring Imperial grant of Rs. 3,65,000 for elementary education, I mentioned that it was not found practicable to utilise at once the full allotment on schemes of a recurring nature, and I stated that, as in the case of the previous grant of Rs. 6 lakhs, the money would be devoted to capital expenditure. The total sum therefore available for non-recurring expenditure is Rs. 13,65,000, which will meet all but  $1\frac{1}{2}$  lakh of the present estimated requirements of a non-recurring nature of elementary schools for boys. As I have already shewn, about Rs. 7,75,000 will be spent this year or early next year. The balance, Rs. 5,90,000, will be carried over for expenditure later. In contemplating schemes involving the construction of a large number of new buildings, we must be careful that we do not overbuild, for it must be remembered that in providing Board schools we also pledge ourselves to their maintenance.

49. For educational hygiene, gymnasia, etc., we have a non-recurring provision of Rs. 3,50,000. The whole of this amount will remain unexpended this year. It may interest the Hon'ble Members of this Council to know that Government have appointed a special committee to inquire into the question of school and college hygiene and to advise them with regard to the best method of utilising the grant. The question of the provision of adequate playing-fields for educational institutions will occupy the first attention of the committee. This involves the acquisition of land, and in Calcutta at any rate this is bound to prove very costly.

50. The scheme for the employment of the non-recurring grant of 1 lakh for manual instruction is, along with the recurring provision for the purpose, receiving consideration, and I am not yet in a position to make any statement with regard to the matter.

51. A sum of Rs. 5 lakhs has been allotted for girls' schools and technical and special schools. Government have definitely decided that 4 lakhs should be set aside for female education and the remaining 1 lakh for technical and special institutions.

52. The whole of the 4 lakhs can be taken up at once for building projects (including equipment) in connection with girls' schools. The improvement of the buildings of the Bethune College, the estimates for which have greatly exceeded the sums formerly available, is included in the above estimate.

53. The 1 lakh for technical and special schools can also be spent without much further consideration.

54. The non-recurring grant of Rs. 5,00,000 for the European School project has already been apportioned among the various aided schools of the Presidency.

55. This ends the tale of special Imperial grants, but, before concluding, I may perhaps refer to an inquiry which has been made in this Council regarding the share which specifically Muhammadan institutions and projects are to have in the distribution of the Imperial grant of 75 lakhs, or rather out of the 52-lakh allotment. With the exception of Rs. 2,00,000, which has been set aside for the acquisition of land in connection with the establishment of a Muhammadan Arts College in Calcutta and the reorganisation of the Calcutta Madrasa and connected institutions, no sums have been earmarked for specifically Muhammadan institutions. I desire, however, to protest against any suggestion that the Muhammadans are not getting their fair share in the general improvements which the Imperial grants are enabling us to effect. Muhammadan boys are seeking admission to secondary schools and colleges in ever-increasing numbers, while there are parts of the Presidency in which Muhammadan boys form the majority of those at school. Moreover, out of the Rs. 5,50,000 for hostels, about Rs. 1,00,000 will be devoted to schemes for the improvement or provision of hostel accommodation for Muhammadans. The question of the improvement of the education given in madrasas is under consideration. It is not possible at the present stage to state what additional funds will be required to give effect to reforms in this direction, but of one thing I am certain and that is that if we try and finance this scheme out of the recurring allotment for secondary education—inadequate as that allotment has been shown to be—there will be nothing left for secondary schools.

Of new items in the proposed budget, which are to be financed from Provincial revenues, the only one which is likely to attract attention is that involving a provision of Rs. 26,720 a year for the Assistant Director of Public Instruction for Muhammadan Education and his establishment. The functions of this officer are of a purely advisory character for the present. Another item about which something may be said is that relating to the revision of the office establishment of the Director of Public Instruction. What is meant by revision in this connection is this: There are at present in my office two sets of assistants on different terms of service. Those of them who remained in Bengal after Bihar and Orissa passed under a separate administration and those who came over from Eastern Bengal and Assam. The former were mostly in the Subordinate Educational Service, while the latter had a separate cadre of their own. It is now proposed to have a combined cadre outside the graded service.

The Hon'ble Sir William Duke introduced the following heads:—

Revenue—

XX—Medical.

Expenditure—

24. Medical.

He said :—

My Lord, on the receipt side the budget estimate for the current year was Rs. 3,76,000, but in the revised this has been raised to Rs. 4,00,000, or by Rs. 24,000. The increase is chiefly under medicines sold by Civil Surgeons, and partly also from fees in the Medical College. The budget for 1914-15 has been taken at Rs. 3,97,000, and generally follows the revised estimate for the current year.

As regards expenditure, the revised estimate has been placed at Rs. 24,05,000 against the budget grant of Rs. 24,18,000, excluding the expenditure on Sanitation, and shows a decrease of Rs. 13,000. The decrease is due to the grant for the School of Tropical Medicines not having been utilized and to Rs. 20,000 only having been spent out of the total grant of one lakh from Medical Relief. On the other hand, there was an increase of expenditure under grants to hospitals and dispensaries owing to special grants of Rs. 60,000 for Mymensingh Hospital and Rs. 8,000 to the General Hospital, Howrah. The full staff of Indian Medical Service officers was not employed and savings accrued under Medical Establishment.

As for next year, the budget has been placed at Rs. 25,56,000 (excluding Sanitation). It includes 1 lakh, being the balance of the Imperial grant of 5 lakhs for the construction of the School of Tropical Medicine which was provided for in the budget for the current year, but not utilized and re-granted in next year. Rupees 50,000 has also been provided for the equipment of the school. It is estimated that the total cost of the school will be about 11½ lakhs and the Scientific Advisory Board of the Indian Research Fund have contributed 1 lakh for the purpose. India have given 5 lakhs. Private donations and subscriptions are being raised for meeting as much of the balance of the cost as can be raised. The rest will fall on the Provincial Funds. It is expected that the buildings will be completed in November next when it is proposed to open the school, and provision has been made for the establishment required for four months of the year. Rupees 80,000, being the balance of the Imperial grant of 1 lakh for medical relief, has also been provided for and this amount has been earmarked for grants to hospitals for the construction of Phthisis wards.

Provision has again been made for an Indian Medical Service officer as Personal Assistant to the Inspector-General of Civil Hospitals in place of a ministerial officer on lower pay. The budget includes Rs. 2,000 for the revision of the establishment of the civil surgeons' offices, Rs. 1,800 for allowance to the civil surgeon, 24 Parganas, for charge of the Voluntary Venereal Hospital, Rs. 2,000 for providing typewriting machines to certain Civil Surgeons' offices, Rs. 7,200 for teaching allowances to the three Resident Surgeons and Physicians of the Medical College Hospital, Rs. 1,200 for the appointment of an Obstetric Registrar for the same hospital, Rs. 2,000 for increase of staff allowance of the Military Assistant Surgeons of the General Hospital, Rs. 25,000 for the improvement of nursing arrangements in mufassal hospitals and Rs. 34,260 for expenditure of Serological tests in the Medical College, and a proposal has been submitted to the Government of India for the establishment of the Serological laboratory on a permanent footing. The Government of India have contributed Rs. 32,000 in the current year and Rs. 25,000 in budget for 1914-15 for expenditure on this account through the head of Land Revenue Adjustments.

Larger provision has been made in the budget for medical and other stores of the Medical College and Campbell Hospitals. The diet allowances of nurses of the Campbell hospital have also been raised from Rs. 15 a month to annas ten per diem and the number of nurses have also been increased from 28 to 34. Provision has been made to meet the full instead of one half of the cost of the Sornomoyee Hostel which has come under the control of the Medical College authorities. Owing to the opening of a separate testing chemical laboratory in the Customs House, Calcutta, one post of an Assistant Chemical Examiner has been abolished and no provision has been made for a probationary examiner.

LIST OF BUSINESS—ITEM No. 12.

12. The Hon'ble NAWAB SYED SHAMS-UL-HUDA introduced the following heads :—

Revenue—

X—Registration.

Expenditure—

12. Registration.

24. Sanitation.

He said :—

My Lord, I beg to introduce the budget estimates relating to the Registration Branch. The receipts under this head are estimated at Rs. 20,50,000, allowing for a normal increase of Rs. 80,000 over the revised estimate of Rs. 19,70,000 for 1913-14. The new items of expenditure provided for in the budget are stated in paragraph 42, pages 15-16 of the Financial Statement. These are—

(1) Provision for Registrar of Joint Stock Companies and his establishment.—The necessity for the appointment of a separate Registrar arose on account of the passing of the Indian Companies Act, 1913, which is to come into force on the 1st April, 1914. This Act has entailed considerable additional duties and responsibilities upon the Registrar of Joint-Stock Companies. The duties of the Registrar under the old Act were performed by the Registrar of Assurances, Calcutta, an officer drawing Rs. 400 a month, who is also Registrar under the Provident Insurance Societies Act, 1912 and the Indian Life Assurance Companies Act, 1912, and the office work was performed by his ordinary registration establishment. This was an unsatisfactory arrangement even under existing conditions, and it is certain that the present arrangement will be unworkable after the 1st of April next, and it is essential that a whole-time officer should be appointed with an adequate establishment, and that he should also undertake the duties of Registrar under the Indian Life Assurance Companies Act. The work to be done by such an officer will be very responsible and very technical. The Government of India have sanctioned the appointment and the office establishment.

(2) Lump provision for increasing the leave reserve.—This has been done to obviate the necessity of appointing outsiders on the occasion of leave vacancies.

(3) Lump provision for increase of salary of District Sub-Registrars.

(4) Lump provision for the revision of cadre of Sub-Registrars.

(5) Provision for the revision of the ministerial establishment at the head-quarters offices.—Ministerial officers in other departments had received an increase of pay and those of the Registration Department had naturally been looking for some improvement in their pay and prospects. According to our scheme explained in our letter to the Government of India, head-quarters offices have been divided into two classes according to the volume and complexity of work, and different scales of pay and allowance have been fixed for the two classes. One main feature of the scheme is to raise the minimum pay of clerks from Rs. 20 to Rs. 30 and of muharrirs from Rs. 15 to Rs. 25. The maximum pay of the clerks in class I offices will, under our scheme, be Rs. 60 and in class II offices, Rs. 50. The scheme also provides for the increase of pay of the establishment employed in joint offices at head-quarters. We will take up the head-quarters staff from the 1st April, 1914, and the staff of mufassal offices year after next. It took us some time to assimilate the different schemes which had been submitted for East and West Bengal, respectively, and to work out all the details. I hope, however, it will not be long before we are able to bring relief to all the ministerial officers of the department who have been looking forward to it for some time past and with good reason.

There are several other minor provisions which I need not specifically deal with.

We have provided Rs. 75,000 for Registration Buildings under Civil works in charge of the Public Works Department. This will enable us to effect much needed improvements in the mufassal office accommodation.

I have also the honour to introduce in Council the budget estimates relating to the Sanitation and Vaccination Departments. Under this head it is only the expenditure, the figures of which are to be found in pages 59 and 60, that is open to discussion. The full notes given in the Draft Financial Statement leave very little to say.

The revised estimates for the current year amounts to Rs. 3,20,000, which is Rs. 1,88,000 less than the amount provided in the original budget and Rs. 72,000 less than the amount provided for the next year. The differences in the figures are due to (1) non-employment of Additional Deputy Sanitary Commissioners throughout the year. The Indian Medical Service Deputy Sanitary Commissioner has not yet been sent by the Government of India, and of the two Indians one joined in April and the other, in July last; (2) non-expenditure of the allotments for jungle cutting, as well as for purchase of quinine for sale. The jungle cutting expenditure has not yet been started and no quinine was purchased this year, as a large quantity of the quinine which was purchased last year was left undistributed after the close of the year; and (3) to the fact that few Health Officers were appointed during the year. For the coming year, however, full provision has been made for the three additional Deputy Sanitary Commissioners, for jungle cutting and for the pay of the Health Officers. No provision is made for the purchase of quinine, as jail-made treatments will be used.

There is a provision of Rs. 11,75,000 for the year 1913-14 to meet the expenditure on works of sanitary improvement; but in the revised estimates the amount was reduced by ten lakhs as a very small sum has been spent up to date. The estimate for 1914-15 has, however, been placed at Rs. 28,32,772 inclusive of the provision for civil works in charge of Civil officers, formerly shown separately. At the same time, in accordance with the orders of the Government of India, a lump deduction of ten lakhs has been made in the total. The expenditure which has already been sanctioned or will probably be sanctioned from these grants is shown in paragraph 60, pages 24-25 of the Financial Statement.

I do not wish, however, to go into details regarding any other minor heads of this portion of the budget, as these will be found adequately dealt with in the Draft Financial Statement just presented to Council.

LIST OF BUSINESS—ITEM No. 13.

The Hon'ble SIR WILLIAM DUKE introduced the following heads :—

Revenue—

XXIII—Stationery and Printing.

Expenditure

30. Stationery and Printing.

He said :—

My Lord, as regards the estimates of the Stationery and Printing Department, there is a small decrease of Rs. 5,000 in the revised estimates on the receipt side, owing to smaller collections for work done in Government Press for local and private bodies. The budget for 1914-15 is Rs. 1,20,000, and shows a further decrease of Rs. 5,000 due to smaller sales of official publications.

The figures on the expenditure side are shown on page 22 of the Financial Statement. The revised estimate amounts to Rs. 15,39,000 against Rs. 13,60,000, the budget estimate for the current year, and shows an increase of Rs. 1,79,000 chiefly for larger supply of paper to the Dacca Jail Press for extra printing of forms to be kept in stock for the first six months of 1914-15 and to the Bengal Secretariat Press and to the Forms Department for increase of work. The budget for 1914-15 has been placed at Rs. 14,44,000. The Secretariat Press at Writers' Buildings was very congested, and the demands upon it have greatly increased. We have recently got some accommodation in the Military Accounts Department Buildings in Koilaghat Street and a portion of the Press has been removed there. We have had to sanction certain additional establishment for the Branch Press and to provide for contingent expenditure. Provision has been made for the purchase of three linotype machines for the Press to deal promptly and efficiently with additional work.

It is hoped that the forms block in the new Central Jail at Kalighat will be completed early next year, when the Forms Department will be removed there, and, if the Jail hours are introduced, we shall have to provide for some allowances to the establishment of the Forms Department. A provision of Rs. 10,000 has been made in the budget on this account.

LIST OF BUSINESS—ITEM No. 14.

The Hon'ble Mr. LYON introduced the following heads :—

Revenue—

XXIX—Irrigation—Major Works.

Expenditure—

42—Irrigation—Major Works (Working Expenses).

Revenue—

XXX—Minor Works and Navigation.

Expenditure—

43—Minor Works and Navigation.

He said :—

The Major Works with which we have to deal in the Presidency, as at present constituted, are the Midnapur and Hijili Tidal Canals. The latter is for navigation only, while the former provides for both irrigation and navigation. There has been a slight reduction in the receipts from these canals, both under the heads Navigation and Irrigation, in the current year, owing to the silting-up of some reaches and the reduction of the area irrigated.

The work of clearing silt out of the blocked reaches has been undertaken during the current year and has caused some increase in the expenditure of the year. It has, however, had an indirect effect in providing work for distressed people in the Midnapur district. It is hoped that there will be an increase in the area irrigated during the coming year.

I now turn to the heading Minor Works and Navigation, which is more important in its effect upon provincial revenues. The chief source of revenue under this head is the tolls received from navigation on the Calcutta Canals, the Sundarbans route and the Madaripur bhil route, which together form the navigable route for boats and inland steamers between Calcutta and Eastern Bengal. The receipts from this source are estimated at Rs. 4,67,000 out of the total estimated receipts of Rs. 6,10,000. During the coming year it is estimated that a sum of Rs. 34,000 will be obtained from tolls levied on the channels included in the new Magrahat Drainage Scheme. The total estimate for receipts shows an improvement of Rs. 44,500 in 1914-15, as compared with the receipts for the current year.

The expenditure under Minor Works and Navigation includes the cost of maintaining protective embankments and out of an increase in expenditure in the current year of Rs. 1,28,000, a sum of Rs. 1,14,000 is due to special provision made for flood damage repairs. In 1914-15, there is a similar provision of Rs. 2,12,000, and it is estimated that there will be a further sum of 1 lakh to be spent in subsequent years. The repairs to the breaches made by the flood of last year will be completed before the coming flood season, and it is hoped that the retired lines of embankments, which are being started wherever they are deemed necessary, will be completed or nearly completed at the same time. The repairs include the raising of the embankment on the left bank of the Damodar river, where the high-flood level of last year has shown that such raising is necessary.

Considerable sums have been included in the estimates for dredging work. The clearing of the bed of the Saraswati river in connection with the Rajapur drainage works is estimated at Rs. 64,000, and Rs. 1,70,000 has been provided for dredging the Angeria creek on the Sundarbans route. There are also provisions made of Rs. 35,000 for a new sluice in the Damodar Embankment below Jajuri, of Rs. 80,000 for dredging the Pattimari channel on the existing steamer route between Calcutta and Barisal, and of Rs. 80,000 for the permanent protection of the Hooghly Left Embankment at Diamond Harbour, where a high flood, combined with stormy weather, caused some serious damage last year.

LIST OF BUSINESS—ITEM No. 15.

The Hon'ble Nawab Syed Shams-ul-Huda introduced the following heads :—

Revenue—

XXXI—Civil works in charge of civil officers.

Expenditure—

45. Civil works in charge of civil officers.

He said :—

My Lord, the receipt side of the estimates calls for little comment. The estimate for the next year and the revised estimate for the current year have both been taken at Rs. 1,44,000, of which tolls on ferries is the only item of importance.

As regards the expenditure, the revised estimate for 1913-14 is Rs. 28,30,000, which is Rs. 1,90,000 less than the budget. The decrease is nominal and is due to the transfer of the charge of Rs. 1,50,000 for grant to the Chittagong Port Fund to the head 21—Ports and Pilotage, and the adjustment under the appropriate heads of the expenditure sanctioned by the Divisional Commissioners and the District Magistrates from the lump grants of Rs. 1,00,000 and Rs. 52,000, respectively. The allotment for works of sanitary improvement was not also fully utilized, but the savings will be regranted in next year and the year following.

The budget for 1914-15 amounts to Rs. 20,77,000, which is less than the budget grant for the current year, as the grants for works of sanitary improvement have been wholly provided for in the Medical Budget and not partly here and partly under Medical (Sanitation). The budget includes the following important items:—

	Rs.
Grant to the Calcutta Improvement Trust ...	11,50,000
Augmentation grants to District Boards ...	5,86,000
Grant for the improvement of roads in Government estates being $1\frac{1}{2}$ per cent. of collections in those estates ...	67,618
Lump grant at the disposal of the Divisional Commissioners ...	1,00,000
Lump grant at the disposal of the District Magistrates ...	52,000
Lump provision for pay of Sub-Overseers in each Subdivision in Bengal to report on the real condition of rural water-supply ...	14,000
Annual grant to the Calcutta Municipality for improvements in official quarters ...	5,000

The grant-in-aid to the Calcutta Improvement Fund includes 10 lakhs, being the fourth instalment out of the five sanctioned by the Government of India and the balance  $1\frac{1}{2}$  lakh is the recurring annual grant for 60 years, with effect from 1911-12. The principal items sanctioned out of the allotment for works of sanitary improvements in the year 1913-14 are enumerated on pages 24 and 25 of the Financial Statement and need not be mentioned by me again.

LIST OF BUSINESS—ITEM No. 16.

The Hon'ble Mr. Finimore introduced the following heads:—

Revenue—

XXXI—Civil Works in charge of the Public Works Department.

Expenditure—

45.—Civil Works in charge of the Public Works Department.

He said:—

My Lord, I have to introduce for the consideration of the Council the Budget for Civil Works in charge of the Public Works Department.

This is divided into two parts—

(a) Revenue.

(b) Expenditure.

In the revised budget figures for the current year under the head of Revenue, there is an increase of Rs. 45,000 in our anticipated receipts principally due to the sale-proceeds of old buildings having exceeded our estimate.

For the year 1914-15, the amount budgeted for receipts is Rs. 3,85,000 against our revised estimate for the current year of Rs. 4,14,000. The decrease is due to anticipated receipts in 1913-14 on account of sale buildings being less.

On the expenditure side, the increase of Rs. 3,88,000 under Original Works in the Revised Estimate is accounted for principally by an additional grant of Rs. 3,70,620 for the acquisition of land for the school of Tropical Medicine and Biological Laboratory in the Medical College, Calcutta.

The increase of Rs. 48,000 in repairs to communications is mainly due to extra grants given for repairs to the roads in the Darjeeling district necessitated by the heavy rains during June and July.

The decrease of Rs. 87,000 in establishment is due to a larger Imperial contribution of  $21\frac{1}{2}$  per cent. on works executed for the Government of India than that anticipated when the budget for the current year was framed.

The grant for expenditure during the coming year is Rs. 89,59,000 against Rs. 78,00,000, the revised estimate for the current year. From this we have first to meet our recurrent expenditure on Establishment, Tools and Plant and Repairs and make adequate provision for carrying on original works in progress.

For Establishment we have provided Rs. 11,47,000 against Rs. 10,20,000, the revised estimate for 1913-14. This difference is due to the fact that we anticipate that the Imperial contribution of  $21\frac{1}{2}$  per cent. on works executed for the Government of India during the coming year will be less by Rs. 1,27,009 than it is in the current year.

For Tools and Plant Rs. 70,000 is provided against Rs. 39,000 in the current year. The increase is due to road rollers required in the Burdwan Division and road-rollers and certain other Tools and Plant for the Duars Roads Division.

For repairs the amount budgeted is Rs. 21,83,000 against Rs. 19,57,000 in the current year. The increase is due to a provision of about Rs. 2,83,000 for the owner's share of municipal taxes on office buildings which has hitherto been paid by the Civil Departments occupying them, but which now have to be provided for in the Public Works Budget.

To provide adequately for carrying on works now in progress during the coming year, a provision of Rs. 17,29,000 has been made.

This leaves a sum of Rs. 38,30,000 available for works not yet commenced. Of this a sum of Rs. 3,26,500 has been set aside for Minor Works, each costing Rs. 5,000 and less and in the case of the Educational Department, Rs. 10,000 and less.

This will be placed at the disposal of Commissioners of Divisions and Heads of Departments thus :—

	Rs.
To Commissioners	71,500
To Excise Department	10,000
Jails Department	10,000
Police (Mufassal)	50,000
Police (Calcutta)	15,000
Education Department	75,000
Medical Department	50,000
Registration Department	15,000
In addition to this we have allotted to Judicial Department Minor Works	10,000
And for the residence of the Heads of the Local Government	25,000
Keeping as reserve	64,000
This leaves for Major Works	34,04,500

The new major works under the heads Police, Jails, Sanitation, Excise, Medical, Education, Registration, Judicial and Revenue are dealt with by the Hon'ble Members in charge of the Departments concerned. Important Public Works Department items are—

Rupees 50,000 for Public Works Department offices ;

Rupees 60,000 for residences for Public Works officers (long-felt wants) ; and

Nine and a half lakhs for roads, of which Rs. 4,50,000 will be required next year in connection with improvements to the Duars roads. The balance of this grant, viz., will be utilized in improving communications in other parts of the Province.

LIST OF BUSINESS—ITEM No. 17.

The Hon'ble Mr. Lyon introduced the following heads :—

Revenue—

XVIII—Ports and Pilotage.

Expenditure—

21. Ports and Pilotage.

He said :—

The only noticeable matter in connection with these figures is the decrease on both the receipt and expenditure sides of the estimates for pilotage charges. This is due to a falling-off shown in the first nine months of the current year in the number of vessels entering and leaving the Calcutta Port. It would appear, however, that this falling-off has come to an end, and that there has been an increase during the last two or three months. This warrants the higher estimate which has been made of receipts and expenditure during the coming year. I may add that the decrease in the current year in the number of vessels entering the port is almost wholly due to the fact that there were fewer colliers coming to the port in ballast in the earlier part of the year. There has, however, been a great recovery in the number of such vessels in the later months of the year.

LIST OF BUSINESS—ITEM No. 18.

The Hon'ble Sir William Duke introduced the following heads :—

Revenue—

XII—Interest.

Expenditure—

1. Refunds and Drawbacks.

Revenue—

XXII—Receipts in aid of Superannuation, etc.

Expenditure—

29. Superannuation Allowance.

Revenue—

XXV—Miscellaneous.

Expenditure—

32. Miscellaneous.

He said :—

My Lord, these heads do not call for any detailed remarks. As I said last year the interest budget represents for the most part the loan transactions of the Local Government. We borrow money from the Government of India at  $3\frac{1}{2}$  per cent. calculated on the mean outstanding balance, and lend it under the Land Improvement and Agriculturists Loans Acts to Co-operative Societies (Class I), under Special Acts (Drainage and Embankment Advances) (Class II), to landholders (Class III) and to local bodies such as District Boards and Municipalities (excluding Presidency Corporations) (Class IV).

The receipts comprise the interest we realize. The increase under this head is due to the large advances given under Agriculturists Loans Act in 1913-14, owing to the floods in Burdwan and Midnapore. The revised estimates of advances to be made in 1913-14 and the budget estimates for 1914-15 are—

				1913-14.	1914-15.
				Rs.	Rs.
Class I	...	...	...	6,76,500	3,05,000
" II	...	...	...	90,000	3,00,000
" III	...	...	...	36,671	.....
" IV	...	...	...	4,68,000	7,90,000

In the Superannuation Budget the receipts represent the contributions paid by the different officers lent to foreign services and for the management of private estates. The charge under this head represents pensions and gratuities, which rise year after year, and provision is made with reference to the average increase in the past three years. A special provision of Rs. 75,000 has been made for both 1913-14 and 1914-15 to meet the charges for the commutation of pensions.

Refunds and drawbacks occur in the different departments and the details are shown on page 40 of the Financial Statement. We budget on the basis of the average actuals of the past three years excluding special payments.

On the receipt side the revised estimate for the current year is Rs. 6,78,000 against Rs. 5,91,000, the budget estimate for the year. The increase is chiefly under unclaimed deposits, which is an uncertain item, and the estimate under this sub-head has been raised by Rs. 55,000. The rest of the increase is due to the sale of Government land to the railway at Chittagong, and the sale-proceeds of tents from the Government House stock at Dacca to the Private Secretary to the Lieutenant-Governor of Bihar and Orissa and fees for the audit of accounts of 1911-12 and previous years of the Courts of Wards completed in 1912-13 and 1913-14. The estimate for next year is Rs. 5,92,000 which closely follows the budget for the current year, and does not call for any special remarks.

Turning to the expenditure side, the revised estimate shows a nominal saving of Rs. 2,37,000, which is mainly due to the adjustment under the appropriate heads of the expenditure sanctioned by His Excellency from the provision for petty grants, and to the transfer of the charges for grain compensation allowances to the respective departments by reappropriation from a lump provision under the head and to the reappropriation of the reserve provision of 1½ lakh in order to meet expenditure under other heads. On the other hand, additional charges were incurred for expenditure on gratuitous relief (1½ lakh in flooded areas in the districts of Burdwan and Midnapore for charges in connection with the District Administration Committee (1 lakh) and Calcutta Port Facilities Committee (Rs. 77,000). Special building grants have also been sanctioned to the Prisoners' Aid Society, to the Calcutta Orphanage and to the Anath Bhandar.

The Budget for next year is Rs. 10,81,000 and includes Rs. 20,000 for charges for the District Administration Committee, Rs. 3,000 for the Port Facilities Committee, the usual allotment of Rs. 1,00,000 for petty grants for His Excellency, Rs. 50,000 for charges on account of gratuitous relief in flooded areas and Rs. 40,000 for charges on account of grain compensation allowances which will be reappropriated to meet the increase of pay of menials and the usual provision of 1½ lakh for unforeseen charges.

The provision for charitable donations has been raised from Rs. 1,60,000 to Rs. 1,70,000. It includes Rs. 6,600 for the Lady Minto's Nursing Association, Rs. 76,466 for the Calcutta Female Nurses Institution and several recurring annual grants to various charitable institutions.

The question of raising the pay of the menials of the several departments of Government both for Calcutta and the mufassal is under consideration and it is expected that the Government of India will be requested to sanction the increase of pay of this low-paid class of Government servants. In the current year about 3 lakhs was spent for the payment of grain allowance, but in next year it has been raised to Rs. 4,00,000, so that when the increase of pay of menials is sanctioned we will stop the grain allowance but raise the pay. The Government of India have just sanctioned an assignment of Rs. 26,000 for the remission of certain recoveries from local bodies which will be credited under Land Revenue Adjustments, but a corresponding provision has been made on the expenditure side under this head as it is assumed that for the purposes of the budget the increase will result in an increase of expenditure though in most cases there will actually be a reduction in revenue. These entries are subject to the sanction of the Secretary of State to the detailed proposals which are under submission.

I am also to remind those Hon'ble Members who are desirous of sending in Resolutions on the Revised Financial Statement that the latest time for receipt of such resolutions, by the Secretary to the Council, is 11 A.M., on the 8th March.

The PRESIDENT said :—

Referring to what has just fallen from my hon'ble colleague, I may say that I have just been handed a representation signed by certain non-official members of this House pointing out that it is a very short time between now and the 8th and that it would be inconvenient for them to have to send in their Resolutions by that time. I am afraid I cannot help that. We are bound by our Rules (which are statutory) to take up the discussion on the 13th, and to finish it by the 16th. I am afraid I cannot set aside these Rules on such a brief consideration of the matter as the representation just given me has allowed me to take, and I do not propose to do so. The Council stands adjourned to Friday, the 13th March, at 2 P.M.

Offences in respect of infringing copies. 7. If any person knowingly—

- (a) makes for sale or hire any infringing copy of a work in which copyright subsists; or
  - (b) sells or lets for hire, or by way of trade exposes or offers for sale or hire, any infringing copy of any such work; or
  - (c) distributes infringing copies of any such work, either for the purposes of trade or to such an extent as to affect prejudicially the owner of the copyright; or
  - (d) by way of trade exhibits in public any infringing copy of any such work; or
  - (e) imports for sale or hire into British India any infringing copy of any such work;
- he shall be punishable with fine which may extend to twenty rupees for every copy dealt with in contravention of this section, but not exceeding five hundred rupees in respect of the same transaction.

8. If any person knowingly makes, or has in his possession, any plate for the purpose of making infringing copies of any work in which copyright subsists, or knowingly and for his private profit causes any such work to be performed in print without the consent of the owner of the copyright, he shall be punishable with fine which may extend to five hundred rupees.

9. If any person, after having been previously convicted of an offence punishable under section 7 or section 8 is subsequently convicted of an offence punishable under either of these sections, he shall be punishable with simple imprisonment which may extend to one month, or with fine which may extend to one thousand rupees, or with both.

10. (1) The Court before which any offence under this Chapter is tried may, whether the alleged offender is convicted or not, order that all copies of the work or all plates in the possession of the alleged offender, which appear to it to be infringing copies, or plates for the purpose of making infringing copies, be destroyed or delivered up to the owner of the copyright, or otherwise dealt with as the Court may think fit.

(2) Any person affected by an order under subsection (1) may, within thirty days of the date of such order, appeal to the Court to which appeals from the Court making the order ordinarily lie; and such appellate Court may direct that execution of the order be stayed pending consideration of the appeal.

11. No Court inferior to that of a Presidency Magistrate or a Magistrate of the first class shall try any offence against this Act.

12. The provisions of this Chapter shall not apply to any case to which section 9 of the Copyright Act, regarding the restrictions on remedies in the case of a work of architecture, applies.

AN ACT TO AMEND AND CONSOLIDATE
THE LAW RELATING TO COPY-RIGHT.

[16TH DECEMBER, 1911.]

Be it enacted by the King's Most Excellent Majesty, by and with the advice and consent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and Commons in this present Parliament assembled, and by the authority of the same, as follows:—

PART I.

IMPERIAL COPYRIGHT.

Rights.

1. (1) Subject to the provisions of this Act, copyright shall subsist throughout the parts of His Majesty's dominions to which this Act extends for the term hereinafter mentioned in every original literary dramatic musical and artistic work, if—

- (a) in the case of a published work, the work was first published within such parts of His Majesty's dominions as aforesaid; and
- (b) in the case of an unpublished work, the author was at the date of the making of the work a British subject or resident within such parts of His Majesty's dominions as aforesaid;

but in no other works, except so far as the protection conferred by this Act is extended by Orders in Council thereunder relating to self-governing dominions to which this Act does not extend and to foreign countries.

(2) For the purposes of this Act, "copyright" means the sole right to produce or reproduce the work or any substantial part thereof in any material form whatsoever, to perform, or in the case of a lecture to deliver, the work or any substantial part thereof in public; if the work is unpublished, to publish the work or any substantial part thereof; and shall include the sole right—

- (a) to produce, reproduce, perform, or publish any translation of the work;
- (b) in the case of a dramatic work, to convert it into a novel or other non-dramatic work;
- (c) in the case of a novel or other non-dramatic work, or of an artistic work, to convert it into a dramatic work, by way of performance in public or otherwise;
- (d) in the case of a literary, dramatic, or musical work, to make any record, perforated roll, cinematograph film, or other contrivance by means of which the work may be mechanically performed or delivered; and to authorise any such acts as aforesaid.

(3) For the purposes of this Act, publication, in relation to any work, means the issue of copies of the work to the public, and does not include the performance in public of a dramatic or musical work, the delivery in public of a lecture, the exhibition in public of an artistic work, or the construction of an architectural work of art, but, for the purposes of this provision, the issue of photographs and engravings of works of sculpture and architectural works of art shall not be deemed to be publication of such works.

2. (1) Copyright in a work shall be deemed to be infringed by any person who, without the consent of the owner of the copyright, does anything the sole right to do which is by this Act conferred on the owner of the copyright: Provided that the following acts shall not constitute an infringement of copyright:—

- (i) Any fair dealing with any work for the purposes of private study, research, criticism, review, or newspaper summary:

- (ii) Where the author of an artistic work is not the owner of the copyright therein, the use by the author of any mould, cast, sketch, plan, model, or study made by him for the purpose of the work, provided that he does not thereby repeat or imitate the main design of that work:

- (iii) The making or publishing of paintings, drawings, engravings, or photographs of a work of sculpture or artistic craftsmanship, if permanently situate in a public place or building, or the making or publishing of paintings, drawings, engravings or photographs (which are not in the nature of architectural drawings or plans) of any architectural work of art:

- (iv) The publication in a collection, mainly composed of non-copyright matter, bona fide intended for the use of schools, and so described in the title and in any advertisements issued by the publisher, of short passages from published literary works not themselves published for the use of schools in which copyright subsists: Provided that not more than two of such passages from works by the same author are published by the same publisher within five years, and that the source from which such passages are taken is acknowledged:

- (v) The publication in a newspaper of a report of a lecture delivered in public, unless the report is prohibited by conspicuous written or printed notice affixed before and maintained during the lecture at or about the main entrance of the building in which the lecture is given, and, except whilst the building is being used for public worship, in a position near the lecturer; but nothing in this paragraph shall affect the provisions in paragraph (i) as to newspaper summaries:

- (vi) The reading or recitation in public by one person of any reasonable extract from any published work.

(2) Copyright in a work shall also be deemed to be infringed by any person who—

- (a) sells or lets for hire, or by way of trade exposes or offers for sale or hire; or
- (b) distributes either for the purposes of trade or to such an extent as to affect prejudicially the owner of the copyright; or
- (c) by way of trade exhibits in public; or
- (d) imports for sale or hire into any part of His Majesty's dominions to which this Act extends, any work which to his knowledge infringes copyright or would infringe copyright if it had been made within the part of His Majesty's dominions in or into which the sale or hiring, exposure, offering for sale or hire, distribution, exhibition, or importation took place.

(3) Copyright in a work shall also be deemed to be infringed by any person who for his private profit permits a theatre or other place of entertainment to be used for the performance in public of the work without the consent of the owner of the copyright, unless he was not aware, and had no reasonable ground for suspecting, that the performance would be an infringement of copyright.

The term for which copyright shall subsist shall, except as otherwise expressly provided by this Act, be the life of the author and a period of fifty years after his death :

Provided that at any time after the expiration of twenty-five years, or in the case of a work in which copyright subsists at the passing of this Act thirty years, from the death of the author of a published work, copyright in the work shall not be deemed to be infringed by the reproduction of the work for sale if the person reproducing the work proves that he has given the prescribed notice in writing of his intention to reproduce the work, and that he has paid in the prescribed manner to, or for the benefit of, the owner of the copyright royalties in respect of all copies of the work sold by him calculated at the rate of ten per cent on the price at which he publishes the work ; and, for the purposes of this proviso, the Board of Trade may make regulations prescribing the mode in which notices are to be given, and the particulars to be given in such notices, and the mode, time, and frequency of the payment of royalties, including (if they think fit) regulations requiring payment in advance or otherwise securing the payment of royalties.

4. If, at any time after the death of the author of a literary, dramatic, or musical work which has been published or performed in public, a complaint is made to the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council that the owner of the copyright in the work has refused to republish or to allow the republication of the work or has refused to allow the performance in public of the work, and that by reason of such refusal the work is withheld from the public, the owner of the copyright may be ordered to grant a licence to reproduce the work or perform the work in public, as the case may be, on such terms and subject to such conditions as the Judicial Committee may think fit.

5. (1) Subject to the provisions of this Act, the author of a work shall be the first owner of the copyright therein :

Provided that—

- (a) where, in the case of an engraving, photograph, or portrait, the plate or other original was ordered by some other person and was made for valuable consideration in pursuance of that order, then, in the absence of any agreement to the contrary, the person by whom such plate or other original was ordered shall be the first owner of the copyright ;

(b) where the author was in the employment of some other person under a contract of service or apprenticeship and the work was made in the course of his employment by that person, the person by whom the author was employed shall, in the absence of any agreement to the contrary, be the first owner of the copyright, but where the work is an article or other contribution to a newspaper, magazine, or similar periodical, there shall, in the absence of any agreement to the contrary, be deemed to be reserved to the author a right to restrain the publication of the work, otherwise than as part of a newspaper, magazine, or similar periodical.

(2) The owner of the copyright in any work may assign the right, either wholly or partially, and either generally or subject to limitations to the United Kingdom or any self-governing dominion or other part of His Majesty's dominions to which this Act extends, and either for the whole term of the copyright or for any part thereof, and may grant any interest in the right by licence, but no such assignment or grant shall be valid unless it is in writing signed by the owner of the right in respect of which the assignment or grant is made, or by his duly authorised agent :

Provided that, where the author of a work is the first owner of the copyright therein, no assignment of the copyright and no grant of any interest therein, made by him (otherwise than by will) after the passing of this Act, shall be operative to vest in the assignee or grantee any rights with respect to the copyright in the work beyond the expiration of twenty-five years from the death of the author, and the reversionary interest in the copyright expectant on the termination of that period shall, on the death of the author, notwithstanding any agreement to the contrary, devolve on his legal personal representatives as part of his estate, and any agreement entered into by him as to the disposition of such reversionary interest shall be null and void, but nothing in this proviso shall be construed as applying to the assignment of the copyright in a collective work or a licence to publish a work or part of a work as part of a collective work.

(3) Where, under any partial assignment of copyright, the assignee becomes entitled to any right comprised in copyright, the assignee, as respects the right so assigned, and the assignor as respects the rights not assigned, shall be treated for the purposes of this Act as the owner of the copyright, and the provisions of this Act shall have effect accordingly.

Civil Remedies.

6. (1) Where copyright in any work has been infringed, the owner of the copyright shall, except as otherwise provided by this Act, be entitled to all such remedies by way of injunction or interdict, damages, accounts, and otherwise, as are or may be conferred by law for the infringement of a right.

(2) The costs of all parties in any proceedings in respect of the infringement of copyright shall be in the absolute discretion of the Court.

(3) In any action for infringement of copyright in any work, the work shall be presumed to be a work in which copyright subsists and the plaintiff shall be presumed to be the owner of the copyright, unless the defendant puts in issue the existence of the copyright, or, as the case may be, the title of the plaintiff, and where any such question is in issue, then—

(a) if a name purporting to be that of the author of the work is printed or otherwise indicated thereon in the usual manner, the person whose name is so printed or indicated shall, unless the contrary is proved, be presumed to be the author of the work ;

(b) if no name is so printed or indicated, or if the name so printed or indicated is not the author's true name or the name by which he is commonly known, and a name purporting to be that of the publisher or proprietor of the work is printed or otherwise indicated thereon in the usual manner, the person whose name is so printed or indicated shall, unless the contrary is proved, be presumed to be the owner of the copyright in the work for the purposes of proceedings in respect of the infringement of copyright therein.

7. All infringing copies of any work in which copyright subsists, or of any substantial part thereof, and all plates used or intended to be used for the production of such infringing copies, shall be deemed to be the property of the owner of the copyright, who accordingly may take proceedings for the recovery of the possession thereof or in respect of the conversion thereof.

8. Where proceedings are taken in respect of the infringement of the copyright in any work and the defendant in his defence alleges that he was not aware of the existence of the copyright in the work, the plaintiff shall not be entitled to any remedy other than an injunction or interdict in respect of the infringement if the defendant proves that at the date of the infringement he was not aware and had not reasonable ground for suspecting that copyright subsisted in the work.

9. (1) Where the construction of a building or other structure which infringes or which, if completed, would infringe the copyright in some other work has been commenced, the owner of the copyright shall not be entitled to obtain an injunction or interdict to restrain the construction of such building or structure or to order its demolition.

(2) Such of the other provisions of this Act as provide that an infringing copy of a work shall be deemed to be the property of the owner of the copyright, or as impose summary penalties, shall not apply in any case to which this section applies.

10. An action in respect of infringement of copyright shall not be commenced after the expiration of three years next after the infringement.

Importation of copies.

14. (1) Copies made out of the United Kingdom of any work in which copyright subsists which if made in the United Kingdom would infringe copyright, and as to which the owner of the copyright gives notice in writing by himself or his agent to the Commissioners of Customs and Excise, that he is desirous that such copies should not be imported into the United Kingdom, shall not be so imported, and shall, subject to the provisions of this section, be deemed to be included in the table of prohibitions and restrictions contained in section forty-two of the Customs Consolidation Act, 1876, and that section shall apply accordingly.

(2) Before detaining any such copies or taking any further proceedings with a view to the forfeiture thereof under the law relating to the Customs, the Commissioners of Customs and Excise may require the regulations under this section, whether as to information, conditions, or other matters, to be complied with, and may satisfy themselves in accordance with those regulations that the copies are such as are prohibited by this section to be imported.

(3) The Commissioners of Customs and Excise may make regulations, either general or special, respecting the detention and forfeiture of copies the importation of which is prohibited by this section, and the conditions, if any, to be fulfilled before such detention and forfeiture, and may, by such regulations, determine the information, notices, and security to be given, and the evidence requisite for any of the purposes of this section, and the mode of verification of such evidence.

(4) The regulations may apply to copies of all works the importation of copies of which is prohibited by this section, or different regulations may be made respecting different classes of such works.

(5) The regulations may provide for the informant reimbursing the Commissioners of Customs and Excise all expenses and damages incurred in respect of any detention made on his information, and of any proceedings consequent on such detention; and may provide for notices under any enactment repealed by this Act being treated as notices given under this section.

(6) The foregoing provisions of this section shall have effect as if they were part of the Customs Consolidation Act, 1876: Provided that, notwithstanding anything in that Act, the Isle of Man shall not be treated as part of the United Kingdom for the purposes of this section.

(7) This section shall, with the necessary modifications, apply to the importation into a British possession to which this Act extends of copies of works made out of that possession.

Delivery of Books to Libraries.

15. (1) The publisher of every book published in the United Kingdom shall, within one month after the publication, deliver, at his own expense, a copy of the book to the trustees of the British Museum, who shall give a written receipt for it.

(2) He shall also, if written demand is made before the expiration of twelve months after publication, deliver within one month after receipt of that written demand or, if the demand was made before publication, within one month after publication, to some depôt in London named in the demand a copy of the book for, or in accordance with the directions of, the authority having the control of each of the following libraries, namely: the Bodleian Library, Oxford, the University Library, Cambridge, the Library of the Faculty of Advocates at Edinburgh, and the Library of Trinity College, Dublin; and, subject to the provisions of this section, the National Library of Wales. In the case of an encyclopædia, newspaper, review, magazine, or work published in a series of numbers or parts, the written demand may include all numbers or parts of the work which may be subsequently published.

(3) The copy delivered to the trustees of the British Museum shall be a copy of the whole book with all maps and illustrations belonging thereto, finished and coloured in the same manner as the best copies of the book are published, and shall be bound, sewed, or stitched together, and on the best paper on which the book is printed.

(4) The copy delivered for the other authorities mentioned in this section shall be on the paper on which the largest number of copies of the book is printed for sale, and shall be in the like condition as the books prepared for sale.

(5) The books of which copies are to be delivered to the National Library of Wales shall not include books of such classes as may be specified in regulations to be made by the Board of Trade.

(6) If a publisher fails to comply with this section, he shall be liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding five pounds and the value of the book, and the fine shall be paid to the trustees or authority to whom the book ought to have been delivered.

(7) For the purposes of this section, the expression "book" includes every part or division of a book, pamphlet, sheet of letter-press, sheet of music, map, plan, chart or table separately published, but shall not include any second or subsequent edition of a book unless such edition contains additions or alterations either in the letter-press or in the maps, prints, or other engravings belonging thereto.

Special Provisions as to certain Works.

16. (1) In the case of a work of joint authorship, copyright shall subsist during the life of the author who first dies and for a term of fifty years after his death, or during the life of the author who dies last, whichever period is the longer, and references in this Act to the period after the expiration of any specified number of years from the death of the author shall be construed as references to the period after the expiration of the like number of years from the death of the author who dies first or after the death of the author who dies last, whichever period may be the shorter, and in the provisions of this Act with respect to the grant of compulsory licences a reference to the date of the death of the author who dies last shall be substituted for the reference to the date of the death of the author.

(2) Where, in the case of a work of joint authorship some one or more of the joint authors do not satisfy the conditions conferring copyright laid down by this Act, the work shall be treated for the purposes of this Act as if the other author or authors had been the sole author or authors thereof:

Provided that the term of the copyright shall be the same as it would have been if all the authors had satisfied such conditions as aforesaid.

(3) For the purposes of this Act, "a work of joint authorship" means a work produced by the collaboration of two or more authors in which the contribution of one author is not distinct from the contribution of the other author or authors.

(4) Where a married woman and her husband are joint authors of a work the interest of such married woman therein shall be her separate property.

17. (1) In the case of a literary, dramatic or musical work, or an engraving, in which copyright subsists at the date of the death of the author or, in the case of a work of joint authorship, at or immediately before the date of the death of the author who dies last, but which has not been published, nor, in the case of a dramatic or musical work, been performed in public, nor, in the case of a lecture, been delivered in public, before that date, copyright shall subsist till publication, or performance or delivery in public, whichever may first happen, and for a term of fifty years thereafter, and the proviso to section three of this Act shall, in the case of such a work, apply as if the author had died at the date of such publication or performance or delivery in public as aforesaid.

(2) The ownership of an author's manuscript after his death, where such ownership has been acquired under a testamentary disposition made by the author and the manuscript is of a work which has not been published nor performed in public nor delivered in public, shall be prima facie proof of the copyright being with the owner of the manuscript.

18. Without prejudice to any rights or privileges of the Crown, where any work has, whether before or after the commencement of this Act, been prepared or published by or under the direction or control of His Majesty or any Government department, the copyright in the work shall, subject to any agreement with the author, belong to His Majesty, and in such case shall continue for a period of fifty years from the date of the first publication of the work.

19. (1) Copyright shall subsist in records, perforated rolls, and other contrivances by means of which sounds may be mechanically reproduced, in like manner as if such contrivances were musical works, but the term of copyright shall be fifty years from the making of the original plate from which the contrivance was directly or indirectly derived, and the person who was the owner of such original plate at the time when such plate was made shall be deemed to be the author of the work, and, where such owner is a body corporate, the body corporate shall be deemed for the purposes of this Act to reside within the parts of His Majesty's dominions to which this Act extends if it has established a place of business within such parts.

(2) It shall not be deemed to be an infringement of copyright in any musical work for any person to make within the parts of His Majesty's dominions to which this Act extends, records, perforated rolls or other contrivances by means of which the work may be mechanically performed, if such person proves—

- (a) that such contrivances have previously been made by, or with the consent or acquiescence of, the owner of the copyright in the work ; and
- (b) that he has given the prescribed notice of his intention to make the contrivances, and has paid in the prescribed manner to, or for the benefit of, the owner of the copyright in the work royalties in respect of all such contrivances sold by him, calculated at the rate herein-after mentioned :

Provided that—

- (i) nothing in this provision shall authorise any alterations in, or omissions from, the work reproduced, unless contrivances reproducing the work subject to similar alterations and omissions have been previously made by, or with the consent or acquiescence of, the owner of the copyright, or unless such alterations or omissions are reasonably necessary for the adaptation of the work to the contrivances in question ; and
- (ii) for the purposes of this provision, a musical work shall be deemed to include any words so closely associated therewith as to form part of the same work, but shall not be deemed to include a contrivance by means of which sounds may be mechanically reproduced.

(3) The rate at which such royalties as aforesaid are to be calculated shall—

- (a) in the case of contrivances sold within two years after the commencement of this Act by the person making the same, be two and one-half per cent ; and
- (b) in the case of contrivances sold as aforesaid after the expiration of that period, be five per cent on the ordinary retail selling price of the contrivance calculated in the prescribed manner, so however that the royalty payable in respect of a contrivance shall, in no case, be less than a half-penny for each separate musical work in which copyright subsists reproduced thereon, and, where the royalty calculated as aforesaid includes a fraction of a farthing, such fraction shall be reckoned as a farthing :

Provided that, if, at any time after the expiration of seven years from the commencement of this Act, it appears to the Board of Trade that such rate as aforesaid is no longer equitable, the Board of Trade may, after holding a public inquiry, make an order either decreasing or increasing that rate to such extent as under the circumstances may seem just, but any order so made shall be provisional only and shall not have any effect unless and until confirmed by Parliament ; but, where an order revising the rate has been so made and confirmed, no further revision shall be made before the expiration of fourteen years from the date of the last revision.

(4) If any such contrivance is made reproducing two or more different works in which copyright subsists and the owners of the copyright therein are different persons, the sums payable by way of royalties under this section shall be apportioned amongst the several owners of the copyright in such proportions as, failing agreement, may be determined by arbitration.

(5) When any such contrivances by means of which a musical work may be mechanically performed have been made, then, for the purposes of this section, the owner of the copyright in the work shall, in relation to any person who makes the prescribed inquiries, be deemed to have given his consent to the making of such contrivances if he fails to reply to such inquiries within the prescribed time.

(6) For the purposes of this section, the Board of Trade may make regulations prescribing anything which under this section is to be prescribed, and prescribing the mode in which notices are to be given and the particulars to be given in such notices, and the mode, time, and frequency of the payment of royalties, and any such regulations may, if the Board think fit, include regulations requiring payment in advance or otherwise securing the payment of royalties.

(7) In the case of musical works published before the commencement of this Act, the foregoing provisions shall have effect, subject to the following modifications and additions :

- (a) The conditions as to the previous making by, or with the consent or acquiescence of, the owner of the copyright in the work, and the restrictions as to alterations in or omissions from the work shall not apply :
- (b) The rate of two and one-half per cent shall be substituted for the rate of five per cent as the rate at which royalties are to be calculated, but no royalties shall be payable in respect of contrivances sold before the first day of July, nineteen hundred and thirteen, if contrivances reproducing the same work had been lawfully made, or placed on sale, within the parts of His Majesty's dominions to which this Act extends before the first day of July, nineteen hundred and ten :

(c) Notwithstanding any assignment made before the passing of this Act of the copyright in a musical work, any rights conferred by this Act in respect of the making, or authorising the making, of contrivances by means of which the work may be mechanically performed shall belong to the author or his legal personal representatives and not to the assignees, and the royalties aforesaid shall be payable to, and for the benefit of, the author of the work or his legal personal representatives :

(d) The saving contained in this Act of the rights and interests arising from, or in connexion with, action taken before the commencement of this Act shall not be construed as authorising any person who has made contrivances by means of which the work may be mechanically performed to sell any such contrivances, whether made before or after the passing of this Act, except on the terms and subject to the conditions laid down in this section :

(e) Where the work is a work on which copyright is conferred by an Order in Council relating to a foreign country, the copyright so conferred shall not, except to such extent as may be provided by the Order, include any rights with respect to the making of records, perforated rolls, or other contrivances by means of which the work may be mechanically performed.

(8) Notwithstanding anything in this Act where a record, perforated roll, or other contrivance by means of which sounds may be mechanically reproduced has been made before the commencement of this Act, copyright shall, as from the commencement of this Act, subsist therein in like manner and for the like term as if this Act had been in force at the date of the making of the original plate from which the contrivance was directly or indirectly derived :

Provided that—

(i) the person who, at the commencement of this Act, is the owner of such original plate shall be the first owner of such copyright ; and

(ii) nothing in this provision shall be construed as conferring copyright in any such contrivance if the making thereof would have infringed copyright in some other such contrivance, if this provision had been in force at the time of the making of the first-mentioned contrivance.

20. Notwithstanding anything in this Act, it shall not be an infringement of copyright in an address of a political nature delivered at a public meeting to publish a report thereof in a newspaper.

21. The term for which copyright shall subsist in photographs shall be fifty years from the making of the original negative from which the photograph was directly or indirectly derived, and the person who was owner of such negative at the time when such negative was made shall be deemed to be the author of the work, and, where such owner is a body corporate, the body corporate shall be deemed for the purposes of this Act to reside within the parts of His Majesty's dominions to which this Act extends if it has established a place of business within such parts.

22. (1) This Act shall not apply to designs capable of being registered under the Patents and Designs Act, 1907, except designs which, though capable of being so registered, are not used or intended to be used as models or patterns to be multiplied by any industrial process.

(2) General rules under section eighty-six of the Patents and Designs Act, 1907, may be made for determining the conditions under which a design shall be deemed to be used for such purposes as aforesaid.

23. If it appears to His Majesty that a foreign country does not give, or has not undertaken to give, adequate protection to the works of British authors, it shall be lawful for His Majesty by Order in Council to direct that such of the provisions of this Act as confer copyright on works first published within the parts of His Majesty's dominions to which this Act extends, shall not apply to works published after the date specified in the Order, the authors whereof are subjects or citizens of such foreign country, and are not resident in His Majesty's dominions, and thereupon those provisions shall not apply to such works.

25. (1) This Act, except such of the provisions thereof as are expressly restricted to the United Kingdom, shall extend throughout His Majesty's dominions: Provided that it shall not extend to a self-governing dominion, unless declared by the Legislature of that dominion to be in force therein either without any modifications or additions, or with such modifications and additions relating exclusively to procedure and remedies, or necessary to adapt this Act to the circumstances of the dominion, as may be enacted by such Legislature.

(2) If the Secretary of State certifies by notice published in the London Gazette that any self-governing dominion has passed legislation under which works, the authors whereof were at the date of the making of the works British subjects resident elsewhere than in the dominion or (not being British subjects) were resident in the parts of His Majesty's dominions to which this Act extends, enjoy within the dominion rights substantially identical with those conferred by this Act, then, whilst such legislation continues in force, the dominion shall, for the purposes of the rights conferred by this Act, be treated as if it were a dominion to which this Act extends; and it shall be lawful for the Secretary of State to give such a certificate as aforesaid, notwithstanding that the remedies for enforcing the rights, or the restrictions on the importation of copies of works, manufactured in a foreign country, under the law of the dominion, differ from those under this Act.

26. (1) The Legislature of any self-governing dominion may, at any time, repeal all or any of the enactments relating to copyright passed by Parliament (including this Act) so far as they are operative within that dominion: Provided that no such repeal shall prejudicially affect any legal rights existing at the time of the repeal, and that, on this Act or any part thereof being so repealed by the Legislature of a self-governing dominion, that dominion shall cease to be a dominion to which this Act extends.

first published in that dominion; but, save as provided by such an Order, works the authors whereof were resident in a dominion to which this Act does not extend shall not, whether they are British subjects or not, be entitled to any protection under this Act except such protection as is by this Act conferred on works first published within the parts of His Majesty's dominions to which this Act extends:

Provided that no such Order shall confer any rights within a self-governing dominion, but the Governor in Council of any self-governing dominion to which this Act extends, may, by Order, confer within that dominion the like rights as His Majesty in Council is, under the foregoing provisions of this sub-section, authorised to confer within other parts of His Majesty's dominions.

For the purposes of this sub-section, the expression "a dominion to which this Act extends" includes a dominion which is for the purposes of this Act to be treated as if it were a dominion to which this Act extends.

27. The Legislature of any British possession to which this Act extends may modify or add to supplemental legislation any of the provisions of this Act in its application to the possession, but, except so far as such modifications and additions relate to procedure and remedies, they shall apply only to works the authors whereof were, at the time of the making of the work, resident in the possession, and to works first published in the possession.

28. His Majesty may, by Order in Council, extend this Act to any territories under his protection and to Cyprus, and, on the making of any such Order, this Act shall, subject to the provisions of the Order have effect as if the territories to which it applies or Cyprus were part of His Majesty's dominions to which this Act extends.

RESOLUTION.

READ—

The Administration Report on the Howrah Bridge for the year 1912-13.

THE income of the bridge amounted to Rs. 2,71,724 and expenditure to Rs. 2,23,890 against Rs. 2,41,708 and Rs. 2,14,450 respectively in the previous year.

The receipts from railway traffic which form the main source of revenue amounted to Rs. 2,50,022 against Rs. 2,15,934 in 1911-12. The increase in the expenditure was under head Maintenance and Repairs of the Bridge. A part of this was on account of dredging in front of the pontoons on the Calcutta side of the Bridge. Such work had not been required in previous years, and the necessity for it last year was therefore not foreseen by the Commissioners.

2. The number of vessels that passed through the Bridge during 1912-13 and the four preceding years is shown below—

	1912-13.	1911-12.	1910-11.	1909-10.	1908-09.

3. The total number of accidents during the year was 21 against 25, 27 and 27 during the preceding three years. There were 5 accidents to cargo and passenger boats against 12 in the previous year. Two cargo boats were lost in 2 of these cases.

4. The bridge was kept in good repair during the year and is in a good and sound state of preservation.

MEDICAL DEPARTMENT.

NOTIFICATION.

No. 703 Medl.—The 26th February 1914.—The following draft of a notification which it is proposed to issue in exercise of the powers conferred by section 69B, clause (ii) of the Bengal Municipal Act, 1884 (Bengal Act III of 1884), and section 138, clause (k) of the Bengal Local Self-Government Act of 1885 (Bengal Act III of 1885), is published for the information of persons likely to be affected thereby, and notice is hereby given that the draft will be taken into consideration by the Governor in Council on or after the 1st May 1914.

Any objection or suggestion which may be received from any person with respect to the draft before the date fixed as aforesaid will be considered by the Governor in Council.

H. L. STEPHENSON,

Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

DRAFT NOTIFICATION.

IN exercise of the powers conferred upon him by section 69B, clause (ii) of the Bengal Municipal Act, 1884 (Bengal Act III of 1884), and section 138, clause (k) of the Bengal Local Self-Government Act, III of 1885 (Bengal Act III of 1885), and in supersession of the Notification No. 2497 Medl., dated the 31st December 1908, and of the rules published therewith, as subsequently amended, the Governor in Council is pleased to make the following rules for the establishment and management of hospitals and dispensaries under the supervision of the Government of Bengal:—

RULES FOR THE MANAGEMENT OF HOSPITALS AND DISPENSARIES UNDER THE SUPERVISION OF THE GOVERNMENT OF BENGAL.

PRELIMINARY.

In these rules—

- (a) “Local authority” means any body of persons for the time being invested by law with the control and administration of any matters within a specified local area. It includes a Joint Committee under section 30 and a Local Board under section 101 of Bengal Act III of 1885.
- (b) “Local fund” means any fund under the control or management of a local authority.

CLASSIFICATION

RULE 1.—Hospitals and dispensaries under Government supervision are Classification of hospitals and dispensaries divided into the following classes:—

Class I. State—Public hospitals and dispensaries.

Class II. State—Special hospitals and dispensaries.

- |              |         |
|--------------|---------|
| (i) Police   | ...     |
| (ii) Forest  | and ... |
| Surveys      | ...     |
| (iii) Canals | ...     |
| (iv) Others  | ...     |

These include all institutions maintained by Provincial funds and under Government management. (The fact that an institution possesses endowments or receives contributions from local funds or private subscriptions should not be regarded as a reason for not classing it as “State,” so long as Provincial and Imperial funds are ultimately responsible for all the charges connected with it.)

Class I.—“Public” are State dispensaries which are open to the poorer classes of the public.

Class II.—“Special” are State dispensaries which serve only a special section of the public, as indicated in the sub-classification attached,

Class III.—*Local Fund Hospitals and Dispensaries—includes all institutions which are vested in local authorities, or guaranteed or maintained by local funds. The fact that such an institution is aided by private subscriptions or receives assistance from Government in the shape of part of the salary of the medical officer, grants of medicine or otherwise, should not be regarded as a reason for not classing it as a Local Fund Dispensary so long as its existence is ultimately dependent upon local funds.

Class IV.—*Private aided Hospitals and Dispensaries—comprises institutions supported by private subscriptions or guarantee, but receiving aid from Government or local funds.

Class V.—*Private non-aided Hospitals and Dispensaries—comprises institutions maintained entirely at the cost of private individuals or associations. The fact that Government supplies superior inspection or registers and forms should not be regarded as a reason for not treating it as a private non-aided dispensary.

Class VI.—*Railway Hospitals and Dispensaries—comprises all Railway institutions whether maintained by State Railways or others.

OPENING AND CLOSING OF DISPENSARIES AND CONDITIONS UNDER WHICH GOVERNMENT AID AND SUPERVISION WILL BE GIVEN.

RULE 2.—A dispensary may be opened by a local authority with the sanction, general or special, of the Commissioner, and on provision of the necessary funds in the annual budget, and it may be closed by the same authority, with the same sanction. When thus opened or closed by a local authority, the fact shall be reported by the Civil Surgeon to the Inspector-General of Civil Hospitals, in order that the dispensary may be added to or struck off from the list in class III. No dispensary in class III in which a Government medical subordinate is employed shall, however, be closed without the sanction of Government, and, in the case of a dispensary in class IV or V, three months' notice shall be given to the District Magistrate and the Civil Surgeon before the dispensary is closed. All dispensaries maintained by local authorities with public funds entrusted to them by Government are subject to all the rules hereby laid down for the management of such institutions. Whenever a dispensary under class IV or class V is opened or closed by a private individual, the fact shall be reported by the Civil Surgeon to the Inspector-General of Civil Hospitals.

(i) Institutions in class IV, which are in receipt of aid from Government or Local funds, shall be subject to these rules. Private non-aided dispensaries shall not be brought under the supervision of Government except at the request of those who are responsible for their maintenance. When the Inspector-General of Civil Hospitals approves of their being brought under Government supervision, they shall be placed in class V and be subject to such of these rules as are applicable to them.

(ii) Whenever a new dispensary is opened, whether it is a State or Local Fund dispensary, or when a private dispensary is proposed to be placed under Government supervision, the Civil Surgeon of the district should furnish the Inspector-General of Civil Hospitals with information on the following points :—

- (a) Allotment made under the different heads of expenditure for the maintenance of the dispensary.
- (b) A copy of the Divisional Commissioner's order sanctioning the establishment of the dispensary, unless it is a private one.
- (c) A plan of the building in which the dispensary is or will be located.
- (d) The authority mainly responsible for its maintenance and the class in which it is proposed to place it.
- (e) The diploma and other certificates of the Medical Officer whom it is proposed to appoint as laid down in rule 10.

(iii) No dispensary should be removed from one place to another until the matter has been fully discussed and the Inspector-General of Civil Hospitals informed in sufficient time to enable him to express an opinion and to sanction or reject the proposal.

RULE 3.—Applications for grants from Government in respect of any dispensary shall be submitted to Government through the Magistrate and the Commissioner.

Grants-in-aid by Government and Local authorities.

(i) The Governor in Council reserves the right to withdraw Government supervision or aid in any case, or at any time, when it may seem desirable to do so.

(ii) No grant may be made by a local authority in aid of any hospital or dispensary which has not received the recognition of Government and been classified under these rules. Grants-in-aid shall be made only in accordance with these rules.

RULE 4.—A guarantee bond for the maintenance of a dispensary for a given period may, if thought necessary, be required from the intending supporters of an institution in class IV or V as a condition precedent to their obtaining assistance from Government in money or in any other way.

Guarantee bond.

RULE 5.—The Managing Committee or Manager or person or persons vested with the management of every hospital or dispensary under these rules, whether in class I, class II, class III, class IV, class V or class VI, shall submit to the Medical Department, through the Civil Surgeon of the district, such reports, returns, and accounts as may be prescribed by the Inspector-General of Civil Hospitals from time to time. Such reports, returns, and accounts shall be in such forms, and be submitted on such dates, as may be prescribed. All books, registers, and forms which may be necessary for the preparation and submission of such reports, returns, and accounts will be supplied by Government free of cost.

Submission of reports, returns and accounts.

RULE 6.—Every institution which is recognized by Government and brought under these rules is subject to inspection and supervision by the Commissioner of the Division, by the Civil authorities of the district, by the Civil Surgeon, by the administrative officers of the Medical Department, and by any other person who may be generally or specially appointed by the Commissioner of the Division in that behalf. No charge will be made for such inspection or supervision.

Inspection and supervision.

RULE 7.—Government aid to a hospital or dispensary will be conditional on the observance of due economy in the management of the dispensary funds. The Inspector-General of Civil Hospitals will bring to the notice of Government any instance in which he considers that such economy is not observed, and that the Government aid should be continued or withdrawn.

Conditions for grant-in-aid.

RULE 8.—Every dispensary under Government supervision which has accommodation for in-patients shall admit all cases brought by the Police for examination and treatment.

Admission of Police cases, and post mortems.

APPOINTMENT, PAY, LEAVE, AND PENSION OF MEDICAL OFFICERS.

RULE 9.—The medical officer of every institution in class I or II of these rules shall be a member of the Government service, and shall be appointed by the Inspector-General of Civil Hospitals.

Appointment of medical officer in State institutions.

RULE 10.—The local authority or Managing Committee vested with the control and administration of an institution in class III, and the Managing Committee, Manager or person or persons vested with the management of an institution in class IV, V or VI (private) shall be entitled to appoint their own medical officer subject to the following conditions, viz.—

Appointment of medical officer in other cases.

(a) that he be a duly qualified medical man, licensed or certified by a recognised medical college or school, his license or diploma being subject to examination and approval by the Inspector-General of Civil Hospitals;

(b) that he be not a dismissed servant of Government, or disqualified for his duties by age, infirmity, or character; and

(c) that in the event of misconduct, insolvency, or professional incompetence by reason of age or otherwise, being proved against him to the satisfaction of the Medical Department he be removed from his charge on the requisition of the Inspector-General of Civil Hospitals:

(i) Provided that, on the application of the local authority or Managing Committee of any such institution, the services of a Government medical officer may be lent to such institution, subject to these rules. In such cases the pay plus contribution towards pension and allowance for leave including privilege leave of an Assistant Surgeon will be assumed to be Rs. 290 per mensem, and the pay including contribution for privilege leave allowance of a Sub-Assistant Surgeon Rs. 57, and local authorities be required to pay these sums into the treasury half-yearly in June and December, irrespective of the actual pay of the officer appointed.

(ii) Provided, also, that in the case of dispensaries situated at the headquarters of districts or of subdivisions, the medical officer shall be a member of the Government service, and shall, in all cases, possess such qualifications as may be declared to be necessary for such an appointment. The salary of a medical officer in charge of a dispensary at the head-quarters of a subdivision shall be as laid down in Rule 11.

NOTE.—This rule does not preclude the local authority or the Managing Committee or Manager which appoints a medical officer to the charge of a dispensary vested in it from removing that officer on its own initiative. It only vests the Inspector-General of Civil Hospitals with power to secure the dismissal of a medical officer found to be incompetent.

RULE 11.—In the case of a hospital or dispensary situated at the headquarters of a subdivision, the Government medical officer in charge of the subdivision will usually be in charge of the hospital or dispensary in addition to his other duties, and will receive from the managers of the dispensary an additional allowance of Rs. 10 a month if he is a Sub-Assistant Surgeon, or Rs. 20 a month if he is an Assistant Surgeon.

(i) If the officer sanctioned by Government for the medical charge of the subdivision is of the Sub-Assistant Surgeon class, it will be open to the managers to obtain the services of a Civil Assistant Surgeon on payment of the difference between the assumed pay of an Assistant Surgeon (Rs. 290) and the assumed pay of a Sub-Assistant Surgeon (Rs. 57) in addition to the dispensary allowance.

RULE 11 (a).—In some subdivisions and sadar stations there are two medical officers—one an Assistant Surgeon and the other a Sub-Assistant Surgeon. In the absence, other than merely temporary, of one of such officers if the absentee's work is carried out by the remaining officer in addition to his own duties the latter will be granted an allowance at the rate of Rs. 10 a month in the case of a Sub-Assistant Surgeon, and Rs. 20 a month if a Civil Assistant Surgeon; such allowance being paid by the authority (Government or local body) responsible for the pay of the absentee.

RULE 12.—The Inspector-General of Civil Hospitals may, at any time, for departmental or other reasons, remove or transfer any Government medical subordinate whose services have been lent to an institution in class III, IV, V or VI (private) and may appoint another medical subordinate to succeed him. In every such case, except as hereinafter provided, the transit pay and travelling allowances both of the officer transferred and of his successor shall be entirely paid by Government:

Provided that if any officer is removed or transferred at the request of the local authority or Managing Committee or Manager, the transit pay and travelling allowances both of the officer transferred and of his successor shall be entirely paid by the local authority or Managing Committee or Manager concerned. In such cases the local authority or Managing Committee or Manager of institutions in classes III, IV, V and VI (private) shall be required to give three months' previous notice of their intention.

NOTE.—The transit pay and travelling allowance of a Government medical officer whose services are withdrawn from a Local Fund dispensary at the request of the local authorities or the Managing Committee or Manager will, in the first instance, be drawn from the local Government treasury and will subsequently be recovered by the Accountant-General, Bengal, through the Collector of the district.

RULE 13.—The pay to which a Government medical subordinate in medical charge of any dispensary is entitled is only the pay of his grade, and no allowance in addition to his authorized pay can be granted by a local authority without the consent of Government.

Pay of Government medical subordinate lent to be grade pay.

NOTE.—Any application under this rule must be made through the District Magistrate, the Commissioner of the division and the Inspector-General of Civil Hospitals, Bengal.

The leave pay of Government medical officers in charge of hospitals or dispensaries in classes III, IV, V and VI (private) proceeding on leave including privilege leave will be borne by Government.

Applications for leave and payment of allowances.

RULE 16.—Medical officers in charge of hospitals and dispensaries in class III, IV or V, who are not in Government service, shall be entitled to such leave as the local authority or Managing Committee or Manager may grant: provided that the leave or allowances during leave shall not exceed what would be admissible under the rules which apply to an officer paid from general revenues, and that in the case of an institution in class III, if rules for the grant of leave have been framed by the local authority concerned, leave shall only be granted in accordance with such rules. The local authority or Managing Committee or Manager shall appoint a locum tenens duly qualified under Rule 10, and shall provide for any expenditure that may be incurred on account of the pay of the medical officer while on leave, and the pay and travelling allowances, if any, of his locum tenens. In no case shall leave be granted to a medical officer (who is not in Government service) in charge of a dispensary without the cognizance of the Civil Surgeon of the district.

MEDICAL STORES.

RULE 17.—The indents for medical stores for hospitals and dispensaries in class III, IV, V or VI (private) must be drawn up by the medical officer of the institution and be checked and passed by the Civil Surgeon before the stores are purchased. Such institutions shall make their own arrangements for the supply of medicines and medical stores.

MANAGEMENT AND SUPERVISION.

RULE 20.—The management of hospitals and dispensaries under these rules shall be vested as follows:—

If the institution is in—

- (a) Classes I and II—in such officer, person or persons as Government may direct.
- (b) Class III—in the local authority with which the ultimate responsibility for its maintenance rests, or in a Managing Committee appointed by that authority, subject to the veto of the Commissioner of the Division. Such Managing Committee may include persons who are not members of the local authority. The District Magistrate and the Civil Surgeon at head-quarters and the Subdivisional Magistrate and the medical officer of the subdivision shall be ex-officio members. The members shall be notified by the Commissioner in the Calcutta Gazette.
- (c) Classes IV and V—in a Manager or Managing Committee to be nominated by the supporters and approved by the Commissioner of the Division: provided that no Committee shall be appointed for any institution which receives no aid from Government or local funds, unless the proprietors or chief supporters apply for such appointment.
- (d) The members of the Managing Committee of a dispensary are vested with powers to appoint their own Chairman and Vice-Chairman.

No employé of the dispensary shall be eligible for appointment as a member of the Dispensary Committee. This prohibition does not, however, refer to Civil Surgeons or Subdivisional Medical Officers who are not employés of the dispensary.

NOTE.—The management of a local fund hospital or dispensary may be vested by the local authority in a Manager instead of a Managing Committee in places where the services of an efficient Committee cannot be secured. Such Manager shall exercise in respect of the hospital or dispensary for which he is appointed the powers exercised by a Managing Committee under these rules, or such powers additional or otherwise as may be delegated to him by the local authority.

RULE 21.—Every member of a Managing Committee appointed under rule 20, clauses (a) and (c), shall vacate his office at the end of three years from the date of his appointment as such member; and every member of a Managing Committee appointed under rule 20, clause (b), shall vacate his office when the term of office of the members of the local body by which the Committee is appointed expires:

Provided that the term of office of the members of the Committee shall be held to include any period which may elapse between its expiration and the date of the first meeting of a new committee appointed to take its place.

Members of Managing Committees appointed under Rule 20 shall be eligible for reappointment after their term of three years expires.

RULE 22.—(1) A member of a committee appointed under Rule 20, clause (a), may at any time be removed from office by the Commissioner of the Division.

(2) A member of a committee appointed under Rule 20, clause (b), may at any time be removed (i) by resolution of the local body by which the committee was appointed, passed by a majority of votes of the members of such body present at a meeting specially convened for the purpose, or (ii) for any of the reasons for which a member of the local body might be removed from office by the authority empowered by law to remove such member.

(3) A Manager or a member of a committee appointed under Rule 20, clause (c), may at any time be removed from office by the Commissioner of the Division, at the request of the supporters or any of them, or by the Commissioner of his own motion for any of the reasons for which he might remove from office a Municipal Commissioner.

RULE 23.—If any member of the committee shall be unable to complete his full term of office, or shall avail himself of leave granted by the committee, the vacancy caused by his resignation or removal, or death or absence on leave, may be filled up by the appointment of another person, and the person so appointed shall fill such vacancy for the unexpired remainder of the term for which such member would otherwise have continued in office, or during his absence on leave, as the case may be.

Filling of vacancies.

RULE 24.—In cases falling under (b) and (c) of rule 20, the local authority or the Managing Committee shall elect two of their number to be Chairman and Vice-Chairman, respectively, and may also elect another of their number as Secretary.

Chairman and Vice-Chairman.

RULE 25.—The Managing Committee shall hold meetings at such intervals as may be necessary, not being less than once a quarter, to enable them to exercise an efficient scrutiny over the accounts and to enquire into all matters affecting the welfare of the institution. They shall examine and pass the monthly accounts and shall keep a minute book in which their proceedings shall be recorded. The dispensary accounts shall, however, be passed regularly each month by the Chairman of the Managing Committee or, in his absence, by the Vice-Chairman or Secretary.

Meetings of committee.

RULE 26.—The Managing Committee or Manager or the person or persons vested with the management of a dispensary in class IV or V shall be responsible for the management of the funds of the institution. It shall be their duty to see that the guaranteed and promised subscriptions are regularly collected. After defraying the current expenses of the institution, the balance at the end of the month, if any, of the donations, subscriptions, and interest realized by the Committee shall be deposited by them in the Post Office Savings Bank. When the amount at credit of the dispensary exceeds Rs. 200 the Comptroller-General shall ordinarily be asked to invest the whole or a part of it in Government securities. No other mode of investment will be allowed without the previous sanction of Government. The proprietors of dispensaries in class V may, however, adopt any form of investment so far as the funds of their institution are concerned.

Duties and functions of Committee.

RULE 27.—In the case of institutions in class III, the endowments and subsequent investments, which must be made in Government securities, shall be held in the custody of the Accountant-General apart from the assets of the local fund. Small sums available for investment should be placed in the Government Savings Bank. The securities must not be sold, and the invested funds must not be appropriated or used in any way without the sanction of Government.

Custody of endowments and invested funds.

RULE 28.—Dispensaries in class III are subdivided for purposes of account into two classes: Class IIIA—Dispensaries for which separate banking accounts are allowed to be opened in the treasury with the sanction of Government; and class IIIB—Dispensaries for which separate accounts are not allowed at the treasury, but the funds of which are kept under the direct control of the local authority.

Subdivision for purposes of accounts of Local Funds dispensaries.

(a) CLASS IIIA—DISPENSARIES.

(1) (a) The Managing Committee shall annually prepare a budget estimate of the probable income and expenditure of the dispensary for the ensuing financial year arranged according to the headings given in Statement II of the Annual Return (B. C. M. D. Form No. 22), and submit it to the Commissioner of the Division through the local authority on a date fixed by that authority. The local authority will check the figures against the heads "Local Fund contribution" or "Municipal Fund contributions, as the case may be, and "Interest on Investments" and, if the figures are correct, forward the estimate to the Commissioner. On receipt of the Commissioner's orders approving the estimates, the local authority will incorporate the figures in its own budget estimate under appropriate headings. In the case of Municipalities the fixed annual contribution should be shown against the head "Charges to be met from the general fund and endowments," and the total estimated expenditure less that amount under the head "Charges to be met from special receipts."

(b) No expenditure under any head in excess of the amount sanctioned by the Commissioner of the Division in the budget estimates shall be incurred by the Dispensary Committee. If it is found necessary to meet excess expenditure under any one head either from anticipated savings under another, or from increased receipts from subscriptions or other special sources or the accumulated balance, an application for reappropriation or an additional budget grant, as the case may be, with a clear explanation of the necessity for additional expenditure shall be submitted to the Commissioner direct; but the expenditure proposed should not be incurred before receipt of the Commissioner's orders.

(2) All subscriptions and donations shall be collected by the Managing Committee and shall be paid into the treasury for credit to the Dispensary Fund. The income from endowments and investments shall, however, be realised by the local authority, and shall be remitted by it to the treasury for credit to the Dispensary Fund, an advice being sent at the same time to the Managing Committee. If any cheques for remittance orders are received, they should be sent intact to the treasury for per contra credit to the Dispensary Fund.

(3) All claims should be discharged either by payments from the imprest placed by the Committee in the hands of the medical officers in charge, or by cheques drawn by the Secretary or the Chairman upon the treasury in favour of the actual payees. The imprest in the hands of the medical officer shall not ordinarily exceed Rs. 50 in the case of sadar dispensaries, and Rs. 25 in the case of other dispensaries.

If it is necessary for the local authority to make a contribution to supplement the dispensary funds, such contribution should be paid in quarterly instalments on the first day of each quarter by cheques which should be made payable by transfer to the credit of the dispensary account in the treasury, failure to do which should be brought to the notice of the District Magistrate by the Managing Committee. These amounts will be credited in the cash-book of the Managing Committee as contribution from the local authority by per contra debit as remitted to the treasury.

(4) The Managing Committee shall keep a cash-book in B. C. M. D. Form No. 7 in which shall be entered all receipts and payments with necessary details as soon as the transactions occur. The cheque on which the imprest in the hands of the Medical Officer is drawn should be charged off as an advance, and the imprest should be recouped from time to time by presentations of bills supported by the payees' receipts to the Secretary. The amount of each recoupment should always exceed Rs. 10. The cash-book should be closed every month, and a memorandum recorded reconciling the balance with that shown in the pass-book. A copy of the monthly account signed by the Chairman of the Committee shall be forwarded to the office of the local authority before the 5th of the succeeding month for incorporation in their accounts. Care should be taken not to mix up final payments with advances which should be clearly shown as such. The payment vouchers should be carefully preserved for production at the time of audit.

The transactions of the Dispensary Fund with the treasury will be shown in a pass-book, which will be supplied gratis by the treasury. The pass-book shall be closed and balanced at the end of every month. It should be examined by the Secretary of the Committee every time that it is received back from the treasury, to see that all the transactions have been duly entered therein. At the close of every month the treasury officer will prepare a memorandum showing the opening balances, monthly receipts and payments and the closing balances of the several dispensary funds banking with the treasury, and enter this memorandum in the pass-books of the local authority to which the dispensaries belong to enable it to verify the balances.

(5) Dispensary establishments paid from funds vested in the local authority should be sanctioned in the same way as other establishments under that authority, but temporary appointments or other special charges if paid out of subscriptions and donations may be created by the Managing Committee without such sanction, provided there is provision in the budget.

(6) The dispensary accounts will be annually audited by the Examiner of Local Accounts.

(b) CLASS IIIB.—DISPENSARIES.

(1) The Managing Committee shall annually prepare a budget estimate of the probable income and expenditure of the dispensary for the ensuing financial year arranged according to the headings given in B. C. M. D. Form No. 22, and submit it to the local authority on a date fixed by that authority for the sanction of the Commissioner of the Division. No expenditure shall be incurred in excess of the amounts sanctioned by the Commissioner, unless his previous sanction has been obtained to either a reappropriation of grants or an additional grant obtained through the local authority.

(2) As regards these dispensaries, the interest on the investments will be accounted for by the local authority direct. But all donations and subscriptions will be collected by the Managing Committee and paid into the Savings Bank at the post office. The account should be in the name of the Chairman or Secretary of the Committee. The whole amount collected should be sent intact to the Savings Bank. Amounts required for expenditure may be withdrawn according to requirements, but there should be in support of each payment a duly vouched bill passed by either the Chairman or Secretary, and the total expenditure under any head in the budget should not be exceeded without the sanction of the Commissioner of the Division. The Managing Committee should maintain an account of the withdrawals from the Savings Bank and the disbursements therefrom in B. C. M. D. Form No. 8 and a subscription register in B. C. M. D. Form No. 6.

(3) All claims in respect of these institutions shall be either paid from the imprest in the hands of the medical officer in charge or from the money withdrawn according to requirements from the Savings Bank or discharged by the local authority concerned on bills duly passed by the Managing Committee by issue of cheques upon the treasury. The Medical Officer shall from time to time present bills in recoupment of his imprest supported by payees' receipts.

(4) The Managing Committee shall keep a monthly account in B. C. M. D. Form No. 60, showing all transactions of the dispensary, including the contributions payable by the local authority, and forward a copy of this account to the local authority at the end of every month for comparison with the accounts kept at the office of the local authority concerned. All bills paid out of withdrawals from Savings Bank should be forwarded with the necessary sub-vouchers to the office of the local authority with the monthly account. Interest allowed by the post office should be shown against "Miscellaneous" in B. C. M. D. Form No. 60.

These shall be written up daily by the medical officer in charge, and shall be open at all times to the inspection of inspecting officers.

DRAFT RULES FOR THE MAGRA HÂT CHANNELS.

1. Every vessel entering or making use of the Magra Hât channels shall be liable to measurement for the purpose of ascertaining the tolls payable. In case of any reasonable doubt, the persons appointed by the Governor in Council as Collectors of Tolls or Navigation Canal Officers shall have authority to again measure a vessel notwithstanding that it was measured before.

2. Vessels for the purpose of the determination of maundage shall be divided into three classes as follows:—

Class I.—To include all vessels of the usual native types of build known as saltees, but not bonâ fide tal (or palm-tree) dongas and not exceeding 50 maunds by canal measurement.

Class II.—To include all other vessels of usual native types of build or cutters.

Class III.—To include all steamers, flats, barges and other square-built boats.

The net maundage of every vessel, whether laden or empty, shall, for the purposes of the Canals Act, 1864, and of these rules be determined by the following measurements:—

CLASS I.

A.—The product of one-quarter the inside length of the vessel, measured along the centre line from stem to stern, multiplied by the interior greatest breadth of the vessel multiplied by three-quarters of the depth, measured from the top of the vessel amidships to the interior bottom of the vessel is to be taken as equal to the number of maunds upon which toll shall be levied.

B.—The measurement of the length to be made in feet, rejecting inches, and of the breadth and depth in feet and quarters of a foot, rejecting any remainder of less than a quarter of a foot.

C.—Any vessel the maundage of which calculated as above exceeds 50 maunds shall be reckoned as a vessel under class II.

CLASS II.

A.—The product of one-quarter the length of the vessel from stem to stern measured outside and along the water line, multiplied by the greatest interior breadth of the vessel multiplied by the greatest interior depth from the water line to the interior bottom of the vessel, is to be taken as equal to the number of maunds upon which tolls shall be levied.

B.—The measurement of the length is to be made in feet, rejecting inches, the measurement of the breadth and depth is to be made in feet and quarters of a foot, rejecting any remainder less than a quarter of a foot.

C.—The maundage on which the amount of toll is calculated shall be reckoned to the nearest integral multiple of  $12\frac{1}{2}$  maunds, rejecting any remainder of less than  $12\frac{1}{2}$  maunds. In the case of boats exceeding 500 maunds by measurement the maundage shall be reckoned to the nearest integral multiple of 50 maunds rejecting any remainder of less than 50 maunds.

D.—In the case of boats carrying passengers only, one foot shall be deducted from the full interior depth of the vessel, the other measurements and the calculations for maundage being made in the methods prescribed for vessels under Class II.

CLASS III.

A.—For vessels of class III, the number of maunds obtained by the system of measurement prescribed for vessels of class II shall be increased by one-half. For vessels of this class exceeding 1,000 maunds by measurement, the maundage shall be reckoned to the nearest integral multiple of 100 maunds rejecting any remainder of less than 100 maunds. In the case of steamers, the maundage determined as above shall be reduced by one-third as an allowance for engine space.

B.—In case of steamers that have been surveyed under the Inland Steam-vessels Act, 1884, the registered tonnage entered in the certificate may be accepted as the tonnage of the steamer in lieu of measurement.

3. All vessels under class I, known and defined as saltees, will be charged under a system of compounded tollage in accordance with rules contained in Appendix A.

4. Every vessel included in classes II and III entering or passing along the canal shall be furnished with a ticket on paying the prescribed toll. The ticket shall specify the station at which it has been issued, the name of the person in charge of the vessel, the date on which the voyage commenced, the point to which the vessel may proceed on the line of navigation, the maundage of the vessel, the amount of toll charged, the number of days allowed for the voyage, and the date of such last day. The number of days so allowed without additional payment shall be calculated as follows:—

Boats.—One day for every eight miles or portion of eight miles, to be traversed together with one day for every 100 maunds of measurement or part of 100 maunds.

Flots (timber).—One day for every five miles for any number of timbers not exceeding fifty, and one day for every additional fifty or part of fifty.

Rifts (bamboos).—One day for every five miles for any number not exceeding five hundred and one day for every additional five hundred or part of five hundred.

5. Every vessel which does not complete its voyage within the number of days allowed by rule 4 shall, for each day or part of a day in excess, be liable to an extra charge equal to one-half of the toll payable on the maundage of the vessel as per the Schedule of Rates in Appendix B, provided that in no case shall the demurrage charged exceed Rs. 5 per diem. The Superintending Engineer may, at his discretion, exempt any boats on any line of navigation, or any portion of line of navigation from the payment required by this rule.

Exemption from payment of demurrage may, at the discretion of the Collector of Tolls, be granted for vessels detained in the channels (steamers broken down and boats damaged) by stress of weather, should immediate notice of detention, for the information of the Collector of Tolls, Magra Hat channels, be given to the nearest toll-station.

6. All tolls are payable on demand and shall be paid at the toll-station before a vessel is permitted to proceed: Provided that the Collector of Tolls may, at his discretion, permit vessels belonging to individuals or firms of recognised standing to proceed without prepayment on an undertaking that the bills for tollage due shall be liquidated monthly on presentation.

7. The ticket must be kept on board the vessel and must be produced for inspection when demanded by any person authorised to do so. If, on demand, the ticket is not produced, such person shall assess the tollage as provided in rule 2, and shall require payment of toll, and unless and until the toll is paid, or the original ticket or a duplicate is produced as evidence that toll has already been paid, the vessel will be liable to seizure and detention in accordance with the provisions of section 9 of the Canals Act, 1864.

8. Duplicates of lost tickets, of which the numbers and dates can be satisfactorily established, will be granted by the Collector of Tolls on payment of a sum of Re. 1. Provided that for tickets on which the total tollage is less than Rs. 4, the fee to be charged for a duplicate shall be one-quarter of the total tollage with a minimum of As. 4.

9. A vessel, which has been detained under these rules or under section 9 of the said Act, may not be removed from the canal without the order of the Collector of Tolls until the toll due has been paid. During such detention the manji, owner or agent must make arrangements for the safety of the vessel and cargo.

10. All vessels, whether the property of Government or of private owners, are liable for toll, except those exempted by the provisions of Bengal Government Circular No. 11., dated the 11th July 1906.

11. Vessels may be hauled up for repairs on the banks of the canals with the previous written permission of the Supervisor or Navigation Canal Officer. A rent calculated at one-sixth the rate of ordinary demurrage will be charged for the time the vessel occupies the bank.

12. At places where mooring posts have been provided by the Supervisor or Navigation Canal Officer, vessels desiring to moor shall be made fast in single line along the banks to such posts in such manner as the Supervisor or Navigation Canal Officer may direct, and shall not be moored in any other manner.

13. The Supervisor or Navigation Canal Officer may, by written notice to be posted at the toll offices, prohibit the dropping of anchors or the putting up of bamboos or luggees in any specified part of the canals or on the banks.

14. Vessels shall be allowed to make fast in single line along the canal banks in such manner as may be directed by the Supervisor or Navigation Canal Officer from time to time, and no boat shall be made fast or be placed outside of boats so secured. No boat or raft shall be placed in such a position as to endanger the safety or obstruct the passage of other boats. Every vessel, when stationary, shall be securely fastened, and shall at all times have some person in attendance on board. Every vessel in motion shall have a sufficient crew.

15. Vessels passing through the canals shall keep in separate lines, empty boats keeping close to the bank, and those that are laden in the centre.

16. In portions of the canals where only one towing-path exists, vessels shall moor on the side opposite to the towing-path, and the towing-path side shall always be kept clear.

17. Iron-built cargo boats, with outside angle iron projecting beyond the wooden fenders, will not be allowed to enter the locks unless permanent fenders are fixed over the edges of the angle iron so as to prevent them from causing damage to the locks.

18. No fire, or open, unprotected light of any description shall be used on boats containing petroleum, jute, hay or straw in any place prohibited by the Navigation Canal Officer or Supervisor, and no fire, or open, or unprotected light (except in the case of steamers, the galley and engine-room fires and the electric light) shall be used on any vessel while in a lock basin.

19. No person shall wilfully or negligently allow a vessel to sink in the canals.

20. In every case of a sunken vessel, whether due to negligence or otherwise, the Supervisor or Navigation Canal Officer and his subordinates shall offer every assistance in removing the same.

If in three days after the occurrence of a wreck it is seen that prompt measures are not being taken by the owner to remove the sunken vessel from the line of navigation, the Supervisor or Navigation Canal Officer and his subordinates shall make their own arrangements for the removal of the same at the expense of the owner, provided that, in cases where navigation is seriously obstructed, arrangements may be made at once to remove the wreck.

21. When a sunken vessel has been recovered, the Supervisor or Navigation Canal Officer shall cause notices to be posted at the locks, toll offices or other prominent places calling on those concerned to pay to the Collector of Tolls all toll or demurrage which may be due, as well as the expenses incurred in the recovery of the vessel and cargo. Should the sum due be not paid within fifteen days of the date of notice, the vessel and its furniture, or so much of it as may be necessary for the recovery of the dues, will be sold under the procedure directed in section 9 of the Canals Act, 1864

22. The purchaser of a vessel sold under the provisions of section 9 of the said Act shall have the right to take it out of the canal on the day of purchase, or within such time as may be allowed by the Collector of Tolls, without payment of tolls.

23. When any laden vessel which has sunk has been recovered, or when any laden vessel has been seized under the provisions of the said Act or of these rules, the Supervisor or Navigation Canal Officer shall give immediate notice of the recovery or seizure to the owner of the cargo or his agent, requiring the removal of the cargo without delay and informing him that he will be required to pay all expenses necessary for the proper custody and storage of the cargo until removed.

24. If the Supervisor or Navigation Canal Officer be unable to ascertain the name and place of business or the abode of the owner of the cargo of such vessel, the notice prescribed in rule 21 shall be effected by a notice exhibited in his office and by advertisement in at least one English and one vernacular Calcutta newspaper.

25. No steam-vessel, whose length exceeds thirty feet, shall ply in the Magra Hât channels except in the following:—Diamond Harbour creek, Usti Nainan outfall, Nazra khal, Sangrampur khal up to Sangrampur bridge, and the Sarjipur outer khal up to the Sarjipur bridge.

26. Lights and Signals.—All vessels, whether travelling or moored in the Magra Hât channels, must, between sunset and sunrise, carry a white light in a lantern on the forepart of the vessel where it can be distinctly seen from all sides. All steam-vessels in motion shall carry the lights prescribed by the Board of Trade Regulations. Barges or boats attached to a steam-vessel, whether in motion or moored, shall carry the light prescribed above.

27. Speed of vessels.—Every vessel plying in the Magra Hât channels must, between sunset and sunrise, limit her speed to three miles per hour. No steam-vessels shall ply between sunset and sunrise in channels detailed in rule 25.

28. No vessel shall remain in the outer entrance channels of the locks at Diamond Harbour and Uttarbhag nor in the inner lock channel and diversion channel of the Diamond Harbour lock and sluice, nor in the approach channels to any sluice. A board will be put up limiting the portion of the channels in which boats are not permitted to moor.

29. The places at which boats cannot be loaded or unloaded will be fixed by the Superintending Engineer, South-Western Circle, and will be demarcated with suitable posts and notice boards.

30. For any contravention of rules 10, 14, 15, 16, 17, 19, 20, 26, 27 and 28, the person in charge of the vessel or other person in fault shall, on conviction before a Magistrate, be liable to a fine not exceeding Rs. 50 for any one infringement, or Rs. 5 a day for any continuing infringement.

31. The channels may be closed, whenever necessary, for effecting the necessary repairs to them on one month's notice of the intention so to close them being given; but, in the event of any sudden emergency, the channels may be closed at any time without prior notice, and no claim in such cases by owners of vessels or others for compensation on account of detention or otherwise shall be entertained.

32. The term "Navigation Canal Officer," as used in these rules, shall include all persons appointed to collect tolls under section 8 of the Canals Act, 1864, and all Public Works officers or subordinates in charge of the channel, not below the grade of Sub-Overseer.

33. No vessel whose beam exceeds 19 feet will be permitted to enter the channels through the Diamond Harbour lock. The same prohibition will apply in the case of the Uttarbhag lock to all vessels exceeding 14 feet beam.

34. Any vessel which enters the channels through the Diamond Harbour lock for the purpose of taking refuge during stormy weather will be charged a nominal toll of As. 8 per boat, provided the vessel leaves the channel again as soon as the weather conditions permit, and does not load or unload cargo inside the channel. All vessels seeking refuge under this rule must anchor in the creek close to the toll-collector's office and will not be permitted to proceed up the creek without paying the usual tolls.

35. ##### GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

DEPARTMENT OF COMMERCE AND INDUSTRY.

ANGLO-AMERICAN EXPOSITION, LONDON.

following information relative to the Anglo-American Exposition will be held in London between May and October 1914 is published for general information.

The Government of India have decided not to participate in the Exposition.

ANGLO-AMERICAN EXPOSITION, LONDON (SHEPHERD'S BUSH, 1914.

The object of the Anglo-American Exposition is to celebrate in a fitting manner the hundred years of Peace and Progress between the English-speaking peoples since the Treaty of Ghent in 1814. What more appropriate means could be adopted to commemorate these epoch-making events than to materialise in a magnificent joint display the vast gains which have accrued to mankind through this peaceful development of Great Britain and the United States of America during the past century? The Exposition will be held at Shepherd's Bush, London, between May and October of 1914, and will demonstrate in a practical manner the progress which has been made by the British and American people in every branch of civilisation during that century, and will place on view in chronological order the great achievements of that epoch—from inception to perfection—showing not only how each nation has improved on its own inventions, but also where both have worked hand in hand to perfect the creation of the other. Thus there will be unfolded the rich treasures of a hundred years of British and American Art.

A hundred years of the history of the two nations—their famous Statesmen, Authors, Artists, Inventors, Philanthropists, Financiers, Merchants, Manufacturers, and others. Men and women who have helped in the advancement of civilisation and in making each nation what it is to-day will be represented with such objects of historical interest as are associated with them and their times.

A hundred years of progress in Education, Science, Literature, Inventions and Productions, Improvements and Comforts in Social Life, Betterment of the conditions of Working Men and Women.

In placing before the world the fruits of the intellect and genius of the people of both nations, what a great opportunity presents itself of showing in practical ways the advancement in Navigation; in Railway Transport; in Girder, Suspension, and Cantilever Bridges. The use of Steel in Architecture, the boring of Tunnels Underground and Over-head Railways, Aqueducts, Lighthouses, the work of the Panama Canal. Printing—from the simple hand press to the modern rotary press and Linotype—Lithography, Electricity, Electric and Hydraulic Power, Coal-gas and Electric Light, the Storage of Power, Pneumatic Dispatch, the Telegraph, Telephone and Wireless, Phonograph and Gramophone, Photography—from the Daguerreotype to Coloured and Animated Photography. The invention and creation of new Metals, the advancement in Mining, the utilisation of Rubber, Calculating and Recording Instruments, the great advance in Agricultural Machinery and all kinds of Labour-saving Devices, the marvellous achievements in Chemistry—in fact, the harnessing of the very Elements for the use and comfort of the nations.

No Exposition has ever been afforded such unique and interesting opportunities, and certainly there never was an occasion more fitting for a great Exposition of the work and achievements of two nations of the same blood, celebrating their hundredth anniversary of peace and concord, where people of the same family, although separated by a great ocean, will be able to join hand in hand to unite in shaping their mutual destinies and as kinsmen advancing the welfare of humanity and of the whole civilised world.

Great Britain is now the largest customer of the United States and the United States is a valued consumer of British products; and the conjunction of the respective products of the two countries will provide a suitable stimulus for the still further increase of their mutual trade.

The Anglo-American Exposition was inaugurated at a large and influential meeting held at the Mansion House on March 26th, 1913, under the Presidency of the Lord Mayor of London, at which all parts of the United Kingdom were represented.

The Lord Mayor, in addressing the distinguished assembly, stated that the Exposition would do much to maintain and strengthen the bonds of friendship which exist to-day, and had existed for so long, between the peoples of the two great nations. Great Britain was the largest customer of the United States, and they were almost our largest customer. In 1912, the Exports to England amounted to over $564,000,000, to the next largest, Germany, $306,000,000 odd. The imports were, from Great Britain and Ireland, $272,940,700,—nearly $273,000,000, and next from Germany, $171,380,380. These figures showed what an enormous trade there was between the two countries, but the greatest bond of all was the feeling of friendship and kinship which united the two countries, and which the Exposition would do much to cement, strengthen, and improve.

The following resolution, which was warmly supported by the Lord Mayor of Cardiff who came from Wales, and many other distinguished gentlemen who came from all parts of Great Britain expressly to attend the meeting was unanimously carried with acclamation:—

“London and the United Kingdom welcome the Anglo-American Exposition to be held at Shepherd’s Bush next year, in celebration of the hundred years of peace and progress of the English-speaking peoples, as a means of strengthening the bond of friendship and kinship between the American and British nations, of drawing them closer together, and of further developing their great commercial and industrial relations.”

It was also resolved—

“That all profits shall be devoted to some public objects of national utility to the United Kingdom and the United States.”

The whole assembly pledged themselves to do everything in their power to make the Anglo-American Exposition to be held in London in 1914 a great success.

The imposing Exposition Palaces, most decorative in architectural design, containing 1,000,000 square feet of floor space and entirely fireproof, nothing but steel and concrete having been used in their construction, have been erected in the most beautifully laid-out Grounds with its Gardens, Lakes and Lagoons. These buildings are now ready for the reception and installation of American and British Exhibits, practically a year before the opening of the Exposition, fixed for the 1st May 1914. The plan, which shows the allotment of the various buildings to the different classes of Exhibits, gives also a comprehensive idea of the importance of the scheme. About 20 acres are also available for the erection of Government, States, Cities, and Colonial buildings and pavilions, as well as outdoor Exhibits.

The Fine Art Palace, which has been pronounced the largest and best, equipped building of its kind in Europe, containing 30 galleries for paintings, in addition to the superb central Sculpture Hall, covering 30,000 square feet, will be devoted to a collection of American and British modern and retrospective art, such as it is believed has never been brought together in any Exposition in Europe.

The Congress Hall, situated in the centre of the Exposition Grounds, will be devoted to Congresses and Conferences on subjects of interest to America and the British Empire.

The Exposition Grounds at Shepherd’s Bush, within 15 minutes of the centre of London’s main thoroughfare, cover over 100 acres. The main entrance is connected directly with the terminus of the Central London Railway and the Metropolitan and Great Western Railway Station, and is also in close proximity to the West London, London and North-Western, Great Western, London and South-Western Railways, and in direct communication with the District, North London, London, Brighton and South Coast, South Eastern and Chatham, and the Great Central Railways, in the centre of a network of tramways and omnibuses affording easy means of communication with all parts. The various methods of transport are capable of conveying to the spot over 80,000 persons a hour, or nearly a million visitors a day. Favourable arrangements for the conveyance of passengers have been made with all the lines of Railways by which travellers reach London from the Continent and elsewhere, and frequent excursion trains will run direct to the Exposition from the various provincial centres of population.

The musical arrangements will be upon a scale of magnitude unprecedented at any Exposition ever held in London, and will include a number of the best bands of the British Guards, as well as American bands of the highest possible standard, furnishing continuous music from the opening to the closing of the Exposition daily.

The Great Stadium (the largest in the World), which has a seating capacity for 100,000 people, will form part of the Exposition, and possesses the finest running and cycle track, as well as the splendid swimming tank, 100 metres in length. It is intended to organise International Sports, Historical Pageants, Spectacular Productions, and Fireworks.

Facilities will be given to exhibitors and visitors by the establishment of a commercial bureau, by which visitors can at once obtain full information as to the locality where every exhibit can be found, its nature and character, and the literature which has been prepared in connection with it.

The Board of Trade has certified the Anglo-American Exposition under the provisions of the Patents and Designs Act, 1907.

Diplomas for Grand Prizes, Gold, Silver, and Bronze Medals and Honourable Mention will be granted to exhibitors upon the award of an International Jury.

The Garden Club, under the Presidency of His Highness the Duke of Teck, which already numbers several thousands of distinguished members, will form the centre of social life of the Exposition.

Amusements of the most varied nature will be provided, the dignity of the Exposition being maintained by keeping them in a separate part of the Exposition Grounds, as has been the case at the World's Columbian Exposition, 1893, and at the Buffalo and St. Louis Expositions since.

In addition to the British Restaurants, Buffets and Tea Rooms, etc., a number of buildings have been set aside for American Restaurateurs desirous of taking part in the catering arrangements of the Exposition.

TARIFF FOR SPACE.

The price for Exhibit Space for the display of articles will be $2.50 per square foot.

The charge for more than one frontage will be $2.50 per foot run additional frontage.

Special terms will be quoted for special attractive Exhibits and exceptional positions.

Terms for outdoor space and concessions will be forwarded upon application.

PROSPECTUS OF THE GOVERNMENT COMMERCIAL INSTITUTE.

THE Government Commercial Institute, Calcutta, affords a training of a practical and businesslike character, well up to date and capable of direct application to the commerce and trade of the city. It is neither a business college in which the academic element exceeds the vocational in relative importance nor a secondary school of commerce, but a higher school of commerce in which the vocational element predominates but in a liberal manner.

2. There is a specialised Day Course extending over two years, ending in the Commercial Course Final Examination. Provision is also made for more advanced and more technical instruction by means of evening lectures on Advanced Book-keeping, high speed in Shorthand and Typewriting, Political Economy, Mercantile Law, Annuities and Insurance, and Banking and Currency, ending annually in Commercial Course Special Examinations in each of the subjects. These lectures are intended to give persons already employed in business a chance of improving their efficiency as first-rate Shorthand-writers, Typists or Book-keepers, and of gaining an intelligent insight into the economical, financial or legal principles on which commerce is based.

3. The aim of the Institute is to turn out a type of young man who, if he has received a thorough grounding in the ordinary school subjects, especially in English, has the makings of a useful assistant either in commercial firms or in Government offices generally, and who, if he is destined for commercial life and is willing to avail himself of the facilities offered for more advanced and more technical instruction by means of evening lectures, has the makings of a more useful assistant aspiring to be a businessman.

THE DAY COURSE.

4. There are two day classes—a first-year class and a second-year class. For the students of these classes the following course of study is prescribed:—

- (1) Modern English, and especially English correspondence, including commercial correspondence, letter drafting and précis-writing.
- (2) Arithmetic, including commercial and mental arithmetic.
- (3) One of the following languages, namely, Bengali, Hindi, Urdu, Uriya, French, German or Latin.
- (4) One of the following subjects, namely, book-keeping, shorthand-writing or typewriting.
- (5) Commercial Geography.

Arrangements are made to enable those students who may wish to do so to take up two or all of the following subjects, namely, book-keeping, shorthand-writing and typewriting.

English.—The English teaching is as severely practical as it can be made. In the first-year class, the students regularly practise dictation and essay-writing. They also practise writing easy letters, both official and business, as between a private man and a firm, and making index and précis of such letters.

In the second-year class they study the advanced stages of Commercial Practice or Business Methods and are drilled constantly to work out complete transactions, enabling them to appreciate not only the exact relation which one item bears to another but also the place of each in the completed whole, the transactions given in outline furnishing material for unaided work on the part of the students. They now practise making index and continuous précis, not only of all the series of letters arising in the transactions given but also of longer official letters and their replies from such bodies as Chambers of Commerce and other Associations. Their papers are corrected and returned soon after they are submitted. No text-books being prescribed, the students are under no temptation to cram, their capacity to write simple correct English with perspicuity and brevity thus developing under careful guidance.

Modern Bengali, including Bengali commercial correspondence, etc.—In Bengali “Kapulkundala” by Bankim Chandra Chatterjee is prescribed as a text-book affording a model for style and diction. Besides this language work, practices and principles obtaining in the commercial transactions covering different branches are also taught in Bengali, giving the students a further opportunity to learn them and to practise drafting business letters in their mother-tongue. They are required also to make index and procès, in Bengali, of commercial letters.

In order that they may be able to express themselves clearly and accurately in Bengali and in English and with a view more effectively to supplement the practical teaching in English, special attention is paid to translation of passages from English into Bengali and retranslation after some time has elapsed, and vice versa.

Commercial Geography.—The course in Commercial Geography deals specially with the relations of cause and effect that hold good between the general principles of geography and the occurrence, production, and exchange of commodities. It also deals in an elementary way with the history of commodities.

The Commercial Geography text-books used are “Commercial Geography of the World” by A. J. Herbertson, “A Short Commercial Geography” by L. W. Lyde, “Elementary Commercial Geography” by H. R. Mill, and “A School Economic Atlas” by J. G. Bartholomew.

Commercial and Mental Arithmetic.—In Arithmetic the students are taught addition, subtraction, multiplication and division—simple and compound; approximation in multiplication and division; G. C. M. and L. C. M.; fractions—vulgar and decimal; practice; proportion—simple and compound (i.e., simple rule of three and double rule of three); the metric system; percentages, commission, etc.; proportional division; profit and loss; mixtures; interest—simple and compound; present worth and discount; stocks and shares; exchange—chain rule; square root. Grant and Hill’s “Commercial Arithmetic” and “Mental Arithmetic” are used.

Shorthand.—During the first-year of the course the students are thoroughly grounded in the theory of Pitman’s Shorthand and are expected to attain a speed of 50 words per minute at the end of the year. “Pitman’s Shorthand Instructor” is the text-book used. Throughout the second-year they practise speed. The minimum speed sought to be attained is 80 words per minute. The best students are found to attain a speed of 120 words a minute. In the Final Examination speed tests are held at 80, 100, 120 and 140 words per minute.

Typewriting.—The “Touch” system of Typewriting is carefully taught from the beginning. No particular text-book is used. The students are required to attain a minimum speed of 30 words per minute at the end of the two years’ course. Dexterous students are found capable of attaining the maximum speed prescribed for the examination, viz., 55 words per minute. The intermediate standard of speed test is 40 words per minute. They have also to pass a tabulating examination corresponding to each speed test.

Book-keeping.—The full course of the Day classes in Book-keeping includes instruction in the elementary stage. It is expected that a student shall have a satisfactory grounding in English and Arithmetic. In this course there is taught a Double Entry system with simple accounts and commercial transactions. Students are taught to open and keep the following books: Journal, Purchase Day Book, Sales Day Book, Cash Book, Bill Book and Ledger. Instruction is also given in making entries for outgoing and incoming single consignments. In connection with these books instruction is given in Trial Balance and preparation of Balance Sheet and Profit and Loss Accounts.

5. The students pay an admission fee of Rs 3. The monthly tuition fee is Rs. 3. The text-books which the students have to buy cost about Rs. 16.

6. The classes are held between 11 A.M. and 4 P.M. except on Saturdays, when they are held between 11 A.M. and 2 P.M. Students of typewriting are allowed to stay later for extra practice.

7. The session begins annually about the end of June and closes about the end of April. The usual Autumn and Christmas holidays are given.

8. Candidates who have passed the Matriculation examination are eligible for admission. Others are admitted, provided they satisfy the Education Department, by passing a preliminary test examination of a similar standard, that they have sufficient general education to enable them to derive advantage from the teaching.

9. Graduates and Intermediates may be admitted in the second-year class, provided they take up only Typewriting among the subjects mentioned in section (4), paragraph 4. They may be allowed to take up Shorthand or Book-keeping, provided they have sufficient knowledge in Shorthand or Book-keeping, as the case may be.

10. Candidates for admission should send in their applications to the Principal annually before the end of June.

THE EVENING COURSE.

The session begins annually about the end of June and closes about the middle of April.

11. There are at present Evening classes for the following subjects: Shorthand-writing, Typewriting and Book-keeping.

12. If classes can be formed, arrangements will be made for the delivery of lectures on Political Economy, Annuities and Insurance, Mercantile Law, Modern English, and Banking and Currency. Fees are paid according to the number of lectures delivered in each subject. Classes were formed last year in all the subjects except Modern English.

13. A student may be a member of one or more classes at his option.

14. Shorthand.—Students are admitted in July and also in December every year. The examination is held in April. For the session July to November the fee is Rs. 12, payable in four instalments of Rs. 3 each. Only those having a minimum speed of 60 words per minute are admitted in July. For the session December to mid-April, the fee is Rs. 16, payable in four instalments of Rs. 4 each. Those having a speed of 80 words a minute or more are admitted in December. Speed classes are so held as to enable a student to attain any of the four grades of speed required for the Special Examination, viz., 80, 100, 120 and 140 words per minute. There is no Theory class in the evening. The class sits at 6 P.M. daily (except on Saturdays and holidays).

15. Typewriting.—Beginners are admitted in July. They are carefully taught the "Touch" system. Advanced students are also admitted in this session. In December, only students having a speed of at least 20 words per minute are admitted. No beginner can join this session. By mid-April, when the examination is held, the minimum speed sought to be attained is 35 words per minute and the maximum is 60 words per minute. There is an intermediate speed test at 45 words per minute. For each of the three speed tests there is a corresponding accuracy test in tabulating, which is carefully taught. The fee is the same as that of the Shorthand class; but a reduction of Re. 1 per instalment of each of the two fees payable by a student, who is simultaneously a member of both the Shorthand and Typewriting classes, is granted, and the same reduction per instalment of each of the three fees payable is made when a student is simultaneously a member of three classes, viz., Shorthand, Typewriting and Book-keeping. The Typewriting class is divided into two groups, the first of which practise from 5 to 6-30 P.M. and the second from 6-30 to 8 P.M. (except on Saturdays and holidays).

16. Book-keeping.—The full course of the evening classes in Book-keeping includes instruction in two stages—the Elementary and the Advanced. Preparatory to the Elementary work it is expected that a student shall have a satisfactory grounding in English and Arithmetic—

- (a) In the first-year class, ending with the Commercial Course Special Examination in Elementary Book-keeping, the course is similar to that prescribed for the day course.
- (b) In the second-year class ending in the Commercial Course Special Examination in Advanced Book-keeping, the course includes matters as under:—

In the advanced stage there is considered the nature of capital, whether as money or property, stocks, shares, classification of capital, revenue accounts, the use of departmental ledgers, also the establishment and recoupment of sinking funds, investment accounts, public, railway, gas and water companies accounts. Joint-stock companies' accounts are dealt with completely. Instruction is also given in joint consignments, partnerships, contracts, etc. The nature and purposes of allowances to be made for depreciation in value of property are also made clear.

The fee for the Elementary Book-keeping class is Rs. 24. payable in eight instalments of Rs. 3 each, and that of the other Book-keeping class is Rs. 32. payable in eight instalments of Rs. 4 each. A reduction of Re. 1 per instalment of each of the two fees payable by a student who is a member simultaneously of two of the classes in Shorthand, Typewriting or Book-keeping will be granted, and the same reduction is granted per instalment of each of the three fees payable by a student who is a member simultaneously of three of the classes in Shorthand, Typewriting and Book-keeping.

17. Candidates who have attended the lectures in the day course will be eligible for admission to the evening course. Others will be admitted, provided they appear qualified for the class or classes they seek to join. Candidates for admission to Typewriting and the first-year Book-keeping classes must show that they have sufficient general education. Candidates for admission to the Shorthand and the second-year Book-keeping classes must show that they have sufficient knowledge of Shorthand or Book-keeping, as the case may be.

18. Examinations.—The following examinations are held annually in April:—

The fee is Rs. 5 for each Special Examination and Rs. 8 for the Final Examination.

19. Scholarships.—It has been proposed that three scholarships of Rs. 12 each will be awarded to those among the students admitted in the first-year Day class in the Government Commercial Institute, who have secured the highest number of marks in English in the Matriculation examination of the Calcutta University, and that three scholarships of Rs. 20 each will be awarded to the students of the second-year Day class who will obtain the highest total number of marks at a preliminary examination to be held at the end of the first year for the purpose of awarding the scholarships and determining promotion. These proposals, however, have not yet been sanctioned.

Prizes.—First and second prizes of Rs. 75 and Rs. 50 respectively will be offered by the Bengal Chamber of Commerce for competition by the students of the Day class and another prize of Rs. 50 will be offered by the same body for competition among the students of the Evening classes in each of the following subjects:—

Mercantile Law, Banking and Currency, Annuities and Insurance, Political Economy, Modern English, Shorthand and Advanced Book-keeping.

Three prizes are offered by the Remington Typewriter Company to be awarded to the three students of the Institute obtaining the highest marks for efficiency in Typewriting.

A prize of Rs. 50 has been offered by the Hon'ble Rai Sitanath Roy Bahadur to be awarded to the student who would pass in Banking and Currency, heading the list, in the Commercial Course Special Examination.

20. The Commercial Course Final Examination at the end of the two years' Day course and the Commercial Course Special Examinations in each of the subjects specified for evening lectures at the end of each year are controlled by the Commercial Course Advisory and Examination Board, a body consisting of educational officers and gentlemen engaged in commerce in Calcutta. On the results of these examinations certificates are granted by the Education Department, these certificates being endorsed by the Secretary, Bengal Chamber of Commerce, which body, as also the Bengal National Chamber of Commerce, have undertaken to publish the list of the successful candidates.

21. Up till now the Institute has turned out 312 successful candidates in the Final and Special Examinations. All of these are now employed in various offices, both mercantile and Government. A good many of them, viz., those that had joined either the Day or Evening classes with a tolerably fair grounding in English and could, therefore, make the best use of the training received here, have risen above the level and are now drawing from Rs. 60 to Rs. 120, some of them having even received two or three increases in the course of a year and are reported to be shaping very well in their respective spheres.

22. The Bengal Chamber of Commerce has issued a circular letter containing a request to its members to make it a rule to take the passed students of the Day classes, whenever possible, in preference to other clerks.

In its Notification No. 4122Mis., dated the 24th November 1911, the Government has recognised the comprehensiveness and thoroughness of the course of studies prescribed for our Final Examination by adopting it, with slight elimination and addition, for the Secretariat Clerical Service Examination, and has declared our successful candidates in the Final Examination as eligible to appear for it along with those who have passed the Intermediate and higher examinations of an Indian University.

23. Candidates for admission should send in their applications to the Principal annually before the end of June.

No. 100 (third publication).—The Coast Inspector, Shanghai, has given Notice (No. 563 of 1913), that the following aids to navigation have been established, to assist vessels in navigating between the Deep Hole and the entrance to the Haiho:—

Two black pyramidal Beacons, to be known as the River Mouth Leading Marks, have been established on the northern bank of the Haiho, about 1 mile to the north-westward of the Fort Light.

The high (or rear) Beacon exhibits a white light. The low (or front) Beacon exhibits a red light. The lights are Fixed, Dioptric, of the Sixth Order. These Beacons in transit mark the channel from the Spit Light-boat towards the entrance to the Haiho, until Central Fort (about 4 cables S.S.W. of Fort Light), is ahead.

Three Beacons, forming two sets of unlighted transit marks, and to be known as the Inward and Outward Turning Transit Marks, have been established in the neighbourhood of the Taku Bar Outer Leading Marks.

The high (or rear) Beacon is a black square. The low (or front) Beacons are two black pyramids.

The southernmost of these two sets of transit marks—the Inward Turning Transit Marks—indicate, when in line, where an inward-bound vessel should leave the Taku Bar Inner Leading Marks and proceed on the River Mouth Leading Marks. The northernmost of these two sets of transit marks—the Outward Turning Transit Marks—indicate, when in line, where an outward-bound vessel should leave the River Mouth Leading Marks and proceed on the Taku Bar Inner Leading Marks.

Second Forecast of the Spring Oilseed Crops of Bengal, 1913-14.

(Note.—On the average of the five years ending 1911-12, the area under flaxseed Bengal represents some 8'8 per cent., and that, under rape and mustard 22'2 per cent., of the total area under these crops in British India.)

Explanatory.—This forecast deals with all kinds of oilseeds, except sesamum, for which separate forecasts are issued.

Area sown.—Oilseeds are chiefly grown in the Dacca, Rajshahi and Presidency Divisions. In the other two Divisions the area under the crop is very small. The total area under the crops sown this year is reported to be 1,578,800 acres against 1,571,000 acres last year.

Character of the season.—The rainfall in September was general throughout the Province. In October, it was generally above the average and proved sufficient for sowings which began generally in normal time. The sowings were a little late only in Malda and in parts of Jessore and Jalpaiguri. The rainfall in November generally proved beneficial to the growth of the crops. The next two months, December and January, were generally dry with occasional showers of rain. The season has not therefore been uniformly favourable.

Outturn.—According to the estimates of district officers, the total outturn of the different kinds of oilseeds (excepting til) for the province as a whole works out to 90 per cent. of the normal against the same outturn last year.

Nadia	Linseed	55,700	42,100	42,200	83		Beginning of January. Normal.	The increase of area under rape and r is due to timely rainfall. Owing to excessive moisture, the outturn but the average may be fixed at 10 annas
	Rape and mustard	32,500	16,800	17,800	67	83
	Other oilseeds (excepting the above)	18,300	5,500	5,200	83

Mirshadabad	Linseed	2,000	17,000	16,100	92	83	February. Normal	Increase of area under linseed as compared with the first forecast is due to the fact that the sowings of the crop were completed when the first forecast was made. The decrease of area under rape and mustard compared with that of last year was due to unfavourable weather conditions at sowing. Since the submission of the first forecast weather conditions have been favourable the rainfall in December caused an advance of two annas. Hence the outturn is expected to be better than the normal.
	Rape and mustard	18,900	16,000	15,700	92	83
	Other oilseeds (excepting the above)	8,200	4,000	4,200	92	92

Burdwan	Linseed	24,000	16,200	17,100	67	83	Not yet commenced except in Jhondidah, where the harvesting of rape and mustard commenced in the first week of January. Normal.	The increase of area as compared with 1 is due to failure of paddy crop. The outturn is expected to be better than last year owing to favourable weather conditions
	Rape and mustard	40,600	27,500	27,700	67	83
	Other oilseeds (excepting the above)	3,300	2,400	4,100	67	83

Asansol	Linseed	800	800	800	100	100	End of January. Normal.	The decrease of area as compared with 1 is due to heavy rainfall in October. Owing to favourable weather the outturn is expected to be normal.
	Rape and mustard	20,700	8,900	24,600	100	100	End of December. Normal.
	Other oilseeds (excepting the above)	100	100	100	100	100	Not yet commenced.

Bongaon	Linseed	22,800	17,800	17,200	108	100	Beginning of January (except at Asansol, where the harvesting has not yet commenced).	The difference in area from that shown in the first forecast is due to revised figures given by the Subdivisional Officer Katura, on further enquiry. The weather conditions, of the whole, have been favourable.
	Rape and mustard	31,100	18,300	20,100	100	100

RE.	Linseed ... ..	15,000	14,400	13,800	70	73	Middle of January. Normal.	The decrease of area under linseed and mustard is due to destruction of plants by the rain in October and the area under other oilseeds is due to late of rains to cultivate more fields.  The weather conditions have been favourable for the whole season in Tanjore and where the condition of the crops is for want of timely rain. The outturn is anticipated to be normal.

The decrease of area under "other oilseeds" as compared with the estimate in the first forecast is due to revision by the Subdivisional Officer, Natore, and that under "Rape and mustard" as compared with the area of last year is due to heavy rainfall in October last.

S.	Other oilseeds (excepting the).	1,800	200	1,000	80	100	Not yet commenced except in Panchkula, where the harvesting commenced by the end of January in the normal time.	The increase in area of 1,600 acres under rape and mustard as compared with the estimate in the first forecast is due to revision after further enquiry.  The weather conditions since the estimation of the first forecast have been favourable.  The outturn is however expected to be below normal owing to late sowing.

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE, BENGAL.

Second Forecast of the Wheat Crop of Bengal 1913-14.

(Note.—On the average of the five years ending 1911-12, the area under wheat in Bengal represents some 0·5 per cent. of the total area under wheat in India. The ratio of the irrigated wheat acreage to total acreage in (a) British India and (b) in the territory now reported on has in the five years ending 1911-12 averaged (a) 38·8 per cent. and (b) 16·9 per cent. respectively).

Character of the season.—The chief wheat-growing districts in Bengal are Malda, Murshidabad, Nadia and Pabna. The rainfall in September and October was helpful to the sowings, which generally commenced at the usual time. The sowings were, however, late in Malda Jalpaiguri, and in parts of Murshidabad and Rangpur. The rainfall in November generally favoured the growth of the crop. The next two months December and January, were generally dry with occasional showers of rain. The season in the chief wheat-growing districts has been on the whole favourable, and prospects of the crops are reported to be fairly good.

Area sown.—The total area sown with the crop this year is estimated at 143,700 acres against 146,300 acres of last year.

Outturn.—The outturn in the important wheat-growing districts is as follows : Malda, Murshidabad and Pabna, 100 per cent. each ; Nadia, 92 per cent. According to the estimates of the District Officers, the outturn for the Province as a whole works out to 94 per cent. of the normal.

DISTRICT.	Estimated normal area under wheat.	Estimated area under wheat.		Estimated outturn as a percentage of the normal yield per unit of area.		Date by which the sowing generally commenced this year, and whether that date was early, normal or late.	REMARKS BY DISTRICT OFFICERS.
		Last year.	This year.	Last year.	This year.

	Acres.	Acres.	Acres.
Nadia ... ..	22,100	17,700	16,600	83	92	Middle of October Normal.	The increase in area as compared with the estimate in the first forecast is due to revision of figures and to the inclusion of areas in the Kumarkhali police-station, which had been previously omitted. The decrease as compared with the area of last year is due to heavy flood in Naradulp police-station and insufficient rain in Chaulanda sub-division at the sowing time. The weather conditions have been almost normal, and the outturn is expected to be a most normal.
Murshidabad	62,300	37,300	37,500	92	100	Latter part of October and first part of November. The date was normal except in Lalmai, where it was late.	The increase in area as compared with the estimate in the first forecast is due to the fact that the seedlings had not been finished when the first forecast was submitted. The increase of area over the estimate of last year is due to favourable weather conditions. A maximum outturn is expected.
Jessore ... ..	2,300	1,000	1,100	83	83	October. Normal.	The weather conditions were favourable. A better outturn than that of last year is expected.
Burdwan ... ..	1,500	2,000	2,000	100	93	From middle of October to middle of November. Normal.	Since no report of damage has been done to the crop and the character of weather has been on the whole favourable in Anson and Karna the weather was unfavourable at the beginning of the season and the outturn may be below the normal.
Birbhum ... ..	5,000	3,900	3,000	100	100	Middle of November. Normal.	The weather has been favourable and a maximum crop is anticipated.
Bankura ... ..	3,300	3,900	3,900	83	83	End of October. Normal.	Scarcity of rain at the beginning of February is responsible for the probable outturn falling short of the normal.
Midnapore ... ..	2,000	1,400	1,000	75	75	First week of November. Normal.	The decrease of area as compared with that of last year is due to flood in Chhatra. The outturn is expected to fall below the normal as the plants have not developed well.
Bogra ... ..	2,100	1,700	1,600	83	83	...	The increase in area as compared with that of last year is due to a decrease of seed sown in districts by the new holders. The outturn is expected to fall below the normal for the entire season.
Rajahm ... ..	8,500	7,800	7,000	85	55	First week of November. Normal.	The seed sown has been on the whole fair. Owing to want of rain in January the outturn is expected to fall much below the normal.
